The above reckoning includes all places that voted for Governor expecting Cambridge and Hart's Location, which, last year, gave 10 Republican votes to 7 democratic. Sanbornton did not vote for State officers, but the Republican vote on Representatives to the Legislature was 360. So that the whole Republican vote, the present year, amounts to 36,616; in 1858 it was 36,215; so that in 1859, the Republicans have cast 404 votes more than in 1858. The whole number of votes for Governor the present year is 69,005.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

SALEN'S DAGUERREAN GALLERY, in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Pectoral Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME—J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings, Potsmouth have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

POISONOUS INNOCULATION.—Persons who, by accident or otherwise, become innoculated with any malignant disorder, will find the R. R. R. Remedies prompt, quick and efficient. Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or innoculated through indiscretion or accident.—We have hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe fortures for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R. Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators a night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys regular.

For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysms in a few minutes.

R. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton street, New York.

N. B.—For Scrofula, Syphilis, Female Complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfurnement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of CAMPBELL'S PARISIAN PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietor, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveilance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and satest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE DISEASES OF THE URINARY OEGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imnitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER is genuine.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. Z. Foster, 20 Union st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; E. DR. DUPONCO'S French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by Joseph H. Thacher, in Dover by Chas A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for "Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills." Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

THE CONCERT THIS EVENING.—As it is probable this will be the last opportunity we shall ever have to hear Mme. Biscaccianti in this city, we trust no person who loves good music will neglect this concert. In Boston, Portland, and other places where she has sung, the halls have not been large enough to accommodate the audiences; and we trust we shall not prove less appreciative of her talents here.

DISASTER TO SHIP SHOOTING STAR.—The new ship Shooting Star, Capt. Hotchkiss, recently launched from the yard of Geo. Raynes of Portsmouth, N. H., went ashore on Tuckernuck Shoal, Wednesday morning, while in tow of steamer William H. Webb, bound for New York. She knocked a hole in her bottom, and sunk on the shoal. The Shooting Star was a fine ship of about one thousand tons, and was owned by Messrs. S. G. Reed & Co., of Boston, and Edward Mott Robinson of New Bedford. She is partially insured in State st. Capt. Hotchkiss made the following report:

"Left Portsmouth at 10 A. M. Tuesday, in tow of steamer W. H. Webb. At 8 P. M. passed Cape Cod Light, and saw Nauset and Chatham Lights. During the night it was raining. At 3 A. M. passed the Lightship on Cross Rip. At 3:45 the steamer gave orders to starboard my helm, and stand by the anchors, which order was obeyed. In a moment after, the steamer let go my hawser and left me, when the ship struck in 12 feet of water. In a few minutes we backed astern into 18 feet, when I let go my anchors. At 6 A. M. commenced striking the bottom hard. I made a signal for the Webb to come and take my hawser. He got underweigh and sounded round the ship for a few minutes, then stood for the Light Ship on Cross Rip, bearing northwest about four miles distant. Supposed he would return to me, but instead of doing so he steered for Edgartown. The wind blowing strongly from northeast, and the ship thumping heavily all the time and the sea increasing, sent down royal and topgallant yard. At 1:30 P. M. parted the port chain; let go the other anchor to keep her from driving up any higher on the shoal. Soon after the ship worried ahead on to her anchor, which stove a hole through her bottom. At the same time saw a steamer coming from Hyannis, steering for Nantucket; made signals for her to come to me. At that time the ship was filling fast, and the weather had a bad appearance. I went on board the steamer, which proved to be the Island Home, and at 5:30 P. M. landed in Nantucket. I chartered a schooner to go off, and commenced stripping the ship. I then returned to Boston for further assistance."

The Boston Journal of Thursday evening says the steamer R. B. Forbes, Capt. Morris, will leave Boston immediately to render assistance to the ship.

☞ Besides the regular programme, on Wednesday evening, all three of the performers very generously introduced pieces not down in the bill. Mad. Biscaccianti sang two English songs, in answer to encore; Mr. Dennett also introduced one, and Mr. Kotzschmar performed an extra piano piece.

Besides the attractive programme announced for this evening, we learn that Mr. Dennett has been solicited to sing the Marseilles Hymn, and probably will. We should judge it a capital piece for his voice, and hope he will favor his audience by giving it.

The hearers each got a dollar's worth for fifty cents, Wednesday night; and we doubt not they will be as liberally treated to-night.

☞ The Spiritualists of this city have hired the new and beautiful Mercantile Hall, in Exchange buildings, as their regular place of worship on the Sabbath, and at other times. It is a neat and attractive place for small audiences of any sort—and must become popular.

The speaker announced here for next Sabbath afternoon, and at the Temple, in the evening, is Rev. John Pierpont,—an outspoken friend of freedom and reform of any sort, and one of the most attractive and popular orators in the country. Whatever opinion may be entertained of his theology,—he never talks without saying something worth hearing.

☞ A Musical Convention will be holden in the Town Hall, in Exeter, commencing on Monday Evening, March 28th, and continue during Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Day and Evening. The Convention will be conducted by Prof. W. Williams, of Boston, author of the "Gloria," 'Singer's Manual,' 'Song Wreath," and other popular musical works. Admittance free.

A Concert of Secular Music by the Convention, will be given in the Town Hall, on Thursday Evening, March 31st, and another of Sacred Music, in the same place, on Friday Evening, April 1st. Tickets 15 cents.

Gentlemen:—Who that heard, Wednesday evening, those silvery warblings of Madame Biscaccianti will ever forget their sweetness? For one I cannot think that our Portsmouth atmosphere ever before trembled with such vibrations. Who would not, if necessary, abstain from his dinner for a week, to stow away in his soul so much of Heaven's melody? The sounds that filled our ears and thrilled our souls will live echoing through a life time. The sweetness of home will be sweeter still from the murmurings of those liquid tones, which so delicately and so eloquently vibrated that string of our heart's harp, "Home, sweet home." We shall forget it when our souls are no longer moved by such sweet strains.

One more delicious hour with this gifted one is promised for Friday evening. Who will neglect the opportunity to drink from that spring of bubbling melody, which so sweetens the bitter, and enlivens the dull hours of life?

O.

☞ The workmen have commenced operations on Congress Hall, in this city, to fit it for the use of the Masonic fraternity. It will be elegantly arranged. The dancers are disconsolate.

☞ It will be seen that the advertisement of the Harmoneons' Concert, this morning, announces that their Concert will be given on Monday evening next—for the benefit of the Mount Vernon fund.

The Buckeye Mower.
The Best Mowing Machine
IN THE WORLD.
At the greatest practical working trial ever held in this country, at Syracuse, N. Y., July, 1857, it received the First Premium,
Grand Gold Medal,
offered by the UNITED STATES AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY for the
BEST MOWING MACHINE.
over Manny's, Ketchum's, Burrall's, Hallenbecks, Allen's, Kirby's, Hovey's, Heath's or Eagle Mower, and several others. First Premium Connecticut State Agricultural Society, 1857;—Queens County Agricultural Society, 1858, and numerous others from different sections of the country.
It is WARRANTED to cut grass equal to the best mowers with a scythe, at the rate of one acre per hour with pair of horses and a driver.
Some of its points of excellence are:
1st. It is free from side draft and has no more weight on the tongue, or horse's neck, than a wagon.
2d. Its light draft.
3d. It runs on two wheels which serve as drivers.
4th. It has an adjustable cutter bar and accommodates itself to any uneven surface of the ground.
5th. The cutter bar is in front of the driving wheels, and the seat in the rear—thus enabling the driver to see the operation of the cutters without interfering with his driving; also, avoiding all danger of falling into the knives.
7th. The driving wheels have no cogs on them, but drive the gearing by means of palls and rachets. 8th. By means of these palls and rachets, the knives cease to vibrate in backing the machine. 9th. The driver, while in his seat, can see every bolt, box, and all the gearing when the machine is in motion. 10th. The gearing is all permanently arranged in the centre of the frame, distant from the driving wheels, thus avoiding all tendency of its being clogged up with mud or dirt. 11th. The cutter bar being attached to the machine by means of hinges, can be folded up on top of the machine without removing connecting rod, knife, or track clearer.
12th. The palls on the driving wheels can readily be thrown out of gear, and by folding the cutter bar as above stated, the machine becomes as portable as a common cart.
13th. There is a wheel on the shoe next the gearing, in front of the cutter bar, thus avoiding all tendency of clogging at the near shoe, in passing over cut grass.
14th. The off shoe is only 2½ inches wide, and the last knife cuts no more than any other, therefore leaving no ridge or high stubble at the end of each swath.
15th. The cutter bar can be raised or lowered by means of an adjustable steel spring shoe at off end, and a slot on the near shoe where the wheel is attached.
16th. There are no nuts or screws at the connecting rod, which are always liable to work loose; but by the use of a spring pall and a rachet key this difficulty is entirely obviated

One of these Mowers can be seen at the Store of the subscriber, who is agent for the sale of them in Portsmouth and the neighboring towns. Persons who have used Manny's and Allen's Mowers in this section, consider this mower much superior to either of the others. Farmers are especially invited to make an examination and trial of this Mower. Description circulars—with numerous testimonials can be had at the Store of Occurrences at the Eliot school, Boston, show Romish priesteraft is at work here, and that we cannot be too firm in refusing all concessions to men who quarrel on principle, and who are the bitter enemies of Protestantism. Romanism is never satisfied except when it rules, and its rule is as harsh as the father of evil. Catholic citizens would make no trouble if they were not urged on by priests, men without ties, and consequently without feeling.—These priests should be made to know their places, or they will make the places of all others very uncomfortable.—Trav.

If we can believe the Washington Union, Postmaster General Brown's death was caused by the bad conduct of Congress! That will do, for one age. We do not think so poorly of Mr. Brown as to believe that Congress could have killed him, even if it had been ten times as wicked as it was. Besides it was a democratic Congress and would not have killed its own friends.—Traveller.

Alboni finds in the Arsace of Rossini's "Semiramide" one of her best parts. A French critic thus speaks of her in this role:—"Alboni looked like a fireman who had just got home after a large conflagration, and had time enough to slip on a dressing gown, but forgot to take his hemlet off his head. She don't look much like a young warrior who has just crushed the Scythes, unless indeed she crushed them by sitting on their army."

The Wheeler & Wilson Mfg Co.

Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company recommending them to those who have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and reflect to the workmanship—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the semi-dead-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as WOMAN'S FRIEND.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

THE GREAT WONDER

Of The Nineteenth Century

PROF. WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis Democrat: We publish a letter to the editor of this city from a gentleman in Mobile, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative. Such evidence must have its weight, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guaranteed truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press.

BATON RUGE, MIS., Jan. 20, 1856.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months ago to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one third white; my children were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy! as it has been before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service. As I wish to preserve the benefits of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours, A. C. RAYMOND.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE

Professor Wood! Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854. I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Ch. Methodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved. WM DYER.

Brookfield, Jan 19, 1858.

Professor Wood—DEAR SIR: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that the effect has been excellent in removing indian mallon, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. R. BAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicine will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent to him and directions be followed.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by other practitioners, came under his care, and more than three-fourths of the number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing eyes.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS.

These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all obstructions whatsoever. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. These are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practic of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, it not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant proofs to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, MARCH 26, 1859.

☞ Rev. Joseph C. Lovejoy, of Cambridge, Mass., is out with a letter of two columns long, in which he preaches in favor of slavery and the slave trade, as earnestly as he did awhile ago in favor of the rum trade.

Joseph is a pattern clergyman—of his own peculiar pattern. Will not some parish that has been afflicted by freedom shrieker give this slavery screecher a call? Josdph says:

As to the metaphysical abstraction that man cannot have property in man, it has been contradicted from the foundation of the world to the present time. Holding, use and transfer, are the elements of property; and this has been done by men to men in all ages.

The metaphysical abstraction, which declares that man has no right to kill his brother man, has been contradicted by men in all ages, from Cain down to Dan Sickles. And the other abstraction, which intimates that some decent regard ought to be paid to chastity, has been contradicted from the days before the flood down to the murdered Key.

The Rev. Joseph continues:

It cannot be denied that the idea of slavery runs all through the Bible; it was stamped upon the entire history of every vigorous nation upon the face of the earth; indeed I strongly suspect this is the normal condition of large portions of a depraved race, and I can readily believe that a man may sustain the relation of a slaveholder in all good conscience and with entire divine approbation. There are visible footprints of God's disapprobation of the abolitionism of this country. American slavery is a redemption, a deliverance from African heathenism. Now, God has ordained the law of labor so surely, and so universally, that if barbarians will not work, civilization will yoke them up and drive them to it.

On this the Atlas says:—"We think somebody, who has leisure for it, would be in the way of his duty, and would be doing a service to Cambridge, if he would contrive to catch the Rev. Joseph, 'yoke him up and drive him to work.' Certainly there is no greater barbarian than he in this region—probably not any lazier."

JEFFERSON'S BIRTH DAY.—Jefferson, having been born on the 2d of April O. S., the 13th of April according to the modern method of computation, is the actual anniversary of that event. The celebration by the democratic party, in Salem, Massachusetts, however, is appointed for Friday, April 1.

The Boston Post says that the selection of the first of April by the Salem celebrities "seems, under the circumstances, highly proper." We think so, too.

The Post also says that "the democrats of Salem, who propose so patriotically to celebrate this great birth-day, are of the same political lineage" as the Jeffersonians of the 1798 and 1812 era.

Another celebration of Jefferson's birthday is to take place in Boston, by Republicans, at which Governor Banks may be present. Ex-Gov. Boutwell will preside. This is to be on the 13th of April.

THE ARIZONA EMIGRATION MOVEMENT.—Much concern has recently been manifested by several of the foreign Ministers regarding the Arizona emigration movement, and it has been stated that the Administration is opposed to it on the surmise that it is connected with Gen. Walker; but the assurance is given that such is not the case, and as a consequence, the opposition which was raised against the expedition has ceased. As it is claimed the Administration cannot be adverse to legitimate colonization in the United States, a company of emigrants is forming in Washington.

INDICTMENT AGAINST SICKLES.—The Grand Jury, more than a week ago, made presentment against Sickles for the murder of Key. It then became the duty of the District Attorney to prepare an indictment and place it before them for their final action. This he did, when it was returned by them as a true bill. The reason for the delay is understood to be that they might, in the meantime, have an opportunity to examine witnesses more particularly relative to Mr. Butterworth, so that if they discovered sufficient cause they could indict him jointly with Sickles.

Monday week was agreed upon for trial.

☞ Attorney-General Black on Thursday afternoon decided against the legality of the Boston Post Office. It now remains for the Postmaster General to take action in the premises.

For the Chronicle.

SCIENTIFIC AND MECHANICAL.

FORGING IRON.

An invention has been brought forward, the object of which is to supersede the use of sledge-hammers in heavy forging. The apparatus consists of two upright frames, between which the hammer's helve vibrates, being fixed on a centre or shaft in the rear of the frames. Two horizontal slots are formed in the frames, to allow of slide blocks working in them for the purpose of carrying the ends of a transverse shaft, on which is fixed a pulley, fly-wheel and cam for raising the hammer. The shaft is moved backward or forward in a horizontal direction by means of a screw or lever, and quadrant fixed to the back plate of the machine, and connected to the side blocks by suitable links, in order to bring the cam-shaft nearer to or farther from the fulcrum, so as to regulate the fall of the hammer, and consequently the force of the blow. A screw arrangement similar to the above is likewise used to insure the hammer falling on the partof the anvil intended.

BANK NOTE ENGRAVING.

The engraving of bank notes is effected by a very ingenious process in this country. All the lines composing the engraving of a bank plate are indented or sunk below the surface of a smooth, flat steel plate. On examining a bank note, it will be seen that it is composed of a number of parts of pictures, which are variously designated as vignettes, end pieces, counters, the title, etc. Each one of these pictures or parts is originally engraved on a separate flat piece of unhardened steel, a little larger than the design, and about one-eighth of an inch in thickness. When the engraving on these pieces is finished, they are hardened by being plunged into a bath of water or other liquid, and are then called bed-plates. They are now ready for what is termed the transferring operation. The transferring presses are machines so contrived by a combination of levers and other mechanical appliances as to obtain the greatest possible pressure upon a small space. A hardened steel bed-plate, containing an engraving, is placed upon the platform of one of these presses, and a roller of soft steel—generally about two and a half inches in diameter—is made to roll backward and forward over its surface several times under an enormous pressure. By this operation an exact reverse of the vignette on the bed-plate is obtained, every minute indented line of the engraving being represented by corresponding raised line on the surface of the roller. The roller, after being hardened, is called a die, and the reversed engraving upon its surface, by a similar process to the one above, can now be transferred to any part of a steel bank-note plate.

A MODEL JURYMAN.—The Boston Courier, informs us that on Tuesday,—Lewis French, landlord of the Eastern Railroad House, was fined five dollars and costs for "entertaining persons on the Sabbath" in violation of the Sunday laws. French is the same individual who stood out against the eleven other Jurymen who sat upon the case of Commonwealth vs. Brown, and the same who, while on the same jury, refused to convict any person for violating the liquor law.

Is it any wonder that such a man refused to convict any culprit of any crime? We need not wonder.

☞ At Madison, Ind., on the 17th inst., Stephen Lanciscus shot a young man named Hollis dead with a pistol, for dancing with a young lady to whom he had been paying attention. The young lady had refused to dance with Lanciscus, on account of impropriety in his conduct, whereupon he delared that no one else should dance with her. Hollis paid no heed to this, and was therefore subsequently murdered at his hotel by the offended lover.

A FEARFUL WARNING.—The sad death of young Fitzgerald of Natick, in a drunken brawl in North street, Boston, is a fearful warning. He went to Boston on St. Patrick's Day, with several of his friends, and remained in the city on the following day, drinking often, until at last he was in such a condition from intoxication that he was obliged to lie down. He had not recovered from this drunken debauch, when the collision occurred which ended in his death.

☞ William H. Farmer committed suicide at Bethlehem, N. H., on the 21 inst., by hanging himself. No cause is assigned for the act. He was about thirty-three years old.

☞ Cucumbers made their first appearance this season in Savannah, on the 16th inst.

MORE BROAD CHESTS WANTED.—We are tired of pale faces, stooping shoulders, and flat chests. We rejoice in a robust, full-blooded, full-fleshed, muscular specimen of manhood. Therefore, we hailed with delight a paragraph in an exchange, not long since, announcing that a clergyman had made his appearance on a skating pond, and distanced all competitors in this beautiful, healthy exercise. The time has gone by when men were doomed to use their brains, as if the fleshly tabernacle they were lodged in would take care of itself without any particular attention from its owner, or as if it were a virtue to be neglectful of bodily health. How many good men have lain down in their graves—in this way—unintentional, though actual suicides. Pity—for we need them all. A man is responsible for the state of his body, as for the state of his soul. He has no more right to wreck one than the other.—He cannot injure one without injuring the other.—New York Ledger.

☞ It appears from the Boston papers of Friday, that the same steamer which towed the ship Shooting Star, from this port, towed another vessel from New Bedford, which went ashore. The Post says:

The Wm. H. Webb started from New Bedford for New York about noon, with ship Skylark in tow, but the ship grounded while leaving the harbor, but would get off at high water. The Webb has been rather unfortunate in towing vessels from this quarter, although the officers or crew of the boat have not been to blame.

Since the above was in type, we learn that the Skylark got off during the night, and has anchored. She will leave for New York as soon as the weather clears off.

Hon. William T. Haskell, of Tenn., distinguished as a brilliant orator, and a brave soldier in the Mexican war, died in the lunatic asylum at Hopkinsville, Ky., last Sunday. He was formerly a member of Congress, and was attacked with insanity, the result of intemperance, about a year ago.

So in the same week, we have two ex-members of Congress—Haskell, the brave soldier and brilliant orator, and Walsh, a rough but honest man—and that is no small praise—coming to their death by the use of spirituous liquors.—Newburyport Herald.

OLD HORSES.—The Amherst Cabinet notices the death of "Charley," a horse that belonged to the owner of that paper, and formerly to Father Boylston. He was 28 years old. In the stall adjoining, his mate, aged 37, manifests her regret at his departure.

"Royal Morgan," owned by John Gregory, of Northfield, Vt., died recently by getting cast in his stall, at the age of 38.

FROM CALIFORNIA.—New Orleans, March 24.—The California mails per Quaker City have arrived.

The mail steamer Sonora, which left San Francisco on the 5th for Panama, had 400 passengers, and the Orizaba, which sailed on the same day, also for Panama, had 700 passengers.

The brig Swiss Boy had been destroyed by the Hudson Bay Indians in Nitinet Sound. The crew were captured by the Indians, but afterwards released.

Advices from China to Jan. 20 had been received at San Francisco, and mentioned the bombardment of Nankin, probably by the rebels, though the despatch leaves us in the dark in the matter.

The San Francisco papers have Australia advices, but no dates are given. The barque Tamandito has been wrecked, and 115 lives thereby lost, at the mouth of the Mackenzie.

Vera Cruz dates are to March 14. There is no news of importance. The city of Guadalajara was in a state of siege on account of the near approach of the Liberals. Degollado's force consisted of but 4,000 men. The Liberals had stationed a strong force at the National Bridge to prevent the passage of Miramon. The latter is said to be unprovided with tents.

Miss Antoinette Turner, who has been before a New Haven court in a habeas corpus proceeding, and refused to surrender a child who sought her protection in consequence of the cruelty of its father, has been committed to jail for contempt of court. The Journal says the lady is undoubtedly acting from conscientious convictions, and as she believes for the best interest of the child. She is firm and cheerful, and avows her determination to submit to her imprisonment, for life, if need be.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Capt. Hudson, recently commander of the frigate Niagara, has been ordered to the Boston Navy Yard, to supersede Com. Stringham.

Several members of the Washington Bar had a meeting recently, to consider the propriety of appointing one of their number to aid in the prosecution of Mr. Sickles. Another meeting will be held to-day. The impression is that either Mr. Carlisle or Mr. Bradley will be selected.

SUICIDE.—Detroit, March 24.—John W. Farmer, a resident of this city for nearly 40 years, and extensively known as the Compiler of several valuable maps of Michigan and Wisconsin, threw himself from the 4th story of the Windsor street Hospital to-day, and was killed.

☞ The New York Commercial Advertiser says an artillery salute was fired in the Park on Monday, to announce Worcester's new dictionary.

LADY BLOWN AWAY.—During the prevalence of extremely high wind, a strong gust fairly lifted a lady from her feet, while passing along Frederick street, Edinburgh, Scotland, and precipitated her to the bottom of an area, where she lay for some minutes half-stunned. The lady was dressed in the extreme of the present fashion.—Scottish Guardian.

THE DIVINITY OF MAN.—There is but one Temple in the world; and that is the body of man. Nothing is holier than this high form. Bending before men is a reverence done to this revelation in the flesh. We touch Heaven when we lay our hand on a human body.—Novalis.

The Norfolk, Va., Argus puts in mourning a part of its sheet containing an extract from the Herald of the same city, in which it is asserted that "Virginia will one day be a free state, and the sooner the better."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the diseased joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME.—J. H. Thacher and B. Hutching, Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

☞ Reader, do you want the picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

POISONOUS INNOCULATION.—Persons who, by accident or otherwise, become innoculated with any malignant disorder, will find the R. R. R. Remedies prompt, quick and efficient. Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or innoculated through indiscretion or accident—We save hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe tortures for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators at night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys regular.

For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysms in a few minutes.

R. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton street, New York.

N. B.—For Scrofula, Syphilis, Female Complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARDNER'S PARISIAN PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the supervision of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restorative of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, GALLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, DISEASES OF THE BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and hotel keepers throughout the Union.

Beware of Imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be obtained in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. E. Pecker, 25 Kimbark st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st; Hawes & Co., 121 Blackstone st; R. DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalleled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above situation, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by Joseph H. Chadwick, in Dover by Chas A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Marvell, and in Newmarket by J. A. Crondergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for "Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills!" Observe the signature of Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

☞ The Spiritualists of this city have hired the new and beautiful Mercantile Hall, in Exchange buildings, as their regular place of worship on the Sabbath, and at other times It is a neat and attractive place for small audiences of any sort—and must become popular.

The speaker announced here for next Sabbath afternoon, and at the Temple, in the evening, is Rev. John Pierpont,—an outspoken friend of freedom and reform of any sort, and one of the most attractive and popular orators in the country. Whatever opinion may be entertained of his theology,—he never talks without saying something worth hearing.

☞ William Mitchel of Wennebunkport will preach at the Advent Chapel to-morrow. Friends are invited.

A Discouraging State of Affairs.—The Wisconsin Chief has a correspondent who takes a doleful view of affairs:—

He avers that all confidence is lost between man and man. The bottom has fallen out of everything. Shrewd business managers are cheating God in their professions, and the devil in their bargains—ginger is made out of mustard, and coffee of chicory. Young Hyson is raised in the new pasture, and Young America in the grog-shop. Pure wines are made of poor whiskey, and Havanas of herbs. Rascality has become a virtue, and rot gut turned to vinegar. Legislatures are market of as merchants mark goods, and the people's funds absorbed "by charitable purposes." Governors are knocked off for $30,000; legislatures from $5,000 to $20,000. Railroad stock is down below zero. Caucuses are "packed," and young men electioneer on the Sabbath. Fairbanks' scales have taken to swindling, and old nails selling their tales to spike cannon.—Jewsharps are palmed off as harps of a thousand strings, and Democrats as "genuine Re, ublicans"—sperrits of just men made perfect. Sausages are adulterated, and tempting links seem to wug in the most dogged manner. Our territory, as well as crinoline, is indefinitely expanding. Bright rows of pearls are made at the dentists, and ambrosial locks at the hair-dresser's. In fine, there are none truthful save horse jockeys, and none patriotic save politicians; none talented but those who make "on change" of a grocery-corner, and cheat out of the needy what they give to the Lord.

A country editor who, from time to time, has a good deal to say about "backbone and "pluck" in others, suffered himself to be vulgarly assaulted in the lobby of the Massachusetts House of Representatives on Wednesday, by a member of the House, because of language contained in the editor's paper in regard to the law-making capacity of the member aforesaid. —Boston Courier.

Well, what of it? Did it indicate lack of back-bone in Gen. Jackson when he suffered himself to be "vulgarly assaulted" by Lt. Randolph? Or is it the duty of every brave man to place himself on a level with any vulgar puppy who may bark at him or bite at his heels?

Jenkins Off.—The Boston Journal of Friday evening says the bondsmen of Abijah Jenkins were considerably startled on Thursday, upon learning that that individual was among the missing, and they immediately despatched a special agent to New York in search of him.

It will be recollected that Jenkins was lately convicted in the Municipal Court of receiving stolen goods, and after suffering some two months imprisonment in jail, awaiting final judgment, he was bailed in the sum of $7000 by Francis Kidder and William Mack.

New York, March 25.—The inmates of Mrs. Betham's boarding house, sixteen in number, were all poisoned yesterday. Mrs. Beetham is dead, and others are in a critical condition.

☞ Pleasant M. Mask, who murdered a young lady at Holly Springs, Miss., was executed on Friday last week. There were about 4000 persons present at the scene.

Fatal Accident.—A man named Kelly, who was badly injured at Fresh Pond, a few days since, by the fall upon him of a heavy oak or log, died at the Massachusetts General Hospital on Sunday last.

☞ The London Gazette contains a notice of application for a charter for the Bank of British Columbia and Vancouver's Island.

What is fame? We observe that one of our Eastern exchanges says that Mr. Ten Stryke, a leading statesman, has been elected Senator from New Jersey.—Newark Journal.

Nearly $800,000, principally in American gold, were taken from the Emperor Soulique as he was on the point of embarking for Kingston.

Lead.—The celebrated Andrew Marvell, in his ironical libel upon the press, said: Lead, when moulded into bullets, is not half so mortal as when founded into types.

The Buckeye Mower.
The Best Mowing Machine
IN THE WORLD.
At the greatest practical working trial ever held in this country, at Syracuse, N. Y., July, 1857, it received the First Premium,
Grand old Medal,
offered by the United States Agricultural Society for the
BEST MOWING MACHINE.
over Manny's, Ketchum's, Burrall's, Hallenbecks, Allen's, Kirby's, Hovey's, Heath's or Eagle Mower, and several others. First Premium Connecticut State Agricultural Society, 1857;—Queens County Agricultural Society, 1858, and numerous others from different sections of the country.
It is warranted to cut grass equal to the best mowers with a scythe, at the rate of one acre per hour with pair of horses and a driver.
Some of its points of excellence are:
1st. It is free from side draft and has no more weight on the tongue, or horse's neck, than a wagon.
2d. Its light draft.
3d. It runs on two wheels which serve as drivers.
4th. It has an adjustable cutter bar and accommodates itself to any uneven surface of the ground.
5th. The cutter bar is in front of the driving wheels, and the seat in the rear—thus enabling the driver to see the operation of the cutters without interfering with his driving; also, avoiding all danger of falling into the knives
7th. The driving wheels have no cogs on them, but drive the gearing by means of pails and rachets. 8th. By means of these pails and rachets, the knives cease to vibrate in backing the machine. 9th. The driver, while in his seat, can see every bolt, box, and all the gearing when the machine is in motion. 10th. The gearing is all permanently arranged in the centre of the frame, distant from the outer driving wheels, thus avoiding all tendency of its being clogged up with mud or dirt. 11th. The cutter bar being attached to the machine by means of hinges, can be folded up on top of the machine without removing connecting rod, knife, or track clearer.
12th. The pails on the driving wheels can readily be thrown out of gear, and by folding the cutter bar as above stated, the machine becomes as portable as a common cart.
13th. There is a wheel on the shoe next the gearing, in front of the cutter bar, thus avoiding all tendency of clogging at the near shoe, in passing over cut grass
14th. The cut bar is only 2½ inches wide, and the last knife cuts no more than any other, therefore leaving no ridge or high stubble at the end of each swath.
15th. The cutter bar can be raised or lowered by means of an adjustable steel spring shoe at off end, and a sled on the near shoe where the wheel is attached.
16th. There are no nuts or screws at the connecting rod, which are always liable to work loose; but by the use of a spring pail and a rachet key this difficulty is entirely obviated
One of these Mowers can be seen at the Store of the subscriber, who is agent for the sale of them in Portsmouth and the neighboring towns Persons who have used Manny's and Allen's Mowers in this section, consider this mower much superior to either of the others. Farmers are especially invited to make an examination and trial of this Mower. Description circulars—with numerous testimonials can be had at the Store of

From the Journal.

CITY COUNCIL.

Thursday Evening, March 17.—Petition of A. Q. Wendell and others, asking the City to purchase a lot of land adjoining the westerly side of the Haven School House lot, for a play ground—referred to committee on Lands and Buildings.

The committee on the Fire Department reported favorably on the recommendation of the Mayor's Address, that two more reservoirs be built.

March 24.—Petition of William Stavers and 21 others, for the removal of engine house No. 6, that the land on which it stands may be thrown into the street, was laid on the table.

The Chief Engineer was authorized to dispose of such hose and other property pertaining to the Fire Department as had become useless.

Lectures on Art.—Mr. Long's fourth lecture was well attended last Monday evening—Though the nature of the subject would indicate a discourse peculiarly adapted to artists, yet the style and illustrations are such as cannot fail to rivit the attention of all who are capable of admiring beauty, and for the credit of Portsmouth we should hope that number here is not small.

Mr. Long's course is the first popular view of the Philosophy of Art ever given, either in Europe or America, and it is surprising to us that the lovers of the beautiful do not avail themselves of an opportunity to hear them.

The next lecture was announced for Monday evening next, but we learn by reason of the lecturer's expected absence from the city on that day, it is postponed to Monday evening, April 4.

A good many people appear to be surprised at the lack of character which Mr. Buchanan has exhibited since he came into office, and at the corruption which, with his knowledge and in some instances by his procurement, pervades the public service.

Mr. Buchanan, by promulgating the Ostend manifesto, gave fair notice of what he was, and what kind of a President he would make. Some fair-minded people supposed that this manifesto had ruined Mr Buchanan. But it elected him President, and the pledge for a degraded administration implied in that manifesto is the only one of his pledges he has redeemed.

The Republicans of Exeter celebrated their recent victory by a collation at the Town Hall on Saturday evening last, at which about 400 were accommodated, with as much order as at a well regulated hotel. The feast was enlivened by music from the Cornet Band of that town, and remarks from several prominent men. Gilman Marston Representative elect, was in attendance.

A Letter in England from the Emperor of France.—Sir Francis Head, having a personal acquaintance with Louis Napoleon, wrote three articles in the London Times, defending the policy of the Emperor, and subsequently cut them out of the paper and sent them to the Emperor—In reply he received a letter, which he has also published in the Times, as follows:

[Translation.]

Palace of the Tuileries, March 1.

My dear Sir Francis:—I thank you for having collected together, in order to send them direct on me, the different articles which you have had it inserted in the English journals, for you thus give me an opportunity of expressing to you all my gratitude for the sentiments of which you have not feared the spontaneous manifestation in my favor. I have seen in them—and I am much touched by it—a new proof that my old friends in England have not forgotten me, and that they know how much I always preserve for the English people the esteem and the sympathy which I felt during my exile in the midst of them.

Even in writing to you to-day I detect myself in recollecting as a happy time the epoch when, proscribed, I saw you in England. It is that in changing one's destiny one only changes one's joys and sorrows. Formerly the afflictions of exile alone appeared to me; to-day I see plainly the cares of power, and one of the greatest of them around me is, without doubt, to find one's self misunderstood and misjudged by those whom one values the most, and with whom one desires to live upon good terms (vivre en bonne intelligence.)

Thus (ainsi) I consider it very natural that the parties whom it has been my duty to oppose and to repress should bear me ill will, and should seek the means to injure me; but that the English, of whom I have always been the most devoted and the most faithfully, should attack me incessantly in the journals in the most unworthy and the most unjust manner, is what I cannot comprehend; for, in truth (de bonne foi), I cannot discover any interest they can have in exciting the public mind against France. If, in my own country, I chose to act in this manner, it would be impossible for me afterwards to restrain the passions which I should have let loose (dechainees).

I have always entertained a great admiration for the liberties of the English people; but I regret deeply that liberty, like all good things, should also have its excess. Why is it that, instead of making truth known, it uses every effort to obscure it? Why is it that instead of encouraging and developing generous sentiments, it propagates mistrust and hatred?

I am happy, then, among all these manœuvres of falsehood (mensonge) to have found a defender, who, guided by the sole love of truth, has not hesitated energetically to oppose to them his loyal and disinterested voice.

Believe, my dear Sir Francis,
In my sentiments of friendship,
NAPOLEON.

Sir Francis Head, Croydon."

The State of Canada.—An ably written circular has been issued in Canada West, and distributed in large numbers, urging some member of Parliament (if the new tariff succeeds) to propose in the House that it is "expedient to dissolve all governmental connections with Great Britian, that the union between Upper and Lower Canada be dissolved, and that immediate steps be taken that Upper Canada may become a State of the United States."

Salary Raised.—At the annual meeting of the proprietors of the church in Brattle Square, Boston, on Monday afternoon, a vote was passed to raise the salary of the pastor, Rev. Dr. Lothrop, to $3000 per annum. The pastor likewise has the use of the parsonage house in Chestnut street. It was also voted to repair the exterior of the church

STATE OF MAINE.

A PROCLAMATION

For a Day of Public Humiliation, Fasting and Prayer.

With the advice of the Executive Council, I hereby designate THURSDAY, the twenty-first day of April next, to be observed by the people of this State, in accordance with a venerated usage, as a day of Public Humiliation, Fasting, and Prayer.

A sense of dependence upon the Supreme Being and a consciousness of unmerited mercies from an All Gracious Benefactor, pervade all rational beings and should inspire a devout spirit of penitence and supplication. States, as individuals, are alike dependent upon the same Guardian Providence; a public expression of whose submission to the will of the Sovereign Ruler of the earth, becomes them as Christian Commonwealths.

As on this day of recognized Public Worship, are contemplated the exalted perfections and tender mercies of the Heavenly Parent, may emotions of humility fill all hearts; existing in His boundless love, may generous sympathies for man be quickened; the recipients of His impartial grace, may a sense of equity govern the ways of all; paying adoration to Him "who sends his rain upon the just and upon the unjust," may all be purified from every taint of intolerance.

And especially as homage and praise ascend to the Common Father for His forbearance towards our beloved country, may all unite to deprecate the vicissitudes of public disorder which mars its glory, all factious emulations and animosities which disturb its peace and expose it to peril: and above all, by sincere obedience to the Divine precepts of Christianity, may personal and public ills be averted, the favor of Heaven secured, and the blessings of civil and religious liberty perpetuated.

Given at the Council Chamber, at Augusta, this twenty-fourth day of February, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-nine, and of the Independence of the United States the eighty-third.

LOT M. MORRILL.

By the Governor:

NOAH SMITH, JR., Secretary of State.

SATURDAY NIGHT.—What a blessed arrangement Saturday night is! When a man all fagged out, with head work and hand work and foot work, pursued night and day, feels every night as if he could not rally another morning, and that morning finds him still jaded and tired—he kicks his boots off, and thrusts his aching feet into his easy slippers and upon them he feels the first freedom from derangement and need of repairs;

Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation, that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

THE GREAT WONDER

Of The Nineteenth Century

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Mobile, who recently speaks glowingly of the superior merits of Dr. Wood's article. Such evidence speaks for itself, when proceeding from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press.

BATH, ME., Jan. 20, 1856.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months ago to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had used it for. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now say to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy! as it has lost before the twenty-three years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.

The above product I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this place, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the benefit of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours,

A. C. RAYMOND.

BATTIMORE, Jan. 23 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Methodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved.

W. W. DYER.

Brookfield, Jan 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly,

J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express, to any place, with a bottle of water, then provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR HUGHES can with safety say during the last twenty years he has cured more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are indebted upon his books as permanent.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 18 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is prompt and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—18 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 dly

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" in a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who see the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. Beck.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1836.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practic of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHAS MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8 1858.
Mr R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at VERY reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber in the course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents

MONDAY, MARCH 28, 1859.

SCHOOL VACATIONS.

In the city of Portland, as we learn from the Advertiser, at a meeting of the School Committee on Monday evening, it was unanimously voted that twelve weeks for the high and grammar schools, and nine weeks for the primaries, be the full terms of vacation for each year. Not a day too long, remarks the Advertiser.

In the continued drag of teaching, without vacations, the bodily and mental strength of the teacher becomes wasted, sometimes beyond recovery.

And so of the learners, if overstrained, especially in female schools of the highest grade, the pressure is often too great, or at least too prolonged, and the result is, an injury to the mental health.

In the annual report of the Superintendent of the Butler Hospital for the Insane at Providence—Dr. Isaac Ray—are some remarks relative to one of the causes of insanity, which it may be profitable to quote in this connection. Speaking of the amount of labor habitually imposed upon the young in school exercises, the report says:

Six hours a day, for the most part, is the allotted school-time in this part of the country. Occasionally we find it five, and as often, probably, seven. The rooms, with some rare exceptions, are badly warmed and badly ventilated, the thermometer ranging, in winter, from 55 to 80, and the air contaminated by the respiration of one or two hundred pairs of lungs, and the impurities that arise from a leaky, overheated stove or furnace. The time not devoted to studies is occupied in recitations, or exercises that require a considerable degree of mental activity. To accomplish all the tasks, the regular school hours are seldom sufficient, and more or less time must be given to study out of school. It may be a single hour; it may be two, three or four. The time will be determined by the amount of the tasks; by the ambition, capacity, or excessive anxiety of the pupil. With quick-witted children, who have no very strong desire to excel, and those who have neither desire nor capacity to excel their fellows, it is short.—On the contrary, with the sluggish but conscientious intellects, with the ambitious who strive for distinction, and the morbidly sensitive and timid, it is long. However this may be, it is none the less a veritable fact that that in New England, to go no farther, more or less study out of school is the general rule for all except the very youngest scholars.

The practice of studying out of school, especially in the evening, is very seriously deprecated by the report. It is a practice more injurious to health, whether of youth or adult, than any other description of mental exercise. Dr. Ray says:

The brain is in no condition for sleep immediately after such occupation. The mind is swarming with verbs and fractions and triangles, and a tedious hour or two must pass away, before it falls into a restless, scarcely refreshing slumber. Jaded and dispirited, it enters upon the duties of the day, with little of that buoyancy which comes only from "nature's sweet restorer."

The manifestations or developments of the evil are not uniform, but the essential element is, diminished nervous energy. It rarely occurs in the shape of insanity—for this is not a disease of childhood or youth. It impairs the power of concentration, banishes hope and buoyancy, and brings gloom over the mind. "It diminishes the conservative power of the animal economy," so that attacks of disease, which might otherwise pass off easily, destroy life before danger is apprehended.

The report suggests very many and weighty considerations touching the matter of overtasking the youthful mind. But we apprehend they will be little heeded, on the ground that comparatively few can be induced by persuasion or threats or whatever motive, to devote to study such portion of their time as would be productive of the most beneficial and lasting results. And yet those few need the protection which these hints from an authorized source so plainly afford.

We commend the subject of vacations to our new School Committees, just chosen and about to be chosen in this city—and the matter of over-study to parents and teachers.

SHIP SHOOTING STAR, at last accounts, lay in the same position, with seven feet of water in her hold, and eleven feet outside. Her topgallant masts, and topsail yards had been sent down, and with some other moveable articles, had been put on board the schooner Susan, of Nantucket, and carried to Edgartown.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin learns from a coast-pilot, that the compasses of the W. H. Webb, are entirely worthless; this fact accounts for her crooked courses and the disasters to the vessels she has recently had in tow during obscure weather.

☞ The Irish Rebellion in the Boston Eliot School, does not seem to be a solitary case; as a similar trouble on a smaller scale, has occurred in Chelsea. Indeed it appears from documents as good as Brownson's Review, and other Roman church periodicals, that our common schools are to be denounced, on one pretext or another. It is well known that that church claims the right to instruct all she can, in her dogmas, but arrogantly denies the existence of any other church, and of course must deny the power of any pretended church to give instruction.

In the trial of teacher of the Eliot school, for assaulting a pupil, i. e. whipping him, the following curious items come out.

Daniel McKinley, boy,—Goes to Eliot school; was at school the day Whall was whipped; when the boys were reciting the commandments there was scraping of feet in all parts of the room; there was a mumbling noise of mouths; three different boys tried to prevent me from repeating the Lord's Prayer; I was told I should be shamed on the altar and punished by the priest; knew there was to be trouble; I am a Catholic; I repeated the commandments.

Louis R. Vesey, boy,—Three boys told me not to say the commandments or they would kick me; they kicked me under the benches while I was saying them; I am in Miss Shepherd's room; one of the boys was named Rohan; there was scraping of feet, mumbling and whistling; never heard such before.

George Ellis, a boy of twelve or thirteen. Go to Eliot school; going up Union street one day saw a crowd of boys; Whall said he was not going to repeat the d—d Yankee prayers; other boys said they were not going to say the commandments; I asked them why and they said because the priest forbade it.

R. Whall, father of the boy, in cross-examination, testified—He has been to school seven years; have always told him not to say the Protestant commandments; he said afterwards that he never said them either alone or in unison with others; have always been afraid he would say them; he always denied having said them; there never was any trouble before Monday fortnight; the priest has told me five thousand times in the other country not to say the Protestant form; I know the difference; don't want to go into argument; the difference is that God made our Commandments and that man made yours; when Mr. Mason read the Protestant commandments to me I thought that the first was right and the rest wrong; it was all right if they were divided right; all the words were right; Mr. Mason agreed that the boy should say the commandments the Roman Catholic manner; I could tell difference between the commandments if I was learned; I told Mr. Mason to whip the boy if he did not say them the Roman Catholic way; I was afraid the boy would not be willing to say them that way, even after I had told and the priest had told him to say them.

The boy told me Wednesday noon that he had been kept all the morning on the the platform because he would not say the commandments, and that he had not been allowed to recite his lesson.

Thos. Whall, the boy, was called—Do not remember whether Miss Shepherd kept me on the platform, Wednesday or not; do not remember telling my father so; told somebody else that I never said so.

At the close of the examination, and lawyers' pleas, Saturday, Mr. Cook was held in $100 for his appearance before the Court on the 6th day of April, when the Justice will give his opinion.

TRUTH.—Edward Everett, in one of his capital Mount Vernon Papers, in the New York Ledger, says truly that "the Press of the United States is vigorous and enterprising, and reaches the heart of the community far beyond that of any other country. It is, for good or for evil, the most powerful influence that acts on the public mind—the most powerful in itself, and as the channel through which most other influences act. If it could learn that an opponent is not necessarily an unprincipled and selfish adventurer, a traitor, a coward, and a knave; and that our neighbors on an average are about as honest and right-mined as ourselves, it would increase its own power; and the great interests of the country (which languish under the poison of our party bitterness) would be incalculably promoted."

☞ Mr. Turner Reed, of Abington, Mass., was robbed of $1300 on Wednesday evening last. At a lonely spot in the wood a man seized his horse by the head. Mr. Turner jumped out of his chaise to attack him, when three other men, who had followed in a carryall, fell upon and easily overpowered him. They thrust in his face vials which had the effect to stupify him, robbed him, and then threw him over the fence into a pond. Mr. Turner soon raised an alarm, but no trace of the robbers could be found.

☞ The Lockport Journal says that five months ago, the wife of Jacob Abbott, of Golconda, C. W., presented her husband with eight living children at one birth, six of whom are still thriving finely. They are said to have all been small, which the story certainly is not.

A LOSS OF THREE THOUSAND LIVES.—Near Taganrog, on the Sea of Azoff, a catastrophe occurred, about the beginning of February last, which involved a loss of life unparalleled except by memorable earthquakes or volcanic eruptions. It appears that some three thousand inhabitants of Taganrog, relying upon the promise of fair weather made by the genial atmosphere and the cloudless sky, proceeded to the Azoff Sea to indulge in the sport of fishing beneath the ice—a favorite pastime of the region. The atmosphere continuing serene, the party were lulled into a feeling of security, and ventured further than usual upon the ice, in the hope of obtaining a good haul. Suddenly a breeze sprung up from the east, which, growing boisterous by degrees, whirled the loose snow and fine particles of ice in all directions, and before long succeeded in detaching the ice from the shore. The large icefield then broke into numerous pieces, which, with their terrified and helpless human freight, drifted towards the open sea.

No assistance could be rendered the unhappy beings by their frantic relatives and friends on shore, and within two hours not a sign of life was visible on the surface of the sea. On the following day a cake of ice drifted in shore, upon which were five of the unfortunates—three of them dead and the other two numb and insensible.—The two latter—a girl and an old man—were restored by the means of the usual appliances; the girl, however, survived but a few hours; the man recovered, but lost the use of his tongue—a consequence, probably, of the fright caused by the scene he had passed through. He prepared a written narrative of the occurrences of that fearful night on the Azoff.

By this catastrophe at least 3000 persons found a watery grave.

The most modern of all party names is "Democracy." Instead of being the party of Jefferson and Madison and Jackson, it is the party of Martin Van Buren, John C. Calhoun, Franklin Pierce, and James Buchanan.—Independent Democrat.

The people formerly had but one object, and that was to choose the best man. * * * And what opinion did the people then form of John Taylor Gilman?—And when did he become so vile, so debased? Not until the Democracy had gained the ascendancy.

Mr. Plumer was some years ago a federalist. * * * Democracy became triumphant and he became an apostate.—Keene Sentinel, Feb. 19th, 1814.

DEATH FROM ANGER.—A few days since, while Mr. H. Hayden, of Ralls county, Mo., was at work in a corn field, with his brother-in-law, he became angry with him and said he would shoot him. He repaired to the house for his gun, but while on his way he became so overwrought with passion, that he became affected with bleeding at the lungs, and in a few hours was a corpse. No loss—such a madman as that.

GOOD.—A chap who was tried in Buffalo for stealing a shirt, made the following defence:—

"I did not steal the shirt; I was passing along by the store, and I saw the shirt hanging up, and then I took hold of it.—When I took hold of it, it dropped down in my hands, and I knew that if I stood there with it, people who saw me would believe that I meant to steal it; so I run off to prevent suspicion attaching to me."

JOHN HEENAN, the Benicia Boy, who recently fought John Morrissey, being unsuccessful in getting a match in this country, announces that he will fight Tom Sayers, the present Champion of England, for two hundred pounds and the Champion's Belt, and is ready to go to England for such purpose, at his own expense.

COMMUTATION OF SENTENCE.—James Hayes, who was found guilty of the murder of Colin Campbell, in the streets of Charlestown, S. C., and was sentenced to be executed, has had his sentence commuted to imprisonment for one year, and banishment from the State.

Noticing the numerous bonnets at the milliners' opening day in New York, and the perplexities of the ladies in making a choice, flying from one to another like humming birds in a flower garden, the Journal of Commerce thinks man should congratulate himself that he is only called upon to pay for bonnets, not to select them.

☞ The Maine Evangelist says:—

"Mr. Henry Johnson, the Mayor of Newburyport, died in that city on Sunday of last week. He was an uncle of Caleb Cushing, but was otherwise a respectable and worthy man!"

☞ The New York papers mention the discovery of a "missing man" who was "addicted to excessive drinking, subject to fits and near-sighted." He was hardly worth finding.

Set a value on the smallest morsels of knowledge. These fragments are the dust of diamonds.

☞ A French physician has discovered that whooping cough is the result of suppressed cutaneous eruptions, and yields invariably to the production of an external rash.

Horace Greely says in one of his letters from Pennylvania, that whiskey-jugs and pro-slavery democrats far outnumber spelling books and meat barrels.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontitorumbos.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME.—J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

POISONOUS INNOCULATION.—Persons who, by accident or otherwise, become innoculated with any malignant disorder, will find the R. R. R. Remedies prompt, quick and efficient. Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAYS RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or innoculated through infection or accident.—We have hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe tortures for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R. Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators at night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys regular.

For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysms in a few minutes.

R. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton street, New York.

N. B.—For Scrofula, Syphilis, Female Complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfignrement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARDNER'S PARISIAN PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours Ring Worm, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveilance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER AND AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travelers exposed to changes of weather and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Merchants Row; S. Sweet & Co., 110 Washington; E. Pecker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by Joseph H. Thacher, in Dover by Chas A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prescott. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for "Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills." Observe the signature J. Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

☞On Saturday morning, as Mr. David Lowd and a boy named Clark, were employed in shingling the roof of the house of Mr. Benj. F. Webster, corner of Court and Middle streets, a staging gave way and they fell to the ground. The Clark boy struck on his head, and was rendered insensible by the blow—which caused blood to flow from his mouth, nose and ears; and he had not regained his consciousness on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Lowd was considerably bruised, chiefly on one hip, and was unable to walk home. We are informed that the unfortunate sufferers built their own stage—which the sleet of Friday night probably prevented their rendering secure.

☞The Concert by Mme. Biscaccianti and troupe, Friday evening, was even more satisfactory than the first—and was attended by a larger audience, too, notwithstanding the unpleasant weather. It would really seem as if "25 cents" on the bottom of a bill for a good entertainment, could be looked at, by our citizens, by and bye, without a grimmace.

Mad. Biscaccianti sang and acted exquisitely, about double the number of pieces put down on the programme for her. Mr. Dennett grows better and better, the more you hear him. His entire ease and freedom from constraint, and prepossessing personal appearance, render him a favorite. He would have sung the Marseilles Hymn, but could not procure the notes of the accompaniment.

Messrs. Editors:—The election of School Committee for Ward 3, took place Friday evening, at the South Vestry. There was a large attendance, and the 'faithful,' (notwithstanding there was trouble in the camp,) made choice of the following gentlemen, viz., A. R. Hatch, Henry F. Wendell, John E. Rider, Benj. Odiorne, 2d., J. Sullivan Rand.

The election, however of a member of the "Mutual Admiration Society," has caused many to exclaim, "The Fathers, where are they?" A. B. C.

☞We learn that new arrangements are being made for a series of Sabbath Evening Lectures, under the auspices of the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association—to be delivered by the various clergymen of our city in their respective churches. The first of the course is to be on Sunday evening next, at the Stone Church, by Rev. Dr. Peabody.

☞A beautiful dish of tempting, luscious-looking Wax Fruits, from the tasteful hand Mrs. Murdock, is on exhibition in the window of Mr. Cobb's Music Store. It is richly worth looking at, and we don't believe but that it would taste pretty well.

☞It will be remembered that the Ethiopian Concert, by "The Original Harmoneons," postponed to accommodate Mad. Biscaccianti, will take place this (Monday) evening—the proceeds, as announced in the advertisement, to go to aid the Mt. Vernon enterprise.

☞The Sewing Machine business is becoming an immense one. Of the better class of machines, it is almost impossible to supply the demand. Advertisements will be seen in our columns of two of the best patents—differing considerably, but both excellent of their kind.

☞A Musical Convention will be holden in the Town Hall, in Exeter, commencing on Monday Evening, March 28th, and continue during Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Day and Evening. The Convention will be conducted by Prof. W Williams, of Boston, author of the "Gloria," "Singer's Manual," "Song Wreath," and other popular musical works. Admittance free.

A Concert of Secular Music by the Convention, will be given in the Town Hall, on Thursday Evening, March 31st, and another of Sacred Music, in the same place, on Friday Evening, April 1st. Tickets 15 cents.

☞We learn that at Mme Biscaccianti's complimentary Concert, at Newburyport, Thursday evening, a most beautiful and grateful tribute was rendered the charming songstress—the City Hall being well filled with the best of the citizens, and the stage and other parts of the hall richly and tastefully decorated for the occasion by the ladies, with boquets and flowering plants, &c. A list of about five hundred names, of ladies and gentlemen of Newburyport, subscribers to the concert, was given Mme. Biscaccianti as a memento of the occasion—which of course will be a pleasant memory for all concerned.

Gen. Schouler was as well as could be expected after his "Post Office delivery," yesterday.—Post.

MARRIED.

In Dover, Mr. Augustus T. Coleman to Miss Asenath H. Cushing, both of Dover.
In Great Falls, Mr. John H. Smith of Rochester, to Miss Sarah Renshaw, of Dover.

DIED.

In Rochester, Mrs. Mary Trickey, aged 61.
In Keene, Mrs. Mary J. Marsh, aged 22.

☞Dr. Henry West, known far and wide as a Seventh Son Doctor, died in Chester, N. H., 18th inst., aged 78. Patients have visited him from every quarter of this country, and say they have been cured without the aid of medicine. His mode was to tie a small coin around the neck of the patient, just before sunrise and after sunset, and at the same time to ask the help of God in the cure. He had become rich, and was respected and beloved.

☞The Catholic Telegraph says that Key, who was killed by Sickles, was the attorney who should have prosecuted Herbert, the California member of Congress, for killing a waiter at one of the hotels.—He thought proper to almost excuse the murderer on that occasion, and now ——.

A man's genius is always in the begining of life as much unknown to himself as to others; and it is only after frequent trials, attended with success, that he dares to think himself equal to those undertakings, in which those who have succeeded, have fixed the admiration of mankind.

NUMBER OF THE HUMAN BONES.—It is a fact, says Mr. Parris, apparently not generally known, that there are thirty-two bones, and neither more nor less, in all the divisions of the human body. Thus there are thirty-two teeth, thirty-two spinal junctions, and so on.—The Builder.

EMPRESS VICTORIA.—Victoria, Queen of England, is to be declared Empress of India.

F. A. MAFFIT, son of J. Newland Maffit, was arrested in Cincinnati on Wednesday, charged with getting money under false pretenses.

☞Dr. Johnson, of Newburyport, has a Scotch Clock, more than a hundred years old—as good as new.

☞An American watch is to be presented to Joshua R Giddings, by the colored people of New York and Brooklyn.

A universal favorite, says Punch, is generally a universal fool, or else a universal bumbug,

He that loses his conscience, has nothing left worth keeping.

INTERESTING TO GENTLEMEN.—One of the most extensive, as well as best selected stock of fabrics for gentlemen's dress goods that we have seen this season, is opened this week by H. E. Armington, at 52 School street. Mr. Armington has gained quite a reputation for the taste, elegance and finish which characterizes all garments made at his establishment; and the innumerable styles from the most celebrated European manufactories, imported by his special order this season, (with trimmings to match,) affords an opportunity for the gratification of almost any taste. An adherence to the cash system enables Mr. Armington to make and sell these goods at quite a low figure.

His stock of goods now opened are an endorsement to his reputation for taste and enterprize, and really worthy the inspection of gentlemen.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Armington's garments always look so smooth, stylish, and nicely made, that we involuntarily give the skirts of our coat a twitch, to take the wrinkles out, as we pass store No. 52 School street.—Boston Post.

☞The New York Courrier des Etats Unis asserts that a secret fillibustering expedition is ready to start for Cuba on the receipt of instructions expected by the next steamer from Havana. The headquarters are in New York, but the arms and ammunition are mainly in Southern cities. Men are ready to depart simultaneously from different ports of the Union, and secret agents on the Island of Cuba are engaged to prepare the fillibusters a facile access.

ARREST FOR ALLEGED POISONING.—A girl named Margaret Burke has been arrested in New York, on suspicion of having poisoned the family of Mrs. Beetham, (as telegraphed yesterday.) Mrs. B. is dead, and Mr. Robinson, one of the boarders, is not expected to live. The other inmates of the house are recovering. Margaret was the cook.

The Buckeye Mower.

The Best Mowing Machine
IN THE WORLD.

At the greatest practical working trial ever held in this country, at Syracuse, N. Y., July, 1857, it received the First Premium,
Grand Gold Medal,
offered by the UNITED STATES AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY for the
BEST MOWING MACHINE,
over Manny's, Ketchum's, Burrall's, Hallenbecks, Allen's, Kirby's, Hovey's, Heath's or Eagle Mower, and several others. First Premium Connecticut State Agricultural Society, 1857;—Queens County Agricultural Society, 1858, and numerous others from different sections of the country.

It is WARRANTED to cut grass equal to the best mowers with a scythe, at the rate of one acre per hour with pair of horses and a driver.

Some of its points of excellence are:

1st. It is free from side draft and has no more weight on the tongue, or horse's neck, than a wagon.
2d. Its light draft.
3d. It runs on two wheels which serve as drivers.
4th. It has an adjustible cutter bar and accommodates itself to any uneven surface of the ground.
5th. The cutter bar is in front of the driving wheels, and the seat in the rear—thus enabling the driver to see the operation of the cutters without interfering with his driving; also, avoiding all danger of falling into the knives.
7th. The driving wheels have no cogs on them, but drive the gearing by means of pails and rachets. 8th. By means of these pails and rachets, the knives cease to vibrate in backing the machine. 9th. The driver, while in his seat, can see every bolt, box, and all the gearing when the machine is in motion. 10th. The gearing is all permanently arranged in the centre of the frame, distant from the driving wheels, thus avoiding all tendency of its being clogged up with mud or dirt. 11th. The cutter bar being attached to the machine by means of hinges, can be folded up on top of the machine without removing connecting rod, knife, or track clearer.
12th. The pails on the driving wheels can readily be thrown out of gear, and by folding the cutter bar as above stated, the machine becomes as portable as a common cart.
13th. There is a wheel on the shoe next the gearing, in front of the cutter bar, thus avoiding all tendency of clogging at the near shoe, in passing over cut grass.
14th. The off shoe is only 2½ inches wide, and the last knife cuts no more than any other, therefore leaving no ridge or high stubble at the end of each swath.
15th. The cutter bar can be raised or lowered by means of an adjustable steel spring shoe at off end, and a slot on the near shoe where the wheel is attached.
16th. There are no nuts or screws at the connecting rod, which are always liable to work loose; but by the use of a spring pail and a rachet key this difficulty is entirely obviated

One of these Mowers can be seen at the Store of the subscriber, who is agent for the sale of them in Portsmouth and the neighboring towns. Persons who have used Manny's and Allen's Mowers in this section, consider this mower much superior to either of the others. Farmers are especially invited to make an examination and trial of this Mower. Description circulars—with numerous testimonials can be had at the Store of

From the N. H. Gazette.

Brilliant Prospects of the Democracy in Pennsylvania!

At the recent Democratic State Convention at Harrisburgh, Pennsylvania, resolutions highly eulogistic of President Buchanan were passed, also a resolution pledging the Democracy of that State to the high protective tariff policy—so far as coal and iron are concerned, a very liberal and Democratic doctrine, truly, and we suppose, in exact accordance with the Democratic principles of that eminent "National Democrat," James Buchanan!

But the distinguishing feature of this Democratic State Convention, was its refusal to pass a resolution commending Governor Packer's State Administration. Such a resolution was introduced, but after a debate, in which Packer was denounced as an anti-Lecompton, Douglas man, the resolution was voted down, to the satisfaction and probably by the direction of the "Sage of Wheatland." The Convention nominated a very fair list of State officers, but the difficulty will consist in electing any of them, after such a performance on the part of the Convention. But what of that? Didn't they sustain the Administration, and isn't this all the Democracy north of Mason and Dixon's line are expected to do? Don't the Democrats have the post offices, &c., and in consideration thereof, shouldn't all the towns, counties, congressional districts and States be quietly surrendered to the Black Republicans, so that the Administration be sustained to the handle? Shouldn't the Democrats be satisfied with the smiles and sop dispensed by this Administration, and go it blind for all the glorious abortions which it has conceived and bru't forth? Of course they should, and the Democracy of that State which refuses to glorify our wise, patriotic and statesmanlike President, and his excellent, economical, faithful, and adorable Administration, without any ifs, or ands, or negatives pregnant, is exceedingly ungrateful.

We learn that another Democratic Convention is called, by which Gov. Packer will be sustained, and the broken fragments of the Pennsylvania Democracy will attack the Black Republicans in front and in rear, and will achieve an easy victory—should the Republicans prove sufficiently weak.

☞ The Eastern Times, one of the ablest and most influential Democratic papers in New England, thus comments upon the appointment of Benj. Wiggin, to which we made some allusion last week:

The report comes to us very direct, and yet we can scarcely credit it, that Benj. Wiggin, the rejected, has been appointed Commissioner of Customs by the Secretary of the Treasury—the office heretofore held by Ex Gov. Hubbard. Wiggin was appointed Fishery Commissioner last June, but his name was withdrawn before the Senate acted upon it. After the Senate adjourned he was again appointed and entered upon the duties of his office. As soon as his name came before the Senate he was refused confirmation. Immediately after the 4th of March he was re-nominated to the new Senate, and rejected. Now it seems he is given an office by Secretary Cobb, which does not require the action of the Senate. After being twice rejected by a democratic Senate, his appointment is not only an indignity offered to that body, but a gross insult to the people of Maine, and will serve as a mill stone to sink the administration still deeper in the estimation of all sound, honorable and high-minded men. This forcing upon the people offensive men—men whose names stink in all democratic nostrils in the State, is an outrage for which we have no terms sufficiently strong to express our indignation. The historical chapters in which this man's acts, as a Councillor, are recorded, show infamy enough to damn him to the latest posterity, to say nothing of his infamous course in the Cincinnati Convention. The appointment of such a man, we repeat, is an outrage; and that appointment should be forced if it promote so honorable transaction. In vain does any one attempt to excuse the act. Wiggin's appointment was never asked for by the democracy of Maine or any portion of them. His action at Cincinnati in abusing President Pierce was his whole political capital, and his appointment has been pushed by a few designing men at Washington who have axes of their own to grind and who wish for him to turn their grindstone. One thing is sure; the Maine Democracy have no hope of aid in redeeming the State, in the direction of Washington. It is a work for the people, and when they have done it they will not forget the men who have conspired to throw so many clogs in their way. It is mortifying to reflect that a man so unworthy that a Senate of his political friends twice rejected him, is forced upon the people through a door which the Senate has no power to close. After the President had twice failed to inflict upon the State the dishonor of Wiggin's appointment by the approbation of the Senate, it was not to be expected that he would create a vacancy so that one of his Secretaries should do what a Democratic Senate had twice refused him to allow him to do himself.

THE NEXT PRESIDENCY.—Speaking of the next Presidency, the New York Sun, an independent paper, gives utterance to its opinion of Senator Douglas, in connection with the candidacy for that office, as follows:

Judging by present popular feeling in the northern States, there is but one man that the Democracy can certainly and triumphantly elect; and that is Douglas, of Illinois. The politicians may make as many arrangements and combinations as they please, but the people are as thoroughly for Douglas now as they were for old "Rough and Ready" in 1848. Taylor's first victories in the Mexican war made an impression upon the popular mind which all the brilliant events of Scott's campaign could not efface, though old Zachary was doomed, in the later stages of the war, to comparative inactivity.

It is so with Douglas. His fearless independence, at an important crisis in the nation's history, saved the country from a civil war, and by his bold and untiring zeal, he arrested the progress of sectional agitators and secured a triumph in Illinois which the whole country hailed as a new guarantee of the perpetuity of the Union. The fact is fixed in the people's mind. The principle upon which Douglas fought his battles is so simple, that everybody understands it. His Palo Alto in Washington, and his Buena Vista in Illinois, are the pride of those who admire courage and idoline success. He may be tabed by the politicians, but having become a popular favorite, he cannot be killed off by political intrigue.

PRICES GREATLY REDUCED.

THE GREAT WONDER
Of The Nineteenth Century
PROFESSOR WOOD'S
HAIR RESTORATIVE.
Says the St. Louis (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentlemen in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence speaks have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantee of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:
BATH, ME., Jan. 20, 1856.
PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:
GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your Hair Restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I shortly since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hairs have totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.
The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will never have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any one may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours, A. C. RAYMOND.
BALTIMORE, Jan. 28 1858.
WOODS HAIR RESTORATIVE
Professor Wood: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FIELDEN JENNING.
The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved. WM. DYER.
Brookfield, Jan 11, 1858.
Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit. Yours, truly, J. K. BRAGG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,
KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surreptitiously taking Medicine for the inveterate treats of certain dangerous maladies who will suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent free, press or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directions be rigidly followed.
Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.
DR HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are incurred upon his books as perfect cures.
Patients can rely upon his ability, addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicine will be sent to the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.
This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 38 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE (RENOVATING) PILLS. These pills are unrivaled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.
The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practised by advertising spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by unscrupulous pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.
All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.
These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—38 Howard street, Boston.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE
This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the Proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public and their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing qualities.
"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.
"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.
"My Mother's Salve" is a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.
"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.
Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use this Salve will find it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in Rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A.M.Beck.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practic of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such uninterrupted success proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, MARCH 29, 1859.

THE END IS NOT YET.—The Dover, N. H., Gazette, of March 19, contains a long report of the debate in the U. S. Senate on slavery restriction, to which the editors invite the attention of their readers, and say:

But while we do this, we have to confess that we are about sick of the whole slavery wrangle. We heartily wish that the whole matter could be forever banished from the halls of Congress. But if the positions taken and the sentiments advanced by some of the leading Southern men are to be by them maintained, or attempted to be practically enforced in the Territories, then we see no very hopeful prospect that this exciting subject is very soon to be brought to an end, either by permanent settlement or ejection from the floor of Congress. How many of our Northern Democrats may be willing to stand by and support these Southern fire-eaters in their new doctrines, we are not prepared to say. That there are thousands and tens of thousands, and further still, that a very large majority of the Democrats of the free States will resist and oppose to the bitter end every attempt to enact a code of laws protecting slavery in the Territories against the will of the people there, we do not hesitate to believe. * * * The doctrine of popular sovereignty and non-intervention gave us the victory in the last Presidential election, and we could have carried that election on no other ground.

The latter statement may be made plainer by saying that Pennsylvania abounded in banners inscribed Buchanan, Breckinridge and free Kansas.

The Newark, N. J., Journal of March 19 promises to lay before its readers "such extracts from the recent important debate on the territorial aspects of the slavery question, in the United States Senate, as will enable them to arrive at a clear understanding of the opinions held by the leading Senators of all sections of the country" —and says, "as this question will be largely discussed during the next two years, it will be well that every Democrat should be thoroughly conversant with the able arguments pro and con."

What the Newark Journal here says of every Democrat, is true of every intelligent citizen. The man who thinks he has no interest in this question, or that it can safely be dodged, must be a very careless spectator of the signs of the times.

MORALITY OF USURY LAWS.—A case where the defence was usury, has recently been tried at Rochester, N. Y. Some legal ground was found by the judge, to the joy of the jury, and the satisfaction of the public, for overruling the unwarrantable defence. The common sense of the business world, in such cases, and the unwritten laws of honor universally heeded by men of any pretension to character, make it a very grave offence for any man to invoke the law to enforce the legal rate of interest in cases where a fair bargain was made to pay the current market value of the money at the time of the transaction. One of the public journals, in reporting the Rochester case, truly said, "in nine cases out of ten, the man who will plead usury to escape the payment of a debt, is ten times as great a scamp as the man who exacts unlawful interest for the use of his money. The enforcement of usury laws is in almost every instance a monstrous wrong, and taking advantage of its provisions to escape the payment of a debt, is usually on a par with stealing, so far as the morality of the case is concerned."

A JUVENILE BODY GUARD.—A Protestant widow lady in Cincinnati, a Mrs. Klein, whose husband, a Catholic, died recently, took her boy from a Catholic school and sent him to the common school of the district. On his return home, a few evenings since, he was beset by his former Catholic schoolfellows, and beaten violently. The next day, however, the Protestant boys of the neighborhood, armed with sticks and stones, formed themselves into a body guard, and young Klein safely home, and have continued to do so ever since. From the children the excitement has spread to the parents, and more serious results are feared.

☞ The next Southern Commercial Convention is to be held on the 9th of May. The war of talk will undoubtedly be carried into Africa—that is, the African slave trade will be debated.

☞ Forney's Press is of opinion that Mr. Buchanan is striving to immortalize himself as the last of the line of Democratic Presidents.

A college of physicians has said that not less than twenty thousand persons in our land annually die by the use of tobacco.

MARSHAL RYNDERS.—Isaiah Rynders, U. S. Marshal for New York, committed an unprovoked assault upon W. G. Duball of White Plains, in his office, on Tuesday, and on being brought before Police Justice Walsh to answer therefore, that magistrate refused to hold him, stating as a reason that it would be a waste of time, as no jury would convict him! The complainant thought differently, however, and went to another court for a warrant. It seems that Duball went to the Marshal's office on business, and Rynders not being in, he unknowingly sat himself down in his seat. Rynders, on coming in, swore an oath and struck Duball a blow under the jaw, knocking him senseless on the floor. Duball had one of his hands crushed on the Harlem Railroad a short time ago, and he unfortunately fell on the crippled limb, sustaining severe injuries.

ROASTING A MAN ALIVE.—Two engineers of a steamer employed in the mail service between Rio and Panama, were recently brought up before the police magistrate in Liverpool, charged with roasting one of the "coal-passers" to death. It appeared that the deceased, overpowered by the heat of the hold, had given out, and laid himself down on the deck, unable to work. The chief engineer sent him below, and caused him to be tied to a ladder between two furnace doors, within two and a half feet of one fire, and three and a half feet of the other.

The fires were lighted, were raging fiercely, and were renewed twice while the man remained tied. One of the witnesses said he himself could not stand the heat three minutes, and he shipped as a stoker. The victim of this barbarity prayed to be released, but was confined half an hour, at the end of which time he was carried to the forecastle: before the next watch he was thrown overboard, and one of the wittnesses, the man who cut him from the ladder, thought he was dead before he was removed from the fire. The names of the engineers are John Buchanan and Archibald Mitchell. The name of the deceased was Thomas Landon. The vessel was the Bogota. Mitchell was committed without bail. Buchanan was bailed.

☞ On Sunday forenoon at the Warren Street Church, Boston, Rev. Thomas B. Thayer, the pastor, appeared in the pulpit for the first time since the accident at Lowell, which for a long time threatened his life, and which will doubtless render him permanently lame. The pulpit is a modern one, with no railing to the steps; but a rail has now been fixed on one side for Mr. T.'s special use. [There should be rails on all steps, where aged, or infirm, or feeble people are expected to go.] Mr. Thayer took part in the services, making very appropriate allusions to his suffering, and expressing his hope of increased usefulness, and his gratitude to his friends for their sympathy, and to God for his restoration. He closed by a renewed dedication of himself to the ministerial work, and by an appropriate hymn.

☞ An advertisement of Messrs. Dame, Grant & Co., Boston, will be seen in another column. This firm are manufacturers and jobbers of Mantillas, Ladies' Circulars and Raglans, Marseilles, linen and cotton Bosoms and Cuffs—white and printed; and they deal also in Hoop Skirts, of which they have "the best assortment in Boston,"—at the lowest prices. Persons trading in Boston, for goods in this line, —if they only call at No. 81 Milk Street, (up stairs,) and ascertain the low rates at which Dame, Grant & Co. are selling, will find it for their interest to patronize this enterprising and honorable firm.

JENKINS' SURETIES DEFAULTED.—In the Boston Municipal Court, Saturday, it was announced that the exceptions in the case of Abijah Jenkins, which had been raised in the Supreme Court, had been sent back, and the defendant was thereupon called for sentence on the indictment for receiving certain books which had been stolen from the Courier office. As Jenkins did not appear, he, together with his sureties, Francis Kidder and William Mack, were called and defaulted for $4,500.

☞ A four hundred dollar cradle is on exhibition at one of the furniture stores in Philadelphia. It is made of papier mache, inlaid with pearl, and got up with a degree of splendor exceeding anything of the kind that has yet been presented to an extravagant public. This is worse than gold spoons.

☞ On Sunday, at the Essex st. Church, Boston, Rev. Nehemiah Adams, D. D. preached a historical and occasional sermon, reviewing the 25 years of his pastorship there.

A LAWYER EXPELLED FROM THE BAR.—John Percy, an Attorney of Albany, recently commenced 67 suits for libel against the proprietors of the Evening Journal, one in every county in the State, and some in Pennsylvania. The gross amount of damages claimed reached the enormous sum of $1,300,000. On application of defendant's attorney, the suits were consolidated into one, and on trial the jury found a verdict for defendants, and the lawyer was subsequently expelled from the bar.

THE BOSTON POST OFFICE.—The Cabinet had another protracted session on Saturday. The Boston Post Office question was under consideration. Prodigious efforts have been made to get the President to interfere in this matter, and overrule the Postmaster General and Attorney General, who have decided that the removal is illegal,—but he declines to interfere. It is said Postmaster Capen will resign?

☞ The April number of the "Great Republic monthly," has the following capital list of contents, with numerous illustrations:—

Lakes of the Wilderness: Napoleon III —His Destiny: The Firemen of New York: The Tombs—The Great City Prison: The Ruins of Pompeii: The Lamp of Fate: William and Mary College, Virginia: The Wisdom Goddess: Seven Years in ye Western Land: Gone to Rest: The New World: The White Crow: April is Spring: Man an Omnivorous Animal: To One I May Not Name: Early Love: A June Sonnet: The Cave of Death: Life and Travel in the Southern States: Editorial Department: Fashions for April: Original Music: Comic Hits at the Times.

Oaksmith & Co., publishers, New York; three dollars per year, twenty-five cents per number.

☞ Mary Jones, an insane Irish woman, living on the road from Worcester to Shrewsbury, attempted to drown her son, a boy eight years old, on Thursday. She was discovered standing in the water up to her neck and holding her child under it. The lad was nearly dead when rescued.—The poor woman has an idea that the world is about to be made over anew, and that it is her duty to give her child an "early start."

A PICKPOCKET.—Last Friday evening, as the train from New York for Worcester and Boston, arrived at Worcester, Mrs. Eliza Canaday, a lady passenger, felt a strange hand in her dress pocket and immediately seized the owner of the hand, who proved to be a young fellow named William Mount. Other passengers assisted the lady and took Mount into the baggage car, where he was searched, but nothing was found upon him. He was watched until the train reached the depot in Boston, when he was handed over to the custody of the 4th Police, and after being taken to the Station, was thoroughly searched and a Port Monnaie containing $444 19 in cash, was found in one of his boots.—The money and Port Monnaie were identified as the property of Mrs. Canaday, and Mount was taken before the Police Court and held in $2500 for his appearance at Worcester for trial. The lady robbed was from Albany for Fall River, to which latter place she was conveying the corpse of her child, who died a few days since, in the former city.—Boston Journal.

WHY SO MUCH BEAUTY IN POLAND?—Because, (says Bayard Taylor), there girls do not jump from infancy to young ladyhood. They are not sent from the cradle to the parlor, to dress, to sit still and look pretty. No, they are treated as they should be. During childhood, which extends through a period of years, they are plainly and loosely dressed, and allowed to run and romp and play in the open air. They take in sunshine as flowers do. They are not loaded down, girded about, and oppressed with countless frills, and superabundant flounces, so as to be admired for their much clothing. Nor are they rendered delicate and dyspeptic by continual stuffing with candies and sweet cakes, as are the majorities of American children. Plain simple food, free and various exercise, and abundance of sunshine during the whole period of childhood, are the secrets of beauty in after life.

☞ The President has recognized Francis Augustus Horsch as Consul of the Netherlands for Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island, to reside at Boston.

The rush to Pike's Peak continues, though the place is not worth a rush.—Those who go there will become peaked enough. All of them are after "dust" and most of them will "come down with their dust" some feet below the surface of the earth. They all take spades, and it would be as well if they were to take the winding sheet that the poet associates with the spade, in mining countries, clubs are generally trumbs.—Traveller.

The new Prussian prince, Victoria's grandson, has been christened, and has a string of names as long as Rob Roy's arms, and he could tie his garters without stooping.—Traveller.

A contemporary says the worship of the Virgin Mary is to be introduced into the Boston schools. He is mistaken. It has always been there. There are many Marys worshipped in all the boys' schools in the United States. The "passion for the name of Mary," which is so common, is owing to the passions which the bearers of it cause.—Trav.

"Did I not give you a flogging the other day?" said a schoolmaster to a trembling urchin. "Yes, sir," answered the boy. "Well, what does the scripture say upon the subject?" "I don't know, sir," said the other, "except it is that passage which says, "it is more blessed to give than receive."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME. —J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photograps in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of GARDNER'S PARISIAN FIM PLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Fim ple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound 1 Barley, and under the supervisance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article so much as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER AND AGUE, STRICTURE DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from the distressing symptoms which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only a wholesome product, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of winter and air.

For sale in quarts at twenty-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, traders and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE BUT ONE IS IMPORTED.

☞ A new Bell, weighing 1017 lbs. was placed in the tower of the Methodist Church in this city, on Monday afternoon. The new bell is from the Holbrook Bell Foundry in Medway, Mass. The bell which was just been taken down, weighed 1170 lbs, and has been used only a few years. The present bell is the third new one which has been placed in this tower, which was not yet occupied by the little bell which came from the old meeting house, and which is now used at Raynes's Ship Yard.

M. & S. of S. C. & R.—We are requested to state that the meaning of the above mysterious letters, which are posted about our streets, is that the *M*anufacture and Sale of Spring Capes and *R*aglans has commenced this day at the establishment of Messrs. Allen & Paine.

Conviction of a Wife Poisoner.—The jury in the case of James Stevens, of New York city, charged with poisoning his wife, brought in a verdict of guilty, which the prisoner received with great composure. The chief evidence against him was the purchase of arsenic without any good cause, and the discovery of the poison in the body of his wife, which was dug up after it had been buried for some time.—His counsel have given notice of a motion for a new trial, while the prosecuting officer has moved the Court to commit some of the witnesses for the defence on the charge of perjury, in regard to which he says that he has evidence in his possession which will not leave a doubt of their guilt. Stevens is said to have been "a teacher and class leader in one of the evangelical societies." His wife being 10 or 12 years older than himself, he poisoned her, that he might wed a young woman—but he seems more likely now to die on the gallows.

☞ The Rockland Gazette says that an attempt was made last week by a convict to kill Mr. Samuel Bradshaw, Deputy Warden of the Maine State Prison. The convict had assumed illness, and as Mr. Bradshaw entered the door of the cell, he made a desperate attempt to stab him in the neck with a knife which he had taken from the shoe shop and concealed upon his person. The attempt was a failure—the prisoner was secured and placed in solitary confinement.

☞ The Democratic party in Pennsylvania is now divided into two wings. The State Convention, by three votes to one, approved Buchanan and refused to endorse Gov. Packer. The friends of the latter, Douglas men, will hold a convention of their own. This family fight, says the Newburyport Herald, secures the State to the Republicans by from thirty to fifty thousand majority, and fixes it against the Democrats in 1860.

☞ Just before the train at Milwaukie started for Chicago, on the 21st inst., a young, and not very bad looking man, was observed at the depot to be intoxicated, and for a few minutes was the cause of considerable merriment among the boys there. When the train was put in motion, but before any speed was up, the poor fellow reeled toward the rear car, and fell undr the wheels, which cut his body in two.

☞ The Boston Traveller of Monday evening has a dispatch from Newburyport, stating that a heavy team broke through the draw of the Newburyport Bridge on Monday noon. One pair of oxen were drowned. Cause rotten timber.

Interesting to Gentlemen.—One of the most extensive, as well as best selected stock of fabrics for gentlem n's dress goods that we have seen this season, is opened this week by H. E. Armington, at 52 School street. Mr. Armington has gained quite a reputation for the taste, elegance and finish which characterizes all garments made at his establishment; and the innumerable styles from the most celebrated European manufactories, imported by his special order this season, (with trimmings to match,) affords an opportunity for the gratification of almost any taste. An adherence to the cash system enables Mr. Armington to make and sell these goods at quite a low figure.

His stock of goods now opened are an endorsement to his reputation for taste and enterprize, and really worthy the inspection of gentlemen.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Armington's garments always look so smooth, stylish, and nicely made, that we involuntarily give the skirts of our coat a twitch, to take the wrinkles out, as we pass store No. 52 School street.—Boston Post.

The Buckeye Mower.
The Best Mowing Machine
IN THE WORLD.

At the greatest practical working trial ever held in this country, at Syracuse, N. Y., July, 1857, it received the First Premium,
Grand Gold Medal,
offered by the United States Agricultural Society for the BEST MOWING MACHINE,
over Manny's, Ketchum's, Burrall's, Hallenbecks, Allen's, Kirby's, Hovey's, Heath's or Eagle Mower, and several others. First Premium Connecticut State Agricultural Society, 1857;—Queens County Agricultural Society, 1858, and numerous others from different sections of the country.

It is warranted to cut grass equal to the best mowers with a scythe, at the rate of one acre per hour with pair of horses and a driver.

Some of its points of excellence are:

1st. It is free from side draft and has no more weight on the tongue, or horse's neck, than a wagon

2d. Its light draft.

3d. It runs on two wheels which serve as drivers.

4th. It has an adjustable cutter bar and accommodates itself to any uneven surface of the ground.

5th. The cutter bar is in front of the driving wheels, and the seat in the rear—thus enabling the driver to see the operation of the cutters without interfering with his driving; also, avoiding all danger of falling into the knives

7th. The driving wheels have no cogs on them, but drive the gearing by means of pails and rachets. 8th. By means of these pails and rachets, the knives cease to vibrate in backing the machine. 9th. The driver, while in his seat, can see every bolt, box, and all the gearing when the machine is in motion. 10th. The gearing is all permanently arranged in the centre of the frame, distant from the driving wheels, thus avoiding all tendency of its being clogged up with mud or dirt. 11th. The cutter bar being attached to the machine by means of hinges, can be folded up on top of the machine without removing connecting rod, knife, or track clearer.

12th. The pails on the driving wheels can readily be thrown out of gear, and by folding the cutter bar as above stated, the machine becomes as portable as a common cart.

13th. There is a wheel on the shoe next the gearing, in front of the cutter bar, thus avoiding all tendency of clogging at the near shoe, in passing over cut grass.

14th. The off shoe is only 2½ inches wide, and the last knife cuts no more than any other, therefore leaving no ridge or high stubble at the end of each swath.

15th. The cutter bar can be raised or lowered by means of an adjustable steel spring shoe at off end, and a slot on the near shoe where the wheel is attached.

16th. There are no nuts or screws at the connecting rod, which are always liable to work loose; but by the use of a spring pall and a rachet key this difficulty is entirely obviated

One of these Mowers can be seen at the Store of the subscriber, who is agent for the sale of them in Portsmouth and the neighboring towns Persons who have used Manny's and Allen's Mowers in this section, consider this mower much superior to either of the others. Farmers are especially invited to make an examination and trial of this Mower. Descriptive circulars—with numerous testimonials can be had at the Store of

The Administration.

We are now in the third year of the Buchanan Administration, and it occurs to us that the present is a fitting time to review its history and give expression to an independent and impartial opinion of its character.

It is the fashion of the defenders and eulogists of the Administration to commend their labors by representing the condition of the country at the time Mr. Buchanan became President, as distracted in the extreme. They paint a very dark background, so that every object brought forward as the work of the present Administration, may appear to advantage by the contrast. No matter how much injustice be done the past Administration, the present one must be sustained and glorified, even at the price of reviving and endorsing the villainous slanders and denunciations which the federal Abolitionists heaped upon Gen. Peirce's Administration, from its inauguration to its close.

We believe that this talk about the desperate condition of public affairs at the incoming of the present Administration, is all gammon. We believe that no man ever took the Presidential chair under more favorable auspices than Mr. Buchanan. Unlike Pierce, he was elected by a majority conveniently small, and had nobody to reward or regard, except those who had for several years been identified with the Democracy. Know Nothingism was on its last legs, and the Kansas furor, wrought to the highest pitch during the Presidential campaign, was suffering that reaction which inevitably follows all such excitements. Such was the state of parties; nor was the country itself in a less favorable position. The treasury was full to overflowing; so full that fear was expressed on all hands, that, unless checked, all the capital of the country would be accumulated in the vaults of the Treasury department. No foreign quarrels were bequeathed the Buchanan Administration; we were at peace with all nations, poor Kansas only bled a scattering drop here and there; and, in fact, there was nothing in the state of our affairs, foreign or domestic, which did not give the country assurance of continued peace and prosperity, nothing from which the incoming Administration had cause to fear, & the Democracy felt entire confidence in the strength, patriotism and integrity of the man they had elevated to the Presidential chair. But alas, how soon were they undeceived! How soon did the real character of the venerable "Sage of Wheatland" display itself! From the moment that he left the Capitol where he had taken his oath of office, and delivered to a large but responseless crowd, an inaugural faintly foreshadowing the South-side sectionalism which he has since so fully developed; from that moment we say, and we challenge contradiction, James Buchanan has made it his chief study to heap insults upon the friends of Ex-President Pierce and Senator Douglas, who had been his unsuccessful competitors at the Convention. If we are rightly informed, Mr. Buchanan had not removed his personal baggage into the White House, before he exhibited the policy he intended to pursue, by treating Gen. Pierce with marked personal discourtesy.

Mr. Buchanan has certainly been consistent in one thing: he has never wavered nor faltered in his deliberate purpose to insult and injure, by every means in his power, all the personal and political friends of Gen. Pierce & Judge Douglas. Buchanan's favorites in this State are but a fair sample of the men all over the Union who have been received by him as the representatives of the Democracy in their respective States. Edmund Burke has been, and probably is now, the Court favorite from New Hampshire; to be sure, several lesser lights have been graciously allowed to bow before the "Sage of Wheatland," assure him that they admire his vast statesmanship, having preferred him for President ever since the days of Jackson, whose second edition they recognize in his Excellency, & then modestly express their desires and the desires of all the "Administration Democrats" in their vicinity, relative to some post-office or matter of that sort. But really, there has been but one man from New Hampshire cordially welcomed at the White House, the others who have ventured there have been tolerated only on account of their capacity to tickle the vanity of the venerable old lady by comparing her to General Jackson. Edmund Burke, whose whole talent has been devoted during the past six years to the disgrace and destruction of the Democracy of this State, who has been in secret and in open league with the free soilers, know nothings and black republicans during all that time, whose only recommendation is that he was baser and more malignant in his abuse of Franklin Pierce and his Administration than any Black Republican in the State, is the man selected by James Buchanan to represent the Democracy of this State. No wonder that the Democrats of New Hampshire regard Mr. Buchanan with intense affection! And no wonder that similar feelings are expressed by the Democrats in many other States where Buchanan has carried out his brilliant policy of knifing all the friends of Pierce and Douglas, and rewarding with the best offices, those only who were the "original friends of Mr. Buchanan," and were notorious mal-contents and mischief-makers during the Pierce Administration! We do really wish the President would test his popularity by a tour through the Northern States; we think in his travels he might pick up some information which would be useful to him, should the Democracy ever give him another chance to experiment at their expense.

Now let us turn from the contemplation of President Buchanan as a party man, as a Democrat, and see what he has done as a President particularly worthy of commendation. Let us re-read his interminable messages, notice his recommendations, and see what he has done to save himself and his Administration from the overwhelming condemnation with which it is threatened on every hand. Let us hunt up some bold and vigorous stroke of statesmanship, some wise and patriotic recommendation, something that shall redeem the Administration, at least, from the mortifying charge of imbecility. We will resume the subject next week, and faithfully present the result of our retrospect.

PRICES GREATLY REDUCED.

The Wheeler & Wilson

Medal Family Sewing Machine.

A NEW STYLE MACHINE,

PRICE $50.

This Machine makes the Lock Stitch, which is the only stitch that cannot be raveled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

The Wheeler & Wilson Mfg Co.

Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these SEWING MACHINES for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting as they do, healthful exercises and rational amusement for the soul-and-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as WOMAN'S FRIEND.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric made;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel, and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

THE GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE CO.,
NO. 18 SUMMER STREET, BOSTON,

Having greatly increased their facilities for manufacturing their

Celebrated Family Machines,

with all the recent improvements, have reduced their prices, and offer for sale

A NEW STYLE MACHINE,

PRICE $50:

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

It is no longer questioned that these Machines are the best in use for family sewing. They

HEM, FELL, GATHER, AND STITCH

in the most superior manner, and are the only machines in the market that are so well and simply made,—that they may be sent into families with no other instructions than are contained in a circular which accompanies each machine, and from which

A CHILD OF TEN YEARS

may readily learn how to use them, and keep them in order. They make upwards of

FIFTEEN HUNDRED STITCHES A MINUTE,

and will do the sewing of a family cheaper than a seamstress can do it, even if she works at the rate of

ONE CENT AN HOUR!

Is there a husband, father, or brother in the United States, who will permit the drudgery of hand sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

THE GREAT WONDER
Of The Nineteenth Century.
PROFESSOR WOOD'S
HAIR RESTORATIVE.
Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentlemen in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. It certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:
BATH, ME., Jan. 20, 1858.
PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:
Gentlemen:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.
The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the dautities of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours,
A. C. RAYMOND.
BALTIMORE, Jan. 22, 1858.
WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.
Professor Wood: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINEY JOHNSON.
The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Methodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved.
Wm. Dras.
Brookfield, Jan 12, 1858.
Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching, with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.
Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,
KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express, free of charge, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.
Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secresy preserved.
DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year he has prescribed for more than three hundred cases of diseases which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inveterate Gonorrhœa and Gleets.
Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.
The medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 18 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE REGULATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.
The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.
All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.
These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—18 Howard street, Boston.
P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 dly

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practic of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions; and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVERTISING AND ADVICE, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made no less related applications, SIXTEEN AT PEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30, 1859.

AGITATION.

The Arkansas legislature have passed a law for the expulsion of free negroes from that state. They are allowed to the first day of 1860 to remove, and after that the sheriff may seize them and let them out for the benefit of the slave. Presuming that some of the negroes would prefer slavery to removal from the place where they were born, and where many of them have parents or children, husbands or wives; in slavery, the law provides that they may enslave themselves by choosing masters who shall pay into the treasury their appraised value, the amount going to the common school fund.

This is a little nearer to barbarism, we believe, than any other state has yet gone. Such a community, that will catch the little free negroes running in the streets and sell them to educate their own white offspring, is little above the alligators of their swamps.

Some of the Southern papers are down upon Senator Brown of Mississippi, for announcing at Tammany hall that he wanted Cuba to increase slavery in the confederacy. They should not be too severe upon the man, for it was no secret before. It does not follow, however, that slavery would be strengthened by the annexation of Cuba. We believe, (says the Newburyport Herald,) it would be weakened. They have wanted all previously annexed territory to strengthen slavery; but in no instance has that been accomplished. The closer they keep with their negroes the longer they will hold them; and the least said about it the better for them. They can't move east, west, north or south—they can't build a railroad over the territory, nor put a new steamboat on their rivers—they can't increase coastwise commerce or bring themselves into nearer connection with others by telegraph—they can't build a factory or a meeting house, establish a newspaper, or have a new mail route, print a Bible or utter a prayer—they can't have an infant born, or an old person die, but that slavery grows weaker. It is an abhorred and loathsome institution against which every honest instinct rebels, and upon which God's curse must rest forever; and it is just as sure to be blotted out as man is to progress or evil to be destroyed. It was said by one, if he did not speak the stones would cry out. So the very elements—God's earth that grows barren at its touch, and all the arrangements of Providence, repudiate and loathe the vile system. To talk of strengthening such an institution is to think of succeeding in a warfare affainst divine justice and almighty truth.

MAN RUN OVER AND KILLED.—Monday afternoon, about five o'clock, a man named John Ray, 30 years old, was walking on the track used by the dirt cars engaged in filling the Back Bay, Boston, near the crossing of the Providence and Worcester Railroads, when a train of empty dirt cars approached him from the depot. The engineer discovered him and gave the signal, when he stepped from the track, and the train was allowed to proceed. When it had nearly reached him, however, he stepped back upon the track, and before the train could be stopped he was knocked down and half the train passed over him, and the body was taken to the dead house. Ray lived at Newton Upper Falls, and was a Scotchman. He was formerly in the employ of the road, but was intemperate in his habits, and was intoxicated at the time of the accident. He went into Boston from Newton on Saturday last, and has been on a spree since.

EMIGRATION FROM NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The Traveller's Concord correspondent says that few, if any of the people of that region are intending to leave for the West the present season, and none for the Gold Regions. They will wait and see how the deserters of Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas, &c., &c., succeed at Pike's Peak before they will leave happy homes for no homes at all in the very far West. The people of New Hampshire are learning to be cautious.

"I'D BE A PRESIDENT."—The Charleston (S. C.) Mercury, speaking of Southern candidates for the Presidency, says:—"There are some twenty Richmonds in the field, all challenging fate at the hands of the terrible black Republican Richard of 1860."

Three team horses were sold in Boston last week for $1135.

OUR BOSTON CORRESPONDENCE.

BOSTON, March 18, 1859.

Dear Chronicle:—The spirit of speculation seems vigorously alive yet, and a "nice young man" has betokened his aptness in learning small lessons of his elders regarding appropriations of railroad money to his own uses.

The accounts of this began to be public on Saturday last, but discovery at the Freight Office where the young man was employed, was made some weeks since. He is spoken of in the papers, as apparently having lived within his small income of a dollar and a half per day, but in conversation this morning with a fellow clerk, I find that it has for some time been a matter of surprise to those around him who knew his salary, that he could live so well and dress so well. Also that his acquaintances outside of business were led to suppose he enjoyed about eight hundred per annum; also that he represented that he made money by having flour consigned to him from the West. He was married last winter to a lady some years older than himself;—although he was previously somewhat egotistic as a lady killer;—marrying at last apparently under the influence of a rebuff from the sister of his most especial chum—a young man with whom he had talked of engaging in business as a capitalist—the partner to do the work at the halves.

He furnished his bridal apartments prettily, to the tune of about five hundred dollars, and has lately been an apparently prosperous young man. He also presented his bride with some three hundred dollars worth of jewelry, and made an expensive bridal tour.

His method of proceeding in his fraud was to make out the freight bills with an error in the reckoning, when the amount was sufficient to allow it:—then to have this error carried through the Books under cover of his examination and mark of being correct. The wrong amount being thus collected occasionally of merchants thro' the city for freight received,—he would then go to them soon after with a correct bill, show the error in the original, and collect the difference. A petty and risky game indeed! But he had numerous examples of successful swindling in Railroad funds, and chose to take the risk of discovery and slight punishment, in case it came at all. The amount of his depredations, spoken of as about two thousand dollars, —or as the Journal of this afternoon says, about $1500—is likely to prove in reality about eight thousand, according to present developments at head quarters, altho' it will be a slow and tedious matter, even with his aid, to trace the whole.

The course the officers of the road will pursue regarding him does not appear to have transpired yet—no arrest having been been announced, and the offender is said to be still in the city. The real circumstances are, that the marriage relatives of the youth, have settled, or have arranged to settle the matter, rather than have further developments, although it is not likely that they know the full extent of the losses to the Road yet. His brother is married into a wealthy family, however, and all will undoubtedly be met by them rather than allow an exposure. His parents are dead—the mother about a year since.

A part of the goods for the business in which he was going to have a financial interest arrived in the city this morning, as I am informed by a relative of his proposed partner. A lucky escpe for the intendeds partner.

The Post Office controversy is open and warm yet. To-day the Journal's telegraph matter from Washington seems against removal back to State St., while the Transcript says, in its editorial columns, the return may be considered as settled upon for certain.

The school troubles are dying out. There has been more noise than fire, and nearly all are sick of the matter. The trial of a teacher for assault upon a scholar has seemed like a farce from the beginning.

There is not much that is news. Business improves a little as Spring opens, and the promises are fair for a good season.

The matter of interest in amusements is the coming advent, in Readings and Recitations, of Mrs. Cecile Rush from Philadelphia. She is represented as very beautiful, and if she proves to be so, and has fair talent she will make a sensation.—Beautiful women are not plenty—at least not in public life. BERNARDM.

☞ There are now many men in San Francisco whose families are in a state of destitution, who a few years ago were worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.—Speculations in real estate ruined them.—One family that were intensely aristocratic during the inflated days, now keep boardees and take in washing.

ATTEMPT TO MURDER A HUSBAND.—In Halifax, England, a woman felt her spouse an incumbrance, and applied to the druggist of the village for six penny worth of arsenic. He very properly refused, and at the same time informed her husband, inquiring of him for what purpose his wife could require it. The husband told the druggist that if she applied again he must sell her some harmless article in lieu of arsenic, and they would see what her objects were. She did apply again, and the wary apothecary delivered her some some carbonate of soda, telling her husband of what had occurred. When he went home he found a meat pie prepared for dinner; he pretended at first want of appetite, and invited her to help herself. She refused, and at last he ate a quantity of the pie. In a little while he professed himself unwell, then feigned thirst, then alarming sickness, and finally death.

The treacherous woman manifested great concern during these proceedings; but the instant death appeared to her to have occurred, she passed a rope through the chamber floor, and tied it to her husband's neck, in order that when neighbors were called in he might appear to have hanged himself. She then ran up stairs to draw up and fix the rope. The instant she had disappeared, the dead man revived, released himself of the rope, and passed it round the leg of the table, and the woman hung that useful and domestic article instead of the other one, the husband. The latter also ran up stairs, inquiring of the faithless woman "what she was after, drawing the table up that way?" The affair has ended for the present in his taking the law into his own hands. He has given her, as the Yorkshire folks say, "a right down good hiding."

ASSUMPTION.—A correspondent of the Traveller indignantly asks, "upon what authority Bishop Fitzpatrick, in his communications through the public press, signs himself 'Bishop of Boston.' What right has the Popish emissary to such an exclusive title? Have we no other bishops among us? Is not Bishop Eastburn a bishop? It seems to me that "John" should be satisfied with dictating terms to our public schools, without arrogating to himself the high-sounding title, 'Bishop of Boston.'"

It is sufficient to say, that the arrogant assumption that the Roman Church is the only church, and that all outside her pale are heretics and doomed to an eternal hell of hopeless woe,—is an essential part of the popish religion. In their view there is only one church in Boston, viz. the Roman, and only one Bishop.—Eastburn to them, is no more a bishop than Parker or Adams, or King—and each and all of them are condemned heretics, ready to be bound in a bundle, and bound by the unseen powers after death;—and if the Holy Mother had the power now and here, as she has had in Spain and at Smithfield.—a small burnt offering, (a la John Rogers,) would be making just now, instead of the school rebellion.

☞ A little son of Thomas Black, while playing recently in Lewis street, New York, was scalded to death by hot water running into the gutter from an iron factory. The coroner's jury gave a verdict of accidental death, but the father has entered a complaint against the factory proprietors, showing that many other children have been similarly, though not fatally, scalded, and disclosing the fact that the jury originally determined to call the proprietors to account for gross culpability, but were instructed not to do so by the Deputy Coroner, to whom they reluctantly yielded.

☞ George Glover, George Webster, Fred. Pinkham, and others, having sought the roof of the Portsmouth Railroad bridge, at Turkey Falls, as a convenient place whence to view the freshet, found concealed there a large lot of women's shoes. They handed over the property to the City Marshal of Concord, in whose possession it remains, but is advertised in the Concord Statesman for a claimant.

☞ Henry Meigs, the great California swindler and runaway, is cutting a wide swath in Chili, the common retreat of Americans who get too bad for San Francisco. He is building railroads and bridges, importing and manufacturing machinery, and living in the style of a nabob.—He is reported to be worth two millions, and making money rapidly.

☞ The Jewish Mortara family have received a definite answer to their memorial to the Pope, desiring him to release their child, that "baptism once administered cannot be revoked." The parents were not permitted even to see their child any more.

THE STOLEN CHILD.—Madam Mortara, the Jewish mother of the child recently stolen from Bologna, now held by the church in Rome, is at Florence, and said to be dying of a broken heart, all her efforts with the Pope and all the remonstrances of Jewish and Christian Europe, failing to give her her son. The plea, it will be remembered, for the theft was to save the child's soul, he having been surreptiously baptized, when a child, by a Catholic priest, through the intervention of a Catholic nurse. The Romish police are busy also in visiting Jewish families to learn if any Catholic domestics are kept by them. By the last accounts the Pope was taking great interest in the education of the young Mortara for the Priesthood. In any Italian revolution, which may at any moment break out, this violent abduction will be remembered and become a watchword.—Nashua Telegraph.

☞ Agnes Wright, who, the Cincinnati Enquirer says, is a young and beautiful woman, and whom no one would suspect of having a tinge of African blood in her veins, was manumitted at the Probate Court at Cincinnati on Monday by her owner Reuben Wright of New Orleans.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—On Monday afternoon, about half past two o'clock, a man named Noah Glines, about 30 years old, attempted to commit suicide at his house in Boston. He has been insane for some time past, and was intemperate in his habits.

The Journey to Poland

DEFERRED UNTIL NEXT YEAR!!

AND IN APPROVAL THEREOF,

E. GREEN & CO.

Have enlarged and splendidly remodelled their Store and extensively increased their Stock for the accommodation of their customers, and others who may favor them with their patronage.

As the articles are too numerous to mention, mark one item, viz: (White Shirts with Linen Bosoms are selling at 50 Cents apiece,) they present the following facts before the people.

1. We have sold, and intend to sell Clothing of our own manufacture, and Furnishing Goods cheaper than any establishment of the kind in this State.

2. Because they have been reared in said business from their infancy, and know how to buy; and aside from that they do buy their Stock in New York only of the importers who are related to them, and naturally favor them in bargains.

3. It is rumored that if we continue selling as cheap as we have done in the past, we must "slump," which can but result to the benefit of the buyer.

4. That we intended to move to Pulaski on account of our dissatisfaction with this place, we contradict; on the contrary, we are very grateful for past patronage, and hope for a continuance and increase of the same.

5. And lastly, Auerbach desired to visit his native land, which he has not seen for 18 years, but deferred it for reasons above stated.

☞ Please call and see whether all these facts are true or not.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontitorumenos.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME.—J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of th day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

POISONOUS INNOCULATIONS.—Persons who, by accident or otherwise, become innoculated with any malignant disorder, will find the R. R. R. Remedies prompt, quick and efficient. Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or innoculated through indiscretion or accident.—We have hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe tortures for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators at night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys regular.

For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysm in a few minutes.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can be easily removed by an application of ANDREW'S PARISIAN PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to be the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few days Ring Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Bites and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid quite, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from these distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at twenty cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

DR. DUPONCO'S

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by Joseph H. Thacher, in Dover by Chas A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the Ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for "Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills." Observe the signature J. Duponco in upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

☞ We are pleased to learn that Timothy G. Senter, Esq., one of the sons of Portsmouth, now of Lynn, Mass., will give some of his eloquent readings at the Temple on the evening of Fast Day—for the benefit of the City Mission. He will read selections from Miles Standish's Courtship, and other popular pieces.—The object is worthy of patronage; the reading, as our people well know, will be of a high order; and the house, we hope and believe, will be full.

School Committee.—At the annual meeting in School District No. 1, held at the Ward Room, on Monday evening, Wm. H. Y. Hackett, Esq. was moderator, and Samuel Gray, Esq., Clerk.

The following gentlemen were chosen School Committee for the ensuing year:

John Chase, Nathaniel D. Miller, Benjamin F. Rice, Charles A. Wiggin, John S. Harvey.

☞ We learn that the persons who were injured on Saturday morning, are still suffering severely from their bruises. Mr. Lowd's hip is considerably bruised, and it will doubtless be some time before he recovers. Young Clark's recovery is doubted, his head being severely injured.

Accident.—A little daughter of Sewell W. Webber was badly burned on Tuesday afternoon, by her clothes taking fire. Her parents having left her alone she commenced lighting some shavings in the stove, and at last her dress caught fire, which alarmed her, and she ran out of the house across the street to her father's shop, where the flames were extinguished. Her neck and breast were badly burned, but at last accounts she was doing well.

☞ The Newburyport Herald gives the following account of the accident on the Newburyport bridge:—

Monday forenoon, as Mr. David Sanborn of Salisbury, was crossing the bridge on his return home, with a loaded team drawn by two yokes of oxen, when on the draw he heard the snapping of timbers, just in season to save himself, and witness the precipitation of draw, cart and oxen in one confused mass in the Merrimac.—The leading yoke of oxen were disengaged from the tongue and drawn ashore. The oxen attached to the cart were drowned. The timbers were white pine and very much decayed. The break will be repaired in a few days in the most substantial manner. The flooring of the entire bridge was newly laid a few months since, and is perfectly secure; but this draw was supported by some timbers that were not trusty. There will be a loss of several hundred dollars, that will fall on the Eastern Railroad corporation.

☞ A sojourner in Florida writes in respect to the revival of the slave trade:

The scarcity and high price of negroes prevent new lands from being occupied, and lessens the profit of old plantations, and, therefore, the cry now is, "more negroes, and at lower prices." The demand will probably call forth a supply. There is more going on in that business than is generally known. It is rumored that two cargoes have been landed on the gulf coast of Florida, and that more of the same sort are coming. The barque Ardanes, the captain of which was arrested in Jacksonville some time since, finally sailed from that port with American papers, and is now well known to be filled with African stock either for Cuba or this coast. Other vessels are known to be engaged in the same business. If the slave trade is not in reality re-opened at this time, the indications are that it soon will be, and continued until the present demand is satisfied. No more respect is paid to United States laws on the subject, by those interested, than the lover of brandy pays to the Maine liquor law.

It would seem from this statement of facts that, in spite of our laws on paper, the African slave trade is carried into the patriotic "national" states of our "glorious Union." Yet we have had a humbug plan addressed to us, to get Cuba somehow, so as to abolish the slave trade! It is one nothing but a humbug.

Real and Ideal.—Dow, Jr., in one of his discourses in which he describes the contrast between semblance and reality, tells off a ball scene:—

A woman may not be an angel, though she glides through the mazes of the dance like a sprite clothed with a rainbow and studded with stars. The young man may behold his admired object on the morrow in the light of reality, emptying a washtub in the gutter, with frock pinned up behind—her cheeks pale for the want of paint, her hair mussed and massy, except that lies in the bureau; and her whole contour wearing the appearance of an angel rammed through a brush fence, into a world of wickedness and woe.

☞ The value of foreign dry goods brown into the New York market since the first of January is $2,251,214, nearly sixteen millions more than in 1852, and some two millions more than in the corresponding time in 1857.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The foreign news by the Niagara is thus condensed by the Atlas:

The Neapolitan exiles have addressed the Mayor of Cork, setting forth their reasons for compelling the captain of the vessel to steer for Cork. They state that he was bound for America, but after considering a remonstrance drawn up by them, he concluded to go to Cork. They used no violence, and threatened none. They have been cordially received and liberally provided for.

Reform meetings, mostly in opposition to the Ministerial measure, were being held in all parts of England. In case of a defeat of the Government, it is thought Parliament will immediately dissolve.

Five of the Phenix Club are being tried for treason—charged with conspiring to subvert the Constitution and establish a Democratic Government in Ireland. It is stated that aid was expected from France and America.

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas attended a dinner party given recently by the Queen.

It would seem by certain indications in France that the prospect of war is diminishing daily, while on the other hand it is positively asserted that the settlement of the Italian question is absolutely necessary for the peace of Europe, and that unless it can be amicably settled other means will be resorted to to settle the question. Military preparations are being prosecuted vigorously.

Washington, March 28.—Gen. Bowman, Superintendent of Public Printing, has purchased the Union newspaper establishment.

At about one o'clock to day the community were startled by the report that Gen. Cass had died suddenly, but he is in the enjoyment of his usual health, and transacting business at the State Department.

From information received here, the business of importing Africans is far more extensive than heretofore supposed, and all the arrangements for that purpose are ingeniously devised. Small boats are employed to relieve the slavers of their cargoes and bring them into the Southern States. Our government has been informed of some of the movements, and has taken efficient measures in the premises.

It is not believed here that any filibustering expedition is now ready to start for Cuba, as recently reported. The most reliable advices are altogether contrary to the probability of such a movement. The story is similar to the programme of Gen. Rowean, promulgated months ago.

The project submitted by the French to the English government merely proposes friendly visitations where there is good cause for suspicion that the vessel is a slaver; and to this our government has no objection so far as vessels sailing under the American flag are concerned, but will hold the visiting parties responsible for any misconduct or violation of our maritime rights.

It is said the Boston Post Office will be restored to State street, when the government shall have filed the bonds which the representatives of the remonstrants are now waiting here to execute.

New York, March 29.—Steamer Empire City, from Havana 24th, has arrived. She brings a portion of the California mails, 180 passengers, and $281,000 in specie.

The U. S. mail steamship Illinois, from Aspinwall for New York, entered Havana harbor in company with the Empire City, the former with damage to her machinery, and only working the starboard engine.

The Empire City took on board one hundred and five bags of California mails from the Illinois, and left at noon on the 24th, to be followed by the Granada, three hours later.

The health of Havana is good.

Some arrest of outside Cubans, naturalized in the United States, are being made, on the "ounce of prevention" plan, fearing that mischief may be done unless their action be anticipated.

A cargo of Africans was landed the preceding week.

Havana papers confirm the report of the wrecking of the English war steamer Jassour.

The stock of sugar on hand at Havana and Matanzas was 200,000 boxes; prices were unchanged, with a downward tendency. Freights had not improved.

☞ A serious disastrous break occurred in the Boston Water Works, on Tuesday morning, viz. the Gate House at Newton Lower Falls, and with it two pipes which took the water across the Charles river.—Boston people must depend for water upon what there is in Brookline Reservoir. The city will hold the three reservoirs in Boston, for fires. The break will be repaired in 4 or 5 days.

Hyannis, March 19th.—Ship Shooting Star is off, and sale in this harbor. Broke one anchor, an lost the other.

The Wheeler & Wilson

Medal Family Sewing Machine.
A NEW STYLE MACHINE,
PRICE $50.
This Machine makes the Lock Stitch, which is the only stitch that cannot be raveled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

The Wheeler & Wilson Mf'g Co.
Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Skirts, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in widely recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting as they do, healthful exercise and rational employment for the soul-and-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as Woman's Friend.

Among their undoubted advantages are—
1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

The Buckeye Mower.

The Best Mowing Machine

IN THE WORLD.

At the greatest practical working trial ever held in this country, at Syracuse, N. Y., July, 1857, it received the First Premium,

Grand Gold Medal,

offered by the UNITED STATES AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY for the

BEST MOWING MACHINE,

over Manny's, Ketchum's, Burrall's, Hallenbeck, Allen's, Kirby's, Hovey's, Heath's or Eagle Mower, and several others. First Premium Connecticut State Agricultural Society, 1857;—Queens County Agricultural Society, 1858, and numerous others from different sections of the country.

It is WARRANTED to cut grass equal to the best mowers with a scythe, at the rate of one acre per hour with pair of horses and a driver.

Some of its points of excellence are:

1st. It is free from side draft and has no more weight on the tongue, or horse's neck, than a wagon.

2d. Its light draft.

3d. It runs on two wheels which serve as drivers.

4th. It has an adjustable center bar and accommodates itself to any uneven surface of the ground.

5th. The cutter bar is in front of the driving wheels, and the seat in the rear—thus enabling the driver to see the operation of the cutters without interfering with his driving; also, avoiding all danger of falling into the knives.

7th. The driving wheels have no cogs on them, but drive the gearing by means of pails and rachets. 8th. By means of these pails and rachets, the knives cease to vibrate in backing the machine. 9th. The driver, while in his seat, can see every bolt, box, and all the gearing when the machine is in motion. 10th. The gearing is all permanently arranged in the centre of the frame, distant from the driving wheels, thus avoiding all tendency of its being clogged up with mud or dirt. 11th. The cutter bar being attached to the machine by means of hinges, can be folded up on top of the machine without removing connecting rod, knife, or track clearer.

12th. The pails on the driving wheels can readily be thrown out of gear, and by folding the cutter bar as above stated, the machine becomes as portable as a common cart.

13th. There is a wheel on the shoe next the grating, in front of the cutter bar, thus avoiding all tendency of clogging at the near shoe, in passing over cut grass.

14th. The cut of shoe is only 2½ inches wide, and the last knife cuts no more than any other, therefore leaving no ridge or high stubble at the end of each swath.

15th. The cutter bar can be raised or lowered by means of an adjustable steel spring shoe at off end, and a slot on the near shoe where the wheel is attached.

16th. There are no nuts or screws at the connecting rod, which are always liable to work loose; but by the use of a spring pail and a rachet key this difficulty is entirely obviated.

One of these Mowers can be seen at the Store of the subscriber, who is agent for the sale of them in Portsmouth and the neighboring towns. Persons who have used Manny's and Allen's Mowers in this section, consider this mower much superior to either of the others. Farmers are especially invited to make an examination and trial of this Mower. Description circulars—with numerous testimonials can be had at the Store of

Of The Nineteenth Century

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior qualities of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. It certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press.

BATH, ME., Jan. 20, 1856.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict any statements. I am a citizen of this city, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any one can buy make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours,

A. C. RAYMOND.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 28 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE

Professor Wood: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FOLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Brace, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Methodist church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great talents and universally beloved. WM. DYER.

Brookfield, Jan 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. BRACE.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent more in proportion than the small, and retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express, or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are enrolled upon his books as patients.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from acquaintances or friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be induced to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 18 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE CLEANSING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—18 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 d1y

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practic of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL; AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1859.

JUDGE TANEY AND THE PATRIOT.—The Concord Patriot of March 30 devotes a column and more to Judge Taney and Uncle Toby, in the course of which it quotes correctly that part of Judge Taney's opinion in which he speaks of the negro as having no rights a century or two ago, and in which he says:

This opinion was at that time fixed and universal in the civilized portion of the white race.

The Patriot then goes on to say:

Every reader will see at a glance that this language of Judge Taney had no application to the present status of the negro; he was talking of what it was a hundred and fifty years ago. It is too plain to be misunderstood even by a child ten years old, for he expressly says that it was for more than a century before the Declaration of Independence that the "negro had been regarded" as having "no rights," &c.—not that he (Judge T.) so regarded them now.

He does indeed say it was regarded so for a hundred years before—but he does not leave it there. On the contrary, this very passage is brought in by Judge Taney to show what their rights were at the time of the Revolution. For he says:

It is difficult at this day to realise the state of public opinion in relation to that unfortunate race, which prevailed in the civilized and enlightened portions of the world at the time of the Declaration of Independence, and when the Constitution of the United States was framed and adopted.

How does he get rid of the difficulty? By adding:

But the public history of every European nation displays it in a manner too plain to be mistaken.

They had for more than a century before regarded as beings of an inferior order, and altogether unfit to associate with the white race, either in social or political relations; and so far inferior, that they had no rights which the white man was bound to respect.

Now surely when Judge Taney says they had been for a century before regarded as having no rights, he did not mean to say that this idea, being 100 years old, had become obsolete, but that it came down to the Revolution, to the time of the Declaration of Independence, and to the time of forming the Federal Constitution.

If we should say that 200 years ago the Massachusetts people believed in witchcraft, and hung witches, that would be one thing;—but, should we say that for two hundred years before last winter they believed in the craft and hung the witches, that would be another thing.

Judge Taney puts in the for, and thus brings down the lack of rights, as he asserts it, to the formation of our government. And on this asserted disability, he actually grounds his argument, and makes his decision, viz., that Dred Scott (being a black man, and a descendant of those black men of the olden time, who were stolen and sold because they had no rights) has no rights now, either to be a citizen, or to sue for his freedom in the U. S. Courts—and therefore orders his case to be dismissed.

Uncle Toby is much obliged to the Patriot for publishing the extracts so much at large—as they go to prove his side of the controversy, viz., that Judge Taney, so far as his published opinion goes, denies all rights to the black man, and declares him a piece of property, to be bought and sold.

MAN COMING TO LIFE AT HIS OWN FUNERAL. On Friday last, a man named John Koch, while painting the third story of a house in Orange, N. J., fell to the ground and was taken up for dead. His afflicted relatives proceeded to make arrangements for the funeral, which was appointed for Sunday. Shortly before the hour appointed on that day, the body exhibited signs of returning animation, and in a few moments to the astonishment of all, the young man in the coffin, who was of course believed to be dead, was able to converse with his friends! It is a singular case, and the man's escape from being buried alive was miraculous. The physicians pronounce his present condition as extremely critical, and it is doubtful whether he may survive the injuries sustained by the fall.

☞ Mrs. Cora L. V. Hatch lectured in New York on Sunday evening, and at the close of her lecture her husband, who was in the audience, followed her to the anteroom, where he took hold of her, and some sharp words passed. He wanted to see her alone, but she refused, and called upon those around her to give her protection. The Doctor then left.

Beauty is only skin-deep.—Well, it looks first-rate as far as it goes.

DISMISSAL OF SUIT.—In the Court of Common Pleas at New York, a non suit has been ordered in the action commenced by Maloney against Mr. Dows, Treasurer of the San Francisco Vigilance Committee, for alleged false imprisonment in 1855.—The complaint is dismissed on the ground that no action can be maintained in New York, to recover damages for a wilful injury to the person inflicted in another State, when at the time of the act both parties were domiciled in that State as resident citizens. This is an important decision, both on account of the principle involved, and because other suits for a similar cause of action, are pending against other members of the Committee, now residing in New York.

☞ We have already mentioned that a young and very beautiful woman, Agnes Wright, was manumitted in the Probate Court at Cincinnati by her owner, Reuben Wright, of New Orleans. Had it not been known she was a slave, no one would have suspected that she had a particle of African blood in her veins. She had genteel manners and style, and was dressed as elegantly as a Fourth street belle. The particular relation her master bore to her is probably the cause of her freedom. Agnes would pass anywhere for a Caucasian woman. And yet, say the "old grannies" in pantaloons, she has no rights that a white man is bound to respect!

ENGLISH ARMY CONTRACTS.—From the complaints in the English journals, we judge that there is quite as much abuse and favoritism in the army and navy contracts there as here. It is stated that a contractor agreed to furnish the soldiers kits to be delivered at Weedon for £2 11s 3d each. They were found to be of an inferior description, not worth this sum, and refused. The contractor withdrew them, and it is found he delivered the same kits at Chatham, and received £3 8s 9d each for them, probably charging the extra price to pay for the trouble and delay caused him.

☞ The Newark Mercury denies the statement of the Jersey City Telegraph, that Mr. Ten Eyck, the United States Senator elect from New Jersey, is the owner of two hundred slaves, bequeathed to Mrs. Ten Eyck, by her father, Mr. Gadsby.—The Mercury says Mr. Ten Eyck might have been the owner of a number of slaves from the estate referred to if he had been willing to become a slaveholder, yet that notwithstanding the value of the "property" devised, he absolutely refused to receive the legacy.

☞ Henry J. Hutchinson of Philadelphia effected a heavy insurance upon the little property contained in the dwelling house and grocery occupied by him, after which he secretly removed all his effects and prepared a train of combustibles, and set fire to them, expecting to burn the building and get the insurance; but the "train" was a slow one, smoke was discovered, and the neighbors broke into the house and found the evidences of his guilt. He was arrested, and confesses the crime.

☞ The London Times says of American newspapers: "At the head of every journal the editor's name is printed in conspicuous letters, which circumstance, so far from making the journalists more circumspect and considerate, leads to the publication of astounding personalities in every newspaper in the Union."

☞ Gen. Ward B. Burnett of New York is on the way to Nashville, Tenn., to receive from the heirs of Gen. Jackson the gold snuff box, awarded to him as the bravest soldier in the Mexican war, in compliance with the will of the hero of New Orleans.

☞ Uriah Hyde, a farmer, who disappeared in the autumn of 1851, and was supposed to be murdered, a body being found which it was thought was his, has recently been discovered living in Jefferson county, New York. No reason is made public for this flight and concealment.

☞ Mr. Everett has been requested by a number of prominent citizens of New York, to again deliver his oration on Washington, and it is thought he will do so during the religious anniversaries in May.

☞ Lord Brougham has introduced a bill into the British parliament which allows a person on trial to testify in his own behalf, but does not excuse him from answering questions tending to criminate himself.

☞ The New York town elections, which have just taken place, show the following result: Republican Supervisors, 535; Democrats, 249, Americans, 29. This is a large Republican gain over last year.

SLAVERY IN CUBA exists in a mitigated form. The slave can buy himself or an undivided portion of himself, whenever he demands it, making a tender of the money. If he acquires a fractional independence, he is entitled to a proportionate share of his time and earnings. If his master maltreats him he is allowed a certain number of days in each year to find a new purchaser. He can have his children legally declared free by paying twenty-five dollars in Court, at the birth of each. So different is this system of slavery from that of the Southern States, and so revolutionary in its tendencies, that a large portion of the slaveholding States do not desire the annexation of Cuba to the United States. It is easy to decide which system would revolutionize the other. In this respect, at least Cuba has the advantage of us.—Atlas.

Mr. and Mrs. Steen of Brattleborough, Vt., whose names were unfortunately associated with the noted trial of Mr. Kalloch, left for California in January. It was the advice of friends that they should seek a residence remote from New England. —Manchester American.

Mrs. Steen is sent to California, yet Kalloch, the partner in her crime, is petted and lionized by the religious people of New England, almost within hearing of the dinner-bell of the Lechmere House.—Union Democrat.

Mr. Kalloch preaches in the Tremont Temple, and some people go to hear him—yet "the religious people of New England" is rather too large a name for that portion of them who either pet or honize him.

A MORMON BRIDE PUBLICLY WHIPPED.—A writer relates the following story of a Gentile and his Mormon bride, who were separated in Utah, and the bride publicly whipped:—

A Gentile resident of Frogtown, a short time ago, went over to Provo after a young woman, who, it seems, had taken a fancy to him, and who wished to leave Provo and come and live in Frogtown with her Gentile admirer. But a mob collected around the house where she and her lover were, and he was advised that he would find it conducive to his health to leave immediately, which he did. The young woman was then taken out and publicly whipped!

☞ Telegraphic advices from Leavenworth, K. T., give favorable accounts of gold digging. The average yield with rockers is four to ten dollars per day. Ditch companies are forming to carry the water from Platte to Cherry Creek. The rush from Leavenworth to the mines is beyond precedent. Upwards of 1000 emigrants arrived there on the 26th, and the suburbs are covered with companies encamped.

The trial at St. Josephs of Dr. Doy, charged with running off slaves from Missouri, has resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

STRANGE SUICIDE.—Mrs. Elvira Nunn, a German resident of Chicago, about forty years of age, and the mother of four children, committed suicide a few days since, by drowning herself in a barrel, sunk in the yard and hall filled with water. Into this she plunged her head, leaving the body still resting on the ground. The cause of the deed is supposed to have been insanity, brought on by undue religious excitement. When found, she had her arms folded, and within them, tightly clasped to her bosom, a prayer-book.

FREAKS OF LIGHTNING.—During a thunder storm on Friday last, while the family of Mr. Jacob Shoff, a farmer who resides near Columbus, Ohio, were eating dinner, the lightning struck a valuable cow in his barn, killing her instantly; and the same flash broke into pieces every plate on the table where the family was eating, and actually melted some of the softer metal on the table without in the least injuring any person present.

☞ John Kain of Cincinnati, who killed Mr. Singleton for the seduction of his daughter, about two years ago, and who is in the county jail, awaiting a new trial, has been baptized into the Methodist church. He has two daughters in the same prison—one of whom, she whose ruin he avenged, is confined on a charge of larceny.

☞ There are to be three more State elections this spring. The Connecticut election comes on the 4th of April; the Rhode Island election on the 5th of April; and the Virginia election on the 26th of May. Governors and Congressmen are to be chosen in each of these States.

☞ Rev. Dr. Bushnell of the North Church, Hartford, has notified his society that he intends to resign his pastorate.

☞ Senator Douglas has been suddenly recalled to Washington, from New York, on account of the alarming illness of his son.

☞ The city of Cambridge has voted to purchase a steam fire engine, as a more economical and better defence against fire than the ordinary fire department.

AND IN APPROVAL THEREOF,

E. GREEN & CO.

Have enlarged and splendidly remodelled their Store and extensively increased their Stock for the accommodation of their customers, and others who may favor them with their patronage.

As the articles are too numerous to mention, save one item, viz: (White Shirts with Linen Bosoms are selling at 50 Cents apiece,) they present the following facts before the people.

1. We have sold, and intend to sell Clothing of our own manufacture, and Furnishing Goods cheaper than any establishment of the kind in this State.

2. Because they have been reared in said business from their infancy, and know how to buy; and aside from that they do buy their Stock in New York only of the importers who are related to them, and naturally favor them in bargains.

3. It is rumored that we continue selling as cheap as we have done in the past, we must "slump," which can but result to the benefit of the buyer.

4. That we intended to move to Pulaski on account of our dissatisfaction with this place, we contradict; on the contrary, we are very grateful for past patronage, and hope for a continuance and increase of the same.

5. And lastly, Auerbach desired to visit his native land, which he has not seen for 13 years, but deferred it for reasons above stated.

☞ Please call and see whether all these facts are true or not.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at

in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontitorumenos.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME. —J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of th day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

POISONOUS INNOCULATION.—Persons who, by accident or otherwise, become innoculated with any malignant disorder, will find the R. R. R. Remedies prompt, quick and efficient. Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humours, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or innoculated through indiscretion or accident.—We are hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe fortunes for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R. Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators at night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys regular.

For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysms in a few minutes.

R. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton street, New York.

N. B.—For Scrofula, Syphilis, Female Complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

BEAUTIFUL LADIES.

Many ladies are suffering a disfigurement of their beauty arising from eruptions or pimples upon the skin. They have about three thousand perspiratory tubes to every square inch of the skin, which, becoming diseased, prevents them from discharging their contents—thus causing the various pimples and eruptions. These can easily be removed by an application of GARDNER'S PARISIAN PIMPLE DESTROYER, which has been used by thousands, and is considered as an infallible cure. This is a celebrated French compound, extensively used by the ladies of Paris, also in all cases previous to attending operas and parties.

The original recipe has been purchased by the present proprietors, and is guaranteed to the ladies of America to be the original "Parisian Pimple Destroyer." It also removes in a few hours King Worms, Barber's Itch, Boils, Blotes and Stings, and all eruptions upon the Skin. For sale by Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the supervision of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restorative qualities of the very "sible kingdom," rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imnitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NORS ORMAN in Boston.

French Periodical Golden Pills,

FOR FEMALES;

Infallible in Removing Stoppages or Irregularity of the Menses.

THESE Pills are nothing new, but have been used by the Doctor for many years, both in France and America, with unparalled success in every case; and he is urged by many thousand ladies who have used them, to make the Pills public, for the alleviation of those suffering from any irregularities whatever, as well as to prevent pregnancy in those ladies whose health will not permit an increase of family. Pregnant females, or those supposing themselves so, are cautioned against using these Pills while pregnant, as the proprietor assumes no responsibility after the above admonition, although their mildness would prevent any mischief to health; otherwise these Pills are recommended. Full and explicit directions accompany each box.

Price $1. Sold in Portsmouth by Joseph H. Thacher, in Dover by Chas A. Tufts, in Exeter by C. A. Merrill, and in Newmarket by J. A. Prendergast. They will supply dealers at the Proprietor's prices, and also send the Pills to the ladies (confidentially) by mail to any part of the city or country, on receipt of $1 through the Post Office.

N. B.—Ladies will be particular in asking for "Dr. Duponco's Golden Pills." Observe the signature J Duponco is upon each box. You will then obtain a Pill you can rely upon.

LOCAL.

Messrs. Editors:—Several months ago, a petition was sent in to the Mayor and Aldermen, signed by a good number of citizens, complaining of a stable drained through the streets, as a nuisance.

The Mayor and Aldermen referred the matter to the proper committee, who examined the premises, pronounced the draining a nuisance, and ordered the proprietor to abate it.

He did not obey: and after some delay and notice, they entered a complaint to a magistrate, and got a precept against the proprietor. This precept was given to the then city marshal; he did nothing about it, but went out of office, and passed over the precept to the new marshal. He served the precept, had a day fixed for the trial, and the witnesses were ready for the trial on a Monday.

On this Monday, the proprietor of the nuisance said he was sick, and wished the case put off till Tuesday. This was done, and on Tuesday he had left word that he had gone out of town. He was back soon, but since that time nothing has been done.

Can you tell us what to do? and who shall do it? ONE OF THE SUFFERERS.

☞ The port of Newcastle presents quite a lively appearance at the present time, as the twenty-three or four fishing vessels belonging there have just been refitted and neatly painted for their summer work. Conspicuous among the fleet is a beautiful new schooner called the "John P. Hale," owned by Capt. Oliver and others, and to be commanded by a true Republican. Many of the hardy fishermen will leave this week for the field of their arduous labors, and probably all will depart within ten days. Success attend them.—Ballot.

PLANT TREES.

We republish to-day, an article which was printed some time ago in the Journal. It will be new to many of our readers, and seasonable to all persons who take an interest in natural beauties, aided by art:

TREES ON THE ROAD SIDE.—During my late illness I received a letter desiring me to communicate to the editor respecting the planting of trees by the road side of public highways. Severe and long continued illness has prevented me till now from complying with the request.

A few years since while on a visit to the vicinity of the Crateau Lakes of Manlius, I observed on the road side for a distance of a mile or more, a row of rock maple or sugar trees set out every fifty feet. The first house I came to was that of a farmer whose promises evidenced his industry, ease and good thrift. I rapped at the door; a fine healthy looking man opened it, when I enquired of him as to the trees on the road side. He said, "Come in and I will tell you all about them." Having handed me a chair and being seated, he took another chair and seated himself beside me, and then proceeded to say that the trees I had noticed he had set out, and then added that his father a little before he was of age, gave him his time till he arrived at the age of twenty-one, to a farmer, to work by the month. He labored diligently and saved all his earnings, and returned home and bought a piece of wood land, cut off the wood upon it and transported by the Erie canal to Syracuse, where he sold it to the salt boilers for fuel. With the proceeds he bought more wood land, from which he cut the wood and continued supplying the salt works, and with the proceeds bought more land, until he was in the possession of a large farm; and, he added, it is all paid for; I am not in debt, and this year my crops have brought me near three thousand dollars, of which fifteen hundred is profit. He closed by saying, I am the man who set out the trees you see growing by the road side. Whenever I travel in that part of the country, I call to see the man who set out the trees by the road side. His name is Orsan Smith; residence, Manlius, Onondaga county, New York. It is several years since I have visited Manlius, but when I was last there the trees on the road side were thrifty and vigorous, and will in a few years afford good shades in hot days in summer for cattle in the adjoining pastures, good shades to the weary traveler, and become of great value for the sugar from the sap and fuel from the wood.

In the old settled States, wood for fuel is becoming scarce, and there are hardly trees enough left to afford shade for cattle during hot sunshine; but if the farmers were to follow the example set by Orsan Smith of Manlius, a great gain would be realized in a few years.

Mr. Smith commenced without capital. With the labor of his own hands he laid the foundation of a fortune which he now is enabled to enjoy, and I take great pleasure in chronicling his good fortune, that others may profit by his experience, and become satisfied that industry is the best means of acquiring wealth.

HAVANA AND MEXICO.—New York, Mar. 29.—Havana papers state that the Steamer Jassour when wrecked was en route from Jamaica from Nicaragua. She struck on the Ricondar Reefs on the night of Feb. 26th, and went down so suddenly that nothing was saved from her excepting the crew, who were ten days without food and eight without water. The Captain, four officers, and fifteen men had arrived at Santa Cruz. The Captain General of Cuba had dispatched a Government steamer to take these men back to Jamaica, and also another steamer to search for the missing boat containing thirty men.

The Steamer Granada arrived this afternoon from Havana, bringing the remainder of the California passengers landed by the Illinois at Havana, together with the treasure, amounting to upwards of one million of dollars.

Advices from Panama are to the 19th inst. The sloop-of-war Cyane had arrived there, having touched at various ports on the South American coast.

Gen. Wm. Walker had gone to California in the Golden Age.

The frigate Roanoke, sloop-of-war Brooklyn, and store-ship Relief were at Aspinwall. The Brooklyn was to sail in a few days for the Mexican Coast. The Cyane sailed the 16th inst. for Realejo.

A revolution had broken out in the Mexican State of Chiapa. The city of Comitan was taken by assault and many lives lost. The store and house of James McKinney was sacked and burnt, and much other property belonging to him destroyed. The insurgents were meditating an attack upon other places, and a Guatemalian force had been dispatched to the frontier to protect property.

Dates from Valparaiso to Feb. 15th.

Disturbances continue in Chili. Caldera and Copiapo were in the hands of the rebels. The cities of Tome, Conception and Talcahuano, which had been in possession of the revolters, had been retaken.

The difficulties between Peru and Ecuador were unadjusted.

There is nothing of importance from California.

Advices from Honolulu are to Feb. 18. The eruption of Mauna Loa continued unabated, but had done no damage other than the destruction of the village of Wanaali, and filling its harbor with lava.

COLLISION—43 LIVES LOST.—Cincinnati, March 28.—The steamer Nat Holmes, bound from Pittsburg to St. Louis, with 150 passengers, mostly emigrants to Pike's Peak, came into collision with steamer David Gibson, bound from New Orleans to Cincinnati with a cargo of sugar and molasses, opposite Aurora, Indiana, last night. Both boats sank.

No life lost on the David Gibson. The Nat Holmes had 86 passengers, 43 of whom were lost. The survivors lost nearly all their clothing and $15,000 in money. The total loss on both boats and their cargoes is about $300,000, and the insurance $17,500.

☞ The European news, by the Kangaroo and Persia, is seven days later, viz., to March 19.

War is considered more imminent.

Cotton had declined 1-8d in consequence of a more unsettled state of affairs in Europe, and unfavorable accounts from Calcutta and Bombay.

Parliamentary proceedings are of no great importance, evidently waiting for the Reform struggle on the 21st.

Continental news had been warlike.

The Moniteur's second article had an unfavorable effect.

Lord Cowley had returned to Paris, and had had an interview with the Emperor. Nothing definite had yet transpired in regard to his mission.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Some of the bankers here have proposed to the Postmaster General to make him advances for carrying on the mail service, provided he will accept contractors' drafts, conditioned upon appropriations to be made by Congress.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The slaver bark E. A. Rawlins, recently captured on the coast of Florida, belonged to Lamar of Savannah, who fitted out the Wanderer.

☞ We have received from Senator Douglas his speech in the Senate on Non-Intervention and Popular Sovereignty, with a valuable Appendix, showing what part many distinguished public men of the democratic party took in '54 and '56, on these questions.

The clay pipe trade of Appomattox county, Virginia, last year, reached the enormous sum of $30,000.

PRICE $50.
This Machine makes the Lock Stitch, which is the only stitch that cannot be raveled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

The Wheeler & Wilson Mfg Co.
Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these SEWING MACHINES for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as WOMAN'S FRIEND.

Among their undoubted advantages are—
1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

THE SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE,
Dr. Langley's Root & Herb Bitters.
Composed of Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Yellow Dock, Prickly Ash, Thoroughwort, Rhubarb, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., all of which are so compounded as to act in concert, and assist Nature in eradicating disease. The effect of this medicine is most wonderful—it acts directly upon the bowels and blood, by removing all obstructions from the internal organs, stimulating them into healthy action, renovating the fountains of life, purifying the blood, cleansing it from all humors, and causing it to course anew through every part of the body; restoring the invalid to health and usefulness. The Buckeye Mower.

The Best Mowing Machine

IN THE WORLD.

At the greatest practical working trial ever held in this country, at Syracuse, N. Y., July, 1857, it received the First Premium.

Grand Gold Medal,

offered by the UNITED STATES AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY for the

BEST MOWING MACHINE,

over Manny's, Ketchum's, Burrall's, Hallenbeaks, Allen's, Kirby's, Hovey's, Heath's or Eagle Mower, and several others. First Premium Connecticut State Agricultural Society, 1857;—Queens County Agricultural Society, 1858, and numerous others from different sections of the country.

It is WARRANTED to cut grass equal to the best mowers with a scythe, at the rate of one acre per hour with pair of horses and a driver.

Some of its points of excellence are:

1st. It is free from side draft and has no more weight on the tongue, or horse's neck, than a wagon.

2d. Its light draft.

3d. It runs on two wheels which serve as drivers.

4th. It has an adjustable cutter bar and accommodates itself to any uneven surface of the ground.

5th. The cutter bar is in front of the driving wheels, and the seat in the rear—thus enabling the driver to see the operation of the cutters without interfering with his driving; also, avoiding all danger of falling into the knives.

7th. The driving wheels have no cogs on them, but drive the gearing by means of palls and rachets. 8th. By means of these palls and rachets, the knives cease to vibrate in backing the machine. 9th. The driver, while in his seat, can see every bolt, box, and all the gearing when the machine is in motion. 10th. The gearing is all permanently arranged in the centre of the frame, distant from the driving wheels, thus avoiding all tendency of its being clogged up with mud or dirt. 11th. The cutter bar being attached to the machine by means of hinges, can be folded up on top of the machine without removing connecting rod, knife, or track clearer.

12th. The palls on the driving wheels can readily be thrown out of gear, and by folding the cutter bar as above stated, the machine becomes as portable as a common cart.

13th. There is a wheel on the shoe next the gearing, in front of the cutter bar, thus avoiding all tendency of clogging at the near shoe, by passing over cut grass.

14th. The off shoe is only 2½ inches wide, and the last knife cuts no more than any other, therefore leaving no ridge or high stubble at the end of each swath.

15th. The cutter bar can be raised or lowered by means of an adjustable steel spring shoe at off end, and a slot on the near shoe where the wheel is attached.

16th. There are no nuts or screws at the connecting rod, which are always liable to work loose; but by the use of a spring pall and a rachet key this difficulty is entirely obviated.

One of these Mowers can be seen at the Store of the subscriber, who is agent for the sale of them in Portsmouth and the neighboring towns. Persons who have used Manny's and Allen's Mowers in this section, consider this mower much superior to either of the others. Farmers are especially invited to make an examination and trial of this Mower. Description circulars—with numerous testimonials can be had at the Store of

Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate, says: "I confess myself highly delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."

Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of the Brooklyn Star, says: "After trying several different good machines, I preferred yours, on account of its simplicity, and the perfect ease with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience, I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."

Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, New York, says: "I have used a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine for two years, and find it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broadcloth. THE GREAT WONDER

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentlemen in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. It certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, ME., Jan. 20, 1856.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy! as it has been for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this place, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the benefits of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours,

A. C. RAYMOND.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved.

W. M. DYER.

Brookfield, Jan 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with any thing like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS.

These pillars are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practised by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by unprincipled pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1836.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practic of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL, AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no office in the United States the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS MAGWN,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents"
Boston, February 8 1858
Mr R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1859.

TEMPERANCE IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

In the last Union Democrat, there is an article on the decline of good morals, in which we find these sentences:

Four years ago there was a vital and honest temperance organization in nearly every town in the State. If there is one now, we do not know it.

In the same paper there is another item, which, being somewhat personal to one of the editors of this paper, we copy here entire.

H. D. Walker and T. H. Miller, a couple of Portsmouth gentlemen, who call themselves 'The State Temperance Committee,' have issued a circular to the clergy, inviting them to preach upon temperance on the ensuing Fast, and also, to take measures to revive temperance societies. What's the matter now? We have had a law in this state for several years past which imposed heavy fines and imprisonment for selling liquor—and is it possible that liquor is still sold?

The above are copied solely for the purpose of correcting the misstatements, and answering the questions, which we do with great pleasure.

And first, of the statement about the Circular,—the "couple of Portsmouth gentlemen" who signed it, never called themselves the State Temp. Committee. They issue a circular with the Committee's name, exactly as a President and Cashier issue Bank Bills, not claiming to be the Bank. They signed themselves "For the Committee, H. D. Walker, Chairman, T. H. Miller, Sec." The whole State Temperance Committee are sixteen men, living in every county in the State, who were chosen at a State Temperance Convention in Exeter last October.—And at a committee meeting in January, the Chairman and Secretary were authorized to issue a circular before Fast Day to the ministers of the State, inviting their aid and co-operation as above, viz. that they will preach temperance on Fast Day, or on a Sabbath near that time, and also revive old temperance societies, or form new ones, &c.

And next, let us answer the first question, "What's the matter now?" If it were true that there were four years ago, 200 and more "vital and honest" temperance societies in the State, and few or none now,—that would be matter enough. But it is not true, as we shall show presently; —and therefore we answer, that intemperance is an evil and a curse; while Temperance is a benefit and a blessing. Fast day is surely a proper day for the work of reviving moral efforts for temperance, and ministers and christians are important aids in such a work.—Nothing new or strange has happened; only we call for improvement. Do you object?

Then comes the true statement that we have a law—and the question, is it possible that liquor is still sold? Answer 1st.—quite possible and certain that it is, both in Portsmouth and Manchester, in the latter place by at least one great man. Answer 2d, We have had in this Union for many years, a law which pronounces the African Slave Trade to be Piracy, and imposed the penalty of death; and is it possible that the Slave Trade goes on? Answer 3d, We have had in this State, ever so long, a law against stealing; with the State Prison for a punishment—and is it possible that men still steal?

Only one item remains, viz. that "Four short years ago there was a vital and honest temperance organization in nearly every town in the State;" but "if there is one now, we [the Union Democrat] do not know it."

Perhaps you may not know it,—nevertheless there are now a large number, tho' not so many nor so efficient as we would have them,—and therefore the circular was issued. But the comparison of this time with four short years ago, is singular.

A little short of four years ago, viz. in June session 1855, the prohibitory law was passed:—and the vital and honest temperance effort peculiar to the years '53, '54, and '55, was to procure the passage of that law, in the hope and belief that it would be better enforced and do more good than has proved to be the case.

The writer of this article happened to be President of the Rockingham County Temperance Convention in 1854, which sat four days in two different towns, and in which we had a pretty good canvass of temperance societies, efforts and difficulties, in the several towns.

And the same writer happens to be now the Secretary of the Rockingham Temperance Society, and has visited, the past year, conventions of nearly all the religious bodies in the County; so that his knowledge of temperance statistics is second to none in the populous county of Rockingham.

We say, with this actual knowledge, that the temperance societies in our towns are as numerous as they were 4 years ago, and a little more so. We think them also, as vital and as honest now as they were then. They were then relying, as we then thought and said, too much on the law. Now, while they are willing the law should do what it can, they are to a considerable extent, reviving and enlarging their operations in the line of pledges, Bands of Hope, &c.

What is true of this county, is also true of several others, and generally, of the State.

FUNERAL OF MIKE WALSH IN NEW YORK. The funeral of the late Mike Walsh took place, according to appointment, from his late residence, 208 West 21st st., Sunday afternoon. Never since the memorable funeral of Bill Poole has the city witnessed so vast a turn out of good, bad and indifferent. Long before the hour appointed, the street in front of the house was completely jammed up, and there is hardly a political faction, or an engine company, or a pugilistic fraternity in town that did not have its representatives present, either in the procession or in the crowd of lookers on. In the multitude were many well known politicians and "Subterranean Democrats," who, some ten years since, united in a procession of a different kind, in honor of him whom they followed to the tomb yesterday—the procession which escorted "Mike" home from the Penitentiary on Blackwell's Island. Members of the Legislature, Aldermen, Councilmen, and other officials connected with the city government, were present to assist at this "last scene of all." The body was taken to Greenwood, and a subscription for a monument has been set on foot. There are many who still adhere to the opinion that Mike was murdered in order to conceal certain damaging testimony he was expected to give on the Sickles' trial at Washington, but this a theory only, without the shadow of a fact to support it. A pedlar named Bernard McGaffney, 21 years of age, has been arrested on suspicion of being implicated in the murder.

DEATH OF REV. DR. RICHARDS.—At Hanover, N.E., March 29, Rev. John Richards, D. D., died, after twelve hours' illness, of congestion on the brain. Dr. R. was, we believe, a native of Connecticut; he was a graduate of Yale College, and an alumnus of Andover Institution, class of 1824. He was ordained Nov. 28, 1827, and installed pastor of the Church at Dartmouth College, Hanover, April 5, 1842. He was highly esteemed by his brethren in the church and ministry; best beloved by those who knew him most. He was an industrious and reliable historian, and accurate and careful in collecting and correcting the statistics of the churches and ministers of New Hampshire, with which he stood connected. His age was about 60.

BAD LIQUOR.—The Baltimore Grand Jury, in a formal presentation, have expressed the opinion that the murders and other acts of violence so frequently perpetrated in that vicinity, may be attributed to the quality as well as the quantity of liquor drank by the offenders.

That's it! Vile balderdash — making red noses, weak consciences, hot passions, murder and suicide. Touch not—taste not!

CHINA AND JAPAN.—A notification had been published threatening the braves of Canton, and clearly expressing want of confidence with the government of Pekin.

A Danish vessel had been driven away from the coast of Japan, no treaty having been concluded with Denmark.

It is reported that 150,000 deaths by cholera had occurred in Jeddo in one month.

Orders had been issued for five forts to be sheathed with iron, to make them shot-proof.

☞ An equestrian performer out West has caught a man named Foster, who has personated him in public, and forced him to sign a document in which occurs this candid acknowledgment: "Whereas, Mr. Richardson, hearing of my false assumption of his name, has cowhided me, I hereby release him from any cause of action, I may have against him by reason of such assault and battery, and promise never again to assume his name."

☞ An American, who had received disastrous news from home has thrown himself into the current of lava at Vesuvius, and his body was instantly consumed.

☞ There are eight thousand railroad stockholders in the State of Maine, who have invested nineteen and a half millions in this kind of property.

For the Chronicle.

RYE, March 30.

Messrs. Editors:—As the morning sun throws its glorious light across the dark and billowy Atlantic, illuminating this world of darkness with its refulgent splendor, even so is the little Chronicle a welcome visitor to our fireside on ever Saturday night. Unruffled by the tempestuous billows of political strife, and free from the combats of ill-natured sectarians, we gladly welcome the Chronicle as an independent paper.

At the present time there is, in our ancient town, an unusual dearth in local affairs. Our friends in school district No. 2 held their annual meeting for the election of committee, &c., yesterday afternoon, and considerable wire-pulling has been done. The school the year past was taught by ex-Rev. Samuel E. Mosher, a broken-down minister, about seventy years of age, who kept step to the tune of two hundred dollars and dissatisfaction to everybody. This year, wishing to continue, he stumped the district in a private way, and quietly awaited the result of his gigantic efforts. Well, time rolled on. A notice was posted up, informing the people that "Notice is here buy given to the legal voters in district No. 2 to meet at the said school hous to chooe a moderator," clerk, committee, "and see how they would expend the money."

They came together, and elected moderator and clerk, and then came the test vote—whether it should be Mosher or anti-Mosher—whether we should take a step forward, to a higher ground of civilization, or go back, in the language of Mr. Mosher, to the days when we were "badder than old Eve." The ballots are thrown, the vote declared—the Mosher party has one, the anti's have twenty-five. Thus the "old infirmary" is declared null and void; so Sammy can rub his two pairs of 'specs' and at his leisure make philosophical deductions, and ponder the causes that have led to this alarming degeneracy on the part of the sons of Adam.

Although not a resident of the district, I claim the right of a Yankee to a free opinion. OUTSIDER.

BREADSTUFFS.—A change in the inspection standard of New York is said to have taken place, which it is hoped will give flour passing through it a better reputation. The market for breadstuffs at New York is very dull, owing to the absence of all European demands, the demand for New England being much smaller than usual, and the arrival of a coastwise fleet with considerable lots of St. Louis flour.—The Courier & Enquirer says—we hear of one lot of 2600 bbls. of St. Louis flour, a recent arrival, which our inspectors refuse to sidebrand, and we hear it suggested that the unusually large quantities of St. Louis, Tennessee and Kentucky extras, which have been offered in New York during the past six weeks or two months, together with the inferior and unsound condition in which most of it is now found, afford some indication of what has become of the Illinois wheat, and accounts for the diminished receipts at Chicago—the high reputation which St. Louis and Ohio Valley flour has heretofore enjoyed, and the "lower depth" to which common State has sunk, has probably presented too strong a temptation for many millers, and unsound, or at least very common spring wheat, has apparently been used where nothing but sound winter wheat should have been used.

A LARGE RUMSELLER IN DURANCE.—Mr. Horatio Field, of Taunton, the oldest and probably the largest liquor dealer in the county of Bristol, Mass., was committed to the House of Correction at New Bedford, March 30, having been found guilty of three different violations of the liquor law. His sentence was thirty days on each indictment, making ninety days in all.

☞ The repairs and alterations have been commenced on an extensive scale, at Congress Hall, to fit it up in fine style, for the use of the Masonic Fraternity.—The new hall is to be built inside the former one, about two-thirds its size, with ante-rooms on three sides.

☞ A man named Foster, convicted of burglary, was hung at Charleston, S. C., on Friday last. South Carolina, we believe, is the only State in which burglary is punishable by death, and this is probably the only instance in which such a sentence has been carried into effect.

☞ The yield of maple sugar in Michigan has been so extraordinary this season, that farmers are selling it for from six to eight cents per pound. More sugar has been made in the western counties of Pennsylvania this season than for many years past.

☞ A collision occurred Tuesday night on the North River, near Hastings, between one of the Albany steamers and the sloop Stephen Raymond. The latter sunk instantly, taking down her crew, consisting of three men, who were all drowned.

HUMORS OF THE HUMAN SYSTEM.

It is well known that the juices of the body are governed by natural laws such as regulate the vegetable life in the change of seasons.

In winter they are congealed, or in common parlance the "sap is down," the pores are closed, and our whole body is hard and firm, and an accumulation of impurities takes place in our system.

The genial influences of Spring cause an expansion of all living matter, the sap rises in vegetable life, also the juices of our bodies are given out and enter into the common circulation.

This is a law to which every human being is subject, and the neglect of it has caused a whole summer of misery.

Now is the time to apply a remedy that cleanses and searches every fibre and pore, and eradicates every particle and sediment of humor that has lain stagnant during the winter.

Kennedy's Medical Discovery is well known to our readers as the greatest and best Blood Purifier the world has ever produced.

We advise each and all of our readers to use one bottle of it this Spring; we say one bottle, for that will cleanse the impurities of one season, and prepare the system for the changes of the next.

Where the disease has fastened itself and become settled in the system, larger quantities are required.

For Scrofula, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, White Scales, Pushes, Ulcerated Sore Legs, Humor in the Eyes, Running of the Ears from Scarlet Fever or Measles, the Medical Discovery can be relied upon to effect a perfect cure. 6t

AND IN APPROVAL THEREOF,

E. GREEN & CO.

Have enlarged and splendidly remodelled their Store and extensively increased their Stock of SPRING AND SUMMER CLOTHING, for the accommodation of their customers, and others who may favor them with their patronage.

As the articles are too numerous to mention, save one item, viz: (White Shirts with Linen Bosoms are selling at 50 Cents apiece,) they present the following facts before the people.

1. We have sold, and intend to sell Clothing of our own manufacture, and Furnishing Goods cheaper than any establishment of the kind in this State.

2. Because they have been reared in said business from their infancy, and know how to buy; and aside from that they do buy their Stock in New York only of the importers who are related to them, and naturally favor them in bargains.

3. It is rumored that if we continue selling as cheap as we have done in the past, we must "slump," which can but result to the benefit of the buyer.

4. That we intended to move to Pulaski on account of our dissatisfaction with this place, we contradict; on the contrary, we are very grateful for past patronage, and hope for a continuance and increase of the same.

5. And lastly, Auerbach desired to visit his native land, which he has not seen for 13 years, but deferred it for reasons above stated.

☞ Please call and see whether all these facts are true or not.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at SALEN'S DAGUERREAN GALLERY, in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME.—J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings; Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or inoculated through indiscretion or accident.—We are hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe torture for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove the potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find its adoption a sure Relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER is genuine.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY COMPANY.—The following discouraging statement in regard to the affairs of this company, is made by the Montreal Commercial Advertiser:

A meeting of the stockholders of the Grand Trunk Railway Company was held at Toronto, on Wednesday last, when the President announced that in order to complete the works, and save the company from inevitable bankruptcy, it was necessary to issue Preferential Bonds to the amount of £1,111,500 sterling to rank immediately after the £1,000,000 issued in 1856.

The lien originally held by the Province as a first claim, was £3,111,500; this was postponed to place the shareholders in a better position, and to enable the company to raise the means required to complete the road.

The Preferential Bonds issued since, reach the same amount, so that the position of the shareholders is bettered only as regards the probable completion of the work; the same amount stands between them and a dividend as did before the Province postponed its claim.

As regards the Province, the sooner it writes off its claim the better, for there is not the most remote probability that one penny of either principal or interest will ever be paid.

The £1,115,000 now required, is not only wanted for works now in progress, but to pay current expenses, interest on the last £2,000,000 borrowed and the excess of working expenses over receipts.

Let the Victoria Bridge be completed, and the contractors relieved from paying any more interest, and the "inevitable bankruptcy," which the President now proposes to stave off by this last possible loan, will overtake the company; and the Province after all its sacrifices in money and morals, will have the alternative of running the road at its own expense, or suffering it to remain idle through a large portion of its extent,—a monument of fraud and folly.

RESTORATION OF WHIPPING IN THE NEW YORK STATE PRISON.—A few years ago the use of the whip in most of our State Prisons was abolished. It is now said by many persons, that the punishments which were substituted have not only failed in enforcing discipline, but that they have proved far more injurious to the health than the old system of flogging. The question has been debated at length in the New York House of Assembly, and on Friday last, by a vote of 76 yeas to 14 nays, that body gave to the officers of the Prisons discretionary powers in respect to the mode of punishing convicts—in other words, permitting them to use the whip when, in their judgment, it may be advisable.—Traveller.

"There are two things," says a contemporary, 'which will make us happy in life. Only two things, let our patrons read and remember. Singular. What can they be? SPAIN.—A Madrid despatch of March 13, says: Mr. Preston, the Minister of the United States, was received yesterday by the Queen, in a private audience. In the name of President Buchanan, he assured Her Majesty of the President's desire to maintain friendly relations with Spain, and expressed his own personal conviction that the general wish of the people of the United States was to preserve the bond of friendship existing between the States and Spain, and to do everything in their power to avoid any misunderstanding between the two countries. The Queen replied in terms flattering both to the United States and its Minister.

The Iberian recommends that when Mr. Preston shall make the expected proposition for the purchase of Cuba, the government will reply by sending him his passports.

INTERESTING TO GENTLEMEN.—One of the most extensive, as well as best selected stock of fabrics for gentlemen's dress goods that we have seen this season, is opened this week by H. E. Armington, at 52 School street. Mr. Armington has gained quite a reputation for the taste, elegance and finish which characterizes all garments made at his establishment; and the innumerable styles from the most celebrated European manufactories, imported by his special order this season, (with trimmings to match,) affords an opportunity for the gratification of almost any taste. An adherence to the cash system enables Mr. Armington to make and sell these goods at quite a low figure.

His stock of goods now opened are an endorsement to his reputation for taste and enterprize, and really worthy the inspection of gentlemen.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Armington's garments always look so smooth, stylish, and nicely made, that we involuntarily give the skirts of our coat a twitch, to take the wrinkles out, as we pass store No. 52 School street.—Boston Post.

The Wheeler & Wilson

Medal Family Sewing Machine.
A NEW STYLE MACHINE,
PRICE $50.

This Machine makes the Lock Stitch, which is the only stitch that cannot be raveled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

The Wheeler & Wilson Mfg Co.
Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these SEWING MACHINES for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as WOMAN'S FRIEND.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

"Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines are the favorites for families."—[N. Y. Times.

CHURCHES, SCHOOLS, DRAMSHOPS.

Churches, schools and dramshops are the three estates of the realm. They are the great educators. They form the character of the people. The following is a rough estimate of some of the statistics of these institutions in Boston:

Number of churches in Boston, about 100, number of schools, about 250;—number of dramshops, (not including groceries or Irish dwellings) about 2000.

Number of persons employed and supported by the churches, about 200; number of persons employed as teachers of schools, about 500; number of persons employed as keepers of dramshops, about 3000.

Yearly revenue. Cash received to support the churches, $300,000; cash received to support the schools, $400,000; estimating $1000 to each dramshop, cash received to support the dramshops, $2,000,000.

The number of graduates from each cannot be accurately given. Perhaps an estimate may be based on the following division of the community into three classes, viz.:

1st, members of churches and their families, 40,000; 2d, all other good citizens, 100,000; 3d, criminals and paupers, counting those arrested or aided by the city officers, and their families, 40,000.

If we call the church the Alma Mater of the first class, the schools of the second, and the dramshops of the third, then each church would have 400 graduates, each school 800, each dramshop only 20.

Suppose these institutions give, on the average, ten years' instruction to each graduate, then, upon the above basis, the tuition of each church graduate would cost $75; each school graduate $75; each dramshop graduate $500. Costing twelve and a half times as much for the education of a dramshop graduate as that of a good citizen. The tuition of the dramshop is too high, and altogether out of proportion to the charge for literary or religious instruction. But that is not the worst of it. The good citizens have to watch, arrest, try, punish or support this expensive class of pupils for five or ten years each after they have graduated, after they have expended all their own means.

An entire and radical change can be made in the whole matter. There is no need of maintaining these dram shops.—Trees that bring forth evil fruit ought to be hewn down. All the friends of churches and schools ought to unite in the plain, downright, practical means necessary to remove the curse from the community.—Boston Temperance Visitor.

NEARER HOME.

"A day's march nearer home,
My heavenly home above,
I never more shall roam,
But rest in perfect love.
Rest from my toils and care,
My labors all will cease,
And in those mansions fair
Rejoice in truth and peace.

Nearer my Father's throne,
O, bliss inspiring thought,
That when the spirit's flown,
Our flesh shall rest in hope.
This e'er shall cheer us on Through the dark vale of tears,
And the frail spirit worn
Shall lay aside all fears.

Nearer the city fair,
With streets of shining gold,
No sun or candle there,
The glories bright unfold.
Our Saviour is the light,
Is the fair sun and shield;
There 'twill be never night,
No tears our hearts shall feel.

When shall I reach that shore,
Where, free from all my pain,
I'll praise thee evermore,
Thy wondrous love my theme?
There meet those gone before,
Who've crossed the foaming flood—
They stand on Canaan's shore,
Washed in Christ's precious blood.

I see their white robes shine,
And conquering palms they bear;
Gladly I hail the time
That gives me entrance there.
My soul longs to be free
From her prison-house of clay,
To launch upon the sea
Of an unending day.

LOTTERIES.

THE INTERESTS OF

WOOD, EDDY, & CO.,

Are chartered by the States of Delaware and Georgia, and have been authorized and appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Delaware or to Georgia, as the Lottery of are authorized by the Legislature of either State.

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

A Lottery will be drawn every day at Wilmington, Delaware, and also at Augusta, Ga.—All orders received by the 8th of the drawing next to take place after same comes to hand.

Whole tickets are $10; halves, $5; and Quarters, $2.50.

No ticket sent unless the money accompanies the order. Prizes vary from $20 to $30,000.

Every prize is drawn, and the result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

THE GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE CO.,

NO. 18 SUMMER STREET, BOSTON,

Having greatly increased their facilities for manufacturing their

Celebrated Family Machines,

with all the recent improvements, have reduced their prices, and offer for sale

A NEW STYLE MACHINE,

PRICE $50:

Machines from $50 to $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

It is no longer questioned that these Machines are the best in use for family sewing. They

HEM, FELL, GATHER, AND STITCH

in the most superior manner, and are the only machines in the market that are so well and simply made,—that they may be sent into families with no other instructions than are contained in a circular which accompanies each machine, and from which

A CHILD OF TEN YEARS

may readily learn how to use them, and keep them in order. They make upwards of

FIFTEEN HUNDRED STITCHES A MINUTE,

and will do the sewing of a family cheaper than a seamstress can do it, even if she works at the rate of

ONE CENT AN HOUR!

Is there a husband, father, or brother in the United States, who will permit the drudgery of hand sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Independent, says: "Having had one of Grover & Baker's Machines in my family for nearly a year and half, I take pleasure in commending it as every way reliable for the purpose for which it is designed, Family Sewing."

Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate, says: "I confess myself highly delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."

Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of the Brooklyn Star, says: "After trying several different good machines, I preferred yours, on account of its simplicity, and the perfect ease with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience, I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."

Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, New York, says: "I have used a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine for two years, and find it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broadcloth. Garments have been worn out without the giving way of a stitch.—The Machine is easily kept in order, and easily used."

THE GREAT WONDER

Of The Nineteenth Century

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Mobile, which speaks strongly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guaranteed truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

MOBILE, MS., Jan. 20, 1856.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.—

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have not used one. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy as it has been before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty two, has used it with same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one in my neighborhood. Any one of my friends may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours,

A. C. RATHON.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE

Professor Wood: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Otheodox church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved.

WM. DYER.

Brookfield, Jan 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 25 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most invaluable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year the patients in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are incurable, from the effects of improper treatment.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of DR. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE PILLS.

Prepared in efficacy and superiority virtue in regular ing all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under the specious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, cor. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

TREES BY THE ROADSIDE.

The Mayor of Portland has made the following reply to some inquiries propounded to him by Dr. Baker, of this city. The letter contains some valuable suggestions.

PORTLAND, Me., March 28, 1859.

Mr. Samuel Baker:

Dear sir,—In reply to yours of 21st, I would say, that the trees in our streets, (now exceeding four thousand, exclusive of those in gardens,) have all been planted by owners of abutting lots, at their expense, excepting those in two public promenades, or drives, at each end of our city — the trees on these having been planted by the city. The city has also planted trees in our cemeteries.

We find the pasture elm the surest tree to thrive and live in our city streets, and most of the trees in our streets are therefore elm.

There are some maples, but they do not grow luxuriantly; and the same is true of the beech. The horse chestnut thrives better than the maple or beech, but dies out sooner than the elm.

We purchase trees here for from two dollars to five dollars each, according to size. Those about six inches in diameter at base are more likely to live than larger trees, unless care is taken in transplanting the larger trees. In some cases, farmers in the vicinity set out a tree or trees, and agree for a certain sum to replace it if it dies, and continue to do so till one lives.

When planted, the street earth should be removed from an area of several feet, and a compost of good soil or loam, with a small portion of air-slacked lime, put into the hole. After watering them well for a few days, it is better not to repeat the watering more than once a week, if at all, unless the season is very dry — for the roots of a tree may be drowned by too much water, as well as a man or an animal.

As it regards the question of removing the trees in our streets, our citizens would as soon think of dispensing with the clothes upon their bodies as with the trees in their streets. They are not only ornamental, but promote the health and comfort of our citizens in various ways. In several instances their dense green foliage has prevented fires from spreading across streets. Their shade not only protects the foot passenger from the noon-day sun, but also keeps the centre of the street from becoming parched and dusty. Where trees are planted and grown, a very small voluntary tax paid by each householder, keeps the street, during summer, sprinkled with salt water, from our harbor; and the comfort to those who pass through streets so shaded and cooled, and free from dust, more than compensates for the slight cost — besides, adding to the convenience and the health of housekeepers, by the absence of clouds of dust entering an open window in summer.

If the town, as a municipality, should not undertake it, I would recommend that your citizens form a Tree Planting Society, with directors in each ward; and, by so uniting, you could procure your trees at a low price, and employ competent persons to transplant them.

Any further information you may desire, that it is in my power to give, I beg you to command.

Yours, with much respect. J. JEWETT.

SHIP SHOOTING STAR.—Ship Shooting Star, Capt. Hotchkiss, which was ashore on Tuckernuck Shoal, has been got off, and on the 29th was at anchor in Hyannis harbor. She lost one anchor and part of a chain, and broke the other anchor. Ship not much damaged, except the hole made by the anchor in her bottom. Was towed off by the steamer R. B. Forbes, Capt. Morris, and by her brought to Hyannis.

Business at the Charlestown Navy Yard is rapidly decreasing; a discharge of sixty workmen occurred Saturday afternoon, and others are expected. There is no prospect of increase in any department except the masons, which will be some time in April. The number of men on the pay roll of the 16th was 1016, including the above discharge—little more than one half the number employed six months ago. The amount required for payment was $22,163 92.

At the funeral of the late Rev. Dr. Kendall, at Plymouth, there was one peculiar feature in harmony with the whole arrangements. There was no outside drapery in the church, but inside of it, a green wreath hung in front of the pulpit, and a beautiful cross of flowers, of the purest white, laid upon the coffin.

CITY COUNCIL.—In Board of Aldermen, Thursday evening, March 31st, the committee on Fire Department reported in favor of purchasing 500 feet of Hose,—accepted, sent down and concurred in.

Messrs. Samuel Rowe, John W. Ferneld, and William Leakey were appointed for the purpose of attending to the enrollment of the militia, and to obtain a list of the births and deaths, in the city the past year.

Sent up, concurred in, from Common Council.—Report of joint committee, recommending the building of two reservoirs; and petition for purchase of land adjoining Haven School House for play ground. Adjourned two weeks.

THE GREAT EASTERN.—By the steamer Nova Scotian a letter was received by a gentleman of Portland, says the Argus, of which the following is an extract:

"It is supposed to be a fixed fact that the Great Eastern will sail for Portland sometime in August. She is covered with men finishing her up."

OUT WEST.—A correspondent at Madison, Wis. under date of March 23d, writes—

Our farmers are sowing their seed. The frost is out of the ground, and the Lakes are clear of ice. Wheat is worth in this market, 1,00 to 1,35. Corn 60 to 70cts; Barley 45 to 65; White Beans 50 to 100 per bushel by weight; Butter 12 to 15; Eggs 8cts and dull; Hams quick at 11 to 14c; Pork 14 to $17 per bbl.

From the N. H. Gazette.

BURGLARIES.—The clothing store of E. Green & Co., in this city, was broken into last Wednesday night and several articles of clothing stolen. The stores of A. A. Payne, Market street, and Major Hooper & Son, Water street, have also been broken into during the present week, and small amounts stolen therefrom. The character of the articles stolen, indicate that the burglars are juveniles, green at the business, who are running great risk for small considerations.

CHANGE OF TIME.—On and after Monday, 4th inst., trains on the Eastern Railroad will leave Portsmouth for Boston and intermediate stations at 7,15 and 11:15, A. M., and at 5:30 and 7:20 P. M. The 7:20 P. M. train runs only on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Boston for Portsmouth at 7:30 A.M., and at 3 & 5 P. M.

SATURDAY, APRIL 2, 1859.

SHIPS AT SEVASTOPOL.

We have intelligence of the Pennsylvania Sub-marine Expedition, which went out to Sevastopol, under Col. John E. Gowan, of Boston, to raise the sunken ships in that harbor. Mr. Thomas M. Shedd, an Engineer of this Company, of Charlestown, who came home some days ago, informs the Charlestown Advertiser, that up to the time of his leaving Sevastopol, the expedition had raised 14 of the sunken vessels, the largest mounting 34 guns; and had blown up eight more. Up to that time the operation of raising the vessels had been carried on by four caissons built of wood. These had proved insufficient in capacity to raise the largest class of vessels, about 90 of which still remain at the bottom of the harbor; and this branch had been delayed, while the work of building two large floating docks, or caissons, was in progress. These last were to be 100 feet long each, and capable, it raising the largest vessel, the Twelve Apostle, a 146 gun ship. The machinery was confidently believed, of easily for operating these docks has already been built and shipped from Boston, and it was expected they would be completed and ready to be operated by the first of May next, and by the latter part of the summer we are confident that we shall hear that American perseverance and invention has been successful in raising some of the vessels of the large class.

The employees of the expedition number upwards of two hundred men, composed of Greeks, Russians and Turks, and several other nations. The Americans who went out from here, however, numbered but about thirty, and more than half of that number have returned. Of those remaining, and reported in good health and spirits, the following is a correct list.

Col. John E. Gowan, Boston; Capt. Samuel F. Holbrook, Roxbury; Capt. Jordon, Charlestown; Joseph Kimball, Stephen Osgood, Charles W. Dennison, John Lloyd, Boston; John Walkinshaw, Edward Ford, John H. Riley, Philadelphia, John Y. Smith, Mass.; Mark Finn, Me.; C. B. Williams, N. H.; George B. Weston, Belchertown, Mass.; George Pierce, N. H.

The fortifications on the North side of Sevastopol have all been put in complete repair, and are being mounted anew with cannon. The city itself is also being rapidly rebuilt, two new docks were also being constructed, and at the time of our informant's leaving, two steam ships of the line, built at Nicolaieff, the Sinope 130 guns, and another of 133 guns, for the Black Sea fleet, were ready to sail for Toulon to take on board their machinery.

This is more encouraging than another account, (we think an older one,) by the last steamer, from the Vienna Gazette.—We copy it below.

Accounts from Sebastopol state that only a few of the old inhabitants have returned; the city appears almost deserted, and commerce at an end. Formerly, Sebastopol numbered 45,000 inhabitants, now it contains scarcely a sixth of that number. The wood huts built by the French serve as residences for the peasants. The funeral monuments of the French and English at Sebastopol and Balaklava are uninjured. The attempts to float the remaining sunken ships of the line had again failed, and they are about to be blown up by gunpowder for the sake of the material.

THE MANUFACTURE OF STRAW.—The Providence Journal says that the first braiding of straw in that city was done by Mrs. Betsey Baker, now residing in Dedham, in 1798. From Mrs. B. several acquired a knowledge of the process of of braiding, and gradually the business spread through New England. Some idea may be formed of the extent to which the business has been carried by the fact that in 1855, according to returns made 3,326,000 straw bonnets were manufactured in Massachusetts, employing about 1,000 males and 9000 females. In the year ending June 30, 1857, raw and manufactured straw materials to the value of $2,246,928 were imported into the United States. At the time Mrs. Baker made her first bonnet no one could have foreseen the great results that have followed; and in the autumn of life she can look upon a branch of business to which she gave existence, that in its interest to American women, is scarcely second to any other.

☞ Frank Leslie's excellent Family Magazine and Gazette of Fashion, for April, may be had at Morse's, or of the publisher, New York. $3 per year,—25 cts. per number.

Senator Douglas will not visit Connecticut during the campaign, as expected.

A TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.—The Bulletin says of the explosion of a locomotive near Philadelphia:—The locomotive was broken away from the rest of the train by the force of the explosion, and it was dashed on to the bridge, a distance of sixty or seventy feet. The engine was literally blown to pieces, the boiler being shattered, and even the running gears wrecked. It was a coal-burner engine of great power. Two men were instantly killed by the accident. The engineer, Josiah Missimer, was upon the engine at the time, and it is supposed that he was blown into the river, as no trace has yet been found of his body. John Foley, the first brakeman, was blown a distance of fifty yards from the spot where the explosion took place. His body was found upon the tow-path, within four feet of the river. He had fallen head-foremost among some rocks, and his brains were dashed out. The toll-house at the west end of the bridge was shattered by the explosion, and the building was set on fire. The toll-gatherer and his family were asleep in their beds at the time. The toll-gatherer was thrown from his bed by the shock, and dashed against the wall. A portion of the iron-work of the boiler was blown into a window of the toll-house, and falling upon the foot of a boy lying in bed, it burned him. A daughter of the toll-gatherer was so stunned that she could not be aroused for some time.

☞ The New Haven News says that last Sunday evening a body of noisy and drunken fellows were creating a disturbance which threatened to become a serious affray, when a young woman, without bonnet or shawl, made her appearance in the crowd, and walking directly into the thickest of the melee, took a young man who had been foremost in the disturbance by the arm, and quietly led him into the house. There was no resistance. What could not be affected five minutes before by entreaty or threats of the police, was accomplished by the wife without a word. Two or three other young women made their appearance soon after, and singled out more of the participants in a similar manner, who also obeyed as if by magic, and the crowd dispersed.

OBITUARY.—Nehemiah Cutter, M. D., died at Peperell, Mass., on the 15th inst. His wife also died on the 22d of February. Dr. Cutter was a native of Jaffrey, N. H., and a graduate of Middlebury College. He has for more than forty years been well known throughout New England by his successful treatment of the insane, at the private hospital established by him at Peperell, before legislative philanthropy had furnished retreats for those unfortunates. The hospital buildings of Dr. Cutter were destroyed by fire about six years ago, since which event, with the energy of a young man, he returned to the general practice of his profession. He was a skillful physician, and possessed the manners of a gentleman of the old school. His death is regretted by all who were, professionally or socially, acquainted with him.

EXPENSES TO BE REDUCED.—The Secretary of War sometime since appointed a Board of Army officers to inquire into the best means of reducing the expenses of the Department. The Board have made their report, and the Secretary now has it under consideration. They recommend the concentration of the troops as much as possible into large garrisons, near navigable waters and in the vicinity of settlements, with a view to the reduction of transportation, which is an enormous item under the present system, thus reducing the price of supplies. The concentration of troops would also reduce the number of animals required. The posts abandoned, the Board recommend to be sold to the highest bidder in Washington.

MAGNIFICENT VOLCANIC DISPLAY.—Honolulu papers are filled with accounts of the new volcanic eruption on Mauna Loa.—There can be no sight more splendid than that of witnessing at night, at the distance of thirty to fifty miles, the red molten lava from an elevation of 10,000 feet, bursting out from the side of the mountain, and flowing down like a river at the rate of ten to fifteen miles an hour.

The eruption of the volcano in the island of Hawaii is the only object of interest there now. A stream of red hot lava has run from the crater eighty miles to the sea carrying everything before it. The stream averages one-quarter of a mile in width, and is about twenty-five feet high.

☞ The Doncaster, Eng., Gazette inveighs against a revivalist preacher who is holding forth at the Wesleyan Reformers' Chapel and the Town Hall, Doncaster, and gives the particulars in the case of two women who have become furious lunatics by listening to his preaching.

INTERESTING DISCOVERY AT BETHLEHEM. A letter from Jerusalem, in the Gazette du Midi, says: "A very important discovery has been made in the neighborhood of Bethlehem, near the spot which is generally admitted to be where the angel appeared to the shepherds. To the eastward of Bethlehem, and midway between the town and the spot above mentioned, some workmen, while employed in making an excavation, found the ruins of an immense convent of the period of St. Jerome and St. Paul, with evident marks of its having been afterwards repaired by St. Helen and the crusaders. The cisterns are very large, regular and in a perfect state of preservation. The mosaic pavements of several rooms have been already laid bare, and the workmen are on the trace of the marble pavement of the church. The satisfaction occasioned by this discovery is so great, that the inhabitants of the village of Beth-Sakour (village of the shepherds) hasten to the spot, and offer their services on the works gratuitously. The site of these ruins is known to the Arabs by the name of Siar-el-Ganem (resort of the sheep). It is surrounded by a considerable number of deep grottoes, where the shepherds have been in the habit of taking shelter with their flocks."

☞ Cicchi & Garey, Plaster Figure Manufacturers, No. 2 School street, (up stairs,) next to Ticknor & Co.'s bookstore, Boston, have a large statuary gallery, of fine models—with ornamental brackets, &c. They will be found gentlemanly and courteous to visitors—and it is a treat to visit their rooms.

The Journey o Poland
DEFERRED UNTIL NEXT YEAR!!
AND IN APPROVAL THEREOF,
E. GREEN & CO.

Have enlarged and splendidly remodelled their Store and extensively increased their Stock of
SPRING AND SUMMER CLOTHING
for the accommodation of their customers, and others who may favor them with their patronage.

As the articles are too numerous to mention, save one item, viz: (White Shirts with Linen Bosoms are selling at 50 Cents apiece,) they present the following facts before the people.

1. We have sold, and intend to sell clothing of our own manufacture, and Furnishing Goods cheaper than any establishment of the kind in this State.

2. Because they have been reared in said business from their infancy, and know how to buy; and aside from that they do buy their Stock in New York only of the importers who are related to them, and naturally favor them in bargains.

3 It is rumored that if we continue selling as cheap as we have done in the past, we must "slump," which can but result to the benefit of the buyer.

4. That we intended to move to Pulaski on account our disaffection with this place, we contradict; on the contrary, we are very grateful for past patronage, and hope for a continuance and increase of the same.

5. Lastly, Another reason which induced us to visit his native land, which he has not seen for 18 years, but deferred it for reasons above stated.

☞ Please call and see whether all these facts are true or not.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at
SALEN'S DAGUERREAN GALLERY,
in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.
N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (300 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtouttitorumenos.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME.—J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of thy day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or inoculated through indiscretion or accident.—We are hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe tortures for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R. Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is deliciously flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which irregularities of their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of pretenders. Buy only CHARLES'.—NOTE ORDERS IMPORTED.

☞ The following resolutions were adopted at the last meeting of the Common Council:

Resolved, that at all future meetings of the Common Council, the President shall call the meeting to order precisely at the hour to which the meeting stands adjourned, and in case a quorum of members are not present at the call of the roll, the attendance of the absent members shall be compelled according to Sec. 3d of act to amend the act to establish the city of Portsmouth.

And further resolved, that the city marshal or one of his assistants be requested to be present at all meetings of the Common Council, and when required he shall promptly execute the above-named section.

☞ On Friday afternoon, about three o'clock, an unfortunate man, crazy with drinking, was borne up Hanover street, eastwardly, as far as High street, yelling, kicking and striking at four men, who got him along as best they could. One of the fruits of our institutions.

☞ Mr. Long's Lecture will take place on Tuesday evening, instead of Monday evening, as announced in the Journal.

☞ We have received from Messrs. N. L. Clark & Co., Boston, a pamphlet entitled "A Letter to Clergymen on the preservation of health, and the use of protected solution of protoxide of iron combined, as a medicinal agent." The pamphlet bears on its title page the following recommendation:

Having confidence in the efficacy of the "Peruvian Syrup," as a medicinal agent, we recommend to our brethren in the ministry the careful reading of this pamphlet. Rev. John Pierpont, Rev. Thos. Whittemore, Rev. James B. Miles, Rev. S. H. Riddel, Rev. Joseph H. Clinch, Rev. Martin Moore, Rev. Thos. Starr King, Rev. Charles Briggs, Rev. Sylvanus Cobb, Rev. Edward Edmunds.

Wheat in Illinois.—A man who travelled last week through six counties in Central Illinois, reports to the Chicago Tribune that winter wheat promises to make a fine crop, and that the farmers feel greatly encouraged at the prospect. The Carlinville Democrat says of the wheat in that portion of the State, (near the capital,) that the crop will be little short of an average crop, although the breadth of wheat sown last fall was much less than usual.

☞ Now that Lent has come (says a letter from Paris) the ablest and most eloquent preachers of the French church—the cream of these are Jesuits—have been appointed to preach every Sunday, and even on certain week-days, as well, in every church in the capital. As churchgoing is considered decorous just now, and as Frenchmen generally like oratory, even when it comes from the pulpit, these reverend men will no doubt attract crowded congregations.

☞ A cabinet maker in Clinton, Mass., named Rullicus, who left there Nov. 23, 1858, and has not since been heard from, has just been found in Sterling. The cause of his death is unknown, but can be imagined from the fact that he had four bottles with him, one of which was partially full of rum. He formerly resided in Vermont, and has left a wife and two children in Clinton.

☞ According to the San Francisco Pacific, the "Dash-Away Association," a temperance organization composed of firemen, has nearly all the members of Howard Company No. 3 enrolled in it, and as a consequence one saloon which the Howard "boys" were in the habit of visiting, is a loser, on an average, of $14 per day.

Arrested for Murder.—We learn from the Haverhill Reporter that a man giving his name as Slattery was arrested in that town on Monday, on suspicion of having murdered a man in Orange County, N.Y., within a few weeks past. He will be detained until officers arrive from Orange County.

☞ Mr. and Mrs. John Wood, to whom the courts of California refused to grant a divorce, have been reconciled to each other, and are about opening the American Theatre in San Francisco.

☞ On Thursday, in the Police Court of Newburyport, Richard May plead guilty to the charge of selling liquor, and was sentenced to pay $10 and costs, and to serve in the House of Correction 20 days.

☞ The result of the census made at the conclusion of last year shows Berlin to have 463,645 inhabitants, exclusively of the garrison and their wives and children. There are now no fewer than 15,338 Jews in Berlin, who form a very rich, educated and intelligent community.

☞ Fowler & Wells, New York, have now in press, a remarkable book, which will be ready May 1st. It is entitled, Hints towards Physical Perfection, or the Philosophy of Human Beauty; showing how to acquire and retain bodily symmetry, health, and vigor; secure long life, and avoid the infirmities and deformities of age.

This work will command attention, and awaken a deeper interest in the physical improvement of the race: and it shows how certain and easy this improvement may be made by the use of the means therein pointed out. Its revelations of the laws of Human Configuration, on which symmetry and beauty depend, are not less interesting and important than they are novel and surprising; showing, as they do, that the form and features of even the mature man or woman, (and much more those of the child,) may be modified at will, and to an almost unlimited extent—that we have the power to change, gradually but surely, the shape and arrangement of bone, fiber, fluid, thus growing, day by day, more beautiful or more ugly, according to the direction given to the vital forces.

It shows how we may impart fresh vitality to the languid frame; give new strength to the weak limb; substitute grace of movement for awkwardness; and remodel the ill-formed body and homely features into symmetry and beauty; retain youthful freshness; and "live all our days." It will be interesting to both sexes and to all ages. It is to be illustrated with twenty plates and a large number of woodcuts, executed in the highest style of art. Price, in muslin, gilt, one dollar.

Fire at New Orleans.—The two large stores of Charles R. Railey & Co., wholesale grocers, and Patten, Smith & Putman, tobacco factors, at the coner of Tchoupitoulas and Gravier streets, were burned on Tuesday night. Loss $150,000.

Southern Gallantry and Hospitality.—The New York Commercial Advertiser gives an account of the brutal and disgraceful manner in which a lady of Brooklyn has lately been driven from Aiken, S. C. She had been spending the winter at a hotel there, with a sick daughter, who required a mild climate. Some weeks ago she wrote a letter to a brother in Western New York, in which she spoke of the evils of slavery. This letter was published, and some one sent a copy of the paper to the Postmaster at Aiken. A public meeting was immediately called, and a committee appointed to ferret out the writer. A northern gentleman who, as an invalid, happened also to be at the hotel, was suspected, and wa, threatened with lynch law if he did not confess. As, of course, he could only persist in a denial, he would probably have suffered accordingly had not the lady noble come forward to exonerate him by acknowledging the letter as her own, affirming at the same time that she was not privy to its publication.

The citizens then turned their wrath upon her, and she was peremptorily ordered to leave the place in forty-eight hours. The lady pleaded for more time on behalf of her sick daughter, but the citizens of Aiken knew no such humanity. She asked for liberty to remain until her husband could arrive to escort her and her sick child. But the citizens of Aiken knew nothing of gallantry or courtesy. The order was imperative, in spite of the earnest pleading of the woman, wife and mother. Nor was this all. The landlord of the hotel ordered the mother and sick daughter to "leave his premises in half an hour." What further occurred between that lady and the inhuman citizens of Aiken, South Carolina, we are not informed. But we learn that on Wednesday morning last her husband received a letter apprising him of her situation, and on the afternoon of the same day he started for the South, and met his wife and daughter at Columbia, on their way home.

The Wheeler & Wilson

Medal Family Sewing Machine.
A NEW STYLE MACHINE,
PRICE $50.
This Machine makes the Lock Stitch, which is the only stitch that cannot be raveled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

The Wheeler & Wilson Mfg Co.
Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as Woman's Friend.

Among their undoubted advantages are—
1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

"We prefer the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine for family use."—[N. Y. Tribune.

"Wheeler & Wilson's Sewing Machines are the favorites for use."—[N. Y. Times.

"The Wheeler & Wilson Machine has secured and justly maintains the pre-eminence for sewing every kind of material."—[N. Y. Express.

"There is not an invention of this inventive age that honors American genius more than the Sewing Machine. No family ought to be without its benefits."—[Independent.

"A Sewing Machine is among the most useful and economical articles a housekeeper can purchase. In looking out for the best, see the machines of Wheeler & Wilson."—[Examiner.

The Buckeye Mower.

The Best Mowing Machine

IN THE WORLD.

At the greatest practical working trial ever held in this country, at Syracuse, N. Y., July, 1867, it received the First Premium,

Grand Gold Medal,

offered by the UNITED STATES AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY for the

BEST MOWING MACHINE.

OVER Manny's, Ketcham's, Burrall's, Hallenbeck's, Allen's, Kirby's, Hovey's, Heath's or Eagle Mower, and several others. First Premium Connecticut State Agricultural Society, 1867;—Queens County Agricultural Society, 1868, and numerous others from different sections of the country.

It is WARRANTED to cut grass equal to the best mowers with a scythe, at the rate of one acre per hour with pair of horses and a driver.

Some of its points of excellence are:

1st. It is free from side draft and has no more weight on the tongue, or horse's neck, than a wagon.

2d. Its light draft.

3d. It runs on two wheels which serve as drivers.

4th. It has an adjustable cutter bar and accommodates itself to any uneven surface of the ground.

5th. The cutter bar is in front of the driving wheels, and the seat in the rear—thus enabling the driver to see the operation of the cutters without interfering with his driving; also, avoiding all danger of falling into the knives.

7th. The driving wheels have no cogs on them, but drive the gearing by means of pails and rachets. 8th. By means of these pails and rachets, the knives cease to vibrate in backing the machine. 9th. The driver, while in his seat, can see every bolt, box, and all the gearing when the machine is in motion. 10th. The gearing is all permanently arranged in the centre of the frame, distant from the driving wheels, thus avoiding all tendency of its being clogged up with mud or dirt. 12th. The cutter bar being attached to the machine by means of hinges, can be folded up on top of the machine without removing connecting rod, knife, or track clearer.

12th. The pails on the driving wheels can readily be thrown out of gear, and by folding the cutter bar as above stated, the machine becomes as portable as a common cart.

13th. There is a wheel on the shoe next the gearing, in front of the cutter bar, thus avoiding all tendency of clogging at the near shoe, in passing over cut grass.

14th. The off shoe is only 3½ inches wide, and the last knife cuts no more than any other, therefore leaving no ridge or high stubble at the end of each swath.

15th. The cutter bar can be raised or lowered by means of an adjustable steel spring shoe at off end, and a slot on the near shoe where the wheel is attached.

16th. There are no nuts or screws at the connecting rod, which are always liable to work loose; but by the use of a spring pail and a rachet key this difficulty is entirely obviated.

One of these Mowers can be seen at the Store of the subscriber, who is agent for the sale of them in Portsmouth and the neighboring towns. Persons who have used Manny's and Allen's Mowers in this section, consider this mower much superior to either of the others. Farmers are especially invited to make an examination and trial of this Mower. Description circulars—with numerous testimonials can be had at the Store of

TESTIMONIALS.

Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Independent, says: "Having had one of Grover & Baker's Machines in my family for nearly a year and half, I take pleasure in commending it as every way reliable for the purpose for which it is designed, Family Sewing."

Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate, says: "I confess myself highly delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."

Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of the Brooklyn Star, says: "After trying several different good machines, I preferred yours, on account of its simplicity, and the perfect ease with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience, I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."

Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, New York, says: "I have used a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine for two years, and find it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broadcloth. Garments have been worn out without the giving way of a stitch.—The Machine is easily kept in order, and easily used."

THE GREAT WONDER

Of The Nineteenth Century

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. It certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, ME., Jan. 20, 1866.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what it had claimed. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy! as it has been perfectly for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that many will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any one you may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service. I wish to prevent the miseries of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours, A. C. RAYMOND.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23, 1868.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854. I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved.

Brookfield, Jan 12, 1868.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, W. H. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their hopeless and incurable state, I would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided a full description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of diseases which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are indebted upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 d1y

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practic of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other Foreign countries. Caveats, specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unattainable by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL. AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I record Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8 1859.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, APRIL 4, 1859.

☞ A company of negroes desired to emigrate westward from Pittsburg, Pa., and wrote to the land office relative to the right of pre-emption, and received for reply the following:

In reply to your letter of the 24th ult., I have to state that under the now settled ruling in this office, which has been sanctioned by the Secretary, colored persons are not citizens of the United States, as contemplated by the pre-emption law of the 4th of September, 1841, and are, therefore, not legally entitled to pre-emption of public lands.

This is the "now settled" status of the black man, not that of 70 or 150 years ago. Has he any rights which white men are bound to respect? So asks the "parrot."

☞ The Democratic Standard, the only organ of Pres. Buchanan in New Hampshire, publishes and praises the speech of Senator Brown of Mississippi, in which that gentleman goes the figure for slavery, for the Dred Scott decision, and for a general slave law by Congress.

The Standard calls upon the South to nominate Mr. Brown, at Charleston, for president, promises to support him, and pledges "the honest and patriotic Democracy of the North" to do the same.

The Standard predicts Douglas doctrines will be repudiated at Charleston, and then that "the democracy of this State must retreat from its present position, or go over to the enemy."

☞ Mr. Dusenberry, who resides in West Thirty-Ninth street, New York, on retiring to his bed chamber, about 12 o'clock last Saturday night, was alarmed by hearing a loud snoring from his bed.—Mr. Dusenberry, not being a very timid man, is in the habit of going to bed in the dark, and on this occasion did not intend to depart from his custom. But on hearing this strange sound he lighted the gas, and explored his bed chamber. Turning down the bed clothes, he found a stranger in bed, and apparently sound asleep.—Calling in a police officer, he gave the interloper into custody. Upon being aroused, he gave his name, and appeared to be somewhat under the influence of liquor. According to his story, he lived in Forty-Seventh street, and thought that he was at home in his own bed. He had made a drunken mistake! Upon being taken to the station house he was searched, and nothing found upon him indicating that he was a robber.

☞ Virtue and vice are not peculiar to any latitude, but good men and bad live everywhere. Our readers remember a silly story which was put afloat two months before election, about a large number of ministers (in the 3000 New England clergymen) having been convicted of crime within a brief period. They also remember the decisive contradiction of the story by the Congregationalist and the Chronicle.—Now, in the Portsmouth, Va., Transcript of a single day, March 29, we see statements of the deposition of two baptist ministers in Virginia, for hurtful defects of character.

☞ A remarkable freak of fortune is related by the Columbia, Cal., News. A miner on Gold Hill (what a pleasant place that must be!) sat on a pile of rocks complaining of his hard fortune, and throwing rocks from the pile on which he was sitting into a reservoir that was near, from mere wantonness, not having anything to do, when a piece which he was about to hurl caught the eye of a companion, who told him it contained gold, at which the miner laughed. An examination showed that it did contain the precious ore, and upon pounding it up the despondent child of fortune obtained $207 worth of gold from it.

THE WANDERER'S NEGROES AND THE GOVERNMENT.—A statement in the Savannah Republican, said to be from reliable authority, brings home to the government at Washington some serious responsibility in the disposition of the negroes imported in the Wanderer. A number of them were captured in Worth county, Ga., by the Deputy United States Marshal, Mr. McRae, who sent at once to the Marshal at Savannah for instructions. The Marshal replied that he had telegraphed to Washington in regard to them, but had received no answer, that the Government knew of the Africans being in the State, but had given him no orders concerning them. He advised, therefore, their immediate discharge, and they were released.

Trifles assume an importance not their own, when connected with those who have been loved and lost.

BURNHAM'S LIQUORS.—The Boston Traveller thinks that Burnham, the Massachusetts State liquor agent, makes out a fair defence against the charge of selling impure compounds, and says "that where any unclean sediment was found at the bottom of the kegs or casks, there is good reason to believe it became so after it left the agency, there having been opportunity during the time of its transportation or afterwards for this to have happened.—Moreover, the testimony shows, that such sediment came from wood casks, some of which had been charred, it being a common practice to char gin casks before filling them. He also calls attention to the facts that the slight amount of vegetable or foreign matter found in the few lots of liquor against which complaint was made, added nothing to its appearance, and there could have been no motive of gain or any other inducement to have introduced such matter into the liquor at the agency.

It appears to us, says the Traveller, on looking over the evidence, that no case has been made out against the agent, and he seems to have performed his duty as well as any man, not himself an accomplished expert in the trade, could have done.

We make the following quotation from the defence, and it is sufficient without going into the long details of the document:

"Seven thousand five hundred and nine packages of liquors, large and small, have been sent out from the State Agency, within the last twelve months. In all that large number of packages, is it not singular that no more than ten parcels have been complained of? and this, too, by only some half a dozen out of more than three hundred and sixty town agents? Does not this fact argue well for the workings of the State Agency management, even admitting that in all the instances so complained of, the contents of the objectionable packages issued directly from the State Agency—a proposition by no means proved before you, and which I do not for a moment consent to admit."

A NEW PLAN OF CONFESSION.—For nearly a fortnight a man of the name of Brownlow North has been preaching daily or nightly to crowded and excited audiences in Paisley, sometimes throwing girls into hysterics, and intimating to others that they are going headlong to hell!—Within the last few days he has commenced business, as a father confessor.—At the close of his pulpit services he invites to private interviews those who are concerned as to the state of their souls; and, as might be expected in such circumstances, he is waited upon by crowds of ladies, who one after another, lay bare their secret thoughts to him. On Monday evening, the 14th, after public service, he was waited upon and consulted by somewhere about 40 ladies, all professedly concerned for their souls, and it was near two o'clock next morning ere he had confessed the whole and administered the requisite consolation. Such was the statement which has come to us from a friend of one of the number. Are such doings to be tolerated in a Protestant community?—Glasgow Bulletin.

☞ The Ohio Statesman says that an individual in Sandusky, who has been pining away with consumption for the past year, was deserted on Tuesday last by his unfaithful wife, who stripped the house of everything except a cooking stove and the couch upon which the dying man reclined, and left the city with a neighbor, who in turn left a wife and family of children behind. The shock proved too much for the enfeebled husband, and he died the next night.

CHILD DESERTION—NOVEL FUNERAL.—A child was found dead in the street yesterday morning. It was apparently but a few hours old, and was wrapped in swadling clothes, without any other covering. Some vagabond children who were playing near the spot, which was on a vacant lot, first discovered it. These, following out the bent of juvenile instinct, appropriated the little corpse, and without saying a word to anybody, made preparations for a grand funeral, being highly delighted at having a real body to bury. The attention of passers was attracted by their movements, and they were discovered gathered around a cigar-box, in which they had placed the child, in the act of saying prayers, with folded hands and solemn countenances. A detachment with shingles was waiting with great eagerness to dig the grave, and all were thrown into a high state of indignation at having their funeral disturbed.—Detroit Free Press.

☞ Two liquor seizures was made at Springfield on Wednesday—one on the premises of John Malden and the other on those of Orson M. Phelps. The latter had three bars in full blast. Phelps was frantic with rage at the seizure, and commenced an indiscriminate slaughter of his liquors, seizing bottle after bottle and smashing it over the counter.

☞ The New York News, democratic, speaks in very high terms of the new New Jersey Senator, Hon. J. C. Ten Eyck. The News thinks that if we must have a republican, that democrats should be satisfied that the office has fallen into no worse hands.

☞ Geffrard is becoming unpopular in Hayti, and Soulouque is spoken well of—by a few. The colored race are as changeable as the white race; but the ex-Emperor is too old to profit much from the reaction. We dare say the Haytiens expected the coffee plantations to bear a full crop within twenty-four hours after Soulouque was overthrown, as the Neapolitans were shocked when there was not a fall of fifty per cent. in the price of maccaroni when their constitution was formed.

TEMPERANCE AND THE CHURCH.—Dr. Jewett, in an able and judicious article, calls on each Christian Church, to commit itself directly upon the subject of spreading temperance principles, by giving at least five dollars yearly to that special object. He tells the Church that it is not only a duty, but also a policy and wise economy; that five dollars expended in making temperance men will be repaid many fold. He says:

"Divide the people into two great bodies, those who abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors on the one hand, and those who consume them on the other, and I am prepared to assert that seven-eighths at least of all the moneys raised for the support of benevolent and Christian enterprise, are given by the class first named.

"Now any movement which results in the transfer of hundreds and thousands of men from the drinking class, to the class on the other side of the line, increases the number and wealth of those from whom the church and all its auxiliary enterprises derive their support."

We have no doubt of the correctness of this statement. Five dollars from each church yearly would keep five lecturers steadily in the field. Can the church do so much for itself, so much for religion, or so much for human welfare in any other way by so small an expenditure of time and money?—Boston Temperance Visitor.

☞ A wealthy Russian, who lives in Paris, recently invited his friends to a Muscovite dinner, and he gave them more bear than could patiently be borne. There were parts of bear, bear cutlet, and finally a great shoulder of bear. The whole affair was a most barefaced imposition on good nature.

A lady in Golconda, C. W., is reported to have eight children at a birth. Two of them lived six weeks—the other six still survive. Wonder if she nurses them all at once! We think this rather more than "perfect development."—Bath Times.

We think the story is a "sell."

☞ A "dug-out" canoe, with a freight of over six thousand pounds, arrived at Charleston, S. C., a few days ago. It was fifty-six feet long, and was made from the solid trunk of a yellow poplar tree. Not a single knot of imperfection could be discovered about the craft.

☞ A letter from Fort Yuma says the gold mines there are one of the grandest humbugs of the day, and those who go there, expecting to amass fortunes in a few weeks or months, will be woefully disappointed.

☞ The warmth with which the Neapolitan exiles are received in England, shows how ready the English would be to hail the down-fall of Austrian rule in Italy, as it is that rule alone which enables Bomba and his spouse to mis-rule Naples.

☞ There are signs of trouble among the Kentucky democrats. Lecompton is not find the favor there that it was expected to find, and Mr. Breckinridge must take the stump again in favor of it. It is a thing to "stump" any-body who founds his political hopes on it.

☞ The Archbishop of Agram, in a pastoral letter, styles the King of Sardinia "a cock-sparrow, which dares to prevent the soaring of the eagle," and predicts for him the fate of his father.

☞ Kansas voted, on Monday, to hold another Convention to form another Constitution under which to apply for admission into the Union. There was very little opposition to the call.

☞ Col. Sam Colt in 1847 was so poor that he mortgaged a lathe and other machinery to the Ames manufacturing company to secure a debt of $750. Now he can buy and sell several Ames companies.

☞ The Cleaveland Herald learns that the wheat crop of southwestern Ohio never looked better. There was more than the usual quantity of seed sown last fall.

☞ Recruiting for the Swiss Legion in the service of the Pope is going on actively in the Swiss canton of Grisons. Recruits receive a premium of 200f.

"May I come to see you this evening, Miss?" "No." "Tomorrow evening?" 'No' Sometime or other?" 'No.' 'Well, you are a young lady of decidedly negative qualities."

☞ The report that 150,000 persons died in Jeddo, of cholera, in a month, is probably a canard, with wings broad as those of an eagle.

☞ We read in a Paris paper that Louis Napoleon, the other day, drove down, unattended, to a carriage-maker's, in an obscure street, to look at a new mail phaeton he is having built. This hardly seems like fearing assassination.

Senator Iverson of Georgia, made a speech during the recent session, on the Pacific Railroad bill which was so steeped in the spirit of disunion that his colleague, Toombs was shocked and rebuked him, but the New York News pronounced it "manly and earnest speech." The News says:—

"We do not intend to indorse all Judge Iverson's positions, but we do intend to say the main points of his speech were well taken and ably sustained, and the tone of it was admirable."

We confess we do not understand how it is that disunion threatened by a southern statesman becomes "manly" and "admirable in tone," while disunion simply predicted by Seward, becomes "treason most foul." It is probably all right, but we don't understand it.—Bath Times.

☞ Out of 9995 elms which, three years ago, adorned the Champs Elysees, in Paris, 3500 are dead, and 2000 are in a dying state. Upwards of 800 are stated to have perished by gas exhalations.

☞ Forney's Press says:—

With the exception of a few newspapers, either supported by the Post Office blanks or the Administration, or conducted by hair-brained aspirants looking for place, the judgment of the Democratic press of Pennsylvania is solid against the action of the Convention which erected the scaffold of the 16th of March, and placed Messrs. Rowe and Wright upon it for execution."

We hear that measures are on foot among the leaders of the "unterrified democracy" in this city and State, to either have a change in the proprietorship of the Patriot, or start a new "organ."—Ind. Dem.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at

in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontitorumenos.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME.—J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

POISONOUS INOCULATION.—Persons who, by accident or adherence, become inoculated with any malignant disorder, will find the R. R. R. Remedies prompt, quick and efficient. Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or innoculated through indiscretion or accident.—We are hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe tortures for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators at night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys regular.

For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysms in a few minutes.

E. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton street, New York.

N. B.—For Scrofula, Syphilis, Female Complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

Health and Strength secured by the use of

THE SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE,

Dr. Langley's Root & Herb Bitters.

Composed of Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Yellow Dock, Prickly Ash, Thoroughwort, Rhubarb, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., all of which are so compounded as to act in concert, and assist Nature in eradicating disease. The effect of this medicine is most wonderful—it acts directly upon the bowels and blood, by removing all obstructions from the internal organs, stimulating them into healthy action, renovating the fountains of life, purifying the blood, cleansing it from all humors, and causing it to flow a new through every part of the body; restoring the invalid to health and usefulness. They cure and eradicate from the system, Liver Complaint, that main wheel of so many diseases; Jaundice in its worst forms, all Bilious diseases and Foul Stomach, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, all kinds of Humors, Indigestion, Headache, Dizziness, Piles, Heartburn, Weakness, Pains in the Side and Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, and a torpid or diseased state of the Stomach, or Blood, to which all are more or less subject in Spring and Summer.

More than 1,000,000 persons have been cured by this medicine. It is highly recommended by Physicians everywhere. Try it, and you will never regret it.

Only 25 cts. for a pint, and 38 cts. for a large bottle. Sold by Dealers in Medicine everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveilance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the very able kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of this city, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE GENUINE IS IMPORTED.

TAKE CARE OF THE TREES.

Messrs. Editors:—An act was passed by the legislature last summer, permitting our city to raise money for the purpose of setting trees along the sides of the streets. The question was often asked at the time, and never, in my hearing, satisfactorily answered, as to the necessity of such an act, when our streets are already so well-lined with trees set out by private citizens. Try to get a view of our city from almost any point in the neighborhood, during the summer months, and you will find that the appearance is much more that of a large grove, with a few houses in it, than of a city.

As I suppose that about this time the city government is considering the appropriations for the year, I would take leave to suggest that instead of spending anything on putting out more trees, and thus perhaps checking private enterprise, something be done to preserve those we already have. Let a "City Forester" be appointed, whose duty it shall be to see that the trees along our streets are kept properly pruned and trimmed, and free from injury.

Last summer the caterpillars made sad havoc with the beauty of many of our trees; but a few days' work at the proper time would have destroyed their nests in the beginning. Then in many places trees growing thriftily are in great need of a little judicious pruning, both for their own sake and that of the houses near them, and of the passers through the streets. Again, many trees are placed much too near each other, when we consider how much space a well developed tree will cover;—and it should be the duty of this officer to prevent this evil in future by overseeing and directing the planting of any which may hereafter be set out. H.

☞ The window breaking business seems to be brisk in this city just now. A large pane was broken in the store window of Mr. J. A. Grace on Friday night,—and one in the store of Mr. I. B. Fonda a week or two before;—but no goods are missed in either place. The breaking would seem to be the work of some monomaniac, either by drink or otherwise, rather than the work of a thief who understands his business.

☞ Prof. Williams, of Boston, conducted a very successful Musical Convention, and a Singing School, at Exeter, last week giving a fine Concert of Secular music on Thursday Evening, and another of Sacred music on Friday. The choir comprised about seventy of the best singers and players of Exeter and the neighboring towns, and performed exceedingly well considering the short time they were together. Mr. Williams is a talented musician. We learn that he contemplates having a similar School and Convention in Portsmouth in a fortnight. We hope he or somebody will do something to excite a little interest in music here.

☞ The subject of Mr. Long's lecture on Tuesday evening will be: The Human Figure and the Madonna in Painting; the Philosophy of Light and Darkness in Nature and Art.

☞ It will be seen by advices from Washington, that the new U S. Steamer recently built at this Navy Yard, is to be called the "Mohican."

☞ On Saturday morning, a serious fire occurred in Boston, on Eastern Railroad wharf, by which the three story granite block known as the Suffolk Flour Mills was nearly destroyed, together with all the valuable machinery. The fire was discovered about half-past 3, and originated in the engine room, but from what cause was not ascertained.

The entire Fire Department was early on the ground, but the flames made such rapid progress that before they were mastered, the interior and roof of a considerable portion of the block was entirely burned out.

That portion of the block belonging to the Corporation was the most seriously injured, and their beautiful and powerful steam engine, together with the machinery, valued at $70,000, was wholly ruined or destroyed.

A stock of flour was stored in the block, and was owned by different parties, in all 2400 bbls. The entire loss is estimated at $150,000; partially covered by insurance.

☞ A U. S. Marine named Bassett, who had been drinking, stabbed a North street woman, named Nelson, as they were in a crowd at the Suffolk Mills fire in Boston, on Friday night. He also stabbed police officer Jellison, who arrested him. He is in jail.

MARRIED.

In Sandwich, Mr. Ashael Wallace to Miss Caroline I. Tappan.
In Great Falls, Mr. James H. Foye to Miss Susan A. Blake, of Haverhill, Mass.

DIED.

In Somerville, Mass. at the McLean Asylum, on the 2d inst., Mr. HENRY NOWELL, of this city, in the 70th year of his age.

He was ever an humble and devoted christian, an honest and respected citizen, and a faithful and affectionate husband and father. A severe accident which befel him about three years ago, deprived his family of its beloved head for the greater part of the last years of his life. During the last hours of his sickness his mind was calm and lucid, and his christian patience and reliance carried him safely through all his sufferings to his rest in heaven. "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord." His loss will long be felt and his memory fondly cherished by a large circle of friends.

His remains will be brought to this place for interment.—Com.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

Arr April 1st, sch Delta, Staples, Plum Island.
2d, Samuel, Amee, Boston.

Ship Anna Decatur, Parsons, old Boston 1st, for New Orleans.
Ship Athens, Sullivan, old Boston 1st, for New Orleans.

WASHINGTON, April 1.—The Navy Department has named the new third class steamers as follows:—That at Portsmouth, N. H., the Mohican; at Boston, the Narragansett; at Brooklyn, the Iroquis; the large one at Philadelphia, the Wyoming, and the small one, the Pawnee; at Norfolk, the Dacotah; at Pensacola, the Seminole; at Mare Island, Cal., the Saginaw.

From official advices received to-day, it appears that the steam frigate Minnesota reached Bombay on the 16th of January, having on board ex-Minister Reed, who left on the 25th for Suez. The frigate had visited Singapore and Penang, and several ports in Ceylon. She occasioned expressions of surprise and admiration, as she has ever done in the East. In a few days she was to leave for Muscat, in Arabia, and, passing from there to the Cape of Good Hope, she would probably touch at Zanzibar.

A letter from the Commander of the U. S. frigate Savannah, dated Vera Cruz, March 11, confirms the former reports of the defeat of Miramon, and the success of the Constitutionalists in the interior, and their attack on the City of Mexico.

There are at least twenty applicants for vacant Commissionerships of Patents, and of Indian Affairs, but the appointments will not be made for a week to come.

It is well understood that the Cabinet, to-day, had under consideration the subject of Central American affairs.

Advices from the commander of the Jamestown, confirm the recent report of events in Nicaragua.

☞ The Cincinnati editors "cut up" Fanny Kemble because she is fat. They are so used to cutting up fat things in that city, that they couldn't resist the temptation of thus disposing of a fat lady.

POISONED LIQUORS.—That much of the crime which blackens human character in these our modern days, is attributable to the poisonous ingredients infused in alcoholic drinks, is a fact that cannot be denied. Formerly, the intoxication produced by beverages sold as well as manufactured for moderately wholesome liquors, such as were to be used medicinally, and even then only in solution, was stupifying, absurd, and sometimes fatal. But now, such is the adulteration, that madness supervenes after any indulgence to excess, and a furor takes possession of the soul, that wildly impels to outrage and often results in murder.

The inebriated patient is frequently liable, when under the demoniac spell, to fits of homicidal monomania. Hence occur individal slayings and assassinations, either stimulated by sudden and startling impulse or suggested by a vindictive and morbid moodiness of mind. How deeply dyed then in sin must any man be, who mingles with his saleable drinks, drugs that are as deadly as the "juice of cursed hebanon!" Such persons and we hope they are few in number, might almost advertise in Shakesperian language:

"And if a man did need a poison now, Here lives a catiff wretch would sell it him."
—Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Philadelphia Inquirer is not a "fanatical" paper—but tells the honest truth, of the modern liquors:—Total abstinents keep clear of such trash,—and their course is the only safe one.

INTERESTING TO GENTLEMEN.—One of the most extensive, as well as best selected stock of fabrics for gentlemen's dress goods that we have seen this season, is opened this week by H. E. Armington, at 52 School street. Mr. Armington has gained quite a reputation for the taste, elegance and finish which characterizes all garments made at his establishment; and the innumerable styles from the most celebrated European manufactories, imported by his special order this season, (with trimmings to match,) affords an opportunity for the gratification of almost any taste. An adherence to the cash system enables Mr. Armington to make and sell these goods at quite a low figure.

His stock of goods now opened are an endorsement to his reputation for taste and enterprize, and really worthy the inspection of gentlemen.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Armington's garments always look so smooth, stylish, and nicely made, that we involuntarily give the skirts of our coat a twitch, to take the wrinkles out, as we pass store No. 52 School street.—Boston Post.

E. GREEN & CO.
Have enlarged and splendidly remodelled their Store and extensively increased their Stock of SPRING AND SUMMER CLOTHING for the accommodation of their customers, and others who may favor them with their patronage.
As the articles are too numerous to mention, save one item, viz: (White Shirts with Linen Bosoms are selling at 50 Cents apiece,) they present the following facts before the people.
1. We have sold, and intend to sell Clothing of our own manufacture, and Furnishing Goods cheaper than any establishment of the kind in this State.
2. Because they have been reared in said business from their infancy, and know how to buy; and aside from that they do buy their Stock in New York only of the importers who are related to them, and naturally favor them in bargains.
3 It is rumored that if we continue selling as cheap as we have done in the past, we must "slump," which can but result to the benefit of the buyer.
4. That we intended to move to Pulaski on account of our dissatisfaction with this place, we contradict; on the contrary, we are very grateful for past patronage, and hope for a continuance and increase of the same.
5. And lastly, Auerbach desired to visit his native land, which he has not seen for 13 years, but deferred it for reasons above stated.
☞ Please call and see whether all these facts are true or not.

From the N. H. Gazette.

What they Say of the Slave Code Doctrine.

The Dover Gazette publishes a large portion of the recent debate in the Senate upon the Popular Sovereignty doctrine, in which Douglas so ably vindicated his personal and political consistency.—

The Newport Argus comments upon that debate in this wise:

It is certain from the positions taken, that the Northern Democracy will never submit to Congressional interference to protect slavery in the Territories. Their position of Popular Sovereignty is impregnable. They occupy the true ground between the ultraism of the South and the abolitionists of the North. The Northern abolitionists ridicule the doctrine of Popular Sovereignty, and hold that Congress has the power and should abolish slavery in the Territories, while the ultraists of the South agree with the abolitionists of the North in condemning Popular Sovereignty, but they hold that Congress should step in and protect slavery in the Territories. They both favor Congressional interference, one to protect and the other to abolish slavery. The Democracy say to Congress hands off. The people of the Territories have the right and they should exercise it to do as they please with regard to slavery. If they want it they will pass the necessary laws for its protection, if they do not want it, they will not protect it, and there is no power on earth that can force it upon them.

We might quote from many other Democratic papers in this State to the same effect. Every Democratic paper in the State, unless we should count Burke's hand-organ in the number, unequivocally declares its adhesion to the Popular Sovereignty doctrine, and its condemnation of the Jeff. Davis and James Buchanan theory of Congressional intervention for the protection and encouragement of slavery in the Territories. We doubt that there are Cow Boys enough in any single New England State to send a delegation to the Charleston Convention which will not insist upon a distinct and unmistakable recognition of the doctrine of Popular Sovereignty, as the right of the people of a Territory, like those of a State, to decide for themselves whether slavery shall or shall not exist within their limits.

In view of the facts disclosed by the elections of the past year, we don't see how any sensible man can doubt what would be the result of a campaign fought upon the Slave Code platform, or the fate of a candidate not known to be an opponent of that ill-starred and unlemocratic doctrine. There isn't a State, nor a Congressional District in the North or West, where the Black Republicans would not achieve an easy triumph over the Democracy, if found struggling beneath such an incubus of infamy. And we hesitate not to say, that, direful as is the alternative, there ought not to be!

"A Stitch in Time."—The Democrats, with all their shrewdness, have not yet learned the art of electioneering through the year by that most quiet of all agencies—the newspaper. If they would immediately address themselves to the work of supplying doubtful men, who are without the ability, or disposition to pay for one, with a good Democratic newspaper, at cost or gratuitously, so that they will have it for household reading from now to next March, the effect would be of permanent advantage to the cause. Documentary reading is good in its place, but one dollar expended for a newspaper all the year is worth more than three during the heat of the canvass.

Ex-President Pierce.—The Providence Post, in publishing the recent letter of Gen. Pierce in relation to Presidential aspirations, says it "ought to set at rest the speculations of unprincipled partisans in regard to his absence from the country as having any connection with his aspirations for office." And it well and truly adds that "he is not, and never was, a place-hunter. If he had been renominated for the Presidency in 1856, the re is no doubt that he would have accepted the nomination; for to have done less, or under the circumstances to have discouraged the presentation of his name to the Cincinnati Convention, would have betrayed nothing else but moral cowardice. But to-day the case is different, and no man will question his sincerity when he declares that the measure of his ambition is full. He has served his country and has served it well. Already the march of time has removed the last doubt of his patriotism and his integrity, and none but the merest scavengers assail his name."

Election in Connecticut.—The election of State officers and members of Congress takes place in Connecticut next Monday. There has been a tolerably spirited contest; the Republicans having drawn on many States for oratorical assistance, and appear to be frightened. We are inclined to think that the Democrats will be beaten in the State, but will re-elect Arnold to Congress. A slice would be better than no bread at all, during those times of political famine in the New England Democratic camp.

Celebrated Family Machines,

with all the recent improvements, have reduced their prices, and offer for sale

A NEW STYLE MACHINE,

PRICE $50:

Machines from $50 to $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

It is no longer questioned that these Machines are the best in use for family sewing. They

in the most superior manner, and are the only machines in the market that are so well and simply made,—that they may be sent into families with no other instructions than are contained in a circular which accompanies each machine, and from which may readily learn how to use them, and keep them in order. They make upwards of

FIFTEEN HUNDRED STITCHES A MINUTE,

and will do the sewing of a family cheaper than a seamstress can do it, even if she works at the rate of

ONE CENT AN HOUR!

Is there a husband, father, or brother in the United States, who will permit the drudgery of hand sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Independent, says: "Having had one of Grover & Baker's Machines in my family for nearly a year and half, I take pleasure in commending it as very reliable for the purpose for which it is designed, Family Sewing."

Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate, says: "I confess myself highly delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."

Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, New York, says: "I have used a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine for two years, and find it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broadcloth. Garments have been worn out without the giving way of a stitch.—The Machine is easily kept in order, and easily used."

THE GREAT WONDER
Of The Nineteenth Century
PROFESSOR WOOD'S
HAIR RESTORATIVE.

See the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such testimonies must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. It certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press.

Bath, Me., Jan. 20, 1856.

Professor O. J. Wood & Co.:

Gentlemen:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished, I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy; as it has been before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.

The sole motive I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this place, and have resided here the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any one you may make use of this letter, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours,

A. C. Raymond.

Baltimore, Jan. 26, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE

Professor Wood: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

Finley Johnson.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox church at Brookfield, Miss. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved. Wm. Dyer.

Brookfield, Jan 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood: and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. Bragg.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, at 50 per cent more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!
PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,
Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public. These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, and supply in stead their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—affecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic and Griping Pains.

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all yellowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating, gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents. We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious hands of certain quacks, whose maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

All medicines sent by express will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. Ladies entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 d1y

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practic of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part cannot but be recommended to inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

TUESDAY, APRIL 5, 1859.

STATE POLICY.—Our State legislature, which meets in June, about two months from this present writing, has its decided majority of the republican party; nevertheless it is the legislature of the State and its action, in relation to the welfare of the community should be guided somewhat by the wishes of the people, as expressed by their votes, and controlled by its own sound discretion.

There was a handbill prepared by the democratic party, and posted in public places for weeks before the election, which began thus:—

The Democratic Party goes for the Repeal of the Liquor Law.
Repeal of the Peddler Law.
Repeal of the present expensive Judiciary System.
Repeal of the law disfranchising Naturalized Citizens.
For the Sale of the Reform School, with all its appurtenances.

So much for the repeal side. Now for the sustaining vote. We have now before us the Daily Patriot of Feb. 21, which says, in separate items:—

A vote for Goodwin is a vote to tax the people of New Hampshire $10,000 or $15,000 a year for the support of the Reform School.

A vote for Goodwin is a vote in favor of the continuance of the present enormously expensive Judiciary system.

A vote for Cate is a vote in favor of Judicial reform.

A vote for a black republican candidate for the legislature is a vote in favor of the Peddler Law.

These items, and more like them, were kept standing, and printed over and over again in the Patriot and other similar papers, until the election, since when they have disappeared.

But we deem it seasonable and profitable to refer to them now, for the purpose of saying, first, that as the republican party did not have any of these matters in their programme, the legislature is under no party obligation to meddle with them.

Next, we may say as to the most important item of the whole, the Reform School, it appears that a majority of the people, in the exercise of their popular sovereignty, have voted not to sell it;—and have also voted by the same majority, to tax themselves ten or fifteen thousand dollars a year to support it.

Nevertheless, we do not suppose the powers that be, will be disposed to go quite so fast as that. They are, however, warranted in making adequate appropriations for a branch of public service so important.

According to the Patriot's test, the Peddler law is sustained by a large majority, for the representatives are republican by a large majority. But we have seen no indication that the great body of the people care much about the present law, or the old one, which by the way, are very much alike.

The repealers do not seem to have made much capital out of the liquor law, this year, and it does not seem likely to be repealed at the coming session, nor to be greatly modified.

The Patriot's test about the Judiciary, results in a vote to keep it as it is.—The suggestion of Mr. Cate, however, on Town Courts, may be of some practical value; and we have thought for some years, that a great many minor cases, both civil and criminal, which now go up by appeal, from Justices of the Peace, to the higher courts, would be better and more cheaply settled, by a jury trial with six jurors, before the Justice, as has been done in some other States.

On the whole, we think the popular vote and the popular wish, are not in favor of much legislation, but of as little change as may be.

THE LAST ON THE CHARTER OAK PLACE. It is stated in the Hartford Press that Nathaniel Shipman, Esq., of that city, has purchased the old Charter Oak lot, and will immediately proceed to erect a first class residence thereon. Workmen are now engaged in demolishing the old Wyllys house, which was erected in 1637, the same being English oak, imported by the steward of Mr. Wyllys for that purpose.—The frame has stood 221 years, and still shows few marks of decay. It is doubted whether as old a house frame can be found in this country. It is claimed that the ballast of the pinnace which brought over the frame was used in the construction of the well-house of the Wyllys place, as no stones of that geological formation are to be found in that State.

☞ The Prohibitory liquor law is killed in the New York Assembly.

CONVICTION OF BROWN.—The second trial of Dr. David R. Brown, for causing the death of Susan Aroline Webster, by abortion, was concluded on Saturday, in Boston. The jury returned a verdict of guilty on the first count, alleging abortion, and not guilty on the second, charging him with manslaughter. The punishment for the crime of which he has been found guilty, is not less than seven nor more than twenty years in the State Prison.

SEIZURE OF LIQUORS.—An important seizure of liquors was made at Springfield, Mass., on Friday afternoon, upon a warrant sworn out by Assistant Marshal Parmenter and the City Marshal against D. D. Warren, manufacturer and wholesale dealer in that line, whose establishment in Lyman street was effectually cleared of its contraband contents. The liquors were contained in twenty barrels and various demijohns, &c. The whole quantity included in this seizure was nearly 650 gallons, all of which, as far as examined, is declared to be of the very worst grade.

RICH CONVICTS.—Last week a rich and influential liquor dealer of Taunton, Horatio Field, who has evaded many prosecutions, found himself at the end of his rope; he was convicted on three counts for selling liquor and sentenced to 30 days in the House of Correction on each. On Thursday he began his term.

In Scott County, Illinois, a man named Morgan, worth $80,000 and upward, was recently sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the Alton Penitentiary for an assault with intent to kill.

☞ Professor Hunt, in a lecture at Montreal, was of opinion that from 100 to 150,000 tons of artificial manure might be manufactured annually from the waste of the Canada fisheries; and this equal to Peruvian guano. The French are aware of the importance of this manure, and are now manufacturing it, on a large scale, in the Straits of Belle Isle.

☞ We understand that one of the liberal parishioners of Rev. Mr. Thurston's (Oldtown) Church, Newburyport, Mass., is having an organ built at the manufactory of Mr. Wm. Stevens, Boston, which he intends presenting as gift to that society, the only condition being their paying for the services of the organist for a term of ten years.

☞ A man, while passing through Pine Alley, Philadelphia, on Thursday night, was attacked by two women, one of whom held him, while the other gnawed off his watchguard, and made off with the timekeeper. Annie Davenport was soon after arrested on the charge of being concerned in the robbery. The watch was found upon her person.

FALL RIVER.—It will be remembered that at the municipal election in Fall River, Mr. Blaisdell, the Republican candidate was elected Mayor by about six majority. Some questions arising as to the legality of the vote, Mr. Blaisdell resigned, and a new election was held on Saturday, with the following result: Blaisdell, 943; Greene, Citizens', 802.

☞ Elder Munger, speaking of the time when he was a boy, says it was the custom of school-children, as you passed a school-house, to make a bow. But in these latter days, as you pass a school-house, you must keep your eye pealed, or you will get a snow-ball or a brickbat at the side of your head.

☞ The Pike's Peakers at Great Barrington, thinking they will find more profitable peaks on Berkshire hills, have concluded to remain at home. An agent of the Illinois Central Railroad visited them, with the expectation of ticketing the company westward, without success.

☞ A remarkable act of adhesion to the Roman Catholic faith has just taken place in Rome. It was that of Negouesie, King of Tigre and Semen, in Abyssinia. This sovereign did not appear in person, but sent three of the natives of his States to represent him.

☞ A New York paper publishes an account of the trial and conviction of James J. Johnson, of Rappahannock county, Va., who poisoned his wife with strychnine in a glass of lemonade.

☞ An installment of 4500 dead letters was sent from the Lowell post office to Washington, on Thursday, it being the accumulation of one quarter.

ECONOMICAL.—A man who chews fourteen dollars' worth of tobacco a year, and stops his newspaper because he is poor.

DISTRESS AMONG SETTLERS.—The St. Paul Pioneer says that many of the settlers upon the public lands in Minnesota, advertised for sale in April, are abandoning their claims:

"They have no money to make good their pre-emptions, and it cannot be procured, as in more prosperous times, by mortgaging the land. In some instances, hard-working men, with families dependent upon them for support, will be compelled to lose the fruits of one and two years' labor upon their farms."

☞ The North American Review, for April, 1859, is on our table from the editor. The contents are:

Despotism in India.
Sir Philip Sidney.
Ancient Architecture.
Prince Galitzin.
Bushnell's "Nature and the Supernatural."
Primary law of political development in civil history.
La Plata, the Argentine Confederation, and Paraguay.
Life of James Sullivan.
Paltrey's History of New England.
Switzerland.
Carlyle's Life of Frederick the Great.
Critical Notices.
New Publications.

Sir Philip Sidney, the English patriot, and James Sullivan, the patriot of New England, are both pleasant pieces of biography. But Prince Galitzin, the Catholic priest and saint, is the most delightful character, and inspires the best feelings.

SUGAR.—The sugar market at New York is much depressed, and one of the dealers, who is satisfied that no money is to be made out of it this year, has taken to poetry in the Journal of Commerce. The stock at New York proves to be unexpectedly large. It is found to be 30,181 hhds. and 11,478 boxes, against 13,764 hhds. and 3901 boxes at this time last year:

Sugar, sugar, is my theme:—
Brokers' boards with samples teem—
Losing sellers on the ground—
Anxious buyers all around.

Snowy white to golden hues,
Pity that such sugars lose.
Watch the crystals, how they glitter;
Greedy grocers, how they titter.
Bargains here, and bargains there,
Bargains all and everywhere!

Learn a lesson, O Importer,
Learn to make your prices shorter.
You have had erroneous notions
Of our traders and their motions.

EDUCATIONAL.—Mrs. Partington, after listening to the reading of an advertisement for a young ladies' boarding school, said:—"For my part, I can's conceive what on airth eddication is coming to. When I was young, if a girl only understood the rules of distraction, provision, multiplying, replenishing, and the common dominator, the cotenants and dormitories, the provinces and the umpires, they had eddication enough. But now they have to study bottony, algerbay, and have to demonstrate suppositions of sycophants of circusses, tangents, and Diogenes, and parallelogramy, to say nothing about oxhides, corectics, and obstruse triangles?"

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The Grand Jury, after examining witnesses for a week or two, have made presentments in the cases of A. G. Seaman, late Superintendent of Public Printing; Gen. Cullom, late Clerk of the House of Representatives; and P. D. Duval of Philadelphia. The last was a witness before the select committe to examine Mr. Seaman's accounts. Should the District Attorney prepare the bills of indictment, they will not be immediately acted upon by the Grand Jury, that body having been discharged for two weeks.—Gen. Cullom, learning the action of the Grand Jury, appeared and gave bail

The Union, of this morning, reiterates that the dangerous controversy which has so long existed between the British and the United States governments, in regard to the true construction of the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty, is now in process of satisfactory adjustment.

Charles A. Appleton of Maine, committed suicide by drowning himself to-day. He has been subject to fits of mental derangement. His brother, Hon. John Appleton, Assistant Secretary of State, took charge of his remains.

AUGUSTA, GA., April 2.—The steamer Augusta was burnt last night, 40 miles below here, on the Savannah river. The engineer, Henry Day, and three negroes, were drowned. The cargo consisting of 780 bales of cotton, 40 barrels flour, and other produce, was also consumed. Boat and cargo total loss; both partly insured in New York.

☞ A depot is to be erected in Sandwich, Canada West, for the use of passengers by the underground railway. The persons engaged in it are of the colored race.

☞ Rev. Samuel J. Austin has resigned his charge of the Congregational church in Mason Village.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at SALEN'S DAGUERREAN GALLERY, in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME.—J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of thy day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

POISONOUS INNOCULATION.—Persons who, by accident or otherwise, become innoculated with any malignant disorder, will find the R. R. R. Remedies prompt, quick and efficient. Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or innoculated through indisretion or accident.—We ave hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe fortures for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R. Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators at night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys regular.

For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysms in a few minutes.

R. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton street, New York.

N. B.—For Scrofula, Syphilis, Female Complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

Health and Strength secured by the use of

THE SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE,

Dr. Langley's Root & Herb Bitters.

Composed of Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Yellow Dock, Prickly Ash, Thoroughwort, Rhubarb, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., all of which are so compounded as to act in concert, and assist Nature in eradicating disease. The effect of this medicine is most wonderful—it acts directly upon the bowels and blood, by removing all obstructions from the internal organs, stimulating them into healthy action, renovating the fountains of life, purifying the blood, cleansing it from all humors, and causing it to course anew through every part of the body; restoring the invalid to health and vigorous life. They root and eradicate from the system, Liver Complaint, that main wheel of so many diseases; Jaundice in its worst forms, all Bilious diseases and Foul Stomach, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, all kinds of humors, Indigestion, Headache, Dizziness, Piles, Heartburn, Weakness, Pains in the Side and Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, and a torpid or diseased Liver, a disordered Stomach, or bad Blood, to which all are more or less subject in Spring and Summer.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, diffusing a genial warmth throughout, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

☞ The temporary roof which has covered the new Custom House during the winter, is now coming on, preparatory to recommencing work on the walls. The stone for the third story, which has been gradually accumulating, will begin to go up as soon as the roof is all removed; and the proportions of the building will soon appear.

We think it must look rather high and short; but it will be safe, substantial, and enduring. The internal arrangements for the Post Office, are convenient and ample, we should think, for at least a century.

TREES.—Messrs. Editors:—In reply to H.'s communication, as to the "necessity" of an act of the legislature authorizing towns or cities to appropriate money for setting trees by the street or road-side—the reason it was thought necessary was because it was contended by some that, as a corporation, they had no legal right to do it. The object of the application was to remove the objection, and to authorize towns and cities to make a small appropriation, if they saw fit, to set trees in such places as private individuals might not feel disposed to. In setting trees, would it not be well to consider what trees caterpillars or other insects are most liable to infest? and where trees are too near together, and are of suitable size, would it not be well to transplant them? S. B.

☞ Messrs. J. F. Shores, jr., and J. H. Foster, have just published Four Sermons, by Rev. A. P. Peabody, D. D., viz.: one on Christian Worship; one on Christ and the Father; and two Historical sermons. The latter are a valuable contribution to the religious and social history of Portsmouth. Much interesting matter appears in an appendix, including the old, the later and the present covenants of the South Church—notices of the churches, chapels, &c.

☞ Rev Dr. Lamson will lecture before the Young Men's Christian Association, next Sabbath evening, in the Middle street church, if fair weather.

The lecture of Rev. Dr. Peabody, which was advertised for last Sunday evening, was postponed, on account of the weather, to some future time, of which due notice will be given.

☞ The Annual Meeting of the Piscataqua Bath Company will be held on Saturday, April 9th at 3 P. M. at the office of Dr. R. O. Treadwell.

JOS. H. FOSTER, Sec. and Treas.

☞ The subject of Mr. Long's lecture on Tuesday evening will be: The Human Figure and the Madonna in Painting; the Philosophy of Light and Darkness in Nature and Art.

☞ Quite a pleasant surprise came over some of our people on Sunday, as they heard our steamer had come in, for Dover and Boston and Gloucester; but it proved to be a steam-tug, which came in for coal; and thus the surprise faded away.

☞ On Saturday evening a marine employed at the Navy Yard committed suicide by drowning. He walked to the wharf, took off his hat, jumped in, and sank to rise no more. Cause is said to be disappointed love.

SUICIDE.—We regret to learn that Mr. V. A. Shedd, late agent of the Salmon Falls (N. H.) Manufacturing Co., took his own life Monday morning, in a fit of insanity. He was an estimable man, and much respected. The first attack of his disease occurred Friday last.—Bos. Jour.

During a masked ball in Paris, a costumed individual lit a cigar, and, accidentally, a large wig which he wore. Before he could free himself, he was fatally burnt.

INTERESTING TO GENTLEMEN.—One of the most extensive, as well as best selected stock of fabrics for gentlem n's dress goods that we have seen this season, is opened this week by H. E. Armington, at 52 School street. Mr. Armington has gained quite a reputation for the taste, elegance and finish which characterizes all garments made at his establishment; and the innumerable styles from the most celebrated European manufactories, imported by his special order this season, (with trimmings to match,) affords an opportunity for the gratification of almost any taste. An adherence to the cash system enables Mr. Armington to make and sell these goods at quite a low figure.

His stock of goods now opened are an endorsement to his reputation for taste and enterprise, and really worthy the inspection of gentlemen.—Boston Commercial Bulletin.

Armington's garments always look so smooth, stylish, and nicely made, that we involuntarily give the skirts of our coat a twitch, to take the wrinkles out, as we pass store No. 52 School street.—Boston Post.

FINE READY-MADE AND CUSTOM CLOTHING. We desire to say a few words in commendation of the excellent clothing house of our friends J. W. Smith & Co., Dock Square, corner of Elm street, Boston. It is generally supposed that Ready-made Clothing is of inferior materials, trimings and workmanship, to that of Custom-made, or Clothing made to order. But what we want to impress upon the minds of our readers now, is that the Clothing of J. W. Smith & Co., is in every respect equal to the best that can be made. This is a distinctive feature of their establisment, and the principle on which it is conducted. A poor garment cannot be found in their whole stock. They have inaugurated this new system in the manufacture of ready-made garments, and it is begining to be understood and appreciated by the public. Their immense stock contains every conceivable style and pattern of the most desireable fabrics, particularly adapted to the wants of the Spring and Summer trade. No taste however fastidious can fail of being satisfied with the garments made under the superintendance of Mr. Smith. His unusual faculties for buying—his long experience, and well known skill as a master of his business, are guarantee that in point of style, material, finish and economy, his Custom and Ready-made Clothing cannot be surpassed anywhere in the country. Mr. Smith is a man of enterprise and integrity, the secret of his success is that he performs all he promises, and never allows a customer to go away dissatisfied. See their advertisement in another column, and don't fail to visit them when you go to Boston.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Sickles trial has commenced. No desks or tables for reporters have been furnished.

In the Court there were only about fifty spectators, in addition to the Court, lawyers, reporters, &c.

Sickles was arraigned on an indictment for killing Key, to which he answered, "Not Guilty."

Traverse jurors were called, and out of the panel of thirty, five were selected and sworn. They were discharged until tomorrow, with an injunction not to speak or listen to any person on the subject of the trial.

for the accommodation of their customers, and others who may favor them with their patronage.

As the articles are too numerous to mention, save one item, viz: (White Shirts with Linen Bosoms are selling at 50 Cents apiece,) they present the following facts before the people.

1. We have sold, and intend to sell Clothing of our own manufacture, and Furnishing Goods cheaper than any establishment of the kind in this State.

2. Because they have been reared in said business from their infancy, and know how to buy; and aside fr m that they do buy their Stock in New York only of the importers who are related to them, and naturally favor them in bargains.

3 It is rumored that if we continue selling as cheap as we have done in the past, we must "slump," which can but result to the benefit of the buyer.

4. That we intended to move to Pulaski on account of our dissatisfaction with this place, we contradict; on the contrary, we are very grateful for past patronage, and hope for a continuance and increase of the same.

5. And lastly, Auerbach desired to visit his native land, which he has not seen for 18 years, but deferred it for reasons above stated.

☞ Please call and see whether all these facts are true or not.

The Wheeler & Wilson

Medal Family Sewing Machine.
A NEW STYLE MACHINE,
PRICE $50.
This Machine makes the Lock Stitch, which is the only stitch that cannot be raveled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

The Wheeler & Wilson Mfg Co.
Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these SEWING MACHINES for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as WOMAN'S FRIEND.

Among their undoubted advantages are—
1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

The Buckeye Mower.

The Best Mowing Machine

IN THE WORLD.

At the greatest practical working trial ever held in this country, at Syracuse, N. Y., July, 1857, it received the First Premium,

Grand Gold Medal,

Offered by the UNITED STATES AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY for the

BEST MOWING MACHINE,

over Manny's, Ketchum's, Burrall's, Hallenbecks, Allen's, Kirby's, Hovey's, Heath's or Eagle Mower, and several others. First Premium Connecticut State Agricultural Society, 1857;—Queens County Agricultural Society, 1856, and numerous others from different sections of the country.

It is WARRANTED to cut grass equal to the best mowers with a scythe, at the rate of one acre per hour with pair of horses and a driver.

Some of its points of excellence are:

1st. It is free from side draft and has no more weight on the tongue, or horse's neck, than a wagon.

2d. Its light draft.

3d. It runs on two wheels which serve as drivers.

4th. It has an adjustable cutter bar and accommodates itself to any uneven surface of the ground.

5th. The cutter bar is in front of the driving wheels, and the seat in the rear—thus enabling the driver to see the operation of the cutters without interfering with his driving; also, avoiding all danger of falling into the knives.

7th. The driving wheels have no cogs on them, but drive the gearing by means of pails and rachets. 8th. By means of these pails and rachets, the knives cease to vibrate in backing the machine. 9th. The driver, while in his seat, can see every bolt, box, and all the gearing when the machine is in motion. 10th. The gearing is all permanently arranged in the centre of the frame, distant from the driving wheels, thus avoiding all tendency of its being clogged up with mud or dirt. 11th. The cutter bar being attached to the machine by means of hinges, can be folded up on top of the machine without removing connecting rod, knife, or track clearer.

12th. The pails on the driving wheels can readily be thrown out of gear, and by folding the cutter bar as above stated, the machine becomes as portable as a common cart.

13th. There is a wheel on the shoe next the gearing, in front of the cutter bar, thus avoiding all tendency of clogging at the near shoe, in passing over cut grass.

14th. The off shoe is only 2½ inches wide, and the last knife cuts no more than any other, therefore leaving no ridge or high stubble at the end of each swath.

15th. The cutter bar can be raised or lowered by means of an adjustable steel spring shoe at off end, and a slot on the near shoe where the wheel is attached.

16th. There are no nuts or screws at the connecting rod, which are always liable to work loose; but by the use of a spring pail and a rachet key this difficulty is entirely obviated.

One of these Mowers can be seen at the Store of the subscriber, who is agent for the sale of them in Portsmouth and the neighboring towns. Persons who have used Manny's and Allen's Mowers in this section, consider this mower much superior to either of the others. Farmers are especially invited to make an examination and trial of this Mower. Description circulars—with numerous testimonials can be had at the Store of

SEWING MACHINE CO.,

NO. 18 SUMMER STREET, BOSTON,

Having greatly increased their facilities for manufacturing their

Celebrated Family Machines,

with all the recent improvements, have reduced their prices, and offer for sale

A NEW STYLE MACHINE,

PRICE $50:

Machines from $50 to $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

It is no longer questioned that these Machines are the best in use for family sewing. They

HEM, FELL, GATHER, AND STITCH

in the most superior manner, and are the only machines in the market that are so well and simply made,—that they may be sent into families with no other instructions than are contained in a circular which accompanies each machine, and from which

A CHILD OF TEN YEARS

may readily learn how to use them, and keep them in order. They make upwards of

FIFTEEN HUNDRED STITCHES A MINUTE,

and will do the sewing of a family cheaper than a seamstress can do it, even if she works at the rate of

ONE CENT AN HOUR!

Is there a husband, father, or brother in the United States, who will permit the drudgery of hand sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Independent, says: "Having had one of Grover & Baker's Machines in my family for nearly a year and half, I take pleasure in commending it as every way reliable for the purpose for which it is designed, Family Sewing."

Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate, says: "I confess myself highly delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."

Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of the Brooklyn Star, says: "After trying several different good machines, I preferred yours, on account of its simplicity, and the perfect ease with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience, I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."

Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, New York, says: "I have used a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine for two years, and find it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broadcloth. Garments have been worn out without the giving way of a stitch.—The Machine is easily kept in order, and easily used."

THE GREAT WONDER

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. It certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, ME., Jan. 20, 1856.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, which I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to complain of results. Personally I am a citizen of this city, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any one you may make of me here, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours,

A. C. RAYMOND.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE

Professor Wood: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

EZRA JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved. WM. DYER.

Brookfield, Jan. 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching, with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the indiscriminate use of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter addressed as above.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

The medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and regular virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 d1y

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practic of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL. AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I record Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8 1858.
Mr R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 1859.

THE REFORM SCHOOL.

In November the Superintendent of the House of Reformation organized the thirty-two boys under his charge into a school, instructing them in the branches usually taught in district schools. These lads vary in their ages from nine to eighteen—the average being about fourteen. Mr. Shattuck, the Superintendent, took upon himself the responsibility of their instruction.

It will be understood that nearly all of these boys have had limited school privileges. Many of them are destitute of parents, and those who are not have had before them vicious and degraded examples, and an absence of those healthy influences which result from our common school system. To establish therefore a proper classification, to inspire a love of study, and an interest in the exercises of the school room, required much effort and attention. Classes were formed in reading, spelling, writing, arithmetic, geography, agricultural chemistry and geology. The exercises of the school have been kept up without interruption for twenty weeks.

As the season will soon allow the boys to resume their labors on the farm, the Superintendent brought the session to a close on Saturday. The examination took place in the afternoon, and was attended (says the Manchester American, from which we derive this report,) by some 30 of the citizens. The occasion was one of unusual interest. It is not enough to say that the discipline of the school was excellent;—there was a cheerfulness, alacrity and earnestness among the pupils which would do credit to the best schools in the State,—Hence, in the examination, it was very rare that any mistake or inaccuracy was exhibited. Nearly all of them showed that they had made their lessons a matter of study and reflection. Questions outside of the text book were answered readily. In a word, the school has been entirely successful, showing that the teacher and the pupils have endeavored to secure the greatest improvement. The exercises in declamation were very creditable to the boys who participated.

But the chief purpose in establishing this institution was to give to juvenile offenders a reformatory education. It is this feature which distinguishes it from the penitentiary. The first object is to correct the pernicious influence of early bad training and examples, to form habits of industry, to inspire self-respect and a laudable ambition to become good and useful citizens, to teach them to feel their responsibility to their Creator and their relations to their fellow-beings. To accomplish this end has been the aim of the Superintendent. We believe the institution has thus far accomplished all that its most sanguine friends anticipated. Those who have had doubts as to its success are invited to examine for themselves. With the return of Spring, the boys will begin their work upon the farm, and during the summer will be employed in the most healthy and useful of occupations. A library has been procured for use in their leisure hours.

We think that the people of this State do not appreciate the value of this Institution. The best interests of our commonwealth require that something should be done to save society from the growth and prevalence of crime. Can this be done more effectually than by sustaining and encouraging an institution whose discipline shall check the growing vices and moral disease of the young, before time and habit shall have rendered them incurable?

At the close of the examination on Saturday, Hon. Daniel Clark addressed the boys in regard to their condition, and their obligations to make the best amends in the future, for the conduct of the past. He was gratified at the good order and proficiency exhibited by them. Remarks were also made by Gen. Riddle, and Messrs. Hersey, Upton, Smyth and others.

SICKLES AND THE EVENING POST.—A New York correspondent of the Savannah Republican is informed that "Mr. Sickles, immediately after his liberation, will commence an action for libel against the proprietors of the Evening Post, they having, since the homicide, kept up a bitter and unceasing series of attacks upon his private character."

This is rich. Mister Sickles, the murderer, telling what he will do after his liberation. Suppose he should be hung, (which is not probable,) what then would become of his "private character?" His libel suit will be something rare, if he ever brings it, as it will call up evidence of his past life.

REMARKABLE SEASONS.—A late London paper remarks of the winter and spring of of 1858-'59 in England:—"The nightingale was heard in England on the 18th of February. That is a remarkable fact. It has been repeatedly heard since; so the declaration may be believed. Over the greater part of the pasturage throughout the kingdom, the grass has not ceased to be green during the winter; and the roses and honeysuckles put out shoots almost as soon as their latest leaves dropped. All the spring flowers of the gardens welcomed, open-eyed, the coming in of March.—The elm, Lombardy poplar, and thorns, have burst their buds at the very beginning of the month, while the willow catkins have overhung the streams as in April. Apricots and peaches were in bloom about a week ago; and in the fruit-growing counties, where the cherries and pears are already blooming, the growers are in a state of high tension. A touch of frost between night and morning would cost hundreds of pounds each to hundreds of proprietors of orchards. 'The oldest inhabitant' of many an agricultural district hardly remembers so mild a season. He must go back more than twenty years for any winter that can bear a comparison with it."

THE PROJECTED NATIONAL MONUMENT.—Five or six years since a project was set on foot to erect in Philadelphia, a monument commemorative of the Declaration of Independence. The Legislature of New York passed a law appointing commisioners from other States relative to the project, and pledging a pecuniary contribution under definite contingencies. This pledge would, it now appears, involve an expenditure of some $50,000—a larger sum than the State can afford to contribute at present, even though the monument was necessary, which it is not, so long as the venerable Independence Hall stands to commemorate the sublime event which constitutes the chief glory of its history. Gov. Morgan therefore suggests the repeal of the law designating a commission, and gives his reasons at some length in a communication which he sent into the New York assembly on the 11th inst.

The Dover Enquirer says "the Legislature in New Hampshire in 1853 passed a similar law pledging a contribution from this State for the same object, and some payments, we believe, have already been made, either on account of the monument itself, or to defray the expenses of gentlemen who have been appointed commissioners. Gov. Morgan's idea, that 'Independence Hall' is the best monument, is a good one, and we trust that our Legislature at its next session will act upon it.—If the State can't afford to support a House of Reformation, they have no money to spend upon monments to the dead, or like the Pharisees of old, to throw away in garnishing the tombs of the prophets."

FUGITIVE SLAVE CASE.—The telegraph reported on Saturday, that a fugitive slave had been arrested at Harrisburg, Pa., and taken to Philadelphia, the affair causing much excitement,. The Philadelphia Bulletin of Saturday says that the case is to come before the U. S. Commissioner, Cook Longstreth of that city, and that the alleged fugitive calls himself Daniel Webster. He says he is about 25 years of age, has a wife and one child, and has lost one child, which was buried week before last, and that he has been living at Harrisburg for nine years past, where he was employed at fence making. He says he was arrested while attending market, on pretence that he had committed some crime. It is understood that he is claimed by a party in Virginia, who says that he escaped from bondage six years ago. Daniel, upon the other hand, declares that if he was at Harrisburg, he could prove that he had lived there nine years He is a good looking, stalwart man.

☞ The gentleman who was threatened with Lynch law, and expelled from Holly Springs, Mississippi, for bearing a requisition upon the Governor of that State for a runaway rogue, was Mr. Thomas S. Young of Philadelphia, and the requisition was from the Governor of Pennsylvania. The Philadelphia Bulletin is indignant at such treatment of "a worthy, upright and much esteemed citizen," because, it affirms, the "Fugitive Slave Law has always been faithfully executed in Philadelphia."

Ah! but the Bulletin ought to know that the slave power always depises those who sell or give themselves to be its tools. Serves them right.

☞ The steamer Prince Albert, from New York for Galway, was spoken on the 13th ult. She was under canvass, having lost her propeller.

☞ A few days since the Providence Journal published a letter from Savannah, giving an account of the sale of the slave barque Wanderer, and stating that Mr. Lamar, the owner, committed a violent assault upon another person for bidding against him. Mr. Lamar, says the Savannah News, ascertained that the letter was written by a man named Hazzard, from Providence, and immediately called upon him. Mr. Hazzard acknowledged the authorship of the letter, when Lamar slapped him in the face with the back of his hand. Lamar then stated to Mr. H. that, as he had slandered him in the public prints, he had resented the insult by a blow, and was ready to give him any satisfaction he might demand, but that he must leave the city by the next train, which he accordingly did.

This is exactly the freedom that white men have where black men are slaves.—The slave power is founded on injustice, violence and brutality—and these concomitants must go with it as long as it is a power. The men who plead for slavery, should be slaves themselves.

FROM HAYTI.—We find the following in a leading article in the Feuille du Commerce:

It is our settled conviction that the reign of tyranny is over in Hayti, and that the country, freed from its trammels, will attain, before long, a position of unheard of grandeur.

Our future is glorious. Hayti will soon regain her ancient splendor. This marvellous soil, that our fathers, blessed by God, conquered for us, will soon yield to us the wealth now hidden in its bosom. Let our black and yellow brethren, scattered thro' the Antilles and in North and South America, hasten to co-operate with us in restoring the glory of the republic.

Hayti is the common country of the black race. Our ancestors, in taking possession of it, took care to announce in the constitution that they published, that all the descendants of Africans, and of the inhabitants of the West Indies, belong by right to the Haytien family. The idea was noble and generous.

SHADE TREES.—A correspondent of the Manchester Mirror urges that now is the the time for removing the larvæ of the noxious insects, which in the early summer convert our beautiful shade trees into pests and nuisances. The writer, last winter, had the cocoons or sacks cut off (such as may now be seen suspended from many trees) from all the trees within a square of his residence, and in consequence these trees were green and beautiful all summer, while the foliage of others, not thus cared for, was entirely destroyed. These nests of insect life may now be readily clipped off.

☞ Charles J. Feeney, a gentleman lately returned from California, and temporarily stopping at Lovejoy's Hotel, New York, was garroted on Tuesday night, in the Park, by three highwaymen, who robbed him of $15 and a gold ring. The thieves met Feeney at the hotel and invited him to take a walk, which was accepted, and the quartette visited a drinking saloon and partook of a liberal supply of "refreshments," and then started out for a walk. While passing through the Park the men attacked him, two of them holding him while the other committed the robbery. None of the ruffians were arrested.

☞ The daughter of Admiral Cavendish, a young lady in her teens, had been inveigled, without her father's knowledge or consent, into the convent of Frenita dei Monti, and then and there baptised by the Rev. M. Northcote, a deserter from the Angolican camp. The gallant Admiral had a world off trouble in cutting out and carrying of his child, but ultimately effected her rescue, and is on his way home.

SHIP BUILDING.—Little is now doing in the ship building business at New York, and the Journal of Commerce says that such a stagnation in this branch of industry has not been known for many years. A few ferry boats are in process of construction, but an order for a steamboat or a sailing vessel is a very rare occurrence.

HOTELS CLOSED.—The Mansion House and the American House—the two principal hotels in Greenfield, Mass.,—were closed last week, because they had been indicted by the Grand Jury for violating the liquor law of the State. The Courier says there are other hotels in town that will be glad to accommodate the traveling public.

THE WHEAT CROP. The Rochester Union is informed by old farmers of Western New York, that the growing wheat is now forward, and is looking remarkably well. It has suffered little or none from the winter exposure. The Cincinnati Gazette says reports of the wheat crop continue favorable.

THE SICKLES CASE.—The friends of Mr. Key have engaged the professional services of James M. Carlisle. The defence will plead on behalf of Mr. Sickles, temporary insanity, or uncontrollable frenzy, produced by the great provocation.

MR. GIDDINGS PRESENTED WITH A CANE. At the close of the lecture of the Hon. Joshua R. Giddings, in Newark, N. J., a cane was presented to him manufactured from the handle of the tiller of the well known slave schooner "L'Amistad."

Hubbard Squash.

J. F. SHORES, JR., No. 1 CONGRESS BLOCK, HAS FOR SALE

The Seeds of this new and very superior Squash received by Hovey & Co., from the original introducer of this variety.

The HUBBARD SQUASH is doubtless the best Table Squash yet known—good specimens being about equal in quality to boiled chestnuts. It has a hard shell, and with the same care will keep three months later than the Marrow. With high culture, 5500 lbs. of good market squashes have been raised on one-half an acre of land.

Among the universal commendations of its quality, we would invite the attention of the public to the following:

"They excel in flavor and in the fineness of the flesh any squash we ever tasted."—[N. E. Farmer.

"The quality is very fine, being dry, sweet and rich. It is fine grained, dense and heavier than most squashes in proportion to the bulk."—[Boston Cultivator.

"I pronounce it the richest squash I have ever tasted."—[Hon. Marshall P. Wilder.

"Our good wife says, it is the richest squash she ever used."—[Ohio Cultivator.

The Seeds are put in packages of 50 Seeds, price 15 cents.

A general assortment of fresh GARDEN SEEDS now on hand. april6

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at

in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontitorumenos.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME.—J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of th day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

R. R. R.

POISONOUS INNOCULATION.—Persons who, by accident or otherwise, become innoculated with any malignant disorder, will find the R. R. R. Remedies prompt, quick and efficient. Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or innoculated through indiscretion or accident.—We are hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe tortures for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R. Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators at night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys regular.

For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysms in a few minutes.

R. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton street, New York.

N. B.—For Scrofula, Syphilis, Female Complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

Health and Strength secured by the use of

THE SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE,

Dr. Langley's Root & Herb Bitters.

Composed of Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Yellow Dock, Prickly Ash, Thoroughwort, Rhubarb, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., all of which are so compounded as to act in concert, and assist Nature in eradicating disease. The effect of this medicine is most wonderful—acts directly upon the bowels and blood, by removing all obstructions from the internal organs, stimulating them into healthy action, renovating the fountains of life, purifying the blood, cleansing it from all humors, and causing it to course anew through every part of the body; restoring the invalid to health and vigorous strength. They cure and eradicate from the system, Liver Complaint, that main-wheel of so many diseases; Jaundice in its worst forms, all Bilious diseases and Foul Stomach, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, and all kindred maladies. Indigestion, Headache, Dizziness, Piles, Heartburn, Weakness, Pains in the Side and Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, and a torpid or diseased Liver, a disordered Stomach, or bad Blood, to which all are more or less subject in Spring and Summer.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, LOW LIFE, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHRONIC DIARRHEA, FEVER and AGUE, SEDICULT DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NEWS ORDER IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., Cornhill; S. K. Pocker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 51 Blackstone st.; E. LOCAL.

☞ By Mrs. Murdock's advertisement, it will be seen that she has removed her rooms to Gray's Building. She is possessed of varied talent and fine taste, and has a rare faculty of imparting knowledge to others. Beautiful specimens of her Wax Fruits, and of Grecian Painting by her pupils, may be seen at Mr. Cobb's Music Store. We have also seen remarkable improvement manifested in penmanship, by a scholar of hers, recently.

☞ It is rumored about town, that the Martine Farm on Sagamore Creek, which was sold a few weeks since, was purchased for Ex-President Peirce, now in Italy. It is well known that he is favorably inclined to that locality, it being at once rural and near the sea. The old buildings, so we hear, are to give place to new ones, this Spring.

☞ The Portrait of Rev. Dr. Peabody, just published by Messrs. Shores and Foster, is excellent. We have rarely, if ever, seen a better likeness. It is from Oakley's celebrated Lithographic Establishment, 204 Washington Street, Boston.

MAINE LEGISLATURE. — Augusta, Me., April 4.—The Legislature has to-day passed bills appropriating one million and a half acres of public lands to aid the Aroostook Railroad, and the European and North American Railway.

A loan act has also passed, authorizing the city of Bangor to loan its credit thereto to the amount of $500,000. There is to be a trunk line from Bangor to the boundary of New Brunswick, by the way of Mattawamkeag, with a branch line to Aroostook.

These matters have occupied the chief attention of the Legislature for the last four weeks, but finally passed by overwhelming majorities. In the Senate the vote stood 24 to 2; in the House 122 to 5. It is expected these measures will secure the building of the railway named.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.—Louisville, April 4.—The oppposition have elected their Mayor, and a majority of the Councils. 18 opposition, and 6 Democratic members of the latter are known to be chosen.

St. Louis, April 4.—Incomplete returns from various wards in this city indicate the re-election of O. D. Filley the Republican candidate for Mayor, by from 1000 to 1500 majority. The vote polled is very large.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION. — Hartford, April 4, 12 P. M.—At our State Election to-day, the Republicans have elected all four of their Congressmen and a majority of the Legislature.

Full returns from the Fist Congressional District, give Dwight homis 56 plurality, and elect him. E. Clark, Jr., who ran as an independent candidate, received 270 votes in the district.

FLOODS IN THE MISSISSIPPI.—New Orleans, April 4.—The crevases are flooding many plantations at Diamond Island, and great fears are entertained of a break just above the city. Five hndred men are employed strengthening the levee.

The river is nine inche higher than it was last year at Vicksburg.

CINCINNATI, April 5.—The whole Republican city ticket was elected yesterday by an average majority of 1000. The Council stands, 10 Republicans to 6 Democrats.

CONNECTICUT.—New Haven, April 5.—The Republicans are nowring a salute of one hundred guns in hon of the election of Mr. Woodruff to Congress.

MURDER—MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—Detroit, April 4.—Edward H. Bedict stabbed his wife to day in a fit of jealousy, killing her instantly. He afterwar attempted to hang himself.

At our election to-day the Republicans elected their candidate for Chief Justice by 236 majority.

☞ News from Europe is to March 22. The continental reports and speculations are said to be "more peaceful,"—but on reading over the items, the whole question of peace or war is left in a state of glorious uncertainty.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Court met, and proceeded with examnelling a jury. The first twenty-three called were all rejected for incapacity. No one call then proceeded, but up to the fifth name, at the time this dispatch closed no juror had been sworn.

MONEY VERSUS HUSBANDS.—A correspondent of the Worcester Transcript, relates the following incident:—

Just as the train was about starting for Greenfield Friday morning, on the Vermont and Massachusetts Railroad, a sprightly little woman with a child took a seat in the car near where I was sitting. The cars were begining to move and the little woman looked anxiously through the end window of the rear car for her missing husband, who was in the depot attending to the purchase of tickets &c. The speed of the cars increased and the woman looked more anxious. The husband now appears and commences to run. He gains on the cars at first, but they are too far ahead of him, and soon are leaving him behind, altho' he "did run well for a season." It is now the wife's turn to try what she can do. In agony she informs the conductor that her husband is left; but he can't help that. "I am starting on a journey and can't get along without my husband." "Then let him attend to his business next time," was the answer. "But," said the keen Yankee woman, "I have no money with me." The brakes were applied, and the cars brought to a stand still, and the panting husband enters the car to the delight of all the passengers, and especially of his wife.

Moral—money will stop a train of cars much quicker than husbands.

HISTORICAL.—Dr. Bentley, the eccentric pastor of the East Church, was famous for lugging into his discourse on public occasions all sorts of scraps of local information, town history, personal recollections, &c. Whether in the pulpit, at the wedding, or the grave, "the local item" was never wanting, though not always strictly appropriate to the occasion. A curious instance of this habit was related to us, by one who heard it, as having occurred at a funeral, in the lower part of the town. The deceased was a Mr. S——, who had lived near Beverly Bridge, where his family had long resided. Dr. Bentley, in opening the services, launched forth in the following strain: "O God! the man who with his own hand felled the trees, and hewed the timber, and erected the frame of the house in which we now are, was grandfather of the man whose funeral obsequies we have met to-day to perform."—Salem Observer.

☞ The Honolulu papers announce the arrival of missionary brig Morning Star at that port, for repairs. This is the vessel built by the dime contributions of Sunday School children, and sent to the Micronesian Islands. A ship captain has pronounced her a wretched swindle; her timbers are rotten, and the materials used in her construction the refuse of ship-yards.

☞ A deacon in one of the Hartford churches, a few days ago, found a gold watch and chain belonging to his minister's wife, wrapped up in his morning Courant on the door-step. They were stolen from her two months since, at a parish party, and as the minister preached two sermons at the time upon stealing, the rogue apparently couldn't stand the pressure.

THREE WIVES.—Jas. R. Moulton, a travelling shoe maker, 23 years old, of prepossessing appearance, has been arrested at Little Falls, N. Y., on the requisition of the Governor of Massachusetts, and taken to North Adams, where he is to be arraigned on the charges of adultery and bigamy. Moulton, it appears, has three wives, and was on the point of being married to the fourth when arrested.

☞ The discovery at a railroad depot at Albany of a soap box containing human remains, has given rise to the supposition that a clue to the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Captain Brennan, in July last, from Staten Island, has been found. The matter is now in the course of investigation.

☞ A San Francisco letter announces the arrival of the ship Visurgis, from Boston, with fifty girls, who started at the time of the Frazer River fever. They expected to be employed as servants. A girl skillful in household affairs can earn from $30 to $40 per month in San Francisco.

☞ Timothy Coggens, an Englishman, who was confined in the jail at Bristol, R. I., escaped last Friday night, by sawing off the iron bar in front of the window of his cell, with a case knife. Another prisoner in the same cell refused to accompany him. Coggens was re-arrested the next day in Providence.

☞ The United States now have on different stations 40 ships, 724 officers, 7,676 men, and 584 guns, or thereabouts—a larger naval force than has ever at one time been commissioned under the American flag since the establishment of the Union.

☞ During the month of March thirty-six vessels are reported lost or missing, of which twenty-one were wrecked, three sunk, six abandoned, two burst and three missing. The loss aggregates $350,000 on the vessels, exclusive of cargoes.

By the unanimous wish of their friends

DEFERRED UNTIL NEXT YEAR!!
AND IN APPROVAL THEREOF,

E. GREEN & CO.

Have enlarged and splendidly remodelled their Store and extensively increased their Stock of SPRING AND SUMMER CLOTHING for the accommodation of their customers, and others who may favor them with their patronage.

As the articles are too numerous to mention, save one item, viz: (White Shirts with Linen Bosoms are selling at 50 Cents apiece,) they present the following facts before the people.

1. We have sold, and intend to sell Clothing of our own manufacture, and Furnishing Goods cheaper than any establishment of the kind in this State.

2. Because they have been reared in said business from their infancy, and know how to buy; and aside from that they do buy their Stock in New York only of the importers who are related to them, and naturally favor them in bargains.

3. It is rumored that if we continue selling as cheap as we have done in the past, we must "slump," which can but result to the benefit of the buyer.

4. That we intended to move to Fulaski on account of our dissatisfaction with this place, we contradict; on the contrary, we are very grateful for past patronage, and hope for a continuance and increase of the same.

5. And lastly: Auerbach desired to visit his native land, which he has not seen for 13 years, but deferred it for reasons above stated.

☞ Please call and see whether all these facts are true or not.

The Wheeler & Wilson

Medal Family Sewing Machine.

A NEW STYLE MACHINE,
PRICE $50.

This Machine makes the Lock Stitch, which is the only stitch that cannot be raveled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

The Wheeler & Wilson Mfg Co.

Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these SEWING MACHINES for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as WOMAN'S FRIEND.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

The Buckeye Mower.

The Best Mowing Machine

IN THE WORLD.

At the greatest practical working trial ever held in this country, at Syracuse, N. Y., July, 1857, it received the First Premium,

Grand Gold Medal,

offered by the UNITED STATES AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY for the

BEST MOWING MACHINE,

over Manny's, Ketchum's, Burrall's, Hallenbecks, Allen's, Kirby's, Hovey's, Heath's or Eagle Mower, and several others. First Premium Connecticut State Agricultural Society, 1857;—Queens County Agricultural Society, 1858, and numerous others from different sections of the country.

It is WARRANTED to cut grass equal to the best mowers with a scythe, at the rate of one acre per hour with pair of horses and a driver.

Some of its points of excellence are:

1st. It is free from side draft and has no more weight on the tongue, or horse's neck, than a wagon.

2d. Its light draft.

3d. It runs on two wheels which serve as drivers.

4th. It has an adjustable cutter bar and accommodates itself to any uneven surface of the ground.

5th. The cutter bar is in front of the driving wheels, and the seat in the rear—thus enabling the driver to see the operation of the cutters without interfering with his driving; also, avoiding all danger of falling into the knives.

7th. The driving wheels have no cogs on them, but drive the gearing by means of palls and rachets.

8th. By means of these palls and rachets, the knives cease to vibrate in backing the machine. 9th. The driver, while in his seat, can see every bolt, box, and all the gearing when the machine is in motion. 10th. The gearing is all permanently arranged in the centre of the frame, distant from the driving wheels, thus avoiding all tendency of its being clogged up with mud or dirt. 11th. The cutter bar being attached to the machine by means of hinges, can be folded up on top of the machine without removing connecting rod, knife, or track clearer.

12th. The pulls on the driving wheels can readily be thrown out of gear, and by folding the cutter bar as above stated, the machine becomes as portable as a common cart.

13th. There is a wheel on the shoe next the gearing, in front of the cutter bar, thus avoiding all tendency of clogging at the near shoe, in passing over cut grass.

14th. The off shoe is only 2½ inches wide, and the last knife cuts no more than any other, therefore leaving no ridge or high stubble at the end of each swath.

15th. The cutter bar can be raised or lowered by means of an adjustable steel spring shoe at off end, and a slot on the near shoe where the wheel is attached.

16th. There are no nuts or screws at the connecting rod, which are always liable to work loose; but by the use of a spring pall and a rachet key this difficulty is entirely obviated

One of these Mowers can be seen at the Store of the subscriber, who is agent for the sale of them in Portsmouth and the neighboring towns. Persons who have used Manny's and Allen's Mowers in this section, consider this mower much superior to either of the others. Farmers are especially invited to make an examination and trial of this Mower. Description circulars—with numerous testimonials can be had at the Store of may readily learn how to use them, and keep them in order. They make upwards of

FIFTEEN HUNDRED STITCHES A MINUTE,

and will do the sewing of a family cheaper than a seamstress can do it, even if she works at the rate of

ONE CENT AN HOUR!

Is there a husband, father, or brother in the United States, who will permit the drudgery of hand sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Independent, says: "Having had one of Grover & Baker's Machines in my family for nearly a year and half, I take pleasure in commending it as every way reliable for the purpose for which it is designed, Family Sewing."

Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate, says: "I confess myself highly delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."

Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of the Brooklyn Star, says: "After trying several different good machines, I preferred yours, on account of its simplicity, and the perfect ease with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience, I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."

Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, New York, says: "I have used a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine for two years, and find it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broadcloth. Garments have been worn out without the giving way of a stitch.—The Machine is easily kept in order, and easily used."

THE GREAT WONDER

Of The Nineteenth Century

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTOUATIVE.

Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. It certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, ME., Jan. 20, 1856.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and beard, and that hair has grown of natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy! as it has been before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here or adjoining towns. If you see fit to make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours,

A. C. RAYMOND.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, which I found to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

EDWARD JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Methodist church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved. WM. DYER.

Brookfield, Jan 14, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood: and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public. These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, purify the blood, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, and a good food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two tea spoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose often repeated, cures Jaundice in a short time before eating, gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Cholera Morbus.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for Cholera will always prevent it, and a preventive of Cholera.

One dose, often repeated, cures Diarrhea in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, thousands of persons in towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, with the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 18 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE REGULATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some pretence or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—18 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy3 dly

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, with the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 18 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE REGULATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some pretence or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—18 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy3 dly

Have enlarged and splendidly remodelled their Store and extensively increased their Stock of
SPRING AND SUMMER CLOTHING,
for the accommodation of their customers, and others who may favor them with their patronage.
As the articles are too numerous to mention, save one item, viz: (White Shirts with Linen Bosoms are selling at 50 Cents apiece,) they present the following facts before the people.
1. We have sold, and intend to sell Clothing of our own manufacture, and Furnishing Goods cheaper than any establishment of the kind in this State.
2. Because they have been reared in said business from their infancy, and know how to buy; and side from that they do buy their Stock in New York only of the importers who are related to them, and naturally favor them in bargains.
3. It is rumored that if we continue selling as cheap as we have done in the past, we must "slump," which can but result to the benefit of the buyer.
4. That we intended to move to Pulaski on account of our dissatisfaction with this place, we contradict; on the contrary, we are very grateful for past patronage, and hope for a continuance and increase of the same.
5. And lastly, Auerbach desired to visit his native land, which he has not seen for 13 years, but deferred it for reasons above stated.
☞ Please call and see whether all these facts are true or not.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 70 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practic of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal opinion advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL. AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, APRIL 7, 1859.

NEW HAMPSHIRE & CONNECTICUT.

The Union Democrat, in a carefully written editorial, endeavors to dissuade "our excellent friend of the Portsmouth Gazette" from reviewing Mr. Buchanan and showing up his administration—and says:

No, no, brother—keep cool. We regard Mr. Buchanan as an honest, firm and true man. Possibly you do not; but to whatever extent you diminish the confidence of a party in its President, to that extent you lessen its bond of union, and consequently decrease its strength. Mr. Buchanan is not a candidate for renomination. He has attained the highest position to which any man can aspire. When he leaves it, he will doubtless seek the retirement and repose so congenial to age, and we think his long and eventful public life will have earned the plaudit, "well done, good and faithful servant." Our business is with the future. Mr. Buchanan's friends will be wanted in 1850; but no man can have them who, personally or through his friends, basies himself too much in heaping reproach upon the setting sun. "Everything for the cause—nothing for men."

It will do very well for the Union to talk so—but a man whose head Mr. Buchanan cut off for supporting Douglas, cannot be supposed to be quite so cool—nor to think there was very much forbearance on the Lecompton side, when his own bread was taken out of his mouth for daring to express his opinion.

By the way, the Boston Journal, in speaking of a similar state of things, in Connecticut, where both kinds of Democrats, as in New Hampshire, voted together, goes on to say:

There has been a claim put before the public, which, if not attended to now, will soon be forgotten. We had supposed in the outset of the campaign, from the renomination of the two Lecomptonites, that the national administration was finally in issue before the people. But Senator Douglas—who is a very intelligent politician—wrote just before the election that he understood the contest was upon his interpretation of popular sovereignty, and several of the resolutions of the various Democratic meetings do sustain this view of the matter. However, let the two chiefs, and others, appropriate their respective shares of the negative glory, while we briefly sum up the result: Mr. Buchanan is beaten, Mr. Douglas is beaten, Mr. Toucey is beaten; the administration and popular sovereignty Democrats are both beaten; the old Whigs have been revived to be beaten, and the Know Nothings have flared up to be beaten; the renegade Clark, the spoilt boy Perkins, and all who put them up to their tricks, have been thoroughly, handsomely beaten—and that's the end of it.

CHARLESTON ITEMS.—A traveler, who writes from Charleston, S. C., for the Portsmouth Transcript, mentions three interesting events, occurring at Charleston, nearly at the same time.

The first is in the line of fine arts, viz. at a sale of paintings great interest was manifested on account of a superb picture by Washington Allston, entitled 'spolatro, or the Bloody Hand. The citizens feared the picture would be purchased by strangers and removed from the state. The "Bloody Hand" was painted for the late Hon. Elias Ball, and is pronounced the master-piece of the lamented Allston. The price paid for this picture was (3,011) three thousand and eleven dollars. Great excitement prevailed; the bidding was spirited, but one of the citizens became the fortunate bidder, and the beautiful painting remains in Charleston.

The second was in the line of selling a black man.

There was a sale of negroes about the same time, and remarkable to say, one negro aged fifty, brought the high sum of $2,500.

The third is in the line of hanging a thief. It begins thus:

Richard J. Foster, a young and gentlemanly appearing man, was yesterday executed for breaking in a dwelling some three months since and robbing the inmates.—Foster was convicted and sentenced to death at the last term of the Court.

☞ The War Department issued orders discontinuing the recruiting service throughout the United States on the 30th ult. The ranks of the army are now not only full for the first time in twenty years, but there is a considerable surplus of recruits from which to fill future vacancies. A state of things undoubtedly owing to the depression of business.

WHEAT FROM FRANCE TO NEW YORK.—The wheat coming from the south of France, to New York, is a superior quality purchased by some members of the Corn Exchange Association, for seed, and will cost, with the duties added, $1 80 per bushel.

Sam Prior, colored, died Saturday, at Petersburg, Va., aged 132 years.

PORTLAND CITY ELECTION.

Our readers will see elsewhere in our columns the statement of the fact that Mr. Jewett, the republican mayor of Portland, has been re-elected. The re-election is a popular endorsement of the steady and persistent enforcing of the present Maine law, as conducted the past year—and also of the large expenditure for a city building, last year and this year. It has also a political aspect.

On election day, the Advertiser said of the election:

It is not simply to cast our votes for municipal officers, whose duty it shall be to look after the affairs of the city. This indeed is important. Both parties have shown, by the selection of their candidates, the degree of importance they attach to the election. These candidates, on one side and the other, are among the most deserving and influential of our fellow citizens; and we repeat, that the fiscal affairs of the city would not be likely to suffer in the hands of either party.

But we are called upon to cast our votes as members of the Republican party, on the question whether we approve the position and the policy of the Democratic party; in other words, whether or not we endorse the administration of James Buchanan. True, that is not the direct question. But it is, nevertheless, a question, and in its influence upon the public the most vital question we are summoned to determine. This, then, is the consideration which should chiefly move us. * * * The eye of the country is upon this commercial city of Portland, to see what its decision as to the course of the national administration will be.

Per contra, the Argus of the same day says:

If we were to believe the Advertiser, we should be obliged to regard the election as particularly involving the "great doctrine of human liberty." That, it says, is what is chiefly in issue.

We cannot agree to this idea. We think something more practical, less abstract, and far less sublime is involved. Mayor Jewett and associates have now been a year in office, managing affairs in their own way.

If a majority of the voters think it wise to continue Mr. Jewett's administration, he will be re-elected. If, however, they have come to the conclusion that the expenditure of the sum of ninety-four thousand dollars for an incompleted portion of a city building is rather extravagant, to say the least, and that it will be well to try another hand at the head of affairs, the result will be different. Mr. Jewett will not be elected, and Mr. Holded will.

The majority, it appears, deem it wise to spend the money—but did not think it best to endorse the administration at Washington.

KANSAS AFFAIRS.—Programme for a new State Constitution.—On the 28th ult., the people of Kansas voted on the proposition to call a new constitutional convention, and from the report of the election at Leavenworth, there can be no doubt that the question has been decided in the affirmative by a large majority. According to this decision the people of Kansas will next, on the 7th of June, elect their delegates to the constitutional convention, and on the 5th of July the Convention will meet in Wyandotte City, Leavenworth county. The next step will be the acceptance or rejection of the constitution which may thus be framed, and the election for this purpose is appointed for Tuesday, the 4th of October. Lastly, upon the presumption that the constitution will be ratified, the people under the State charter thus adopted will, on the 6th of December proceed to elect their State officers and organic State Legislature.

☞ The outfit of two English Lords, purchased at New Orleans, for a buffalo hunt in Arkansas, was "four red flannel shirts, two pairs of thick boots, two pairs of buckskin trowsers, two Scotch caps without visors, (no stockings or drawers,) two rifles, two six-barrel Colt's (army regulation) shooters, four bowie knives! and eight hundred and seventy-five dollars' worth of brandy, with plenty of ammunition to lost four months."

☞ Rev. Dr. Beresford of England, who is related to a noble marquis, and who, with a living of £1000 a year, committed forgery to an enormous extent, is now employed in sweeping the wards in the new prison at the convict station in Fremantine, Western Australia, whence he was transported for his crime. England metes out justice without respect to persons.

☞ Mrs. Hartung, the husband poisoner condemned to death at Albany, has become a raving maniac, and has to be bound hand and foot to prevent her from destroying herself. The Governor has directed her to be removed to the insane prison at Auburn.

☞ The Personal Liberty Bill has been defeated in the New York Legislature—55 to 54. Republicans and Americans voting in the negative, 22. None but Republicans voted in the affirmative.

FUGITIVE SLAVE CASE.—Philadelphia, April 4.—Before the U. S. Commissioner to day the case of the negro Daniel Webster, an alleged fugitive slave from Athensville, Va., is being heard. On conducting the fugitive to the commissioner's office this morning, a most exciting scene ensued. Hundreds gathered along the route, and there was every evidence of a forcible seizure being determined on. Marshal Jenkins made such a movement that left no doubt that the first man who interfered did so on the peril of his life. He thus succeeded in safely conducting Daniel before the Commissioner. The fugitive's counsel objected to the power of attorney of claimant's counsel, as a mere transcript from and not a full record of the court of Lowden county, Va.

The trial is progressing, and the court room guarded by a large force of police.

The evidence for the prosecution closed at 9 o'clock, this evening, when the counsel for the defence asked for an adjournment of the case until he had time to consult with his witnesses. Mr. Brewster argued that the statue enforced summary proceedings, and opposed an adjournment. The public feeling was excited, and the law demanded prompt action to shield the claimants from any disastrous results. That was the intent of the law. Finally the Commissioner decided in favor of adjourning the case, for the reason that he was not perfectly satisfied with the identification of the negro, the witnesses not having seen him for seven or eight years.

Philadelphia, April 5.—There was no abatement of the excitement in regard to it, and a large police force was in attendance to preserve order. The counsel for the defence moved that Commissioner Longstreth hand the case over to another Judge, for the reason that he had prejudiced the case, and acted as an advocate for the claimants, it having been shown in evidence that he pronounced the first power of attorney of the claimants as insufficient and that h had informed them that he would be obliged to release the slave if arrested under it, and that, by his advice a new power of attorney was obtained. Mr. Benj. Brewster, for the claimants, argued that it was pre-eminently the duty of the Commissioner to give this information before he issued his warrant. The Commissioner overruled the motion made by the counsel for the defence. The evidence for defence were mostly negroes who endeavored to prove that Daniel Webster was in Harrisburg in March, 1853. One witness, an intelligent colored man, swore that he met him in Baltimore as a free man in 1848, in Philadelphia in 1849, and in Harrisburg in June, 1853. His evidence was straightforward, and was not shaken by a rigid cross-examination.

The examination will be continued until a late hour.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.—Portland, April 5.—The municipal election in this city today resulted as follows:—For Mayor—Jewett, Rep., 2020; Holden, Dem., 1812. The vote for Mayor last year was—Jewett 1757; Shepley, Dem., 1490

Lane, Rep., is elected Judge of the Municipal Court by a large majority.

The Republicans carry five Aldermen out of 8, and 16 Councilmen out of 21, with one vacancy.

Cleveland, O., April 5.—Senter, Rep., was yesterday elected Mayor of this city. The entire Republican ticket doubtkes elected.

St. Louis, April 5.—Nearly all election returns are in. Filley, Republican, for Mayor has 2500 over Bagy, Democrat, and 500 over Wyman, American. His plurality will be probably increased to 3000.

The Republicans have also elected their whole city ticket, and have a large majority in the Council.

Schenectady, April 5.—At the charter election held in this city, to-day, S. P. Forset, Republican, was elected Mayor.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.—Hartford, April 5.—The Republicans have elected 120 representatives, the Democrats 99, with 18 to hear from. The Republican majority will be about 25 in the House. The Senate will stand 12 Republicans to 9 Democrats.

Buckingham, for Governor, will have about 2500 plurality in the State.

The Republicans elect their Congressmen in the 1st district by 65, 2d district by over 300, 3d district over 400, and the 4th district by about 800. The triumph of the Republicans is complete.

PORTRAIT OF FANNY FERN.—The New York correspondent of the Utica Herald, says:—

"I met Fanny Fern upon Broadway yesterday, leaning upon the arm of her beloved husband James. He is a tall, cadaverous individual, with melancholy expression withal. Fanny has passed her heyday: 'no longer young' is stamped upon that careworn face. A sanguine temperament, large perceptive faculties, wavy hair falling down upon her forehead—prominent features. People meeting her even in the crowd, say, 'What a strange looking woman!' It is a marked, but not a bad face. It says, 'I have known some bitter things—anguish, anger, solitude. It is not wholly good, and it could not be entirely bad. It hints at ugliness—it suggests its nobility. It is self-assured, but not vain; proud but not haughty.' It says, 'I have lived more years than are recorded for me.' Her daughter, woman grown, is in appearance a fine second edition of herself."

☞ On Saturday last, the jewelry store of Messrs. Skinner & Swoet, Hanover st., Boston, was robbed of gold and silver watches of the value of eight hundred dollars.

☞ A Washington telegram, dated April 4th, says that the ships-of-war Lancaster, Hartford, San Jacinto, Constellation, John Adams, Levant, Portsmouth, Mobican, Wyoming and Narragansett have been ordered to be prepared for sea immediately.

SICKLES TRIAL.—A dispatch from Washington of April 6th says that the eleventh juror had been selected and sworn, and it was confidently expected that the jury would be completed on that day.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at

SALEN'S DAGUERREAN GALLERY,

In Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

☞ We take the following Editorial notice from a late number of the Savannah, Daily News, and would refer our readers to the advertisement of McKINLEY & Co., in another column.

The Georgia State Lottery, of McKINNEY & Co's., draws this evening. The scheme is a very attractive one, indeed. In fact, so are all their schemes for the month of April. It will be observed that this Lottery draws on each Saturday in every month. The offer is to the public, as set forth in ther schemes, is very liberal indeed—none more so.

Those who desire to court the fickle dame, Fortune, have a first-rate opportunity afforded them by the Georgia State Lottery, managed by McKINNEY & Co. We are informed that this concern is strong, and that is is doing a large business on the most liberal terms. It will be recollected that this Lottery is drawn for the benefit of the Monticello Union Academy. The Academy, it is said, by its aid and the merits of able and learned Professorships, has been placed among the most flourishing and popular schools of the State.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME.—J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

R. R. R.

POISONOUS INOCULATION.—Persons who, by accident or otherwise, become inoculated with any malignant disorder, will find the R. R. R. Remedies prompt, quick and efficient. Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or Secondary Disorder, by removal, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or inoculated through indiscretion or accident.—We are hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe tortures for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators at night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys regular.

For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysms in a few minutes.

R. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton street, New York.

N. B.—For Scrofula, Syphilis, Female Complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

Health and Strength secured by the use of

THE SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE,

Dr. Langley's Root & Herb Bitters.

Composed of Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Yellow Dock, Prickly Ash, Thoroughwort, Rhubarb, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., all of which are so compounded as to act in concert, and assist Nature in eradicating disease. The effect of this medicine is most wonderful—it acts directly upon the bowels and blood, by removing all obstructions from the internal organs, stimulating them into healthy action, renovating the fountains of life, purifying the blood, cleansing it from all humors, and causing it to course anew through every part of the body; restoring the invalid to health and usefulness. They cure and eradicate from the system, Liver Complaint, that main-wheel of so many diseases; Jaundice in its worst forms, all Bilious diseases and Foul Stomach, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, all kinds of Humors, Indigestion, Headache, Dizziness, Piles, Heartburn, Weakness, Pains in the Side and Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, and a torpid or diseased Liver, a disordered Stomach, or bad Blood, to which all are more or less subject in Spring and Summer.

More than 1,000,000 persons have been cured by this medicine. It is highly recommended by Physicians everywhere. Try it, and you will never regret it.

Only 25 cts. for a pint, and 38 cts. for a large bottle. Sold by Dealers in Medicine everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and is one of the valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in nature.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste by which nearly the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps is so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints for one dollar, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHERS IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co, 1 Cornhill; S. E. Peeker, 20 Elm st; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st; E. Smith & Co., 20 Exchange st; Gilbert, Abbott & Co., 78 Broad st., Ireland & Snow, 34 Elm st, and others. In Portland, Me. of H. H. Hay & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mitchell & Son.

EDMUND C CHARLES, General Agent.

LOCAL.

Mr. Senter's Readings at the Temple, evening, Fast Day, will surely be more than the 15 cents which will be the ticket of admission. Therefore those who wish to aid the City Mission do well to pay double price, or at a quarter of a dollar. But perhaps it is as well to take in whole families at a dozen, for a dollar bill.

It will be seen that the Old Folks of this city and the neighboring towns are to give a Concert of Sacred and Sacred Music, next month. This will in all respects equal any of their previous entertainments, which have won for them such a reputation; and in point of variety will excel all their other concerts.

The Great Giant Skeleton will be found at Rechab Hall, Market Street, a few days. D. J. Major stands 6 feet 7 inches high, weighs only 84 lbs. Come and see him; he is one of the greatest curiosities this side of the Atlantic. Admission 10 cents; children 5 cents. 1t*

Mr. A. F. Nowell desires us to state that he has three small Elm Trees in his yard, corner of Pleasant and Gates streets, seedlings from the splendid old elm tree,) which want to be removed, and any person desiring may have them for the digging.

The Spring Fashions.—Our young tradesmen, Allen & Paine, are determined to be ahead of all their neighbors in supplying the ladies with garments for Spring wear. They have taken the pains to furnish themselves with some very stylish new patterns of Sacques and Raglans, and are already at work manufacturing for their spring trade. We are sure that the ladies will be pleased to call at the store and examine their new styles.

☞ A splendid Calendar Show Card, of large size, from F. F. Oakley's Lithographic and Engraving Establishment, 204 Washington street, Boston, may be seen at Mr. Cobb's Music Store. Oakley's is one of the longest established and most extensive and complete institutions of the kind in New England. Mr. John G. Thompson, jr., formerly of this city, is a partner. Visitors may depend upon the most courteous, prompt and accurate attention to all orders.

Orders for Engraved Cards of any description, or other work of the same sort, may be left at the Chronicle office.

☞ To-day being Fast Day, no Daily Chronicle will be issued on Friday morning. Our Weekly will be published as usual.

The New City Building in Portland. $4,000 has been expended upon the new City building, now in course of erection in the enterprising down-east sister city, and $3,000 more will be required to finish it. The structure is to be the most elegant and convenient in the United States. The lot of land is leased to the city for 999 years, at $1 per year, payable when called for.—The building fronts 150 feet, and runs back 221 feet. Its front will be in the Venetian style of architecture, with towers at each corner 75 feet high, projecting five feet from the front line. The main building is to have a dome with a lantern or a lookout—the top of the lantern to be 90 feet high. One wing, 70 feet by 57—to be occupied by the county for a court room. The city government finds ample accommodations in the basement, and in eight rooms in the first story. There are two large rooms in the first story, and a large number above in the same wing for "State or other uses." In this wing is the large and splendid Hall, 112 feet long, 80 feet wide, and 32 feet high.

"That's something like" a City Building—and doubtless shows good taste and true economy. Portsmouth can't have $100,000 better invested than in a good City Building. Why wait for it longer? It will pay a good interest in gratifying everybody who sees it, if beautiful as it ought to be; and in educating the tastes of the young. F.

From the Ballot.

Read the Advertisements.—We hope no one who takes up the Ballot will fail to peruse the advertisements in its columns, as none will fail to find in them something of interest, while many may thereby gain information worth a year's subscription.

Purchasers of clothing need not go to Boston to be suited, as our tailors are fully competent to give entire satisfaction. We know by experience that Ham & Co. can fit a garment as well as any Boston tailor we ever found, and Wm. P. Walker of the City Clothing Store gives general satisfaction to his numerous customers. Wm. H. Cheever fully sustains the reputation of the old stand of Benj. Cheever & Son, while at the establishments of Moses & Downie, or Green & Co. custom or ready made clothing can be brought at prices low enough to satisfy all who would "live and let live."

Purchasers of hats and caps cannot fail to be suited at the stores of Daniel Knight & Co., N. K. Walker & Son or Wm. O. Head; while Hill & Carr and J. C. Carr have always on hand stocks of boots and shoes from which the most fastidious cannot fail to make satisfactory selections.

The ladies will not fail to notice the dry goods advertisements of our enterprising young friends Allen & Paine, who are constantly introducing new novelties, nor the modest announcement of W. N. Ilsley, at whose store they will always find a good assortment of goods and polite attention; while at Mr. Hahn's "Ladies' Exchange" the stock of fancy goods will command their admiration, and the proprietor's terms and endeavors to please will be sure to secure their patronage. The advertisement of the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine, for the sale of which C. C. Harvey is the agent, will also command the ladies' attention, and the strong recommendations of the press will satisfy them of its excellence.

The large assortment of room papers, borders, window shades, curtain fixtures, &c., advertised by J. F. Shores Jr. and C. C. Harvey, are worthy the attention of all who are about purchasing any thing in that line; and those contemplating the purchase of a piano or melodeon may rely upon being suited by S. F. Cobb or C. C Harvey, who also rents those instruments at moderate rates.

"Farmers will please notice the Clipper Plow," manufactured by J. B. Wiggin & Co., at Martin's steam mill in Green street. Many cultivators who have examined it declare it the best of the many plows in the market, and orders are pouring in upon the manufacturers from all parts of the state and from Boston. Our farming friends will also find good assortments of farming tools at low prices at the stores of our advertising friends G. L Treadwell and J. H. Bailey, and a stock of poudrette, that famous fertilizer, is always kept on hand by our neighbor J. F. Shores Jr.

Read the advertisements—all of them.

☞ March departed in a squalling rage on Thursday night, and young April came in upon us piping on Friday. He has been on a hard blow almost incessantly since his arrival, and often exceedingly boisterous. His friends hope, however, that he will soon become more temperate, and that copious tears will water the wild oats he has sown.

☞ The April term of the Court of Common Pleas for this county will commence its session in this city next Tuesday.

☞ We had an alarm of fire Tuesday evening—nothing else.

Appointment.—Joseph Seaward, Esq., is appointed Check Officer at the Navy Yard, vice N. S. Payne, resigned on account of ill health.

☞ The time of starting from Portsmouth for Concord, is changed to 4:20 P. M. See Advertisement.

The Wheeler & Wilson

Medal Family Sewing Machine.

A NEW STYLE MACHINE,

PRICE $50.

This Machine makes the Lock Stitch, which is the only stitch that cannot be raveled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

The Wheeler & Wilson Mf'g Co.

Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as Woman's Friend.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

HANDY COVER FOR THE FLOUR BARREL.—Housekeepers generally cover their barrel of flour with a cloth loosely thrown over the top for protection from dust, &c., consequently it is always coming off, and mice are not kept out of the barrel. To prevent this annoyance, take the the top hoop, after the head of the barrel is removed, and saw in white cloth; it makes a nice, convenient and firm cover, thus protecting the floor from dust and vermin.—Rural New Yorker.

The fourth finger was originally chosen for wearing the wedding ring, for the reason it is not only used less than either of the rest, but is more capable of preserving a ring from bruises—having this one quality peculiar to itself, that it cannot be extended but in company with some other finger, whereas the others may be singly stretched out to their full length and straightness.

Celebrated Family Machines,

with all the recent improvements, have reduced their prices, and offer for sale

A NEW STYLE MACHINE.

PRICE $50:

Machines from $50 to $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

It is no longer questioned that these Machines are the best in use for family sewing. They

HEM, FELL, GATHER, AND STITCH

in the most superior manner, and are the only machines in the market that are so well and simply made,—that they may be sent into families with no other instructions than are contained in a circular which accompanies each machine, and from which

A CHILD OF TEN YEARS

may readily learn how to use them, and keep them in order. They make upwards of

FIFTEEN HUNDRED STITCHES A MINUTE,

and will do the sewing of a family cheaper than a seamstress can do it, even if she works at the rate of

ONE CENT AN HOUR!

Is there a husband, father, or brother in the United States, who will permit the drudgery of hand sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Independent, says: "Having had one of Grover & Baker's Machines in my family for nearly a year and half, I take pleasure in commending it as every way reliable for the purpose for which it is designed, Family Sewing."

Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate, says: "I confess myself highly delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."

Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of the Brooklyn Star, says: "After trying several different good machines, I preferred yours, on account of its simplicity, and the perfect ease with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience, I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."

Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, New York, says: "I have used a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine for two years, and find it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broadcloth. Garments have been worn out without the giving way of a stitch.—The Machine is easily kept in order, and easily used."

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. It certificates are guaranteed of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, ME., Jan. 20, 1858.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy! an it has been before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old, my good wife at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours,

A. C. RAYMOND.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE

Professor Wood: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Otterbein church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universality beloved.

WM. DYER.

Brookfield, Jan 13, 1858.

Professor Wood—DEAR SIR: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood: and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

Cure the Piles.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three hundred of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the direct path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE SUPPORTING PILLS.

These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtues in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under cover of fictitious names. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicine.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

By the unanimous wish of their friends
The Journey to Poland
DEFERRED UNTIL NEXT YEAR!!
AND IN APPROVAL THEREOF,
E. GREEN & CO.

have enlarged and splendidly remodelled their store and extensively increased their Stock of

SPRING AND SUMMER CLOTHING,

for the accommodation of their customers, and others who may favor them with their patronage. As the articles are too numerous to mention, we name items, viz: (White Shirts with Linen Bosoms are selling at 50 Cents apiece,) they present the following facts before the people.

1. We have sold, and intend to sell Clothing of our own manufacture, and Furnishing Goods cheaper than any establishment of the kind in the State.

2. Because they have been reared in said business from their infancy, and know how to buy; put aside from that they do buy their Stock in New York only of the importers who are related to them, and naturally favor them in bargains.

3. It is rumored that if we continue selling as cheap as we have done in the past, we must "shump," which can but result to the benefit of the buyer.

4. That we intended to move to Pulaski on account of our dissatisfaction with this place, we contradict; on the contrary, we are very grateful for past patronage, and hope for a continuance and increase of the same.

5. And lastly, Auerbach desired to visit his native land, which he has not seen for 13 years, but deferred it for reasons above stated.

☞ Please call and see whether all these facts are true or not.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1836.)
No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immarably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

SCIENTIFIC AND MECHANICAL.

THE SOURCE AND CHARACTER OF METEORS.

There can be no doubt that meteors come from regions far beyond the extent of the earth's atmosphere, from the fact that they have actually been seen approaching the terrestrial sphere certainly at the hight of one hundred and twenty miles. Some observers say that they have noticed them when four hundred miles away; but these observations cannot be regarded as trustworthy, on account of the difficulty of determining the small parallactic angles concerned in the surveys out of which the calculations are made. The path, however, along which meteors pass earthwards, is always a very open curve, known to mathematicians under the name of the parabola—that is, the curve of casting, or along which bodies that are cast move. The form of this curve implies that bodies travelling along it must have come from a very remote distance, and have been more and more and more sharply bent down towards the earth, by the increasing power of its attraction, as they drew nearer. Thus, the character of the meteor's path at once tells, when interpreted by scientific principles, that it has really been a small, planet-like, independent mass, coursing along in space, until it accidentally came so near to the earth as to be drawn to the terrestrial surface by its powerful attraction.—There is one character which is peculiar in the meteoric stone, and which proves to be of high significance; its substance is composed of various mineral ingredients which are identical with matters of familiar occurrence upon the earth—but amidst these, iron is found in great abundance as it never is found on the earth, that is, in a native or nearly pure metallic and uncombined state.

ANASTATIC PRINTING.

This is one of the most remarkable processes recently discovered—depending mainly on the antagonism of oil and water. A printed sheet of paper is moisted with dilute phosphoric acid, and is pressed on a clean surface of zinc; and by this contact the acid of the unprinted part etches the zinc beneath, while the printed part sets off on the zinc. There is thus produced a reverse copy of the printing on the zinc.—The plate is washed with an acid solution of gum, and is then inked—the affinities in some instances, and the repulsions in others, causing the lines of the device, whatever it may be, to take the ink, but the other parts of the plate to remain clean; and the printing then follows. This anastatic method of printing has gone a little, and only a little, beyond the limits of a manipulative curiosity. The claims put forth for the method are somewhat comprehensive; for it is averred that designs, process of printing from types, copper or steel plates, wood, stone, etc., or by the manual operations of writing or drawing in prepared ink or chalk, may be readily trasferred to the metal plate, and an indefinite number of copies produced, at a really trifling cost. It is certainly one of the most peculiar modes of copying, which ingenuity has ever devised.

THE ENVELOPE MACHINE.

Those of our readers who have never witnessed the operation of one of the recently improved envelope machines, have yet to become acquainted with one of the marvels of modern mechanical ingenuity. It is an exceedingly beautiful contrivance, and performs many successive operations with unerring accuracy. The operator places a diamond-shaped piece of paper on a little platform; a sort of plunger descends, and forces the central part of the paper into an oblong quadrangular cavity; the four corners stand erect, and these are successively flattened by four levers, whereby the envelope form is given. And when all is done, two india-rubber fingers lightly touch the envelope, and draw it delicately aside, to make ready for another. These fingers are quite a refinement of ingenuity; they are small metallic cylinders, with bits of india-rubber at the lower ends—the finger-tips have just enough of the glutinous or sticky quality to adhere slightly to the paper on which they are pressed, and to draw it away from its place in the machine. But while these processes have been going on, there is another series also in operation, to effect the gumming or fastening. There is a supply of gum, which spreads itself over an endless apron or blanket; and an artificial arm takes a supply of gum from this blanket, to apply it to the envelope.

HISTORY OF SICKLES.

The following plain and brief account of this notorious man, is furnished by the Reporter of the Boston Atlas, now in Washington.

Daniel E. Sickles was born in Washington in 1819. He was a printer; but subsequently adopted the profession of law. He became one of the City Attorneys of New York, and has the reputation of having acquired a fortune in that capacity.—He managed to perfect an organization in New York, composed chiefly of "shoulder-hitters" and "short-boys" through the influence of which he secured a seat in the State Senate.

While member of this body he had the reputation of supporting at one of the hotels in Albany, a notorious prostitute of New York. His present wife, then Miss Bagioli, daughter of an Italian music teacher of New York, was too young for marriage. About the same time a fond intimacy existed between Mr. Sickles and Mrs. Bagioli, the mother of his wife. Miss Bagioli was then a mere child—of peculiar personal attractions, interesting, innocent and full of life, beauty and school girl glee.

Mr. Sickles was in the habit of walking to the school-room for the purpose of accompanying his "little pet" as he was wont to call her, on a promenade upon Broadway to her home. He always walked holding her hand in one of his, as a father would accompany his child. As soon as Miss Bagioli left school in 1853 she was married to Mr. Sickles. She was then only sixteen years of age.

When Mr. Buchanan was Minister to England, he appointed Mr. Sickles Secretary of Legation. The latter took his young wife with him to the Court of St. James, where she mingled with the best of English society, and became quite a favorite. Mr. Sickles acquitted himself, officially, with honor and abilities, and upon his return to New York was elected by the "Democracy" of a City Congressional District—to a seat in the U. S. House of Representatives. Mrs. Sickles, in Washington, won many friends and admirers by her general intelligence and charms of person and manner.

Mr. Sickles acquired the reputation of being a man of rare ability. He was always clear and able in debate. He never allowed himself to become excited, and on this account won many laurels during stormy discussions. He is a tall, well built man, of handsome face, commanding presence, and graceful manners. He is probably one of the coolest men living. The deliberate manner in which he approached Key, not knowing whether the latter was armed or not, and notified him that he must prepare to die, giving Key, an expert with the pistol, whom Sickles had a right to suppose was armed, a chance to draw upon him, is an evidence of this. Not less cool was the manner in which he described to the writer, in his cell in Washington, the manner in which he perpetrated the bloody deed.

With the greatest coolness he smoked his cigar, and detailed with precision the manner in which he approached Key, what he said to him, how Key received the awful warning, that he drew his first Derringer, and fired, and how Key reeled and cried, "Don't kill me!" and then in a desperate struggle for life rushed upon Sickles and grasped his arm, how he threw him off and then drew his second Derringer and fired again, how Key cried "Murder!" and staggered against a tree; that he drew a revolver and tried to fire that, but the nipple caught, and he came near losing his third shot, but luck favored him and the revolver worked and he fired a third ball.

He finally remarked that he was about to fire again, but observing by his eyes Key was dying, he desisted and left with Butterworth, and went to the residence of Attorney General Black. This statement was related with as much ease and apparent coolness as though he was describing the shooting of a deer instead of a human being. He remarked to the writer in regard to Key, "He dishonored me, and we could not both live on the same planet."

☞ In Lee, near Bangor, Me., April 7, between 12 midnight, and 1 in the morning, Mrs. Potter, an old lady, two sons, aged forty and thirty-five, and a grand child, aged ten, were burned with their house. They probably suffocated, as they made no struggle. Another son saved himself by jumping from the attic window. They were the only occupants of the house.

☞ McLaurin F. Cook, the Boston School Master, who was taken up for assaulting a pupil named Wall, has been discharged by the court, with a decision that the punishment was deserved, and that it was not excessive. This was the well known case of priestcraft in School.

THE DRAUGHTS OF EARTH.

There is a cup of life;
The little pirate that stud the threshold o'er,
Are of the feet of such as come to drink
Fresh in their natal hour,—whose infant lips
Eschew the taste, and perish on the brink.

There is a cup of bliss;
It mantles bright, and casts its foam aloft,
And calls for flowers to twine its sparkling brim;
The young, gay, beauteous, happy, dance around,
Nor know the shapes that 'neath its surface swim.

There is a cup of wealth,
With worthless tinsel decked; the ignoble crowd
That cringe around the glittering fallacy,
Ne'er rise so high as haste the current proud,
Yet pine to share its splendid misery.

Of poverty a cup;
And the pale, rank grass weaves its hated sward
For earth's best souls, thick o'er the feeble brow;
'Tis genius' birth-gift, humble worth's reward
For those who mid its turbid waters flow.

Glory has too her cup;
She lifts it to the skies, and onward rush
Contending springs, o'er mountain, vale and flood,
She views her glittering hosts each other crush,
Bids all to dust, then fills it with their blood.

There is a cup of tears,
With celers bound, and planted in the grave;
Thither the lonely and forlorn repair,
With duteous drops its pearly font to lave,
And swell the crystal store that glistens there.

For still round sorrow's cup,
'Tis meet the faint and weary should convene,
To cast the cypress on the waters clear,
Descant on hopes that tripped life's fairy green,
And the stern hour that first enforced a tear.

O, Memory! thy cup!
Thy bruised, yet cherished cup, lonesome I sing;
Would I knew not to dwell on thy sad beams,
On eyes in dust, smiles fled on misery's wings,
And lips in clay, that speak with all my dreams.

Well—there's a cup of death,
And if by other cups were made prepared
Its mystic edge to press,—life's dream then o'er,
We wake today that knows no sunset sky,
And drink the cup of bliss forevermore.

☞ Rhode Island election took place on Wednesday, and Thomas G. Turner is elected Governor, John R. Bartlett, Secretary of State, Jerome B. Kimball, Attorney General. These are on both the American Republican and Republican tickets.—There is no choice for Lieut. Governor and General Treasurer. In the Eastern Congressional District there is no choice.—The vote stands Robinson, American Republican, 3897; Davis, Republican, 2422; Arnold, Democrat, 1532. Robinson leads in every town but two. [On the next trial a plurality elects.]

In the Western District, Brayton who was supported by the American Republicans and Republicans, is elected. The vote is Brayton, 2946. Anthony, Dem., 700.

The legislature is American and Republican, in both branches, by large majorities.

☞ News from Liverpool to March 23d, comes to us by the Indian, at Portland.

ENGLAND.—In the House of Lords on the 22d, the bill amending marriage with a deceased wife's sister, was debated and lost by a vote of 49 to 39.

In the House of Commons the debate on the Reform Bill was resumed. Wilson, Sidney, Herbert, Crossley and others spoke against it, and Sir E. Bulwer, the Solicitor General, and others in favor. The debate was adjourned till the 24th.

FRANCE.—The Moniteur of the 22d, contains the following:

"Russia has proposed the assembling of a Congress with a view to prevent complications to which the condition of Italy might give rise and which would naturally disturb the peace of Europe. The Congress is proposed to be constituted of plenipotentiaries from France, Austria, England, Prussia, and Russia and to be summoned to meet in some neutral town. The French Government has given its assent to the proposal of the Russian Cabinet.—The Cabinets of London, Vienna and Berlin, have not yet returned an official reply."

INDIA.—Details of Bombay News 25th Feb. Sepoys continued to surender, and were generally starving. The amnesty under latest instructions from Lord Canning had produced remarkable results.—7,000 surrendered in Bareilly alone.—4,000 in Buddon, and 1,700 in Shahjehanpore, Moradabad, and Bijnour. Precautions are taken to prevent the return of rebels into Oude.

☞ By the Canada, we have Liverpool dates to March 26. Austria had consented to the proposed European Congress to settle the affairs of Italy. England, France, Russia and Prussia had also consented, and the Congress would probably meet at Aix la Chapelle.

POST OFFICE DECISION.—Assistant Postmaster General King has decided that marking a paper with pen or pencil for the purpose of attracting the eye, does not subject it to letter postage. This is an important and satisfactory decision.

Very proper decision;—but what a boobby the man must be, who raised the question.

☞ Some workmen at St. Louis left a whisky bottle where a couple of little boys, about five years old, got to it and drank of the whisky, which gave one of them a ravenous appetite and he ran home to appease it. The other was stupefied, and died in spite of medical efforts to save his life.

☞ The Sickles Murder trial is fairly begun in Washington. And the government is proving what everybody knows, viz. that the killing was wilful and with malice aforethought.

☞ A man named Castner was drugged and robbed of some $2700 in money and other valuables, on Saturday night, at a house of ill-fame on Sixth street, Philadelphia.

ANOTHER EXPANSION.—A recent letter from Paris brings the alarming intelligence that, "the amplitude of the jupons and flounces of the fair sex have certainly increased, particularly for full dress."

☞ In the Supreme Court of Rhode Island, on Saturday last, thirty-two wives were divorced from their husbands, and seven husbands from their wives.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontitorum nos.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

☞ Reader, do you want the picture of thy day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME.—J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

R. R. Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators at night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys regular.
For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysms in a few minutes.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.
THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the very choice Hungarian, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.
It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the vehicle more as a dilutant of Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.
Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by the medical faculty in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., while the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.
Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounced Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."
It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.
For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

LOCAL.

☞On Saturday morning about 1 o'clk, fire broke out in the grocery of J. H. Wells, on Market st., and in less than 2 hours the whole block was entirely consumed.

The building was occupied by E. Green & Co., John H. Wells, M. M. Fisher & Co., and Lord & Folsom; the latter occupying the second and third stories. Also the dwelling house in the rear of the building, occupied by Messrs. Newbury and Wilson, was entirely destroyed—including the millinery shop on Hanover St., formerly occupied by Miss Huntoon.

The building was of brick, three stoires, and comprised three stores on the street; and was owned by A. T. Goodrich and others. Probably insured.

The wind was high, and cinders flew far and wide. Among others, an old barn on Atkinson street was slightly burned.—The storekeepers on Market street, many of them "packed up," but the fire was confined to the block where it originated.

This is our first fire for many months.

☞A boy named Whidden, living at the South End of this city, was at Sagamore Creek, Fast Day, carrying a pistol loaded with buck-shot. This another lad named Brown attempted to wrest from him; and in the scuffle which ensued, the weapon was discharged, while the Whidden boy's hand was on the muzzle. Two buckshot passed through his hand, inflicting a severe flesh wound only. He was brought to the city and his hand dressed, and he is doing well. He thinks he shan't have anything more to do with pistols.—The danger of both boys was certainly very great, in their fool-hardy play.

☞There is a lady living in Anthony street, who wishes to take the Daily Chronicle, ("take" it in the legitimate way, we mean, and pay for it,) but who is so pestered with borrowers that she has desired us to stop her paper, at least temporarily—for the second time, too, she having tried the same method before to put them off the track, but it seems without avail. Besides the meanness and dishonesty of chronic newspaper-borrowing generally, it would seem that in this particularly flagrant case, those neighbors who can't take such hints as these, ought to have an application of something more tangible.

If our aggrieved lady friend will give us a list of her tormentors, we will publish them when we do our list of derelict debtors.

☞Mr. T. G. Senter's Readings, at the Temple, Fast Evening, formed an agreeable entertainment to an audience respectable in numbers and character—and besides being successful, in a literary sense, probably netted a sum which will cheer many a heart, through the services of the City Mission.

☞An alarm of fire, which brought out some of the engines, on Fast afternoon, was caused by the burning of bushes at the North of the city.

FASHIONS.—It is a little queer how somebody manages to change the fashions every year. But we think that this spring the change in the ladies' garments is a decided improvement. Messrs. Allen & Paine have received from L. A. Godey, Esq., publisher of Godey's Ladies' Book, Philadelphia, some very handsome patterns, which they have already commenced to manufacture for their spring trade. We have no doubt but that all who may visit their store, will find themselves suited. It

SUNDAY SHOPS AND SPORTS.

An important pamphlet has been published by the New York Sabbath Committee, on the liquor traffic in New York city. It should be read by every Christian citizen, though it will give him the "horrors." The extent of the trade there is appalling.

It appears, from the official returns of the Police Department, that the whole number of dram-shops, lager-beer saloons, and places for the sale of intoxicating liquors is seven thousand seven hundred and seventy-nine, and they are rapidly increasing. Only seventy-two—or one in one hundred—are licensed! Estimating the whole number of families at one hundred and twenty thousand, this would give one dram-shop for each fifteen and a half families; while in some wards the ratio cannot be less than one for each eight or ten families.

It is stated, on the highest official authority, that at least two-thirds of these drinking places—or five thousand one hundred and eighty-six of the nearly eight thousand—carry on their traffic on Sunday; and that they are almost invariably kept by aliens or naturalized citizens.

If we estimate the average number of proprietors and attendants, who are deprived of their day of rest to pander to the debased appetites of their customers, at two for each dram-shop and saloon, (some of the larger employ a score or more,) it will make at least ten thousand persons, who are robbed of a precious right every recurring Sabbath.

It is believed that the low average of twenty visitors to each of these Sunday dram-shops and saloons—some of which count their customers by the thousands—would be quite safe; but this would give more than one hundred thousand patrons of a demoralizing business. And if we take five dollars as the average amount expended at each shop, (in many cases it is known to be hundreds,) it would give an aggregate of $25,930 wasted every Sunday, chiefly by the poor and laboring classes for the means of intoxicaton and ruin; or a total of $1,348,890 for the Sundays of the year!

The statement in one of our daily Journals (The Evening Post) on the authority of the proprietor of a lager-beer theater, that not less than fifty thousand glasses of beer had been sold at his establishment (amounting at five cents a glass to $2,500) on a single Sabbath, (Dec. 26, 1858,) though probably an exaggeration, would serve to show that the foregoing estimates are far within the truth.

But there are accessories to the Sunday Liquor Traffic only less injurious and offensive than its direct evils. It seems to gather round whatever is seductive and demoralizing. Without ocular demonstration, it would be difficult to credit the facts as to the variety and extent of the temptations to vice provided in the saloons, halls and theaters, opened and thronged every Sabbath of the year, in the very heart of our city. "The Bowery" abounds with them, and they are springing up with great rapidity in all parts of the city where our emigrants have planted themselves.

All the larger establishments have bands of music, which are a nuisance to the neighborhood; and most of them have theatrical performances, singing and dancing, both in the evening and afternoon of the Lord's Day. Hundreds of people, of both sexes, and all ages, crowd around narrow tables, on which liquors are served to all; and remain for hours drinking, smoking, and perhaps gambling, while low comedies or vulgar plays are acted.

More than one thousand persons were counted in each of four places on a single Sunday night. In one of them there were several billiard tables, a shooting-gallery, and an exhibition of pictures for pay; and besides these diversions, added to comedy and tragedy, there were four raffling places where "every throw wins;" a roulette-table and other modes of gambling, in full operation under the same roof at the same time, and that the time claimed for himself by the "Lord of the Sabbath!"

A fearful proportion of the frequenters of such places are mere lads, of the age and character figuring so sadly upon the records of our Police Court. Thus the Sunday sports of the worst cities of the continent of Europe are imported and foisted on our land, and with them the worst morals of the worst classes of the worst countries of the old world.

A NEW STYLE MACHINE,
PRICE $50.
This Machine makes the Lock Stitch, which is the only stitch that cannot be raveled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

The Wheeler & Wilson Mfg Co.
Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these SEWING MACHINES for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as WOMAN'S FRIEND.

Among their undoubted advantages are—
1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

THE GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE CO.,

NO. 18 SUMMER STREET, BOSTON,

Having greatly increased their facilities for manufacturing their

Celebrated Family Machines,

with all the recent improvements, have reduced their prices, and offer for sale

A NEW STYLE MACHINE,

PRICE $50:

Machines from $50 to $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

It is no longer questioned that these Machines are the best in use for family sewing. They

HEM, FELL, GATHER, AND STITCH

in the most superior manner, and are the only machines in the market that are so well and simply made,—that they may be sent into families with no other instructions than are contained in a circular which accompanies each machine, and from which

A CHILD OF TEN YEARS

may readily learn how to use them, and keep them in order. They make upwards of

FIFTEEN HUNDRED STITCHES A MINUTE,

and will do the sewing of a family cheaper than a seamstress can do it, even if she works at the rate of

ONE CENT AN HOUR!

Is there a husband, father, or brother in the United States, who will permit the drudgery of hand sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Independent, says: "Having had one of Grover & Baker's Machines in my family for nearly a year and half, I take pleasure in commending it as every way reliable for the purpose for which it is designed, Family Sewing."

Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate, says: "I confess myself highly delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."

Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of the Brooklyn Star, says: "After trying several different good machines, I preferred yours, on account of its simplicity, and the perfect ease with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience, I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."

Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, New York, says: "I have used a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine for two years, and find it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broadcloth. Garments have been worn out without the giving way of a stitch.—The Machine is easily kept in order, and easily used."

THE GREAT WONDER

Of The Nineteenth Century

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, ME., JAN. 20, 1856.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy; as it has been before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife is the age of fifty two, but is used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city, and a resident here for the last three years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am truly yours,

A. C. RAYMOND.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood: DEAR SIR: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved.

WM. DYER.

Brookfield, Jan 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—DEAR SIR: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

YOURS truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds ½ a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 30 per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and what is better prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all yellowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending it as a medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous diseases who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to any part of the country, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Medicines and directions will accompany every package, and the most invisible secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE REGULATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

for the accommodation of their customers, and others who may favor them with their patronage.
As the articles are too numerous to mention, save one item, viz: (White Shirts with Linen Bosoms are selling at 50 Cents apiece,) they present the following facts before the people.
1. We have sold, and intend to sell Clothing of our own manufacture, and Furnishing Goods cheaper than any establishment of the kind in this State.
2. Because they have been reared in said business from their infancy, and know how to buy; and aside from that they do buy their Stock in New York only of the importers who are related to them, and naturally favor them in bargains.
3. It is rumored that if we continue selling as cheap as we have done in the past, we must "slump," which can but result to the benefit of the buyer.
4. That we intended to move to Pulaski on account of our dissatisfaction with this place, we contradict; on the contrary, we are very grateful for past patronage, and hope for a continuance and increase of the same.
5. And lastly, Auerbach desired to visit his native land, which he has not seen for 15 years, but deferred it for reasons above stated.
☞ Please call and see whether all these facts are true or not.

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has not, and does not believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are hereby saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, APRIL 11, 1859.

THE SLAVE CASE in Philadelphia, in which one Daniel Webster, a colored man, though perhaps not of a darker hue than our Daniel, was claimed to be a fugitive, is decided in favor of the defendant. The case created much excitement. From the moment the man was brought into the city, says the Newburyport Herald, in which a quarter of a century ago a ball could be burned to the ground, because of an anti-slavery meeting in it, there appeared to be a settled determination that Daniel should not be delivered into slavery if such an act could be prevented; and if the decision had been against him, it does not appear what would have happened.

As soon as the trial commenced, the court room and every avenue leading hereto, were choked with the rushing crowd. Many women were in the room, and at the right hand of the prisoner was the celebrated Quaker lady, Locretia Mott, and among them Mrs. Longstreth, aunt of the Commissioner, and others belonging to his family.

After a full hearing, Commissioner Longstreth decided upon releasing Daniel; and while the decision was being rendered, says Forney's Press, "the court room presented one of the strangest scenes we ever beheld. There was not an inch of standing room, and the silence was so intense that a sigh might have been heard. When the Commissioner commenced, many sympathizing ladies who were expecting that Daniel would be sent to Virginia, were 'like Niobe, all tears.' Presently their eyes brightened as the Commissioner progressed, and when finally he ended by saying in a calm, pleasant way, 'the prisoner is discharged,' one wild storm of applause broke out. It was in vain the officers called or Marshal Yost screamed at the top of his voice. One weak old lady with a very strong voice ran to the window and called out,—'He's free! he's free! give three hearty cheers.'

Daniel was taken by some officers and put into a cab. The horses were taken out, a rope was tied to the carriage, and a crowd of colored people took hold and paraded him around the streets, as was done to Fanny Kimber many years ago. The enthusiasm was kept up till a late hour of the night—general joy was manifested among his friends at the unexpected result."

LUMBERING OUT WEST.—The Grand Rapids, Mich., Eagle advises lumbermen everywhere to "push their business to the utmost of their ability the coming season. The price of lumber in all the great marts has without doubt passed its lowest ebb. The past season has been an unfavorable one for getting in logs, and scarcely a single lumbering district in the whole country, East or West, has come near doing its usual amount of business. As a consequence, the markets will be less liberally supplied. The stocks on hand will rapidly disappear, and lumber will go up. We say with confidence that the future of the lumber business was never more inviting than now. The financial depression thro' which we have passed has not entirely stopped the improvement in the West, and the demand for lumber during the next five years will, we predict, exceed that of any previous five years of its history."

Lumber has advanced the past week, in the Chicago and Dubuque markets, $2 per M.

EXEMPLARY DAMAGES. — The Vermont Journal publishes a brief account of the trial at the Essex County Court, of William Hopkins for assault and battery. It appears that J. E. Hayward, while teaching school in Guildhall, punished Hopkins's daughter, by obliging her to occupy a lower seat in school. The teacher was invited to Hopkins's dwelling to board, and in the course of the evening he asked the teacher why he made his daughter occupy the lower seat. Stepping out of the room, he got a lower chair and asked him to occupy it, which he refused to do. Upon which Hopkins beat the teacher with a large oak whip-stock until he was unable to resist, and afterwards refused to let him go, but went before the grand jury and entered a complaint against himself, plead guilty, and was fined $1 and costs.

He probably thought this was the end of it, but it was not. Mr. Hayward brought a civil suit against him, the trial of which in the County Court occupied three days. On the evening of the third day the case was given to the jury, who returned a verdict for the plaintiff to recover $700 and costs.

EXECUTION. — At Baltimore, April 8, four criminals, Gambril, Cropps, Corrie and Cyphus, were hung, at 11 o'clock. Not less than thirty thousand people were crowded on the hill-tops, roofs of houses, and every point from which a view could be obtained. The gallows stood near the north wall of the jail, plainly visible from all the high ground and the streets in the vicinity.

No disturbance took place. All the criminals exhibited remarkable composure and nerve. Cropps led in singing a hymn, on the scaffold, in which all joined. Gambrill, in a loud, clear voice, avowed in solemn tones his innocence. Cyphus merely said, in a strong voice, "Good bye, all!" Corrie said nothing.

Cropps left the following note in the hands of the clergyman, with the request that it should not be opened until after his death: "It was me that shot Rigdon, but I have repented of it."

☞ In the Massachusetts Legislature, last week, through the active exertions of the House Committee appointed to investigate the State Liquor Agency matters, the order which originated in that branch was passed, authorizing the Joint Committee to sit during the recess, report to the special session, &c., &c. When this order reached the Senate, Mr. Norton of Middlesex rose and stated that he had carefully examined all the evidence that had been brought against the Commissioner and the Agency, and he could see no ground whatever for the course which certain parties had chosen in this matter, and he moved that the whole subject be referred to the next General Court, which motion was unanimously adopted by the Senate.

The order, thus amended, (virtually discharging the committee,) went back to the House, where it was at once concurred in, and the subject was so referred. The feeling was general that the Commissioner had not been fairly dealt with.

A HEARTLESS COQUETTE.—Dr. F. A. Noyes, a dentist of Boston, recently became fascinated by a widow of that city, who used her coquettish art to such advantage, that the Doctor was induced to ask her heart and hand in marriage. The widow said that she could not think of marriage, but should always esteem him as a friend. But she was not satisfied.—She re-opened correspondence, and flirted with her lover, and then, a second time, refused him. This overcame the reason of the deluded lover, and he became a raving maniac, and was conveyed to the McLean Asylum, where he died last week. The heartless coquette has played out her game to its sad end.

☞ A correspondent of the Boston Congregationalist, writing from the Sandwich Islands, respecting the missionary packet, "Morning Star," under date of Feb. 11, says, "The Morning Star is being repaired. She is hardly as bad as she was tho't to be." The editors of the Congregationalist say she was built in a yard where the timber was constantly exposed to the public gaze, and yet not a man can be found who saw rotten timber.

"The fact is, some vessels rot in two years, while some do not in twenty. It depends greatly upon the climate and the cargo, and the thoroughness and frequency of caulking."

☞ One of the editors of the Tribune has been visiting the United States Supreme Court at Washington, and says of the nine Judges he saw there, "eight of them looked for all the world like a row of worn-out nurses sitting in the 'intelligence office,' waiting to be hired."

This is almost as bad a picture of the Judiciary, as the N. H. Gazette draws of the Executive. But let these nice young men nurse the slave power till they are three score and ten, and they may look like old grannies, too.

MAINE ITEMS.—The Bangor Times reports that a lady left a town in that vicinity, recently, for Oregon, to marry a person there. They have not seen each other for eighteen years.

A young man named Alonzo Thompson committed suicide in Athens on the 16th ult., by shooting himself with a fowling piece. He had been married about five weeks. Some trouble between him and his mother had deranged his mind.

☞ A short time ago, we published a brief account of two minister's sons from Strong, Me., and a man from New Hampshire, starting on foot for Aroostook. The Pioneer chronicles their arrival, in fine health and spirits. The New Hampshire boy has settled in Letter C, and his two companions have found work on a hotel now building at Presque Isle.

For the Weekly Chronicle.

TROUBLE CAUSED BY THE LIQUOR DEALER, COMING UPON HIMSELF.—A man living in D. drank spirits, opposed the Temperance Reform, and taught his sons to do just as he did in the matter. Two of his sons became liquor dealers. One lived near him, kept a bad place, and the father, it was believed, got a portion of his liquor, of which he drank to great excess, of the son. By the sale in that place, the streams of woe and misery were made to flow to many families. But the traffic there was finally broken up, mainly by the force of the law.

A few years passed,—the son had the father to look after, and to some extent provide for. There was liquor sold not far off, and there the father would go and get intoxicated. The son had to go there and help him home in the dark, cold nights of winter. Sometimes the father would fight when efforts were made to get him to leave the rum-seller's den, and once the son pitched him into the carriage and then horsewhipped him. So the son who had made families miserable by the traffic, had the same brought into his own,—so true is it that he that diggeth a pit shall fall therein; and the violent dealing of one towards others, shall come down upon his own pate. RURAL TEMPERANCE.

☞ A letter from Hong Kong to the New York Journal of Commerce says:

There is a great amount of idle shipping in the Chinese ports, some waiting for better times, and others going home in ballast. American vessels, whether merchantmen or men-of-war, are much admired in China; not by the Chinese only, but by all nations which excel in naval architecture, and are capable of appreciating it. They only object that they are constructed so large and move so quick that the world cannot produce enough to fill them.

☞ Rev. Horace N. Bushnell recently resigned his charge at Hartford, on account of ill health. He has been settled over the North Congregational Church for 25 years. His parishioners refused to accept his resignation, granted him five years' leave of absence, and elected Rev. C. D. Helmer to supply the pulpit.

☞ Dr. Louis Szapesk, formerly of Prussia, and who came to this country in company with Kossuth, was found dead in his bed, at his residence, New York city. Cause, apoplexy. The deceased was forty-three years old, and leaves a wife and family. For two or three years past he has kept a drug store.

JAMAICA.—Serious riots had taken place among the toll-gate laborers at Savannah la Mar, who attempted to pull down the Court House and toll gates. Three hundred troops were sent from the city to the scene of disturbance, and, the ringleaders being arrested, peace was restored.

DIVISION OF CALIFORNIA.—We find in the Alta California of March 7 that a bill has been introduced into the Senate of that State, proposing to set off that portion of the State lying south of the 36th degree of latitude as separate territory. This movement is designed to obtain a new State from the Southern section, united with Arizona, into a new State. It is an ambitious design, on the part of a set of uneasy politicians, who, upon several occasions heretofore have manifested a desire to create a new slave State. We look upon it as a part of the grand Southern scheme which is now in progress of development, and of which the country is yet to know more than it does at present—the erection of a Southern Republic. We do not believe that anything will come of the present movement, but still it is one of the significant signs of the times.—Atlas.

FATAL AFFRAY IN GLOUCESTER.—A fight took place in the Empire Saloon in Gloucester, on Thursday night last, in the course of which the bar-keeper of the place, Benj. F. Brougham, was severely beaten by a party of drunken Irishmen, from the effect of which he died the day following. The citizens turned out for the purpose of lynching the rascals, but they could not be found. The reason of their attacking Mr. Brougham was that he refused to let them have any liquor, they being already quite drunk.—Atlas.

PRESBYTERIAN GENERAL ASSEMBLY.—The General Assembly, O. S., of the Presbyterian Church of the United States convenes at Indianapolis on the 19th of May next. A very large attendance is anticipated.

☞ At the last meeting of the Newburyport city government, an order was passed that all dealers in intoxicating liquors be notified that unless their stores are closed by the first of May, their liquors will be seized.

A friend wishes to know if we are opposed to African slavery. As we have no concealments on this subject, we need only say, that we are not half so much opposed to that kind of slavery as we are to the self-imposed slavery of white people, under which they dare not say their souls are their own.—Bath Times.

POUDRETTE AND GUANO.

J. F. SHORES, JR., No. 1 CONGRESS BLOCK, Is now prepared to supply all demands for the

Lodi Manuf'g Co's Poudrette,

To those who have used the article in former years, it can only be said that it is full as good, if not a little better than it has been. To those who have not used it, we would say "try it,"—in almost every place where it is used, the universal decision is, "it is the best thing we ever saw to give an early start to the crops." Read the following extract from a letter from J. E. Goodwin, Esq., of West Milton, N. H., dated July 24th, 1858:

"Its value as a fertiliser, in this vicinity, has been proved; and with the most satisfactory results. I planted potatoes May 1st, without, and about May 20th with Poudrette, (same variety) and the latter is now (July 24th) quite as large and apparently nearer ripe than the former."—* * * In every instance that has come to my knowledge, where it has been used, it has given full satisfaction."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at

in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontiorumenos.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

☞ Reader, do you want THE picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME.—J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

R. R. R.

POISONOUS INOCULATION.—Persons who, by accident or otherwise, become inoculated with any malignant disorder, will find the R. R. R. Remedies prompt, quick and efficient. Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or inoculated through indiscretion or accident.—We have hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe tortures for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators at night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys clear.

For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysms in a few minutes.

R. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton Street, New York.

N. B.—For Scrofula, Syphilis, Female Complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

Health and Strength secured by the use of
THE SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE,
Dr. Langley's Root & Herb Bitters.

Composed of Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Yellow Dock, Prickly Ash, Thoroughwort, Rhubarb, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., all of which are so compounded as to act in concert, and assist Nature in eradicating disease. The effect of this medicine is most wonderful—it acts directly upon the bowels and blood, by removing all obstructions from the internal organs, stimulating them into healthy action, renovating the fountains of life, purifying the blood, cleansing it from all humors, and causing it to course new through every part of the body; restoring the invalid to health and usefulness. They cure and eradicate from the system, Liver Complaint, that main wheel of so many diseases; Jaundice in its worst forms, all Bilious diseases and Foul Stomach, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, all kinds of Humors, Indigestion, Headache, Dizziness, Piles, Heartburn, Weakness, Pains in the Side and Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, and in a torpid or diseased Liver, a disordered Stomach, or bad Blood, to which all are more or less subject in Spring and Summer.

More than 1,000,000 persons have been cured by this medicine. It is highly recommended by Physicians everywhere. Try it, and you will never regret it.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid character, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRANGURY, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHERS is genuine.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. N. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 51 Blackstone st.; E. LOCAL.

☞ The origin of the destructive fire in Market Street, Friday evening, is unknown. The city watchmen saw the light first, in the southern furniture chamber of Lord & Folsom, and gave the alarm.—Messrs. Lord & Folsom state that the only fire in their establishment for the day, was of coal,—that there was no fire there after dinner, and their premises were closed for the night, before 7. How fire could break out after 1 o'clock, without being set, is indeed a mystery—as is the cause of many serious fires. The loss of these enterprising and worthy young men is severe—on their stock of about $3,000, a considerable portion of which was purchased last week, and almost all of which was burned, their insurance was but $1000.

Messrs. W. H. & A. T. Goodrich have $3000 insurance on the building, which sum won't replace them. J. H. Wells had $600 insured on his grocery stock, which he sets at $1500 to $1800, and was a total loss. E. Green & Co. had $2000 on their clothing, which they state at nearly $4000, and considerable of which was saved. Fisher & Co.'s brewery store was in the wooden building next south, occupied by Colcord's cabinet shop—which building belongs to the Ladd estate. This was considerably damaged, as was the store of Rowe & Stokell, on the opposite corner of Hanover street. All insured. Mr. C. J. Colcord's loss was several hundred dollars. The apparent danger of a much more extensive conflagration, was great at one time, but the character of the buildings near, and the efficiency of the Fire Department, happily prevented.

FREIGHT FROM PORTSMOUTH TO MANCHESTER.—The Manchester American of April 8 says:—

A delegation of business men from this city have gone to Portsmouth to-day to confer with ship-owners and citizens in regard to obtaining heavy articles of consumption by way of Portsmouth. If the Candia branch were built, the distance to Portsmouth would be less than to Boston. All such heavy articles as coal, lime, salt, molasses, sugar and cotton could be landed at Portsmouth at the same cost as at Boston. Storage and wharf expenses would be far less, and a liberal arrangement could be made for transportation to this city so as make the expense of freight a handsome per cent less than from Boston.

This is not a speculative, but a practical idea—one that will be realized so soon as we have a railroad connexion with the Portsmouth road by the building of the branch to Candia. New Hampshire interests as well as those of this city require that it should be built.

☞ Hon. A. C. Barstow, of Providence, R. I., is to deliver an Address before the Portsmouth Young Men's Christian Association, at the Temple, on Wednesday evening, at half-past 7. This is the second of the series of lectures to be given before this society—Rev. Dr. Lamson having opened the course at the Middle street church on Sunday evening. Mr. Barstow has appeared before similar Associations in Providence, Boston, and elsewhere, with good success. His theme is, "Law in its relations to virtue."

Messrs. Editors:—Could you inform many who are interested, how many of those Capes & Raglans are manufactured and sold at the establishment of the Boys who advertise so largely every day in the Chronicle?

Also who Boils those Black Silks?

JUNIOR.

We will make inquiries and answer "Junior" to-morrow.

PORTSMOUTH, April 9, 1859.

At a meeting of the HOOK & LADDER CO. NO. ONE, holden this morning, on their return from the fire, corner o, Market and Hanover Streets, it was Voted, That the thanks of this Company be presented to Capt. C. Frank Plumer, for the liberal and bounteous supply of refreshments furnished them on that occasion. JOSEPH C. WALKER, Clerk.

THANKS.—The subscriber tenders his most sincere and hearty thanks to the Fire Department, his friends, neighbors, and fellow citizens generally, who rendered such prompt and effectual service in preserving his goods from destruction by the fire of Friday night last. C. J. COLCORD.

April 11th.

A CARD.—The subscriber would return his sincere and grateful thanks to the Engine and Ladder Companies for their prompt and energetic exertions in saving his house from fire on Saturday morning.

JOHN W. FERNALD.

A CARD.

The CITY HOSE COMPANY No. 1, would not forget to return their most sincere thanks to Mr. John H. Slater, for timely refreshments last Saturday night. ADAMS FERRY, CLERK.

☞ The defence of Sickles began on Saturday, in Washington.

☞ On Saturday evening, as two gentlemen were walking on the highway in Kittery, between Portsmouth Bridge and the Navy Yard, they were followed by two marines who had been drinking, and who trod on the heels of the gentlemen and offered other insults.

One of the gentlemen turned and remonstrated with them, when a marine suddenly stabbed the other gentleman, Mr. Tatem, (sailmaker of the Navy Yard,) inflicting a severe and painful wound which at first appeared to be dangerous, but now, after proper surgical aid, the patient is apparently doing well.

Such a marine will hardly be out on liberty again, very soon.

☞ In the Police Court, Saturday morning, Wm. H. Mills was brought up on complaint of E. Green & Co., charged with breaking a window and stealing clothing from their store, at the time of the fire, Friday night. Justice Odell bound him over in $400, for trial at the next term of Court.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE.—At first I thought she was a nun, from her black dress and close cap. She was not introduced, yet Edmund and I looked at each other at the same moment to whisper, "It is Miss Nightingale!" Yes, it was Florence Nightingale, greatest of all now in name and honor among women. I assure you that I was glad not to be obliged to speak just then, for I felt quite dumb as I looked at her wasted figure, and the short brown hair combed over her forehead like a child's, cut so when her life was despaired of from fever but a short time ago. Her dress, as I have said, was black, made high in the throat, its only ornament being a large enameled brooch, which looked to me like the colors of a regiment surmounted with a wreath of laurel, no doubt some grateful offering from our men. To hide the close white cap a little, she had tied a white crape hankerchief over the back of it, only allowing the lace to be seen; and this gave a nun-like appearance, which first struck me on her entering the room, otherwise Miss Nightingale is by no means striking in appearance. Only her plain black dress, quiet manner and great renown, told so powerful altogether in that assembly of brilliant dresses and uniform. She is very slight, rather above the middle height; her face is long and thin, but this may be from recent illness and great fatigue. She has a very prominent nose, slightly Roman, and small dark eyes, kind, yet penetrating; but the face does not give you at all the idea of great talent. She looks a quiet, persevering, orderly, lady-like woman.—I have done my best to give you a true pen-and-ink portrait of this celebrated lady. I suppose there is a hum all over the world of 'What is she like?'—Sketches by Mrs. Hornby.

DECREASED LIQUOR SALES IN VERMONT.—We find an interesting article in the Vermont Chronicle, taken from another Vermont paper, showing the difference between the sale of intoxicating liquors in Addison county thirty years ago and the present time. According to an investigation made in 1828, there were annually sold in eleven towns of the county $97,500 worth of liquor to be used as a beverage; but since the Maine Law went into operation the sales have averaged only $9,380 worth. The writer goes on to say:—

But if the eleven towns named, out of 23, in the county, sold in 1828 by their merchants, 65,000 gallons (costing as above, $97,500,) we may conclude that the committee of investigation are quite within bounds, when Dr. Merrill sums up in these words: 'Rev. Mr. Hopkins of New Haven, Elder Merriam of Bridgport, and myself, who examined the documents at the time, concluded that Addison county drank, in one year, ending May, 1829, One Hundred Thousand gallons of (ardent) spirits of various kinds, 3125 barrels.—Those 100,000 gallons, we assume, were sold to customers for $150,000. We thus assume that the alcohol sold by druggists, the wine, porter, strong beer and cider, would raise the aggregate to $200,000, and give for every man, woman and child eight dollars worth of intoxicating drinks!'

At this rate the people of Vermont must have expended before the reformation began, more than $2,000,000 annually in intoxicating drinks, while now they pay for the same purpose only $100,000 a year!

NEW ORLEANS, April 7.—The Levee Press fire yesterday was in the poorest part of the city. The houses were small, and the loss amounts to but $850,000.

To-day, at noon, Hale's warehouse, half a square in extent, on Fulton street, with a large quantity of bagging, gunnies, rope, and Western produce, with eight partially occupied stores adjoining, were destroyed by fire. The loss is about $200,000.

☞ Mr. Edward H. Delano, Naval Constructor, died at his residence in Charlestown, Mass., on Saturday morning.

The Wheeler & Wilson

Medal Family Sewing Machine.

A NEW STYLE MACHINE,

PRICE $50.

This Machine makes the Lock Stitch, which is the only stitch that cannot be raveled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

The Wheeler & Wilson Mfg Co.

Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these SEWING MACHINES for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as WOMAN'S FRIEND.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

From the N. H. Gazette.

A Word with the Union Democrat.

A week or two ago we gave some expression to our opinion of James Buchanan as a party man, alluding briefly to a few of the party infidelities of which he has been guilty, and we suggested that we should resume the subject, and review his official acts and recommendations at some length, with a view to ascertain with what degree of wisdom and faithfulness he has discharged the duties of his high office, independent of party considerations. Our introductory article is criticised and commented upon by the Union Democrat in an article from which we make some extracts.

It commences thus:

KEEP YOUR POWDER DRY!—Our excellent friend of the Portsmouth Gazette commenced, last week, a series of articles upon the administration, in which he proposes to "review its history, and give expression to an independent and impartial opinion of its character." If the article before us is a "specimen brick," we can think of a great many reasons why the supply from that source, should be very limited.

Our readers are aware that we have sustained the general policy of the administration. We may perhaps claim to have done this honestly; for we have only defended as administration measures, views to which we were committed before. We do not recognize any obligation resting upon us to follow an administration one inch in the wrong—and we won't do it when a principle is involved; at the same time, we feel it to be a party duty, of far more consequence to the party then it can be to the President, to sustain him so far as we conscientiously can, and generously to forbear, in regard to the non-essential details of his administration.

We entertain high respect for the political opinions of the editor of the Union Democrat, for we know him to possess both integrity and ability, and we have never had any doubt that he conscientiously believed it his duty to defend Lecomptonism, not because it was an Administration measure, but because it was, in his judgment, founded upon the principles of law and justice. But in company with the great majority of the Democrats of this, and we think of every other Northern State, we have never been, and probably never shall be able to regard Buchanan's action in that matter as any thing else than a gross attempt to force a State into the Union with a bastard Constitution abhorrent to nine-tenths of her people, and a most ignoble prostration of the Administration at the feet of the blatant, fire-eating autocrats of Mississippi and Georgia. Believing this sacrifice of principle, this violation of party faith, this palpable truckling to sectionalism, to be wrong, cowardly wrong, we "did not recognize any obligation resting upon us to follow an administration one inch" in that direction—and, believing that a great principle is involved, we are still determined that "we won't do it."

Our friend of the Gazette thinks the appointments of this administration are dictated by a sentiment of hostility to the last. In regard to this, we have only to say that a very large number of the appointees of Gen. Pierce are still retained by re appointment.

We never found any fault with the rotation policy. Four years are, as a general rule, long enough for a man to hold a federal office, unless it be one of the very few offices where the special capacity or experience of the incumbent is of any value to the public. But we doubt the policy inaugurated by Mr. Buchanan, of discriminating against the hard-working and efficient office-holders in favor of the political drones and malcontents who during the past administration were a nuisance to the Democratic party. Full enough of Gen. Pierce's appointees have been retained by the present administration, but who are they? So far as our knowledge goes, and we thoroughly know most of them in this State, they are the "sleepy Davids," the servile sycophants, in other words, the mistakes of the past administration, with a few honorable exceptions, inclusive of the postmasters of Concord, Manchester, Nashua and some less lucrative offices, where the popularity of the Pierce appointees was so great that no other applicants could get a baker's dozen to lend them their names and influence. If any credit is due to Mr. Buchanan for such necessitated deference to the will of the party, we are willing it should be accorded.

The President is hostile to Douglas, also; very likely; but our friend will recur to the first few months of this administration, he will see that the President was far more ready to oblige than to affront the distinguished Illinoisian in the matter of appointments, and only snubbed him at last, as an act of self preservation and self-respect.

Now it is not of the President's personal hostility to Douglas that we complain. Mr. Buchanan's history exhibits him as a very fair spoken, Oily Gammon sort of a man, but it also proves him, under the disguise of his smooth accents, to be capable of harboring the bitterest prejudices, and the most malignant hatred. But that's a matter of no great concern—we took him for better or worse, so far as his physical and minor moral characteristics are concerned, and if he had continued faithful to our bed (platform) no chance of divorce would be offered. Buchanan has an individual right to "hate Douglas" or Pierce, or Wise, or a hundred other prominent Democrats, but we deny that he has any right to prostitute his position as the legitimate head of the Democratic party, to the "snubbing" of such men, and all their numerous personal and political friends. We are confident his "self-preservation and self-respect" (if he has any of that last named article left) would be better served by a different policy.

For another reason we will be obliged to our friend if he will re-consider. Two classes of men technically known as "Buchanan Democrats" and "Douglas Democrats" have just made, shoulder to shoulder, one of the most gallant political campaigns ever prosecuted in this State.

"Shoulder to shoulder," did they? We are glad to hear it. We were round some during the past campaign, kept our eyes and ears open to all good news, and never once mistrusted that any considerable portion of men "technically known as Buchanan Democrats," (more commonly and appropriately styled "Cow Boys") took a very lively interest in the campaign, except to appear at the several conventions as substitute delegates, and introduce resolutions extremely laudatory of James Buchanan, to be kicked out in almost every instance. If, however, the editor of the Union Democrat counts himself in the little ring of "Buchanan Democrats," we certainly make an exception in his favor; for, unlike his associates, he did not go about denouncing the action of the State Convention, declaring, before the election, in railroad cars and at the street corners, that the Democratic party did not stand the ghost of a chance of success; he did not bet his money against us, did not refuse to aid us on the ground, assumed by some of the Cow Boys in this neighborhood, that a Democratic triumph in this State would be an administration rebuke; on the contrary, he did everything that lay in his power (and that was no little) to aid in redeeming the State—the result in Manchester and the towns in that vicinity proved the value of his services.

We are willing to vindicate in detail every prominent measure of this administration, except the Pacific Railroad.

Then go the whole hog, Bro. Campbell! For Buchanan surely isn't to blame for his course upon that measure which you would make an exception in your vindication. The Pacific Railroad is down in the Cincinnati platform, and if Buchanan had been as faithful to every other plank as to that, his administration would have been a vastly more popular one. But will you vindicate the "armed interference" of the Executive against the Democracy of Illinois? Will you vindicate the imbecilities, absurdities, extravagances and corruptions that have characterized the administration's management of the Utah business? Do you approve the Presidential recommendation of a general bankrupt law for banks? Will you vindicate, upon Democratic principles, the issuing of treasury notes, and the proposed resort to treasury "certificates," reviving in its worst form, with the least possible check or restraint, the old federal doctrine of paper supremacy over gold? Will you vindicate Mr. Buchanan's protective policy for the benefit of the Ironmongers and coal-diggers of Pennsylvania at the expense of every other industrial interest? You are in favor of the acquisition of Cuba,—will you vindicate the President's scud-I'm-after-you thirty million bill, by which the Cuban annexation project is blown to the world, and postponed at least till Spain forgets and forgives the great public insult done her?

We have suggested a few of many things which it would afford us much pleasure to see vindicated, but which we fear never will be.

No, no, brother—keep cool. We regard Mr. Buchanan as an honest, firm and true man. Possibly you do not; but to whatever extent you diminish the confidence of a party in its President, to that extent you lessen its bond of union and consequently decrease its strength.

We are cool—cool as a cucumber; and we also regard Mr. Buchanan as "honest" (in the sense that he would not cheat in weight or measure); "firm," to a degree amounting to obstinacy—in his indifference to the wishes and interests of the Northern Democracy, and "true"—to the federal instincts and instructions of his earlier years—the old gentleman having arrived at that period of life when the impressions received in youth and the principles then formed, though long forgotten or discarded, return with all their original freshness and recover their former supremacy; or, in other words, Mr. Buchanan, like most other men of his great age, has approached the patriarchal destiny, "once a man and twice a child."

We are quite sure that the "confidence of the Democratic party in its President" has got to a point where it is incapable of diminishing. It is clean gone forever. The "setting sun" will disappear, long before it reaches the horizon, in the dark bank of clouds which its own folly has raised. The administration which succeeds it may profit by the history of the past, and be thus enabled to shun the rocks upon which Buchanan stranded the Democratic ship. Give us the right man at the helm, and at the flood tide of 1860 we'll put the old craft afloat again, repair her damage, re-man her with her veteran crew, nail to the mast her broad pennant inscribed with the glorious motto, STATE RIGHTS AND POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY, and bearing down upon the low, black, piratical schooner of abolitionism, sink the disunion craft with one tremendous broadside!

"NEW" DEMOCRATIC POLICY.—Senator Fitch, of Indiana, at the late session of Congress, introduced a bill calculated to build up the iron interests of Pennsylvania at the expense of the commercial and agricultural interests of the rest of the country, which seems to meet with immense favor from the papers of the Keystone State. The Pennsylvanian, the personal organ of the President, says:

"In view of these figures, estimates, and reports, may we be permitted to ask if the Pennsylvania iron men will not unite in an effort to secure the adoption of this new Democratic policy of protection?"

This new Democratic policy has nothing new about it except the immense impudence which prompts men professing Democracy, to attempt to resurrect an ancient and long-buried federalistic idea, and fasten it on the Democratic creed.—Toledo Herald.

WORK AT THE NAVY YARD.—A telegram from Washington states that orders have been issued to prepare for sea the sloop-of-war Portsmouth, and the new steamer Mohican, both now at the Portsmouth navy yard. The Portsmouth has been recently thoroughly repaired, and can be prepared to receive her armament and stores in a very short time. The machinery of the Mohican has not yet been received from the shop of the contractors.

Mr. Long's next and last lecture but one will be on Tuesday evening next, April 12, on the Philosophy of Color in Nature, Dress and Art.

THE BOSTON POST OFFICE.—Col., Schouler telegraphs that the Post Office matter was definitely settled in favor of the State street location.

The pear most talked of now-a-days, is the Sickles pair. The bush, however, is sadly wanting.—N. Y. Evening Post.

TESTIMONIALS.

Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Independent, says: "Having had one of Grover & Baker's Machines in my family for nearly a year and half, I take pleasure in commending it as every way reliable for the purpose for which it is designed, Family Sewing."

Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate, says: "I confess myself highly delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."

Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of the Brooklyn Star, says: "After trying several different good machines, I preferred yours, on account of its simplicity, and the perfect ease with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience, I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."

Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, New York, says: "I have used a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine for two years, and find it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broadcloth. Garments have been worn out without the giving way of a stitch.—The Machine is easily kept in order, and easily used."

THE GREAT WONDER

Of The Nineteenth Century

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Illinois, which appears glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. It certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, ME., Jan. 20, 1856.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy; it has been before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above, by any name you chose, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours, C. C. RAYMOND.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FOSTER JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved. WM. DYER.

Brookfield, Jan 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—DEAR SIR:—Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching, with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

One dose often repeated is a sure cure for Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever and all Fevers of a Bilious type. It operates with certainty, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

All who use it are giving their unanimous testimony in its favor.

Mix water in the mouth with the Invigorator, and swallow both together.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious imposition of certain dangerous medicines who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most invisable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and nearly all three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 18 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in either country for their efficacy in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious pill under various spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders, who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—18 Howard street, Boston.

SPRING AND SUMMER CLOTHING,

for the accommodation of their customers, and others who may favor them with their patronage.

As the articles are too numerous to mention, save one item, viz: (White Shirts with Linen Bosoms are selling at 50 Cents apiece,) they present the following facts before the people.

1. We have sold, and intend to sell Clothing of our own manufacture, and Furnishing Goods cheaper than any establishment of the kind in this State.

2. Because they have been reared in said business from their infancy, and know how to buy; and aside from that they do buy their Stock in New York only of the importers who are related to them, and naturally favor them in bargains.

3. It is rumored that if we continue selling as cheap as we have done in the past, we must "slump," which can but result to the benefit of the buyer.

4. That we intended to move to Pulaski on account of our dissatisfaction with this place, we contradict; on the contrary, we are very grateful for past patronage, and hope for a continuance and increase of the same.

5. And lastly Auerbach desired to visit his native land, which he has not seen for 13 years, but deferred it for reasons above stated.

☞ Please call and see whether all these facts are true or not.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, February 3, 1858.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, APRIL 12, 1859.

The Port Gibson (Miss.) Reveille gives the following notice of the death of Sarah Holly, of that place: "The widow of Christopher Holly, a free woman of color, was buried yesterday. She died, owning a thousand acres of good land and thirty negroes. Her husband lived near town many years, and was esteemed as a gentleman. Holly and his wife were as black as any of their slaves, and always conducted themselves well."

It seems then, that in the blackest of all the States, one negro as black as his slaves, is not only a man, but a gentleman; and whether he has any rights or not, he had the power to hold slaves, and did so.—And yet how often have we heard the stupid plea, the negroes could not take care of themselves if they were free!

Holly and his wife took care of themselves and of thirty more as black as they were. If the highest attribute of American Citizens be to hold slaves, why were they not equal to any?

From Mexico. — Advices of April 1st are received from Vera Cruz. Miramon, with an advanced guard, appeared before Vera Cruz March 18, reconnoitred and retired. His main army was encamped within nine miles of the city. The women and children of Vera Cruz had been transferred to ships in the harbor.

Miramon subsequently sent twelve hundred men against Alvarado, who retired without waiting an attack. Miramon broke up his camp on the 27th, and commenced a retreat towards the capital.

Degallado was at Tacubaya with four thousand troops. The capital was surrounded by Liberal forces, and was expected to surrender soon. Mr. McLane, the American minister, arrived at Vera Cruz on the 1st of April.

☞ Mormonism is said to be growing weaker in Utah, since the establishment of a civil government there. The poor dupes who endured tyranny of Brigham Young are having their eyes opened, and some of them their lips also. Brigham keeps much secluded, as some think, through fear of personal danger. It is thought that another emigration will soon be had, of all who are willing to follow the lead of Young and his elders; and agents are now abroad to look after a locality in some Mexican or Central American provinces. Brigham in a late epistle intimates that many are falling from the faith. He says that "as soon as a man who never owned a cow, or a pig, or any living animal, gets there, and begins to rise in regard to property, he forgets God and all that has been done for him, and from henceforth he is not satisfied until he goes back unto the hell from whence he came." He thinks it is better for such to remain in the world than to go there and apostatize, and finally go to hell.

Odd Paragraphs from the Traveller. The Webster statue (so called) is to be placed in the public grounds. If it should be missed towards autumn, let it be sought in the nearest cornfield, where the crows have been uncommonly active.

The success of the Republicans in St. Louis, by an enormous plurality, is very strong evidence that Mr. Blair was chosen there to Congress, and will furnish the opposition majority in the next House of Representatives with an additional reason for giving him the seat he claims. If he was not chosen, what has caused so great a change in that city in eight months?

Bedlam is loose again, and Russ has been called to rendezvous at Vicksburg, on the 9th of May, under the name of the Southern Commercial Convention. There will be an indefinite amount of gabbling about the slave trade's revival, and disunionism enough will be talked to make the fortune of a Northern officeholder, if he could only palm it upon some Republican convention.

☞ The Baltimore and Ohio road begins on Monday to ticket passengers between New York, Boston and all the western cities, for one dollar less than other lines, the Baltimore road adhering to a moderate speed of twenty-six miles per hour, average running time between New York and Cincinnati, while the New York lines have quickened to a much higher speed than ever before.

☞ The Republicans of Wheeling, Virginia, have addressed a memorial to the Republican National Committee, urging the selection of Wheeling as the place for holding the next Presidential Nominating Convention.

☞ A correspondent of the Scientific American makes the following prophesy:

"The first half of April will be wet, the last half fair; the first week in May will be wet, the balance, fair; the first half of June will be fair, the last half changeable; July will begin and end with a few days of changeable weather, leaving the middle of the month dry; August will have a great many wet days; September will set in fair, but the balance of the month will be changeable, the last part being wettest; October changeable, gradually increasing in wetness; November, like the preceeding, only commencing fairer and ending wetter; December fair weather." On this, we are told we may rely, with the exception of September, where there has "to be added the extra stormy weather caused by the sun crossing the line." This truly depends on the prevailing winds at the time; if the winds be southerly, the month will be wet; if northerly it will be as dry as if the sun were at his extreme distance from the line.

☞ The Traveller says:—

We meant to have had a grumble this week about the number of articles that are stolen from our columns, and with particular reference to one which the New York Evening Post credited to the thief; but we have concluded not to growl, for this reason, which is not a very bad one: some one stole an "item" from our last Review, whereupon one of our associates borrowed it from the thief, and placed it in our "Various Items." We concluded, after a sort of Irish fashion, not to say anything about it, except this, that we have noted twenty-six distinct cases of the thefts we meant to grumble of, in the last ten days, and we do not think the practice of stealing is precisely an honest one.

Hayti.—Accounts from Port au Prince to the 21st ult. state that the government fifth of coffee was sold at auction in the city, and not exported as heretofore. Two merchants were the purchasers, who agreed to remit the price to France in payment of the loan of 800,000 francs contracted on the 10th of January last.

President Geffrard, who was more popular than ever, devoted much attention to public education, police, and other reforms.

Ex-Minister Solomon had arrived in Jamaica.

During the carnival masks of all the exroyal family were seen, but one who personated Soulouque was stabbed by an imperialist.—Traveller.

Arrest for Arson and Murder.—Bangor, April 10.—Marshall Potter was arrested on Saturday, at St. Stoppens, N. B., by officer Bean, of Lee. He is charged with causing the death of his mother, two brothers and nephew, on Tuesday morning last, at Lee, and robbing the house of $150. It will be recollected that he was the only one that escaped when the house was burned. He was fully dressed, and his two brothers, who slept in the same room, were burned, as also were his mother and nephew. He left immediately after the fire, changed his clothes at Carroll, and succeed in reaching New Brunswick before he was arrested. His clothes were bloody, and the money earned by his two brothers during the winter was seen in his possession.

P. Wall, Esq., of this city, was seriously injured on Saturday evening by a gang of ruffians, who attacked him with slung shot and stones.

An Unexpected Fortune. — Several years since, Jose Martinez, "the son of poor but honest parents," left his native city, Buenos Ayres, and came to Boston to seek his fortune. Not finding the article sought for, he bound himself an apprentice to learn the art of sailmaking, and soon became a good workman, making friends at the same time of all with whom he had acquaintance. Thus he worked along cheerfully several years, earning a good living. A few weeks since he received a letter from Buenos Ayres, informing him that a rich relative had bequeathed to him money and estates worth two or three hundred thousand dollars, and urging his immediate return.—Prompt to the call of duty—what an agreeable duty—he sailed in the barque Emily Wilder, for Buenos Ayres.—Trav.

Baltimore, April 10.—The funeral of Gambil, who was hung on Friday for the murder of officer Benton, took place from his father's residence this afternoon. There was an immense turnout of his friends and associates, including many notorious characters. The line of hacks extended over half a mile. It is worthy of remark that Richard Harris, the party charged before the execution of the decease with being the real murderer of Mr. Benton, and by Gambil himself in his so-called dying declaration, was at the family residence this afternoon, and prominent among the mourners at the funeral.

Generosity.—When Rev. Dr. Schauffler was in London, on his return from this country to his missionary labors at Constantinople, he mentioned to an American gentleman his desire to have several books printed, for the purpose of introducing the English language into Turkey. The gentleman inquired what they would cost. When the sum of £1,000 or about $5,000, was mentioned, he told the gratified missionary to trouble no one else about the money, as he would take the responsibility upon himself.

☞ The Board (Democratic) of Education of Newark, N. J., have voted not to grant to the colored population the same privileges and benefits in the public schools that the whites enjoy.

☞ Baltimore is enjoying almost unprecedented quiet, owing to suppression of rowdyism in the fire department, the enforcement of the Sunday liquor law, the conviction of offenders, and the activity of the Christian associations among the depraved classes.

Washington Items. — As an inducement for the Post Office contractors to continue the transportation of the mails, the President has agreed to recommend the payment of interest on the suspended claims.

Lord Lyons the new British Minister, called at the State Department to-day.

The weekly statement of the Treasury shows a nett balance of $5,566,000.

☞ Porter's Spirit denounces Circuses in the severest terms—and says it is only by the most inhuman tortures that children or animals are ever trained to the performances that so delight humane but ignorant audiences.

Mortality at Sea.—New York, April 10.—The bark Roebuck, at this port from Rio Janeiro, lost three men on the voyage by yellow fever, viz: Edward Sivley, and Francis Selkirk, of New York, and Cyrus L. Nevis of New Haven. Capt. Simmons had the fever, but recovered, as did two other men. The fever disappeared from the vessel March 21, the day after she crossed the equator. Thos. E. Lounsure, New York, seaman, died of erysipelas, March 30.

☞ Quite a wordy war is going on between some New York and Western papers respecting the comparative merits of the Honey Blade Hungarian Grass Seed, and German Millet.

Sandwich, Mass., April 10.—A fire commenced on Saturday noon, in the Marshpee woods, and is still burning. It has burned over 1000 acres, and some very heavy woods in Marshpee and Falmouth have been destroyed. It is now heading towards Falmouth, running several miles wide.

☞ The Grand Jury of Suffolk county, Mass., on Saturday morning, returned into the Municipal Court 96 indictments, more than half under the nuisance act of the liquor law.

Some people prefer one kind of Sewing Machine and some another. Each manufacturer has his admirers. We have one of Grover & Baker's in our own family; and we must say in justice to the manufacturers, that it is as good as it was represented to be.—N. Y. Ledger.

☞ The serfs-emancipation scheme of the Czar Alexander is understood to be meeting with difficulties. It is too good a measure not to encounter much opposition.

At the excavation of the ground on which St Peter's church recently stood, at Albany, a double coffin was discovered, supposed to be that in which Lord Howe, who was killed at the battle of Lake George, July 6, 1758, was buried.

☞ The negro Daniel Webster, who has just escaped the clutches of the slaveholders, at Philadelphia, is now on his way to Canada.

After a young fellow named Basch was acquitted of murder at Chicago the other day, his father invited the jury to a champagne supper, and, with one exception, they all went.

Lodi Manuf'g Co's Poudrette,

To those who have used the article in former years, it can only be said that it is full as good, if not a little better, than it has been. To those who have not used it, we would say "try it,"—in almost every place where it is used, the universal decision is, "it is the best thing we ever saw to give an early start to the crop." Read the following extract from a letter from J. E. Goodwin, Esq., of West Milton, N. H., dated July 24th, 1858:

"Its value as a fertilizer, in this vicinity, has been proved; and with the most satisfactory results. I planted potatoes May 1st, without, and about May 25th with Poudrette, (same variety) and the latter is now (July 24th) quite as large and apparently nearer ripe than the former." * * * In every instance that has come to my knowledge, where it has been used, it has given full satisfaction."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at

in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontitorumenos.

An Enemy Conquered.—John E. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

☞ Reader, do you want the picture of th day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photograps in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

The Lion has Roared for the Last Time. —J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

R. R. R.

Poisonous Innoculation.—Persons who, by accident or otherwise, become innoculated with any malignant disorder, will find the R. R. R. Remedies prompt, quick and efficient. Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or innoculated through indiscretion or accident—We have hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe tortures for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators at night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys regular.

For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysms in a few minutes.

R. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton street, New York.

N. B. — For Scrofula, Syphilis, Female Complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

The Original and Only London Gin Imported.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, rom sound Malt Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, GRAVEL, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—None genuine is Imported.

LOCAL.

☞ S. P. Long, Esq., is to lecture this (Tuesday) evening, at Hanover street Chapel, on "The Philosophy of Color, in Nature, Dress and Art." This is the last but one of the Course on the Fine Arts, which Mr. Long has been delivering—and which to us has been one of the most interesting and instructive, as well as entertaining and amusing series of lectures we ever had the good fortune to enjoy. There are hundreds if not thousands, of our intelligent citizens, who would be delighted by attendance, and who, in missing this opportunity, neglect to obtain valuable information, probably available to them in no other way.

These lectures are prepared with great study, and at large expense—and illustrated with a gallery of paintings, a view of which alone will certainly repay any one fond of such matters, for one ticket. If all relish for lectures of any sort has not died out, in this community, it would seem that, especially after having no Lyceum last winter, the only reason that can be assigned for the small attendance on these valuable lectures is, that the people are not aware of their character and merits. We have desired to give a synopsis of them, for our readers—but it was impossible to do anything like justice, especially in our limited room.

We will close by advising every person, who knows or cares anything about the fine arts, or who enjoys a well written, "popular," easily-appreciable essay on the practical-beautiful, to go to-night. Each lecture is mainly complete in itself—and judging from the title of this one, it will probably interest almost every class in the community. The tickets are advertised at 25 cents—and the neat little Hanover street Chapel ought not to be able to contain a quarter part of those who desire to attend.

☞ We desire to call the attention of our readers to the notice in another column, of an evening of "Popular Readings," by Mrs. Emily Pierpont Lesdernier. We are assured, that for this difficult accomplishment, Mrs. Lesdernier has all the personal gifts and qualifications,—a voice of rare sweetness, compass, and flexibility, and the poet-nature which ensures success in seizing the emotions, and interpreting the varied utterances of genius.

She is especially irresistible in pathos and comedy—our renowned Yankee Widow Bedott being "twice herself" under her hands. We trust that she may be greeted with a large audience.

☞ In answer to Junior's question of yesterday, we are informed upon good authority that Messrs. Allen & Paine (the "boys" who advertise so extensively in the Chronicle) sold last fall over nine hundred Cloaks. They have every reason to suppose that they can sell as many or more of the Capes and Raglans this season to their customers, besides which they are selling to other traders in Portland, Bath, Bangor, Augusta, and other places in Maine, about two thousand at wholesale—which of course enables them to manufacture at lower prices than those who only make a few. They have sewing machines constantly in operation in their store, and can manufacture if necessary one hundred garments per day. In regard to the Boiled Silks, we understand that in the manufacture of the best silk goods, they are boiled in a vegetable oil instead of water, from the cocoon, at the time of manufacture, which, if it is done properly, makes the silk tough and not liable to break or crack.

Has Junior any further questions to ask?

☞ An advertisement of Appleton's New American Encyclopædia will be seen in another column. J. H. Foster is agent in this city—E. C. Eastman of Concord, general agent for New Hampshire. This is one of the most entertaining and attractive works ever published, as well as one of the most instructive and permanently valuable. No man not in absolute poverty should be without it—and with it, there is no need of being poor in knowledge, at any rate.

☞ Wm. H. Mills was committed, in the Police Court, for breaking into the store of E. Green & Co., a week or two since, and not on the night of the fire, as reported. It may be that the same hand broke the other windows on Market street recently.

☞ The number of deaths in this city, during the month of March, was nine, of the following ages and sexes:

Males, three—aged 2 years, 2 years and 3 months, and 17 years.

Females, six—aged 1 month, 2 mos., 2 mos., 1 year, 2 years, 3 years and 5 mos., and 66 years.

A Card.—It is with much pleasure I take this method to tender my sincere thanks to the officers and men of the several Engine and Hook & Ladder Companies of this city, under my direction, for their kindness in receiving and promptness in obeying the orders given them, and for their efficient and untiring efforts in preventing a further destruction of property, and in keeping good order in their ranks, at the fire on Saturday last.

I would also tender my thanks to Wm. M. Laighton, and men from the Navy Yard, who cheerfully volunteered, with their engine, their services, and aided in preventing the fire from spreading.

J. G. Hadley, Chief Engineer.
Portsmouth, April 12th, 1859.

A Card.—The officers and members of Gov. Langdon Engine Co., No. 3, take this method to return their sincere thanks to the gentlemen who so kindly furnished us with the collation after the fire, Friday night; to Dr. Baker for the generous supply of Hot Coffee furnished us during the night, also to the gentlemen who so kindly "smiled" on us while in Market St.; and last, but not least, to our Volunteers for the valuable assistance rendered us at that time, when it was so much needed. Gentlemen, one and all, you will always find 3's boys true to their motto, "Always Ready." John H. Tredick, Clerk.

Per order of the Company.

$10 Reward.—The above reward will be paid by Engine Co. No. 3 to any person who shall furnish information that will lead to the detection of the thief who stole three pictures from the Hall of the Company sometime during the last week. Two of the pictures were scenes in the life of a Fireman; the other was a picture of an Engine and Company on parade.

Per order, John H. Tredick, Clerk.

☞ Lecture before the P. Y. M. Christian Association, at the Temple, Wednesday Evening, by Hon. A. C. Barstow, of Providence.

New York, April 11.—The safe of the President and Cashier of the Allentown Railroad Company was broken open on Saturday, and $112,000 in railroad bonds, checks and diamond jewelry were stolen.—A young clerk in the office was arrested, and confessed the robbery, with the exception of the jewelry. The bonds and checks were recovered, and the lad was sent to the city prison to await his trial.

☞ Rev. James Ivers Tecothic Coolidge, late pastor of the Thirteenth Congregational Church in Boston, will be ordained as an Episcopal clergyman, by Rt. Rev. Bishop Eastburn, at St. Paul's Church, on Thursday morning next.

☞ A Lawrence paper says that a clergyman of that city, during services at his church on a recent evening, fell into so sound a sleep that it was found necessary for one of the congregation to shake him in order to wake him up at the close of the services.

☞ Mr. Jesse Carr, an aged man residing in Francistown, N. H., while on a visit at Lowell, was run against and knocked over by some rowdies, and received injuries so severe that he is not expected to recover.

Hubbard Squash.

J. F. SHORES, Jr., No. 1 Congress Block, HAS FOR SALE

The Seeds of this new and very superior Squash received by Hovey & Co., from the original introducer of this variety.

THE HUBBARD SQUASH is doubtless the best Table Squash yet known—good specimens being about equal in quality to boiled chesnuts. It has a hard shell, and with the same care will keep three months later than the Marrow. With high culture, 5500 lbs. of good market squashes have been raised on one-half an acre of land.

Among the universal commendations of its quality, we would invite the attention of the public to the following:

"They excel in flavor and in the fineness of the flesh any squash we ever tasted."—[N. E. Farmer.

"The quality is very fine, being dry, sweet and rich. It is fine grained, dense and heavier than most squashes in proportion to the bulk."—[Boston Cultivator.

"I pronounce it the richest squash I have ever tasted."—[Hon. Marshall P. Wilder.

"Our good wife says, it is the richest squash she ever used."—[Ohio Cultivator.

The Seeds are put in packages of 50 Seeds, price 15 cents.

The Wheeler & Wilson

Medal Family Sewing Machine.

A NEW STYLE MACHINE,

PRICE $50.

This Machine makes the Lock Stitch, which is the only stitch that cannot be raveled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

The Wheeler & Wilson Mf'g Co.

Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing Machines for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 3000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as Woman's Friend.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

APPLETON'S

New American Cyclopædia.

NOW OUT.

VOLUME V.

ALTHOUGH but a limited field has as yet been canvassed for subscribers, the publishers of the NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA are required to print 12,000 copies of each volume, to supply the existing demand. Even at the rate at which subscribers' names are now coming in, the work will soon have attained a circulation of at least 20,000—an enormous success for a work of such magnitude and cost, and one which establishes it permanently in the category of famous literary successes. Without the addition of one subscriber to the present list (12,000) it will thus be seen that the American public are cheerfully paying SIX HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS for a great National Cyclopædia—a fact which speaks eloquently for intellectual progress in the United States, and which becomes the more striking when we reflect that the work is but one-third completed, and not one-fourth of the country canvassed.

It is hoped that every man and woman who has at heart the interests of American Literature, will peruse the list of contributors to the NEW AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA, in order to assure themselves that every section of the United States is represented in the work, with all its talent and all its scholarship, and that there is scarcely a name of note (in whatever department of human knowledge) in the whole country, that the editors have not enrolled in their powerful force of collaborators. This will, of course, appear the more plainly as the work proceeds, and each successive volume is laid before the public, with 2000 fresh and able articles.

PRICE OF THE AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA.

In extra cloth, per volume, $3; in library leather, $3,50; in half Turkey morocco, $4; in half Russia $4,50; in full morocco, $5,50.

"RAMBLES ABOUT PORTSMOUTH."

This book is now printed, making an octavo volume of 376 pages, (about one-quarter more than promised in the prospectus,) and embracing eighty-three Rambles. As soon as an alphabetical index of names in the work can be completed, it will pass into the binder's hands, and be published by the close of the present month.

If any who have received subscription papers have not yet returned them, or sent their names to this office, it should be attended to forthwith to secure copies at the subscription price, $1,50. After supplying subscribers, should any copies remain they will be sold at $1,75. The numerous orders which have been received from almost every state in the Union, indicate that the small edition will be readily exhausted.

The editor of the North American Review has had a copy in sheets, and the April number, among the Critical Notices, contains the following:

RAMBLES ABOUT PORTSMOUTH. Sketches of Persons, Localities, and Incidents of Two Centuries. Principally from Traditions and Unpublished Documents. By Charles W. Brewster. Portsmouth: C. W. Brewster and Son. 1858.

This is the last day of grace for much of the unpublished history of New England. Until the Revolution, or rather until the era of steam-travel and rapid emigration, most of our old families remained near the homes of their ancestors, and treasured up the accumulalating mass of local and biographical tradition. Frequent changes of residence, remoter intermarriages than were wont often to take place, the tumultuous press of business, and the incessant outpouring of intelligence from the whole civilized world, have made the present generation indifferent, for the most part, to vestiges and reminiscences of the past. The trustees of this description of oral history gradually disappear from the ranks of the living, leaving few who care to succeed to the inheritance which they have preserved as it came to them, and enriched by the thres or four score years of their own experience. Portsmouth, New Hampshire, was the residence, in the last and the preceeding century, of many men of mark and families of distinction, and the theatre of not a few events that formed a large part of the history of the times, as well as of numerous incidents and transactions, in themselves of less importance, which yet throw essential light upon that history. It abounds too in ancient sites and dwellings, which have each a story of its own. Mr. Brewster, a native of Portsmouth, and of an old Portsmouth family, has inherited much of this local lore, has made diligent inquiry and research among its still remaining memorials and depositories, and has compiled the results of what he has received, heard and learned, in this singularly rich, entertaining, and instructive volume. The Penhallow Cutts, Wentworth, Sherburne, Livermore and Langdon families, tell the somewhat curious ecclesiastical history of the town; the reminiscences of a peculiarly luxurious and ostentatious series of office holders under the crown, and of high life in the quasi court circle; the characteristic anecdotes attached to well-known names; the eccentric personages whose memory yet lingers about their former haunts,—these and other similar themes are given, not by any pre-determined method, but in a series of Chapters or "Rambles," each of which has a unity of its own, representing some single group, or train of events, or series of family portraits. We have thus a volume much more adequant and interesting than a formal history could have been, and at the same time a compend of materials, many of which must else have been irrevocably lost, from which some future author may compile the annals of the town. The work is admirably done, and, alike in its literary skill and its mechanical execution, does great credit to the ability, accuracy and taste of its esteemed author.

The St. Louis election deserves especial mention. As the Daily Advertiser remarks, the result "has a less direct bearing upon party relations, but its significance as a political event is even more important. The free democratic or emancipation candidate for Mayor has been elected by pluralities of 2500 and 4500, over both of his competitors, proving that the sentiment of St. Louis, which is gradually giving tone to the whole State, does not cease to be favorable to free institutions, however desperate politicians may endeavor to misrepresent it, or to bring it into false position by barbarous enactments. This result is doubly welcome because it adds another link to the chain of evidence which so clearly shows the fraud by which Mr. Blair was defeated at the election of last year."

THE RECENT ELECTIONS.—The New York Herald, in giving the result of the April elections in Connecticut, Michigan, St. Louis and Louisville, asks, "What does all this mean?" and answering its own question, says, "It means that the great Democratic party has gone to wreck and ruin, and that the opposion, as sure as fate, hold the next Presidential election in their hands. Had the leaders, managers and Presidential cliques and factions of the Democratic party possessed any thing of the saving article of common sense, they would have profited from the Presidential election of 1856, in which they escaped destruction as by a miracle."

"SUN DOGS."—A phenomenon of the sun, rarely seen, was observed here and also in Massachusetts last Saturday afternoon. It excited much attention from persons accustomed to watch the appearance of the heavens, and various and conflicting prognostications were made by nautical men. A writer in the Boston Journal speaks "of the extraordinary degree of splendor" observable. The Worcester Spy describes the phenomenon, and adds, "It was indeed a most beautiful and magnificent display—one of those rare and peculiar occurrences which is never seen but once in a life-time, but which, having been seen, is never forgotten."

The strong north-west wind of four days which followed, was probably the howling of these sun dogs.

ACCIDENT.—On Fast day morning, Andrew Whidden, aged about 14, son of late John Whidden, was in Sagamore woods, with a pistol, loaded with two balls. Another boy attempted to take it from him. He held on by the barrel with his left hand, when the pistol was discharged, one ball passing through the ligature between his thumb and forefinger, the others passing through the palm and and out of the back of the hand. The wanton practice of shooting birds for mere sport, our friend Meriam shows, is often attended by disaster.

ROBBERY OF A POST OFFICE.—The Post Office at Salmon Falls was broken into Sunday afternoon, March 27, by two boys from Berwick. Letters were opened, desks broken into, and money and other valuables taken. The Postmaster going into the office, caught them after a sharp race.—They were arrested and brought before Commissioner Hatch of Portsmouth, who held them for trial at the U. S. Circuit Court, to be holden at Portsmouth on the 6th of May next. The Marshal conveyed them to the jail at Exeter for safe keeping.—Dover Enquirer.

TESTIMONIALS.

Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Independent, says: "Having had one of Grover & Baker's Machines in my family for nearly a year and half, I take pleasure in commending it as every way reliable for the purpose for which it is designed, Family Sewing."

Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate, says: "I confess myself highly delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."

Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of the Brooklyn Star, says: "After trying several different good machines, I preferred yours, on account of its simplicity, and the perfect ease with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience, I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."

Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, New York, says: "I have used a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine for two years, and find it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broadcloth. Garments have been worn out without the giving way of a stitch.—The Machine is easily kept in order, and easily used."

THE GREAT WONDER

Of The Nineteenth Century

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentlemen in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect; when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press.

BATH, ME., Jan. 20, 1856.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy! as it has been before for twenty years past. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I do assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this place, and I consident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service. I have no interest in the welfare of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours,

A. C. RAYMOND.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 26, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood: Dear Sirs: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved. WM. DYER.

Brookfield, Jan 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching, with which I have been troubled from my childhood; and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands in our country and surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, providing the nature or description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of diseases which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are implanted on his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 18 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS.

These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. This section is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—18 Howard street, Boston.

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE
This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public and their generous patronage, heretofore bestowed upon this salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing influence.
"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered from the forest, and possesses healing, soothing and Pain-Relieving Powers never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.
"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.
"My Mother's Salve" in a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.
"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.
Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportion, renewed as times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in Rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. BECK-BURRILL & HUNTING, SOLE PROPRIETORS,
No. 6 Tremont Street,
(Two doors south of Court st.,) BOSTON.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—the immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
Boston, February 8 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 13, 1859.

OUR BOSTON CORRESPONDENCE.

Boston, April 11, 1859.

Dear Chronicle:—A trip to the Southward having interfered with writing duties of the past week, it is but natural that in resuming one's pen again, the marks it makes should speak of change of scene more than of Boston proper. The gross and needless inconveniences of travel over some of the routes leading Southward, as well as Westward, are prominent in one's mind, for ample reasons, for some little time after experiencing them. To jump at once to the midst of it—passing minor grievances this side—I will give a few lines regarding Philadelphia R. R. Depot conveniences for Baltimore passengers.

A fine large building has a small dark room in one corner for ladies—marked for ladies exclusively. There is a larger, lighter room marked for gentlemen, but that was kept nearly closed, chained so that it would open but an inch or two to give a sight only of a decent sitting room and seats. Then the ticket office for the route—the only one to Baltimore by railroad—was kept closed up to within about seven minutes of the time for the train to start. This obliges the ladies, old and feeble ones and all, to leave their little sitting room and gather around the ticket window to be in readiness to start instantly for the cars as soon as tickets were obtained—ten per cent. additional price being the penalty of not getting tickets before starting.

Such a fine spirit of accommodation of course occasions a corresponding feeling of pleasantness to accompany the journey.—This is perhaps a fair specimen of the care taken to please patrons of many similar institutions that way.

Arrived in Baltimore, many peculiarities are at once apparent. Huge freight cars from the railroads, as well as passenger cars, go trundling through the streets, from one side of the city to another, drawn by perhaps a dozen mules, or half mules, half horses. Going down hill, the driver sounds a big tin horn, and all people are to clear the track at once.

Proceeding up to the Main street—the shopping and promenade street—one is surprised at the array of big boxes and packages of every order that are allowed to occupy the sidewalk and receive the brush of spreading crinoline—sometimes tearing a sad rent therein.

Then the flaming lottery placards also seem a queer institution to a New Englander. Brokers display them at their doors, with staring lines of figures of dollars purporting to be drawn "this day!"

The stores are generally low studded, and the effect is not favorable in appearance by any means. Many stores and warehouses, as well as dwellings, are built upon land owned by others, and leased in some way by the builder. Hence, in addition to regular rent of building, there is frequently if not usually a ground rent to pay beside.

A peculiarity of Baltimore speech or accent is to give the sound of A and sometimes Y fearfully broad and round, while they often give the sound of O, and sometimes U, quite as fearfully flat and thin.

The ladies of Baltimore are said to be beautiful to a noticeable and even marked degree, but in my opinion that reputation must have been obtained under different circumstances from the present. Churches, theatres, or promenades and drives usually give to view a fair share of the beauty of any Christian city, and judging from these premises, even Boston must be acknowledged to lead Baltimore.

There was not apparently much feeling there in relation to the Sickles trial, but many of the papers adopted the absurd course of giving column after column of unmeaning words, called a full report, by telegraph. Upon my return to Boston, I find the same wretched course pursued here, as well as in New York.

Politicians are said to greatly regret that Sickles fully killed Key, because if he had only left him wounded, so that he had barely recovered, the two men would have made tremendously strong candidates for the Presidency.

Spring is rapidly advancing in the region of Baltimore. Seed is being put in the ground, trees are in blossom, and many of the fields are beautifully green. If Baltimore were full of Yankee energy,—which is often so much less than it might be,—it would soon become an enormous city—the centre of Atlantic seaboard trade—the leading Atlantic city. Its position is magnificent—its natural tributaries unequalled. And yet Baltimore is scarcely one point changed since eight years ago—my last visit there until the past week.

More of Boston matters in my next.

BERNARDE.

OUR KANSAS CORRESPONDENCE.

LEAVENWORTH, K. T., April 2.

We in Kansas are just on the borders of that "soft season, when descending showers call forth the greens and make the rising flowers." Winter in fact, after blustering and storming through the proper domain of Autumn, fled from our prairies long before his time, and relinquished his rights in favor of the mild breath of spring.—While we have heard of the massy ice with which New England was bound, neither ice nor snow, with a single exception, has afflicted us. And for more than a month this city has been astir with the enterprized of another Spring.

Before February closed, the advanced companies of Pike's Peak emigrants began to arrive. All the past month they have been streaming by, alike in only one respect—that they were all making haste to be rich. The greater part will soon find that they were only making haste to be poor. We have ocular demonstration that the fools are not all dead yet. From the era of Solomon with his Ophir, and down from the days of Cortes with his Mexico, to the present furor, multitudes must abandon homes more comfortable than they will ever see again, run the gauntlet of the insatiable land sharks that line the route, (in the shape of hotel-keepers and steamboat agents,) and plunge through several hundred miles of prairie and half a dozen tribes of Indians, till they fetch up at the base of the Rocky Mountains and receive—what? The dubious privilege of digging for gold. One of a hundred will perhaps do well. The rest will throw away health, hopes and their original competence. One man has just set out with wife and child, who has been both in Australia and California. Yet the teamster who takes out this enterprising family has to give them credit for their passage till labor in the gold fields furnishes means for liquidating the debt.

This world's goods are evidently distributed very unequally among the emigrants. Some have set out with a carpet-bag in their hand, and a rifle on their shoulder. Others rejoice in well-covered wagons and hardy mules. Others still have undertaken the herculean task of drawing loaded hand-carts through the seven hundred miles of mud that stretch between here and the Peak. On every street these humble vehicles may be seen, surrounded by the luckless bipeds that are to harness themselves into them, when the load is made up.

Well, if the people will come, let them come. The corporations along the route, the shopkeepers of Leavenworth, the speculators and founders of cities all along to Pike's Peak, will give them a hearty welcome,—while their money lasts. If they are brought to the sick-bed or the almshouse, that is their look-out; they will at least have fulfilled the destiny of poor folks, (according to a common theory,) to raise the price of town-lots, and fill the pockets of speculators.

The trial of Dr. Doy and son for the alleged offence of kidnapping Missouri negroes, has been carried from Platte City to St. Joseph. A nol. pros. has been entered in the case of the son. The counsel for the prisoners employed by the Legislature, are Messrs. Davis and Sherman. It is probable that Dr. Doy will be released, and this impudent outrage of forcing citizens of Kansas into Missouri for trial of alleged crime, will reach its close. That interesting class of laborers, (the negroes,) is fast disappearing from Missouri—part goes to St. Louis and the Far South: part takes the responsibility on its own shoulders and escapes to the Far North—a region colder, but much more wholesome.

Railroads are just now an engrossing concern among us. 'Tis true you have seen the folly of such things East. But we want to see the folly of it too. Leavenworth attempted to obtain a charter from the Missouri Legislature for a Road connecting this city with the already completed Road across Missouri. St. Joseph is the Western terminus. This branch tapping the Hannibal and St. Joseph Road at Grand River is essential to the complete development of Leavenworth. But the pro-slavery element was supreme in their Legislature, and the movement failed. It would benefit Platte Co. in Missouri quite as much as Leavenworth. But biting off their nose to spite their face is a feat worthy of Border Ruffian statesmanship.

The Road from St. Joseph to Atchison, which is 25 miles above us, is going forward. It will strike off into the Territory to Lawrence or Topeka. It is most devoutly to be hoped that it will turn out to be no such sublime humbug as a certain road between a certain seaport of New Hampshire and a capital town, and that the salaries of the officers will not be the only earnings of the Road.

The Sunday question has been emphatically disposed of. After much excited discussion of the propriety of Sunday laws, the people, by a majority of 400 in a vote of 1600, declared for those laws. The Germans were taken aback at the result. They had pervaded the streets with music and huge lager-beer casks, and displayed such mottoes as this—"Massachusetts blue laws shan't rule the freemen of Leavenworth." But the gentlemen from the Rhine were not able to overthrow the wholesome laws of the Puritans. The German element of our population has many fine qualities, but they are insane in clamoring for the secularization of the Lord's Day.

Your decision upon national issues was very satisfactory and cheering. Nobody need wear a long face over it except the men who feel rebuked for their unsuccessful treason to liberty. New Hampshire has received as great honor as she conferred, in raising such a man to the Gubernatorial Chair as Ichabod Goodwin.

PORTSMOUTH ABROAD.

☞ A writer in the New York Courier and Enquirer, who knows as thoroughly the matters of which he speaks as any one, says, "the adoption of slavery by the New Mexican Legislature, under the Governor's dictation, is the result of a decree from Washington, issued to slaveholding officials by a slavery extending administration. The people of New Mexico are opposed, ten to one, one hundred to one, to slavery in any form, and the first Legislature which assembles, free to act in the premises, will unanimously repeal the edicts of the propagandia."

☞ Mr. Ten Broeck, and Mr. Harlan, (colored,) American sporting gentlemen, have recently arrived in England, with strings of horses to contest on the turf with Britain's fleet coursers. This is the third year of American horses trials with the high-mettled racers of the English Turf, on their own soil. In the first year we ran in twelve races and won one; in the second year we ran in twenty-one and won five.

☞ The Rothschilds are not as wise about this country as gentlemen of their means of information ought to be. When Alfred A. Smith was Comptroller of New York, he negotiated with them concerning the Croton loan. They wrote him they could not imagine what use for an aqueduct of 40 miles in length, there was in New York, a city surrounded by fresh water!

☞ It is intended to expel all members of the Methodist Church North from Texas, because they are not "sound" on the slavery question. Bishop Jayne has been "warned." These things have been done in Fannin county. The Methodists are a hard people to "tackle," and are not easily alarmed by the action of the wicked.—But what a strange "free country" ours is getting to be.

THE PRICE OF LABOR.—There are combinations among the mechanics and laborers in various places for an increase of wages. They are not, however, very general, and as the country becomes older and more populous, the tendency of the value of labor is gradually downward, owing to the larger supply of labor, the smaller profits of capital, and the diminished opportunities for enterprise. We have a proof of this in the filling up of the U. S. Army.—Traveller.

☞ The National Musical Association will hold its annual Convention at the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, D. C., commencing on Tuesday, April 19, 1859, under direction of Prof. Wm. B. Bradbury—closing with a concert on Friday evening.

What is it to be a gentleman? It is to be honest, to be gentle, to be generous, to be brave, to be wise, and, possessing all these qualities, to exercise them in the most graceful outward manner. Ought not his life to be decent, his bills to be paid, his tastes to be high and elegant, his aims in life lofty and noble.—W. M. Thackeray.

FATAL RESULT.—Mr. C. A. Cross, who was injured by jumping from the platform of the Chelsea Horse Railway car in Chelsea, on Thursday night, died on Saturday. His remains were taken to Salem, for interment in the Harmony Grove Cemetery. He was forty-two years of age and unmarried. He exonerated the person in charge of the car from all blame in the premises.

Freeze—freeze thou bitter sky,
Thou dost not bite so nigh
As benefits forgot.
Though thou the waters warp,
Thy sting is not so sharp
As friends remembered not.

"Well, Pompey, what business do you follow?" "Oh! sar, iss—wal, ise just shave notes for a livin'." "Shave notes? Why it takes money to do that." "Yes, sar—but ise jist shave my own notes—'cause I doesn't pay notin'."

SEWING MACHINES.

The Grover & Baker are always preferred, when coming in competition with any other machines.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Robes, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

We have seen one of Grover & Baker's $100 Sewing Machines used to do the Sewing of two families, for the past year or more, to the perfect satisfaction of all concerned—without once getting out of order, or requiring the least repair.—We would as soon try to dispense with a Cooking Stove in a family, as to attempt to get along without a Sewing Machine. Money invested in a good Machine pays much more than legal dividend, in actual cash savings—to say nothing of the higher consideration, of comfort and convenience, nay, even luxury, it affords to the ladies of a household. Whatever may be the experience with other Machines, we never knew a Grover & Baker to be discarded or found wanting.

POUDRETTE AND GUANO.

J. F. SHORES, JR., NO. 1 CONGRESS BLOCK, Is now prepared to supply all demands for the

Lodi Manuf'g Co's Poudrette,

To those who have used the article in former years, it can only be said that it is full as good, if not a little better, than it has been. To those who have not used it, we would say "try it,"—in almost every place where it is used, the universal decision is, "it is the best thing we ever saw to give an early start to the crops." Read the following extract from a letter from J. E. Goodwin, Esq., of West Milton, N. H., dated July 24th, 1858:

"Its value as a fertilizer, in this vicinity, has been proved; and with the most satisfactory results. I planted potatoes May 1st, without, and about May 20th with Poudrette, (same variety) and the latter is now (July 24th) quite as large and apparently nearer ripe than the former.'—* * * In every instance that has come to my knowledge, where it has been used, it has given full satisfaction."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at SALEN'S DAGUERREAN GALLERY, in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

AN ENEMY CONQUERED.—John B. Jones, of Seekonk, Mass., was cured of Consumption, after three years' standing, by using Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup. There was no mistake about this case—it was a great victory. Every hour in the day Mathes & Varrell, Portsmouth, supply the invalid with the same article.

☞ Reader, do you want the picture of the day? If so, have one of Gregory's Photographs in Oil Colors, which he is selling at about half the Boston and New York prices.

THE LION HAS ROARED FOR THE LAST TIME.—J. H. Thacher and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth, have just received a gross of Dr. Clarke's Potent Cherry Syrup, which has never failed of curing all Throat and Lung Diseases as yet. Consumption can no longer claim its prey.

R. R. R.

POISONOUS INOCULATIONS.—Persons who, by accident or otherwise, become inoculated with any malignant disorder, will find the R. R. R. Remedies prompt, quick and efficient. Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or inoculated through indiscretion or accident. We have hundreds of trifling cases, in our time, and suffering the most severe tortures for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R. Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators at night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys regular.

For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysms in a few minutes.

R. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton street, New York.

N. B.—For Scrofula, Syphilis, Female Complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound A Barley, under the supervision of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it the most wholesome of all diuretics, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, RHEUMATISM, GALL, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, traiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHER IS IMPORTED.

RAILROAD TO MANCHESTER.

The Manchester Union Democrat has an article or two on the Candia Branch Railroad, very interesting to people in this city.

The Democrat says:—

For some time past an active controversy has been in progress, through the newspapers of this and other places, between the Concord, Manchester and Lawrence Railroad on the one hand, and a "tripartite alliance," consisting of the Nashua & Lowell, Lowell & Boston, and Boston & Maine Roads, on the other.

The immediate cause of the controversy is this: The lower roads enter into a combination to regulate the price of freighting. They increased the rates upon some very important articles as much as thirty or forty per cent., and bound themselves under a forfeiture of $20,000 to abide inflexibly by the new tariff. The Concord road alleges that the old rates were high enough, and equitably divided between the connecting roads; and that if it is compelled to pay the lower roads the advance price for the freight it receives of them, it has no remedy but in a corresponding increase in its charges to its customers at Manchester, Concord and all other places for which it does business.—The feeling of our people is, that they already pay as much as they ought to pay, and we think they will resist any material increase in the cost of railroad transportation.

The action of the allied roads looks like a purpose to extort from the Concord or its customers exorbitant rates for doing New Hampshire business; and as they command the only avenues to Boston, it is supposed that we have no alternative but to submit to the extortion.

This condition of affairs, however, may result in some good. It has given new feelings in favor of the Candia Branch. We judge by the correspondence to which we have referred, that coal is one of the most important articles of railroad transit. Is there any reason why coal could not be landed at Portsmouth as cheaply as at Boston? and can it not be transported from that place to this, all the way over New Hampshire roads, as cheaply as it can be brought over Massachusetts roads from Boston? Is not the same true of cotton? If, by the building of nine or ten miles of road, we can secure convenient communication with the coast, and especially a New Hampshire coast, and at the same time, escape an odious Massachusetts railroad monopoly, it seems to us the work should be done. It seems to us furthermore, that the time has come when our friends of a neighboring city up the river [Concord] may have a common interest in this enterprise. Certainly if its effect shall be to multiply, at very trivial cost, our means of outside communication, it will contribute to that extent, in breaking down a monopoly from which they must suffer as well as we.

The editor of the Democrat, with many gentlemen from Concord and Manchester, paid this city a visit on Friday, April 8, of which he says:

The primary purpose of this visit was to examine the facilities which Portsmouth presents, as the entrepot for the heavy freight designed for the use of this section of the state. It is already well known that there is no better harbor in the world—perfectly secure, always open, and easily accessible at all seasons of the year for craft of any tonnage. But the particular fact to which the attention of the company was directed, was the facility with which these advantages could be made available to the people of this section of the state. It appears that, by the extension of the railroad track for a very few rods, the cars may be carried upon the wharf, and freight received from vessels at its side.—At a very trifling cost, all heavy merchandize may be transferred directly from water to rail, and carried to its destination, without the heavy charges attending the unloading, the wharfage and storage of such articles, as in other ports.

It is apparent that cotton and coal may be got into cars a great deal cheaper at Portsmouth than at Boston; and if we can have the "Candia Branch," we can see no reason why nearly all the heavy freight brought to this city, could not come by that channel. This was the common opinion of the gentleman present; and we suppose that measures will be taken to secure this object. We are sure the wealthy and enterprising citizens of Portsmouth will cordially co-operate in an enterprise of so much importance to their city. With the concurrent action of Manchester and Concord, the project is not only entirely feasible, but so very promising in good results all round, that it seems almost disgraceful to have it fail.

A CARD.—The Officers and Members of Laconia Engine Company, No. 2, hereby tender their sincere thanks to Atlantic Co. No. 6, to Mr. John H. Slater, Dr. Baker, Benj. F. Grant, Capt. Plummer, and Messrs. Mathes & Varrell, for the bountiful supply of Refreshments furnished by them at the fire on Saturday morning. Also to Mr. John E. Rider, for his courteous offer of refreshments.

CHARLES H. KENNEY, Clerk.

☞ Mrs. Loslernier, who is to read at the Temple on Thursday evening, is pronounced by the assemblies of taste and fashion, in the cities where she has displayed her talents, to be one of the most accomplished and elegant readers who have come before the public.

LOST.—A BLACK CAT, with white breast and feet.—Whoever will return it to No. 19 COURT STREET, shall be liberally rewarded.

☞ The Lecture to be delivered by Hon. A. C. Barstow, of Providence, before the Portsmouth Young Men's Christian Association, this (Wednesday) evening, at half past 7, at the Temple—is thus highly spoken of by the papers in the vicinity of the home of the lecturer. His subject is, "Law in its Relation to Virtue." The Newport (R. I.) News says:

It was a beautiful exposition of law in reference to virtue, in all its various relations, in the nursery, family, school, business, and in the obligation it imposes upon electors and officers, strongly contrasting the benefits to be derived by its proper enforcement, with the evil resulting from its contempt. The lecturer not only evinced a perfect acquaintance with his subject, but convinced his audience that the labor of his preparation had been severe. Mr. Barstow has done much to benefit the community by this effort, and we are glad to perceive that it is properly appreciated.

The Providence Post says:

Mr. Barstow's lecture was well attended and listened to with marked attention.—He urged the execution of just and equitable laws as a means of promoting virtue in the family, in the school, in the workshop, and in all the relations of life. It was a studied address, prepared with special reference to our times, and should, in some form, appear before our entire community. His views of official responsibility certainly merit our serious consideration. Who is to blame, he inquires, for the notorious tippling shops and brothels in this city? Let our public officers put forth their best efforts to execute our laws; then, and not till then, can they be acquitted of blame.

The Christian Association has recently been much strengthened by the addition of new and efficient members—and is rendering the community good service in procuring such lectures as this. Admittance free.

The Union Choir, which formerly sung at the lectures of this Society, are invited to perform on this occasion—and all singers interested, are invited to meet at the Temple, at 7 o'clock.

☞ The China mail brings intelligence of the death of Lieut. Chas. W. Place, of this city. He was attached to the U. S. sloop-of-war Germantown, and on the passage from Hong Kong to Manilla, he received a serious injury in his foot, which caused amputation above the knee. He was taken on shore at Manilla, to the residence of the U. S. Consul, where he died about the 9th of January, leaving a wife and three children.

☞ I. V. Himes will preach at the Advent Chapel, this (Wednesday) evening.

Also, at Baptist Meeting House, in Rye, to-morrow evening, at the usual hour.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Yesterday afternoon, during the services in the church of the Holy Cross, Catholic, in 42d street, near 8th Avenue, a lighted candle in the altar communicated fire to a curtain, when an alarm of fire was instantly given, creating a great panic among the congregation. The church was densely crowed at the time. There was an instantaneous rush for the doors from all parts of the building. The rush on the stairs was so great that the narrow passageway was completely blocked up, and a human pyramid of fifty or a hundred men, women and children was piled up at the foot, from which proceeded groans, shrieks, and frantic cries. Some policemen soon reached the scene, and, after a time, succeeded in restoring comparative order. Two children were taken from the bottom of the heap with legs and arms broken, and so badly bruised that they cannot possibly survive. Some twenty or thirty other persons were injured, some of them very seriously.

Those are the hardest misfortunes which we allow to take us by surprise. It is likewise true that trouble looks more terrible in the distance than when it is upon us. Clouds are never so black when near as they seem in the distance. When we grasp them, they are but vapors.

Man is not always like himself. He who says he knows himself, can answer for the truth of what he says only at the moment. Few know what they were yesterday: still fewer know what they will be to-morrow.

JUST SO.—A man cannot wait for his dinner without instantly losing his temper; but see with what angelic sweetness a woman bears the trial! Has woman more patience, then, than man? Not a bit of it—only she has lunched, and the man has not!

Mr. Pullup coming home late "pretty full" finds the walking slippery, and exclaims: "V-ver-very sing'lar; whenever water freezes, it allus fr-freezes with the sl-slippery side up; singular!"

It was a prime joke of Canning's, who, when told by an eminent doctor that poverty was a virtue, remarked that he had never known what making a virtue of necessity meant till then.

A man may get along without advertising, and so may a wagon without greasing—but it goes hard.

The Wheeler & Wilson

Medal Family Sewing Machine.
A NEW STYLE MACHINE,
PRICE $50.

This Machine makes the Lock Stitch, which is the only stitch that cannot be raveled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

The Wheeler & Wilson Mfg Co.

Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these Sewing MACHINES for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as WOMAN'S FRIEND.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

THE GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE CO.,

NO. 18 SUMMER STREET, BOSTON,

Having greatly increased their facilities for manufacturing their

Celebrated Family Machines,

with all the recent improvements, have reduced their prices, and offer for sale

A NEW STYLE MACHINE.

PRICE $50.

Machines from $50 to $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

It is no longer questioned that these Machines are the best in use for family sewing. They

HEM, FELL, GATHER, AND STITCH

in the most superior manner, and are the only machines in the market that are so well and simply made,—that they may be sent into families with no other instructions than are contained in a circular which accompanies each machine, and from which

A CHILD OF TEN YEARS

may readily learn how to use them, and keep them in order. They make upwards of

FIFTEEN HUNDRED STITCHES A MINUTE,

and will do the sewing of a family cheaper than a seamstress can do it, even if she works at the rate of

ONE CENT AN HOUR!

Is there a husband, father, or brother in the United States, who will permit the drudgery of hand sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Independent, says: "Having had one of Grover & Baker's Machines in my family for nearly a year and half, I take pleasure in commending it as very way reliable for the purpose for which it is designed, Family Sewing."

Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate, says: "I confess myself highly delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."

Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of the Brooklyn Star, says: "After trying several different good machines, I preferred yours, on account of its simplicity, and the perfect ease with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience, I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."

Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, New York, says: "I have used a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine for two years, and find it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broadcloth. Garments have been worn out without the giving way of a stitch.—The Machine is easily kept in order, and easily used."

THE GREAT WONDER

Of The Nineteenth Century

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantee of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, ME., Jan. 20, 1856.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy! as it has been before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife, at the age of fifty two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am truly yours,

A. C. RAYMOND.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 23, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

EDWIN JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Methodist Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved.

WM. DYER.

Brookfield, Jan 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—DEAR SIR: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood: and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

The Liver Invigorator!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

Compounded Entirely from GUMS.

IS ONE OF THE BEST PURGATIVE AND LIVER MEDICINES now before the public.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, purifying the blood, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

Bilious Attacks are cured, and, what is better, prevented by the occasional use of the Liver Invigorator.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach and prevent the food from rising and souring.

Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels, and a dose cures costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose of two teaspoonfuls will always relieve Sick Headache.

Only one dose immediately relieves Colic.

Cholera Morbus, and a preventive of Cholera.

Only one bottle is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

One bottle taken for Jaundice removes all callousness or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating gives vigor to the appetite and makes the food digest well.

One dose, often repeated, cures Chronic Diarrhœa in its worst form, while Summer and Bowel Complaints yield almost to the first dose.

A few bottles will cure Dropsy by exciting the absorbents.

We take pleasure in recommending this medicine as a preventive for Fever and Ague, Chill Fever, and thousands are willing to testify to its wonderful virtues.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

The strictest secrecy in all cases will accompany every package, and the most invidable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empytics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from your purpose, or persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in effected a speedy cure in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practic of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundance of reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, APRIL 14, 1859.

NAMES.

The Portland Advertiser has found one man of whom it says—"he is a highly respectable man of nearly three score and ten," and has his life long been a democrat. Really there is hope for democracy yet. Will the Advertiser name a "highly respectable" man of nearly 70 years, who has always been a republican? The thing can't be did! Republicanism itself is only a four-year-old!—Bath Times.

Jefferson once said, in substance, that he would have the people be all federalists and all republicans. In the sense in which Jefferson said this, respectable men may be found who have been both democrats and republicans for 70 years. But if any man claims to have been a member of one and the same party in this country, for 70 years, he is either forgetful or false, for no one party has existed so long.

At the commencement of the revolution, there were rebels and loyalists, whigs and tories.

When the constitution was formed, there were federalists, who were in favor of the Union, and anti-federalists, who were against it.

Gen. Washington went into the Presidency by the federal vote, without opposition.

John Adams was chosen by the federal party, and the opposition to him took the name of the republican party. This party elected and re-elected Jefferson, repealed the bankrupt law, sold the navy and built the gunboats, refused to re-charter the United States Bank, passed the embargo and non-intervention acts, elected James Madison, declared war with Great Britain, in which latter act they crushed out the federal party, and re-elected Mr. Madison by a triumphant majority.

The republican party chose Mr. Monroe President, and established the new United States Bank. Mr. Monroe distributed the government patronage sparingly, and so impartially or equally between and among federalists and republicans, as to obliterate or greatly obscure the old party lines, though a kind of organization was kept up under the republican name.

The name federal was not now claimed by any party, and by very few individuals.

Mr. Adams was chosen, in the House, by a coalition, mostly of men called republicans—but it was a coalition rather of the Clay and Adams personal parties, than of any former or acknowledged political parties.

Next arose the Jackson party, which was got up to put down Adams's administration, and which was successful in this effort. In most parts of the country, this party was called by its friends the republican party; in a few places, as in the N. H. Gazette, it was styled the democratic-republican party—while the Adams and Clay men called themselves national republicans.

As late as 1835, Gov. Hill was nominated (see N. H. Patriot of that year) and elected, as the candidate of the republican party. The term democrat, as a name, was not adopted by any party in the country till General Jackson's accession to the Presidency.

There have been besides such terms and parties as locofocos, hunkers and barnburners, hards and softs.

There have been whigs, independent democrats, liberty party, freesoilers, and republicans; North Americans, or know nothings, and South Americans, or Hindoos.

Some of these are mere terms of reproach, but most of them have been assumed and borne by parties. This brief sketch shows that there is no very old party in the country—and present appearances indicate still further change. The pretenders to great antiquity of parties, are great humbugs.

☞ As an actor was playing Richard III. in Milwaukie theatre, a young man walked down the aisle, seated himself near the orchestra, and drawing a newspaper from his pocket, coolly commenced reading it. The actor regarded this as an insult, and with a bound he cleared the footlights, seized the young man by the collar, and in a rude manner hustled him out of the house; he returned to the stage, and apologizing to the audience, resumed the play.

☞ The New England Carpet Company of Boston are supplying the people with carpets at low prices. See their advertisement and scale of prices in our paper today.

☞ Charles Green, a Bostonian convict, 21 years old, killed himself by hanging, in the State Prison at Charlestown, Monday night.

A DISGRACEFUL SCENE occurred in the New York Assembly, on Monday evening, as follows:

Mr. Conkling rose to a question of privilege. A resolution had been long since adopted by the House, calling for information respecting the Clerks employed in the offices of the State Department. This resolution had grown out of alleged abuses in the Secretary of State's Department.—Mr. Rutherford rose to speak in favor of the resolution, and a painful scene ensued. He evidently labored under excitement, and when his five minutes were exhausted the House refused to extend his time for further remarks and ordered the previous question. Mr. Rutherford made several attempts to speak, but was called to order by the Speaker each time.

After many interruptions, the Speaker was about to put the question, when Mr. Rutherford exclaimed in his seat: "Why, you set of thieving dogs! do you mean to choke me down altogether?" The Speaker—The gentleman of New York will be in order. Mr. Rutherford—Oh, yes, I'm in order; I know what I'm about. The Speaker—Mr. Rutherford will be in order, and keep silent. Mr. Rutherford—I'll do as I like about about that. The Speaker—The Chair is constrained to call upon the House to protect the chair in preserving order, as the Chair is powerless. Mr. Ruthertord—Go to hell, all of you, you dogs.

The Chair requested the Sergeant-at-Arms to appear with assistance at the bar of the House. The Sergeant-at-Arms and two assistants appeared. The Speaker—The Sergeant-at-Arms will arrest Mr. Rutherford of New York, and convey him from the House. Mr. Rutherford was then removed, making all the resistance he could against it. The question was then taken on Mr. Conkling's resolution, and the same was adopted. After the announcement of the vote, the Chair formally informed the House of the arrest of Mr. Rutheford.

Mr. Smith, as a member of the Democratic party, and a friend of Mr. Rutherford, moved that he be held in arrest during the evening session. He did so because he was desirous to spare the majority this painful duty. Mr. Hutchinson moved to amend by declaring Mr. Rutherford in contempt until he made a proper apology. Several members then made explanations, that Mr. Rutherford had for the last ten days been suffering under a painful and harassing disease; that through that suffering he had been driven to resort to stimulants; that he had entered the House to-night not himself, and that no person would feel deeper remorse than himself when returning reason enabled him to see the impropriety of which he had been guilty. Mr. Hutchinson then withdrew his amendment, and Mr. Smith's resolution was adopted.

The plain English of the story is, that the honorable gentleman was so drunk as to be unmanageable.

TWO TITLES.—Looking over the Portsmouth, Va., Transcript for items, we found these two, standing together under the local head, exactly as we copy them:

The Revivals—at Wesley Chapel, Dinwiddie street M. E. Church, and the Gosport M. E. Church—are in full blast.

Sale of Negroes.—Whitehead & McLean sold yesterday one negro man, 35 years old, for $925, and a woman of the same age for $800—terms cash.

NEW JERSEY.—Trenton, N. J., April 12. Franklin S. Mills, Democrat, has been re-elected Mayor of this city by a majority of 378 over E. R. Borden, Republican. The Democrats elected nine out of twelve of the city officers, and a tie in the Council.

Princeton and Beverly have also been carried by the Democrats.

Township elections in Essex and Union Counties, and other parts of the State, occupied yesterday. The vote was small, owing to the storm. The elections generally resulted in favor of the Opposition.

While forty or fifty men were standing on an elevated platform passing buckets of water at the burning of a tub and bucket factory at Columbus, Ohio, on the 6 inst., the flame suddenly burst out with great violence, sweeping the whole platform and driving the occupants in a mass to the ground, a distance of thirty feet. None were killed, but several terribly burned.

INDEPENDENCE.—Those who think boldly, freely and thoroughly, who stand upon their own legs, and see with their own eyes, have a firmness and serenity of mind which he who is dependent on others has not, neither can have; nor are they so liable to be imposed on; whereas others are subject to be driven about by the breath of the world, which is always blowing from every point of the compass.

☞ The young lady who died in Troy last week from the effect of having her ears pierced, instead of placing silk in the wounds, as is customary, used colored worsted—which was probably the cause of her death.

A Washington letter says it is reported to be the intention of Mr. Sickles, in case of his acquittal, to leave this country for extensive travel in foreign lands. Good! But why not reform, and turn sensation-preacher?—N. Y. Sat. Press.

☞ Peterson's Magazine for May has a beautiful frontispiece, "Help me over," colored fashion plate, and a wood cut, "Coming through the Rye."

☞ If the great lawyer Graham, who is pleading for Sickles at Washington, believes half he says, he must be a great dunce or a dreadfully depraved man. The witnesses for the defence, on the 11th, are great men, of the same kind with Sickles and Key. The whole trial is a sad exhibition of low life above stairs.

A correspondent of the New York Herald, who assumes to speak for Sickles and his counsel, gives the public to understand that if the prosecution should see fit "to assail the antecedents of Sickles," the project of operations in that case is not to defend Sickles, but to attack Key, and not Key only, but also many Washington firesides.

"We will show," said Mr. Graham, "that they stood almost as close as do those two human beings, the Siamese twins, who now stand connected by a link that renders them indissoluble. The hearts of these two men have beaten almost against each other. Their hearts seem to have alternated in their pulsations, so far as personal acquaintance was concerned."

In that case, it is impossible to suppose that Key was the very licentious man he is described to be, and that Sickles did not know, nay, by continuing, with all this knowledge, to clasp him to his heart, did not in fact approve it. So far from Sickles being whitened by this blackening applied to Key, the public will be apt to call to mind the old proverb that men are known by their companions.

Sickles and Key, no doubt, were about equal in moral worth.

ROMISH BAPTISM.—Punch in view of the decision by the Pope, as to the little Jew boy, Mortara, baptized surreptitiously by his nursery maid, that baptism into the church of Rome, "even without the knowledge or consent" of the victim, renders him a Catholic; understands that Cardinal Wiseman has succeeded in corrupting the proprietors of Exeter Hall into allowing him to place in their gallery a fire-engine charged with consecrated water, and at the next meeting of the Protestant Association, the Cardinal, aided by some stout-limbed priests, means to play upon the crowd, and declaim the baptismal service of Rome. As there is no doubt that this will quite fulfil the conditions required by the Church, Punch advises all true Protestants to take their umbrellas.

A resolution introduced into the Board of Education in Newark, N. J., giving to the colored population the same privileges and benefits in the Public Schools as those enjoyed by the whites, was discussed last Friday evening, and defeated by a vote of 12 to 5. The Democrats mostly voted in favor of the measure, and the Opposition against it.

We published another version of this matter a day or two since; we take it this is the correct one. Children of all colors fare alike in Portsmouth schools, and have for some years, say ten. For some years before, there had been a separate African school,—and before that, vis. 40 and 50 years ago, black and white were in school together.

☞ A Musical Convention will be holden in City Hall, Dover, commencing on Monday Evening, April 18th, to continue during Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The Convention will be conducted by Prof. W. Williams, of Boston, closing with a concert of Secular Music, on Thursday Evening, April 21st, and another of Sacred Music, on Friday Evening, 22d. For further information, address L. P. Whitney, Dover.

☞ The Supreme Court at Charlestown, Mass., have given Miss Almira Maria Bartlett of Charlestown a verdict of $2800 vs. Sewall Packard, likewise of Charlestown, for breach of promise. Packard was a widower. The courtship was proved; $3000 were claimed. The defence, aiming to break down the plaintiff's character, failed—and the above verdict was given.

Peace or war in Europe seems to be depending on a turn of the die.

Health is the highest revelation of God in nature. It is the fountain of strength, beauty, intellect and happiness. How many understand God's laws of health?—In other words, how many understand human physiology? Not one in ten thousand! We have too much gospel and too little common sense. We should much like to see a "revival" upon the above subject—a common sense revival.—R. W. Emerson.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SEWING MACHINES.

The Grover & Baker are always preferred, when coming in competition with any other machines.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others.

ALLEN & FAIRS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

We have seen one of Grover & Baker's $100 Sewing Machines used to do the Sewing of two families, for the past year or more, to the perfect satisfaction of all concerned—without once getting out of order, or requiring the least repair. We would as soon try to dispense with a Cooking Stove in a family, as to attempt to get along without a Sewing Machine. Money invested in a good Machine pays much more than legal dividends, in actual cash savings—to say nothing of the higher consideration, of comfort and convenience, may, even luxury, it affords to the ladies of a household. Whatever may be the experience with other Machines, we never know a Grover & Baker to be discarded or found wanting.

FRANK W. MILLER.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with stiffness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at

SALEN'S DAGUERREAN GALLERY,

in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontoturmenos.

Henry Bowen, Librarian of Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association Rooms, School street, Boston, says Dr. Clarke's Sherry Wine Bitters are a very valuable medicine—the best he ever used.—All medicine dealers sell them.

POISONOUS INNOCULATION.—Persons who, by accident or otherwise, become innoculated with any malignant disease, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontoturmenos. Remedies prompt, quick and efficient. Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or innoculated through infection or accident—We have hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe tortures for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R. Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators at night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys regular.

For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysms in a few minutes.

R. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton street, New York.

N. B.—For Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Cutaneous complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

Health and Strength secured by the use of THE SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE,

Dr. Langley's Root & Herb Bitters.

Composed of Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Yellow Dock, Prickly Ash, Thoroughwort, Rhubarb, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., all of which are so compounded as to act in concert, and assist Nature in eradicating disease. The effect of this medicine is most wonderful—it acts directly upon the bowels and blood, by removing all obstructions from the internal organs, stimulating them into healthy action, renovating the fountains of life, purifying the blood, cleansing it from all humors, and causing healthy nature anew through every part of the body; restoring the invalid to health and usefulness. They cure and eradicate from the system, Liver Complaint, that main wheel of so many diseases; Jaundice in its worst forms, all Bilious diseases and Foul Stomach, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, all kinds of Humors, Indigestion, Headache, Dizziness, Piles, Heartburn, Weakness, Pains in the Side and Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, and a torpid or diseased Liver, a disordered Stomach, or bad Blood, to which all are more or less subject in Spring and Summer.

More than 1,000,000 persons have been cured by this medicine. It is highly recommended by Physicians everywhere. Try it, and you will never regret it.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws is medicinally flavored with a tincture of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which marks the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, COLIC, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS, the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c., whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin, "not only superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever seen."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'.—NONE OTHERS IS IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st.; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. LOCAL.

IMPORTANT MOVEMENT OF NORTHERN RAILROAD COMPANIES.—The Traveller's Manchester, N. H., correspondent, under date of April 9, sends the following particulars of the movements of railroad men in that vicinity:—

"A party of the prominent business men of this city took a special train yesterday to Concord, where they were joined by the railroad kings of New Hampshire, and several heavy business men of that city, and the whole proceeded to Portsmouth, the object being to ascertain what wharfage and either accommodation could be afforded to the Portsmouth and Concord Railroad in case the heavy articles, as coal, salt, &c., should be transported from our own seaport. It was found that accommodations the most ample could be furnished at a mere nominal expense.

Gentlemen of Portsmouth and Boston expressed themselves favorable to the enterprize, and it is certain to be carried out, especially if the lower roads near Boston persist in an unwise combination to increase fares and rates of freight. It is quite probable, also, that the next Legislature will charter a branch road from Candia to Manchester, a project which excites renewed attention in this city, and with the revival of business will be pushed with all enegby that Manchester can put forth. It is rumored that the Concord road will, for certain reasons, withdraw opposition to this measure. It is very sure that no combination can, for any length of time, shut out the Northern roads, and the interior of New Hampshire, from such access to the seaboard as shall be under her reasonable control, especially when she has the best seaport in New England.

RAILROAD TARIFF.—We learn that the officers of the Concord, Manchester and Lawrence Railroad have served notices on the lower roads of their intention to apply to the Judges of the Supreme Court for a committee to adjust the rates of transportation between the roads.—Manchester American.

READINGS AT THE TEMPLE.—Mrs. Lesdernier has announced that she will give readings from the English and American poets this evening. We hope it is only necessary to make this announcement to secure Mrs. L. a good house. She is a lady of great talents and acquirements, as those of our citizens who have listened to her are aware. As a public reader she probably has no superior; and apart from this fact, (says the Newburyport Herald,) "there is public sympathy with her in her struggle with adversity, having very recently buried her twin sons—the victims of consumption—upon whom she had expended all her means in vain endeavors after health, till her profession is now her only support. Let a full audience show their appreciation of her genius and character."

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, April 12.

Before Justice Odell—a young man was convicted of fast driving in the streets, and fined $3; costs $4.80. The same man plead guilty to a charge of making noise and brawl in the street, and was fined $1; costs $4.80.

Several days since, John Stringer and Joseph Paul were held to bail in $400 each for stealing copper, &c., from the great stable; and went to jail for lack of sureties.

☞ The stone work on the third story of the new Custom House has actually commenced; and if we have favorable weather, this story, designed for the U. S. Courts, will soon be erected; giving promise of a lofty building for a land mark next winter.

☞ It is said that a Frenchman has discovered a method of making black silk that will greatly reduce the price of that article, and perhaps enable other dealers to sell as cheap as Allen & Paine are now doing. It

"Oh! what a hell, that hell will be—that hall of hells, where novel-writers, novel-publishers, novel-advertisers and puffers, novel-readers, will meet in one common family, in the pit of woe everlasting, were the worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched!—N. Y. Golden Rule."

☞ The slave brig Tyrant had been condemned at Key West. The salvage was 40 per cent., and 60 per cent. goes to the government revenue officials.

An Irishman who was put from the Newton Special Train of the Boston and Worcester Railroad, for alleged disorderly conduct last Fall, has commenced a suit against the Company, fixing his damages at the sum of $5,000.

☞ The English papers state that the Great Eastern will be ready for sea in four months.

On Sunday a young woman in New York purchased and inhaled two shillings worth of chloroform, to allay a severe pain in her tooth. She was soon after found dead, having apparently died while insensible.

A young lady, recently deceased in France, has left to M. Lamartine a town house and farm.

☞ The Boston Atlas of Wednesday, says of Mrs. Emily Lesdernier: This lady, so well and so favorably known in this city, and for whom so much sympathy has been felt and expressed for her recent family afflictions, will give one of her readings, on Thursday evening at Portsmouth, and on Friday evening at Exeter. We can assure our friends in those places that Mrs. Lesdernier is well worthy of their support.

A QUIETUS TO THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.—It is stated that Capt. Pope is closing up his Artesian well operations on the Staked Plains of New Mexico, and that he has never been able to raise water to within 180 feet of the surface. His apparatus is offered for sale at auction. This is the result of experiments conducted for five years for the government, at great expense, and with the determination to make it out, if possible, that the proposed Southern Pacific Railroad on the 32d parallel is feasible.

BANGOR, April 13.—Marshall Potter, the Lee murderer, was brought here yesterday, and committed to jail. In his confession he says he made a clean sweep of the whole family, stole the money, and burned the house to hide his guilt. He shows no particular feeling about the matter.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The Sun of this morning raises the free flag of Cuba, under the firm belief that that island is now in the midst of a general revolt, if not already in the hands of the patriots.

The Sun says a band of Cuban patriots sailed from this port in the latter part of March, with arms, ammunition, &c.—Most of them are young men, sons of the leading men of the island, and all determined to free their native soil or die in the attempt. Their landing was to be the signal for revolt to the patriots already on the island. The first of April was the day fixed upon.

In Hartford, Ct., on Monday, the Democrats carried the city ticket by 184 on the test vote, and also two majority in the City Council, which gives them the city government. The Republicans had it last year. There is no Mayor elected this year.

A Russian merchant announces the sale, in his warehouse at Odessa and Sebastopol, of 7351 tons of iron and cast iron, projectiles picked up in the Crimea after the war.

The Wheeler & Wilson

Medal Family Sewing Machine.

A NEW STYLE MACHINE,

PRICE $50.

This Machine makes the Lock Stitch, which is the only stitch that cannot be raveled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

The Wheeler & Wilson Mfg Co.

Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Shirts, Cloaks, Manillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivalled excellence of these SEWING MACHINES for their trade. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting as they do, healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as WOMAN'S FRIEND.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

A NEW STYLE MACHINE,

It is no longer questioned that these Machines are the best in use for family sewing. They

in the most superior manner, and are the only machines in the market that are so well and simply made,—that they may be sent into families with no other instructions than are contained in a circular which accompanies each machine, and from which may readily learn how to use them, and keep them in order. They make upwards of

Is there a husband, father, or brother in the United States, who will permit the drudgery of hand sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand!

TESTIMONIALS.

Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Independent, says: "Having had one of Grover & Baker's Machines in my family for nearly a year and half, I take pleasure in commending it as every way reliable for the purpose for which it is designed, Family Sewing."

Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate, says: "I confess myself highly delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."

Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of the Brooklyn Star, says: "After trying several different good machines, I preferred yours, on account of its simplicity, and the perfect ease with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience, I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."

Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, New York, says: "I have used a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine for two years, and find it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broadcloth. Garments have been worn out without the giving way of a stitch.—The Machine is easily kept in order, and easily used."

THE GREAT WONDER

Of The Nineteenth Century.

PROFESSOR WOOD'S

HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are generous of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:

BATH, ME., Jan. 20, 1858.

PROFESSOR O. J. WOOD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has assumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy it is it has been before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty-two, has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statements. I am a citizen of this city, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any one may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours,

A. C. RAYMOND.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 28, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood: Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved.

WM. DYER.

Brookfield, Jan 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood: and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empirics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

PRICE, ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RESNOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and they never fail in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions, if you remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

☞ Beware!—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jy2 6ly

YOU HAD BETTER TRY
MY MOTHER'S SALVE

This celebrated preparation has obtained an enviable and WORLD-WIDE reputation for its GREAT CURATIVE PROPERTIES, and has been the agent of relieving so many sufferers, restoring them to health and usefulness, that the Proprietors feel it a duty they owe to the public for their generous patronage bestowed upon this Salve, to make it accessible to rich and poor, that all afflicted may avail themselves of its healing influence.

"My Mother's Salve" is a Perfect Chemical Compound, prepared from Roots, Herbs and Gums, gathered in Canada West, and possesses Healing, Soothing and Pain-Relieving Virtues never before combined in a Salve or Ointment.

"My Mother's Salve" is safe and effectual, and all those troubled with RHEUMATISM, SALT RHEUM, ERYSIPELAS, GOUT, PILES, and such like diseases, will find in its use great relief, and in most cases a Permanent Cure.

"My Mother's Salve" in a BURN or SCALD, takes out the fire, soothes the irritating pain, and heals the wound more speedily and effectually than any other preparation.

"My Mother's Salve" is worthy of confidence, and thousands having used it and recommended it to their friends is a test of its worth.

Directions for using "My Mother's Salve" are simple. Every mother and nurse knows how to spread a plaster and dress a sore, and all who use the Salve will apply it in proportions, renewed at times, as good judgment may direct. For Rheumatism and other pains, rub the parts smartly with Salve. In cases of Cough, Tightness of the Lungs, Sore Throat, and such like ails, rub as in Rheumatism. In any case of pain a good result follows the use of this Salve. Prepared by A. M. Beck.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

AFTER an extensive practic of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none, is MORE SUCCESSFUL, AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has unbounded reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense business of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, February 5, 1859.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great skill and ability as his art leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

FRIDAY, APRIL 15, 1859.

IDLE WHIMS.—The Bath Times says:—"A citizen would take the Times if it was of sufficient size to be creditable to the place; he wants a paper as large, as well filled and as ably conducted as the Journal of Commerce. To be as large in proportion to New York as the Times is in proportion to Bath, the Journal of Commerce should be five hundred times as large as our paper!"

The same paper says in another item:—"We regret to learn that several citizens feel mortified to think Bath has not a decent paper, or one which they can, without chagrin, place in the hands of a stranger."

We read the Bath Times, daily; and we read besides, many other dailies, from larger cities.—The Bath Times, to be sure, is not so big as some other papers, and it cannot be, for there is no business there that can pay $500 per week for a first class paper. But as to talent, industry, and general accuracy, the Times need not fear comparison with the Journal of Commerce. And intelligent citizens of Bath, so far from being ashamed of the Times, would count it an honor to the place.

"It is characteristic of a good Democrat, that he is as perfect in obedience as he is absolute in command. While he is a private in the ranks, he feels it to be his duty to obey the behests of his party; when he is promoted to leadership he exacts implicit obedience to the authority which has been invested in him."—Exchange.

This is probably one of the best definitions of a party man extant. It not only describes "a good Democrat," but a slave of any party: any man who will stifle his convictions of what is right or desirable, for the success of party. He is a slave while a mere voter—a despot in office.

It is not often that political men speak so frankly, and if there were more frankness of this kind, there would be a greater chance of opening the eyes of the people, who are not long enslaved, if they but know it.—Manchester American.

WOMAN'S LOVE.—An Illinois journal states, that some four or five years ago, a carpenter moved from Bucyrus to Missouri, where he sold a pair of horses to a stock buyer, receiving all his pay in bills on a Kentucky bank. In attempting to pass them he found that they were counterfeit, and the carpenter was arrested; the horse-dealer swore he paid him in Indiana bills, and the unfortunate man was sentenced to the Penitentiary. His wife, failing to obtain a pardon, followed the horse-dealer two years and a half, seeking evidence that he, not her husband, was the counterfeiter, and at length her efforts were rewarded.

At Newton, N. C., he was taken sick; the wife told the story to the physician, who dosed his patient heavily, and then told him he was about to die. The sick man was frightened, sent for a minister, and confessed that he was connected with a gang of counterfeiters, and paid the bad bills to the carpenter. Furnished with proofs of this confession, the wife returned to Missouri, secured the relief of her husband, and the couple are now residing at Knoxville, Ill.

SUIT FOR DAMAGES.—B. W. Pearce, marine reporter in the office of the Newport News, has brought a suit for damages against Benjamin Simmons and James F. Phillips, owners of schooner Dart, of Taunton, for injuries received by him by being run down by that vessel on the 6th of October last, through the carelessness of those having the vessel in charge. He lays his damages at $5000. Mr. Pearce was in his boat, and had a narrow escape from instant death. He was carried under the entire length of the vessel, and was so severely bruised and maimed that he is incapacitated for life from pursuing in person his avocation of marine reporter.

☞ The Shawneetown Illinoisian gives an account of the killing of an Irishman by a negro, in Kentucky, near that place. A Mr. Burbanks had some trouble with his negroes, and called upon John J. Clark, an Irishman eighteen years of age, to assist him in chastising one of the negro men. As Clark approached, the negro said that he "wouldn't be whipped by no poor white man." Clark pressed forward, and the negro killed him at one blow with an axe. The people talked of lynching the negro, but finally placed him in jail.

☞ Rev. E. H. Chapin, in a sermon on Shameful Life, recently delivered, remarked:—"In that crowd of guilty women, each has her own story to tell; a story which, in its elements of actual fact, outdoes all romance; lends an interest even to the monotony and common-place of hardened wickedness, and paints the coarse canvas of vice with the terrible frescoes of hell."

From the Independent

THE OVER HEART.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER.

For of Him, and through Him, and to Him are all things, to whom be glory forever.—[Paul.

Above, below, in sky and sod,
In leaf and spar, in star and man,
Well might the sage Athenian scan
The geometric signs of God,
The measured order of His plan.

And India's mystics sang aright
Of the One Life pervading all,
One Being's tidal rise and fall,
In soul and form, in sound and sight,
Eternal outflow and recall.

God is: and man in guilt and fear
The central fact of nature owns;
Kneels, trembling, by the altar-stones,
And darkly dreams the ghastly smear
Of blood appeases and atones.

Guilt shapes the terror: deep within
The human heart the secret lies
Of all the hideous deities;
And, painted on a ground of sin,
The fabled gods of torment rise!

And what is He? The ripe grain nods,
The sweet dews fall, the sweet flowers blow,
But darker signs his presence show:
The earthquake and the storm are God's,
And good and evil interflow.

Oh, hearts of love! Oh, souls that turn
Like sunflowers to the pure and blest!
To you the truth is manifest;
For they the mind of Christ discern
Who lean like John upon his breast!

In him of whom the Sybil told,
For whom the prophet's harp was toned,
Whose need the sage and magian owned,
The loving heart of God behold,
The hope for which the ages groaned!

Fade pomp of dreadful imagery,
Wherewith mankind have deified
Their hate and selfishness and pride!
Let the scared dreamer wake to see,
The Christ of Nazareth at his side!

What doth that holy Guide require?
No rite of pain, nor gift of blood,
But, man a kindly brotherhood,
Looking, where duty is desire,
To Him, the beautiful and good.

Gone be the faithlessness of fear;
And let the pitying heaven's sweet rain
Wash out the altar's bloody stain,
The law of Hatred disappear,
The law of Love alone remain.

How fall the idols false and grim!—
And lo! their hideous wreck above
The emblems of the Lamb and Dove!
Man turns from God, not God from him,
And guilt, in suffering, whispers Love!

The world sits at the feet of Christ
Unknowing, blind, and unconsoled;
It yet shall touch His garment's fold,
And feel the heavenly Alchemist
Transform its very dust to gold.

The theme befitting angel tongues
Beyond a mortal's scope has grown.
Oh, heart of mine! with reverence own
The fulness which to it belongs,
And trust the unknown for the known!

☞ Richard Andersen, and his wife, Irish, have been living on the town of New London, Conn., for a year past, but it has been ascertained that he is possessed of property in the "ould country," having $80 rent per annum, and that he had on hand over $100 in cash. He has been obliged to quit the hospitable poor house, paying the town for his own and his wife's board during the year.

☞ Among the prisoners who escaped from the Ohio State Prison recently, was one Joseph McKinney, who recently turned up at New Madison, Ind., where he enlightened the people with lectures on his "Travels in the Holy Land." He so thoroughly gammoned them, that he was invited by the professors of the College there to repeat his lectures before the students.

POLITICAL.—The St. Louis Republican, (Democratic) speaking of the recent election in that city, says: "The American Free Soilers deserted their ticket, and went over to the Black Republicans, and this, it is safe to say, puts an end to that party for all future time." It adds that "the early dissolution of the American party in other counties will unquestionably take place."

OPEN COMMUNION.—Last week's Watchman and Reflector contains two communications, one from a pastor and the other from a layman, earnestly advocating open communion. Nearly a column and a half of editorial comments follow, combating the opinions advanced. The editor concedes, however, that there is a "diversity of opinion" on this point in Baptist churches, and thinks it would "be idle to repress discussion."

☞ Ex-judge Lecompte of Kansas takes his removal hard, declares that he has borne the burden and heat of the day in the democratic battle in Kansas, and that the pretension to virtue on the part of a party to live oak contracts, is all folderol.

☞ A single person can spin as much cotton in a mill now in one hour, as could three thousand Hindoos, by whom at one time cotton cloth was principally manufactured.

RYE, April 11, 1859.

Messrs. Editors:—As one would naturally expect, the little epistle that I wrote you last week produced quite a sensation in our steady-going community; and I notice that "Bro. Buggins," the Rye correspondent of the Ballot, has commented upon it at considerable length. Now, whatever peculiar views he may entertain upon other subjects, I, at least, will give him the credit of taking a bold and independent stand in favor of a progressive system of education. He truthfully acknowledges that his (district) school has deteriorated under its present bad management; and makes no scruple of lashing the wire pullers as they eminently deserve. He admits that Mr. Mosher is "notoriously incompetent to fulfil the responsibilities devolving upon him as a teacher," and then facetiously says, "'Outsider' intimates that his moral character is not exactly in accordance with the puritanical notions of our forefathers." He then says, in reference to this matter, that "if 'Outsider' cannot bring the facts to substantiate his premises, he (Buggins) will be under the necessity of disbelieving them; but if, on the other hand, he (Outsider) can sustain what he intimates, why then Buggins will cheerfully "acknowledge the corn," and give Outsider all the glory."

Now then, Brother B., call away; with the understanding that I know of no combination of matter or circumstances, which would tempt me to lay before the public that which I am not fully persuaded belongs to them; neither do I wish to parade before them facts that have been already sufficiently published. I might discuss this matter publicly, or privately, to the entire satisfaction of Brother B. or anybody else, with the full assurance that in thus bringing the real character of Mr. Mosher before the public, I do no more than justice to the people whom he has imposed upon. Now to the proof.

If the correspondent of the Ballot will take the trouble to examine the Herald of Gospel Liberty—published at Newburyport, and the organ of the Christian Baptist denomination—of May 1st, 1856, he will find a letter from Kennebunk, Me., signed by fourteen of the leading men of the Christian Society of that place, stating that the moral character of Samuel E. Mosher was such "as to render him unworthy the confidence of the public as a teacher of youth or a minister of Christ." And they "warn the religious community in general, and the Christian connection in particular, against receiving the said Mosher as a public religious teacher."

The men who signed the letter requested the ministers of the Christian connection to investigate the matter; and accordingly George M. Payne, John W. Tilton, Charles E. Goodwin, James H. Rowell, Mark Dennett and B. F. Carter were appointed a committee. They met at Kennebunk on the 7th of November, 1856, and published their report in the "Herald" of Jan. 8, 1857. They close their report in the following words:

"We give it, therefore, as the opinion of this council, that sufficient evidence has been adduced to sustain the charges preferred against said Mosher in the statement and notice published in the Herald of May 1, 1825, and that said Mosher did at Kennebunk conduct in a manner totally unbecoming a gospel minister and teacher."

Thus, I have but simply given the facts that have heretofore been published, and not those of my own invention, or of private scandal and personal abuse. I only make those statements to warn the people against abuses. OUTSIDER.

☞ On Saturday last, a daughter of Mr. Joseph Conklin, of Warwick, Orange Co., N. Y., was killed in a singular manner.—She was descending a flight of stairs with a sugar bowl in her hand, when she stumbled and fell down the last two steps, breaking the bowl, a piece of which cut the jugular vein, causing her death in a few moments.

☞ Col. William Bent, of Bent's Fort, arrived in Westport, Illinois, a few days since. He is of the opinion that money cannot be made at Pike's Peak, unless richer veins are discovered than have yet been found. Bent's Fort, it will be remembered is in the heart of the reputed gold region.

☞ The Sultan of Turkey disburses for his household expenses the sum of forty-seven millions of dollars annually; he has thirty-six wives, and seven hundred and eighty female slaves. The wives cost him annually six millions of dollars, and the female slaves more than half a million.—His musicians cost him about a million dollars each year; while his brothers and sisters receive more than three millions.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SEWING MACHINES.

The Grover & Baker are always preferred, when coming in competition with any other machines.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

We have seen one of Grover & Baker's $100 Sewing Machines used to do the Sewing of two families, for the past year or more, to the perfect satisfaction of all concerned—without once getting out of order, or requiring the least repair. We would as soon try to dispense with a Cooking Stove in a family, as to attempt to get along without a Sewing Machine. Money invested in a good Machine pays much more than legal dividend, in actual cash savings—not to mention the higher consideration, of comfort and convenience, may, even luxury, it affords to the ladies of a household. Whatever may be the experience with other Machines, we never knew a Grover & Baker to be discarded or found wanting.

FRANK W. MILLER.

ONLY A FEW WORDS

Just to say, that on account of a contemplated new arrangement in business and a professional tour, I am anxious to close off immediately all the STOCK in my consisting of CASES—fancy and and plain, with pictures included, and a large lot of splendid Gilt and French Frames, for Photographs, which will be sold CHEAP for CASH,—for a short time.

A. GREGORY.

N. B.—I do not charge any more for good Pictures, than is paid every day for poor things.

HIP DISEASE.—The most that can be expected in this disease is to prolong life, with sickness or deformity of the hip joint. The PERUVIAN SYRUP will support the strength under the slow and painful ulceration, and will prevent the profuse discharge of matter, which, if opening externally, will almost certainly prove fatal.

SALEN'S DAGUERREAN GALLERY,

in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontitorumnos.

R. R. R.

POISONOUS INNOCULATION.—Persons who, by accident or otherwise, become innoculated with any malignant disorder, will find the R. R. R. Remedies prompt, quick and efficient. Persons who have suffered from Chronic Scrofula, Syphilis, or the effects of Mercurial treatment, are informed that RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT will quickly free the body from corrupt humors, whether the same be generated within the system from neglect or ill-treatment, or innoculated through indiscretion or accident.—We have hundreds in this city, trifling away their time, and suffering the most severe tortures for years, been suddenly restored to health by R. R. R. Remedies. In all cases of recent date—that is, under one year—Radway's Renovating Resolvent will remove all painful difficulties and obstructions in two or three days. It will, in all Chronic Cases of long standing, prove its potent efficacy within six days. In taking R. R. Resolvent, every patient should take one of Radway's Regulators at night, to keep the Bowels, Liver and Kidneys regular.

For Acute Pains, either Rheumatic, Nervous or Neuralgic, R. R. RELIEF will stop the most severe paroxysms in a few minutes.

R. R. R. Office, 162 Fulton street, New York.

N. B.—For Scrofula, Syphilis, Female Complaints, use R. R. Resolvent. For Irregularity, use Radway's Regulators.

Health and Strength secured by the use of

THE SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE,

Dr. Langley's Root & Herb Bitters.

Composed of Sarsaparilla, Wild Cherry, Yellow Dock, Prickly Ash, Thoroughwort, Rhubarb, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., all of which are so compounded as to act in concert, and assist Nature in eradicating disease. The effect of this medicine is most wonderful—it acts directly upon the bowels and blood, by removing all obstructions from the internal organs, stimulating them into healthy action, renovating the fountains of life, purifying the blood, cleansing it from all humors, and causing it to course onward through every part of the body; restoring the frame to health and usefulness. They cure and eradicate from the system, Dyspepsia, that great main-wheel of so many diseases; Jaundice in its worst forms; all Bilious diseases and Foul Stomach, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, all kinds of Humors, Indigestion, Headache, Dizziness, Piles, Heartburn, Weakness, Pains in the Side and Breast, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, and a torpid or diseased Liver, a disordered Stomach, or bad Blood, to which all are more or less subject in Spring and Summer.

More than 1,000 persons have been cured by this medicine. It is highly recommended by Physicians everywhere. Try it, and you will never regret it.

Only 25 cts. for a pint, and 38 cts. for a large bottle. Sold by Dealers in Medicine everywhere.

Charles's London Cordial Gin.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY LONDON GIN IMPORTED.

THIS GIN, Distilled in London, from sound N. Barley, under the surveillance of the British Excise Laws, is delicately flavored with the Berries of the Italian Juniper Berry, and some of the most valuable restoratives of the vegetable kingdom, rendering it in the opinion of the most eminent men, the purest and safest stimulant or diuretic thing in use.

It is a delicious tonic, of a soft and delicate flavor, differing entirely from any other Gin, and devoid of that harsh, acrid taste, which renders the article known as Holland Gin or Schnapps so objectionable.

Though not intended solely as a medicine, it is recommended by physicians generally in cases of DYSPEPSIA, GOUT, RHEUMATISM, GRAVEL, DROPSY, GRAVEL, CHOLERA, FEVER and AGUE, STRICTURE, DISEASES OF THE URINARY ORGANS, and the KIDNEYS and the BOWELS, NERVOUS DEBILITY, &c.; whilst the weaker sex will find by its adoption a sure relief from those distressing annoyances which frequently attend their delicate organization.

Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, the highest medical authority, pronounces Charles' London Cordial Gin "vastly superior to any other, but the best article of the kind he has ever tried."

It is peculiarly adapted to residents in the Northern and Eastern States, as well as for travellers exposed to changes of water and air.

For sale in quarts at seventy-five cents, and in pints thirty-eight cents, by all druggists, grocers, fruiterers and country merchants. Beware of imitations. Buy only CHARLES'—NONE OTHER is IMPORTED.

May be had in Boston of G. C. Goodwin & Co., 11 Marshall st; M. S. Burr & Co., 1 Cornhill; S. K. Pecker, 20 Elm st.; J. Moran, 116 Blackstone st.; M. Davis & Co., 57 Blackstone st.; R. Smith & Co., 20 Exchange st.; Gilbert, Abbott & Co., 78 Broad st.; Deland & Snow, 34 Elm st, and others. In Portland, Me., of H. H. Hay & Co., C. W. Atwell, and C. C. Mitchell & Son.

RAILROAD MATTERS.

Under this head, the Concord Patriot says: The Directors of the Portsmouth and Concord Railroad propose to make a connection between their road and tide-water, by laying a track from the present terminus of their road to and along one of the principal wharves of Portsmouth, or by an arrangement with the Eastern Railroad for running about one-third of a mile over their track, and then building from fifty to a hundred yards of additional grade and track beyond, over feasible ground, which will accomplish the object. The Portsmouth and Concord cars can in this manner be loaded directly from the ships of the heaviest draught, as we are informed that the depth of water is nearly forty feet off the wharf along which it is proposed to run this track. Thus by the construction of this short piece of road, which cannot cost more than from two to ten thousand dollars, as circumstances may determine in reference to the route over which the extension is to be run, all the New Hampshire railroads and their connecting roads will be placed in direct communication with tide-water in New Hampshire, where wharfage and rents are not a tithe of Boston charges, and where lighterage will be a thing unknown. Molasses, fish, salt, coal, lime, tobacco, rice, and goods of every description, would require to be handled but once to transfer them from the hold of a vessel to the cars, in order to land them with dispatch at any principal point indicated either in New Hampshire or Northern and Eastern Vermont. And we pretend to say it can be done cheaper than the same articles can be transported from Boston or any other port, reckoning harbor charges, wharfage, rents or storage, and cartage, as among the expenses of transportation. Portsmouth harbor is one of the finest in the world, and is excelled by none upon the New England coast; its capacity is immense; its depth of water is sufficient at all times to float the largest ships, and has room for two miles of wharves. Besides these great natural advantages it is easy of access, never freezes over, and is the safest harbor in the United States. It is evident these are great commercial advantages. They only need to be developed, improved and rendered available, to vastly increase the wealth, population and general prosperity of New Hampshire; and now that we have the means, it should be done. The time has been when Portsmouth divided the New Hampshire trade with Portland and Boston, and it may be so again. Indeed our present system of railroads would give Portsmouth advantages it never had in the "olden time," widening out its competing field. This slight connection made, and freight can be transported as cheaply to Manchester from Portsmouth as from Boston, while wharf accomodations which will rent for twenty thousand dollars a year in Boston can be secured for half as many hundreds in Portsmouth.

But aside from the unmistakable advantages certain to accrue to New Hampshire from developing our resources, we are now compelled, in self-defence, to look to Portsmouth as our commercial depot for all the heavier staples.

☞ Mr. Long's Lecture on Tuesday evening, was one of the most interesting of the course. Some practical uses of the knowledge of colors, as affecting personal beauty and general comeliness, were suggested in a vein of good humor; and the close of the lecture, where the rare painter was placed beside the great poet, the great musical composer, and the great dramatist, was as fine a specimen of rhetoric, as it was of wholesome truth.

The next lecture will conclude the course.

☞ On Wednesday evening, at the Temple, the Lecture before the Young Men's Christian Association was delivered by the Hon. C. A. Barstow, of Providence, R. I. The services were opened and closed with hymns by a Union choir. The orator was introduced by J. C. Carr, Esq., President of the Y. M. C. Association. The subject of the lecture was Law, as existing in the nursery; school-room; store, shop and field; in domestic and social life. It was a very sensible and practical address.

The next lecture of this course will be delivered on Sunday evening, at the Stone Church, by Rev. Dr. Peabody.

☞ The April term of the Court of Common Pleas for Rockingham county is holden at Exeter, and not in this city, as we stated last week. The session commenced on Tuesday, Judge Kittredge presiding. The docket was called, a few cases marked for trial, and the parties to none of them being ready, the court adjourned to Wednesday morning, when the trial of a land case was commenced.

☞ Mrs. Lesdernier is to give Readings and Recitations, in Costume, on Saturday afternoon, at the Temple.

From the Ballot.

☞ Our enterprising young friends Allen & Paine are driving a brisk business in the manufacture and sale of Capes and Raglans for the ladies. In addition to the home demand for these fashionable garments, (they are always supplied with patterns of the latest styles) large orders are daily received by them from eastern cities. We called in upon them the other day, and were surprised to see clerks employed in putting up packages of them for Portland and Augusta. They cut up large quantities of cloth daily, and keep a number of sewing machines constantly running in the manufacture.

We rejoice in the success of these enterprising young men, as we do in that of all liberal and honorable citizens; and we take some pride in their prosperity from the fact that we feel that we have had some instrumentality in it: When they commenced business in Market street a little more than two years ago, and advertised liberally in all the papers and by handbills, many old fogies who never tried the experiment and were certain their profits would not afford it, confidently predicted that the young men would be unable to sustain themselves more than three months. "It would do well enough to advertise in the large cities," they said, "but in a place like this, where each trader had his customers who knew just what he had to sell, it was only throwing money away to pay it for advertising." What is the result? Allen & Paine had no customers them; they were comparative strangers here. Whose customers have they got, and how did they get them? It is very difficult to open the eyes of some people, but only those so blind that they will not see can fail to recognize the secret of their success. Read their advertisements.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The administration has received official confirmation of Mr. McLane's recognition of the Juarez government, and assumes from that the probability of a treaty which will doubtless aim at the acquisition of Sonora and Chihuahua and some port on the Gulf of California, for a large money consideration, with a clause for a commission to adjudicate the pretended American claims, the amount of awards under it to be deducted from the payment for the acquisition.

These claims are estimated at eleven millions, one, that of. Hargous, being for five millions, on account of alleded damages damages under the Garay grant. An influential combination is likely to be formed from the pecuniary interests at stake, but such a treaty cannot pass the Senate without encountering decided opposition, and no such appropriation for executing it can be carried in the House, if it should be ratified.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The Washington Republican Association, to-night, celebrated at Odd Fellows Hall, Jefferson's birthday. There was a full band of music. Francis P. Blair presided. Mayor French read the Declaration of Independence, and Daniel R. Goodlow, late of North Carolina, delivered the oration.

There is such information in this city as leaves no doubt of a deep laid scheme for the revolution of Cuba. It is not known that this Government has been officially informed of the fact.

WASHINGTON, April 14, 12:30 P. M.—The Postmaster General will probably issue an order restoring the Boston office to State street, to-morrow. Mr. Capen arrived here last evening.

Mr. Carlisle has evidence showing that Mr. Sickles's recent life has been similar to that of Mr. Key, which he will endeavor to introduce.—Boston Journal.

FROM HAVANA.—New York, April 13.—The steamship Philadelphia, from Havana 8th inst., has arrived. All was quiet on the Island. The fires previously reported between Matanzas and Cardenas destroyed the canes on twenty estates—enough to have made 10,000 boxes of sugar.

Accounts had reached Havana from Mexico confirming Miramon's retreat and the siege of the capital.

Freights at Havana were moderately active.

FIRE IN CANDIA.—A house and cooper's shop, belonging to Amos Polly, in Candia, were burned last Saturday, together with all the contents. Mrs. P. was absent from home when the fire originated, and nothing was saved excepting the apparel the family had on at the time. It was a large, two story house, in good condition, but not insured.—Mirror.

The Wheeler & Wilson

Medal Family Sewing Machine.

A NEW STYLE MACHINE,

PRICE $50.

This Machine makes the Lock Stitch, which is the only stitch that cannot be raveled, and that presents the same appearance upon each side of the seam. It is made with two threads, one upon each side of the fabric, and interlocked in the centre of it.

The Wheeler & Wilson Mfg Co.

Invites the attention of Housekeepers, Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Ladies' Gaiters, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols and Silk Goods, to the perfect adaptation and unrivaled excellence of these SEWING MACHINES for their uses. Their extensive and increasing sale, and the unanimous commendation that they have received, warrant the Company in warmly recommending them. They have been in use sufficiently long to test them thoroughly, and have given entire satisfaction.

They are simple in construction, efficient and durable in operation, beautiful in model and finish, and suited to the workshop—applicable alike to the use of the family and the manufacturer.

Their speed is from 1200 to 2000 stitches per minute, or equal in efficiency to 12 seamstresses.—Substituting this by healthful exercises and rational employment for the soul-and-body destroying drudgery of hand-sewing, they are hailed as WOMAN'S FRIEND.

Among their undoubted advantages are—

1. Elegance of model and finish;
2. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction, and consequent durability and freedom from derangement and need of repairs;
3. Ease of management and rapidity and quietness of operation;
4. Hemming and seaming attachments;
5. Beauty of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed;
6. Strength and firmness of seam that will not rip nor ravel; and made with
7. Economy of Thread;
8. Applicability to a variety of purposes and materials.

From the Ballot.

☞ Our neighbor of the Gazette wants to know if a man can't "be opposed to a congressional slave code and opposed to forcing a slave state constitution upon a free state people, without becoming a thorough-going radical abolitionist"—if there is no conservative ground, no point between the two extremes of southern slavery fanaticism and Garrison abolitionism. Yes neighbor, there is, and that is the ground occupied by the Republican party, that would give slaveholders all the rights and protection the constitution guarantees to them, including their slave representation where slavery exists, but which will oppose by all honorable means the extension of so unjust and anti-republican a system. This is the only platform, neighbor, on which the slavery-ridden democratic party can be successfully resisted; and if you want to share in the glory of the overthrow of the present administration, which no man detests more than yourself, you must come square over and take a stand with us where your influence will be felt. It is idle for you to stand outside of any "healthy political organization," pretending to resist the demands of the slaveholders while you maintain that slavery for the negro is better than freedom; or to advocate the election of Douglas to the Presidency as a conservative candidate, who acknowleges the justice of the decision of the Supreme Court, that slavery may exist in all the territories under the constitution, while he resists the demand for congressional protection for such property. The great issue of freedom or slavery is to be fought over again next year, and you must take one side or the other. The Douglas position of entire indifference will not meet the approval of the people of the North or South, and if he should succeed in getting a forlorn hope into the field it must meet with utter annihilation between the two contending armies.

What is the use of the Ballot's republishing that exploded lie from the Natchez Free Trader, about a Cincinnati resolution in favor of protection to slave property in the territories? The story was contradicted by authority from Douglas as soon as it was started. It must be through mortal fear of the growing popularity of Douglas, that Black Republican editors so greedily grab and circulate the silly lies invented by his enemies among the Southern fire-eating, pro-slavery fanatics.—[Gazette.

We have never seen such authorized contradiction as alluded to by the Gazette, nor any evidence that the statement is an "exploded lie." Douglas now admits the right of slaveholders to carry their slaves into the territories under the constitution of the United States; and the arguments of the slaveholders is a strong one, that if they have a right to hold such property, they have also a right to claim for it protection. That Douglas until recently has been as subservient a tool of the slave power as any other northern politician who hoped for elevation by southern votes, every one knows; and that in the scramble at the Cincinnati convention he made such a bid as the Natchez Free Trader declares he did for southern support, appears to us quite probable. The idea that we are afraid of "the growing popularity of Douglas" amuses us exceedingly. His "growing popularity!" Why the leaders of the democratic party in the southern states declare they will secede from it if any attempt is made to force him or his principles upon the Charleston convention; and the men who have controlled the conventions when the party possessed some strength in the free states are not likely to succumb to the delegates from that section of the Union that cannot give a single electoral vote for its candidate.

Progressive Democracy.—The Democratic Standard, the organ of the administration democracy in New Hampshire, has a long article from the pen of Mr. Burke, treating as a "heresy" the doctrine of popular sovereignty as expounded by Douglas and his supporters. It declares it a heresy as anti-democratic as the Wilmot proviso, and says it will be repudiated by the next Charleston Convention, and in that event, the Democracy of this State must retreat from its present position, or go over to the enemy."

A NEW STYLE MACHINE.

Is there a husband, father, or brother in the United States, who will permit the drudgery of hand sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

Mrs. Joshua Leavitt, wife of Rev. Dr. Leavitt, Editor of N. Y. Independent, says: "Having had one of Grover & Baker's Machines in my family for nearly a year and half, I take pleasure in commending it as every way reliable for the purpose for which it is designed, Family Sewing."

Mrs. Elizabeth Strickland, wife of Rev. Dr. Strickland, Editor of N. Y. Christian Advocate, says: "I confess myself highly delighted with your Sewing Machine, which has been in my family for many months. It has always been ready for duty, requiring no adjustment, and is easily adapted to every variety of family sewing, by simply changing the spools of thread."

Mrs. E. B. Spooner, wife of the Editor of the Brooklyn Star, says: "After trying several different good machines, I preferred yours, on account of its simplicity, and the perfect ease with which it is managed, as well as the strength and durability of the seam. After long experience, I feel competent to speak in this manner, and to confidently recommend it for every variety of family sewing."

Mrs. A. B. Whipple, wife of Rev. Geo. Whipple, New York, says: "I have used a Grover & Baker Sewing Machine for two years, and find it adapted to all kinds of family sewing, from Cambric to Broadcloth. Garments have been worn out without the giving way of a stitch.—The Machine is easily kept in order, and easily used."

THE GREAT WONDER
Of The Nineteenth Century.
PROFESSOR WOOD'S
HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Says the St. Louis, (Mo.) Democrat: Below, we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. It certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press.

Bath, Me., Jan. 20, 1858.

Professor O. J. Wood & Co.

Gentlemen:—Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite gray, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the gray or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty-nine has used it with the same effect.

The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to complain of the effect of it. I am a citizen of this city, and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Anyone may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am, truly yours,

A. C. Rawson.

Baltimore, Jan. 23, 1858.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor Wood [Dear Sir: Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1854, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

Finley Johnson.

The undersigned, Rev. J. K. Bragg, is a minister in regular standing, and pastor of the Orthodox Church at Brookfield, Mass. He is a gentleman of great influence and universally beloved. Wm. Dyer.

Brookfield, Jan 12, 1858.

Professor Wood—Dear Sir: Having made trial of your Hair Restorative, it gives me pleasure to say, that its effect has been excellent in removing inflammation, dandruff and a constant tendency to itching with which I have been troubled from my childhood: and has also restored my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit.

Yours truly, J. K. Bragg.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of 3 sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds a pint, and retails for $1; the medium holds at least 20 per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for $2; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

KNOWING that there are at this moment a thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secresy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 18 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. These are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—18 Howard street, Boston.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practic of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that I am MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, I can add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. This, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, for the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Boston, February 8, 1858.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such uninterrupted proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART.
From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twelve selected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

SATURDAY, APRIL 16, 1859.

POPULAR SOVEREIGNTY.

People often deceive themselves and each other, by a pleasant sounding word o phrase. Such a phrase stands at the head of this article,—and the words imply something like what is said in our Declaration of Independence, that "Governments" derive "their just powers from the consent of the governed."

But there is a modern use of the phrase, which means a very different thing, viz. that kind of sovereignty which is exercised in a territory of the United States, where the Governor, Judges, &c., are not chosen by the people all, but appointed at Washington,—and besides, the sovereignty is practically limited to a very few things,—and by modern judicial and presidential opinions expressed by Judge Taney, and intensified by President Buchanan, "Kansas to-day is as much a Slave State" as Georgia or Carolina.

It is then, in this modern sense, that popular sovereignty signifies, the power in a territory to do anything that slavery and the executive will permit,—and the sovereignty does not go much further under our present government as administered in the Court and the Capitol.

It is a highly probable supposition, however, that if Fremont had been president, Judge Taney's opinion, usually called the Dred Scott decision, would not have been quite so long, and nothing near so bad, in law or fact;—and the decision itself might have been on the other side.

And again, it is by no means improbable, that if President Buchanan's successor in the White House should be a Republican, we may have decisions of another sort.

The suppositions aside, however, let us look at things as they are. The Richmond Enquirer which has all through stood by Douglas and his Popular Sovereignty, holds the following language:

The act of the Legislature of New Mexico, protecting Slavery and prohibiting emancipation, is but the recognition of the true principles of the Constitution, that Slavery requires no establishing law, but follows the Constitution wherever that instrument extends, unless prohibited by some sovereign act. "The law of God," which Mr. Webster thought forbade Slavery in these Territories, is now found to have no existence whatever. The institution requires protection, but not establishment.

"This act of the Legislature of New Mexico is perfectly legitimate, and within the sphere of its constitutional duties. The Constitution having carried the institution into the Territory, according to the Dred Scott decision, the right of its protection no man should deny."

The Bath Times says:—

In the last Congress Connecticut had two democrats in the House and Rhode Island one democratic Senator. All three of them abandoned the popular sovereignty doctrine of 1856, as explained by Mr. Buchanan, that "the people of a Territory like those of a State, shall say whether they will or will not have slavery in their limits," and voted to force the Lecompton Constitution upon Kansas in opposition of five-sixths of her inhabitants. They have appealed to the people to sustain them in that act of temporary defection, and the people have refused to do it, but have consigned them to political death. It is a fearful thing for a dishonest or inconsistent politician to fall into the hands of the people.

The Lowell Patriot holds this language:

Hon. John P. Hale stated on the 23d of February last, in the United States Senate, that the only point decided in the Dred Scott case was that he could not bring a suit in that court as an American citizen. Of course, then, it was not decided that "negroes have no rights which the white men are bound to respect." When republicans undertake to assert that such was the decision of the court, they only lie—under a mistake.

The Dover Gazette, printed in Mr. Hale's own town, says:—

We hope that John P. Hale will remember this saying of his, here at home, and we wish he would think it best to inform his republican friends everywhere "that the only point decided in the Dred Scott case was that he could not bring a suit in that court as an American citizen."

We think it would have a tendency to allay a good deal of hard feeling which the republicans have treasured up against the Supreme Court.

Judge Taney, in his opinion assumed and asserted the historical falsehood, about negroes having no rights,—and went on arguing from these and other false premises, that Dred Scott had none, and therefore could not sue in the high court at Washington.

Mr. Hale discriminates between the decision of that case, and the half dozen trashy judicial opinions with which it was embellished.

Nothing of any great consequence was done in that opinion which cannot be undone by the popular voice expressed thro' a presidential election, which should happen to be in favor of liberty, and not in favor of slave sovereignty.

The Forney or popular sovereignty democrats in Pennsylvania, now in convention, have a resolution before them closing thus:

We endorse the principles of popular sovereignty, non-intervention in the Territories by the States, by Congress with slavery in the Territories, and non-intervention by the Federal Executive with the franchise of the people of the States; we repudiate the platform of the Convention of March, and no matter what the decision of the Supreme Court may be on that abstract question, still the right of the people to make a slave territory or a a free territory is perfect and complete under the Nebraska Bill.

Pastoral Letter of a Catholic Archbishop.—Archbishop Purcell, of Cincinnati, in a pastoral letter just published, speaks as follows:

The idleness of boys when they leave school—an idleness which is often not wilful, but compulsory—idle because unable to find anything to do—we regard as one of the most fruitful sources of vice, and one of the greatest evils of society. It is such an evil that we look on the military despotisms of Europe, which take young men from their families or the streets for a term of years and compel them to serve in the army, as a comparative blessing. In the service they acquire habits of obedience to superiors, cleanliness, regularity and order. In our large cities hundreds of boys and young men are wasting energies which they are anxious to devote to the conquest of a respectable position in society, and therefore to the public good; but they know not what to do—they are idle "because no man hath hired them".

And yet the idea of a Reform School for some of these young idlers and truants, and of a town farm labor for the rest, is met with a howl from some kennels.

We give, in this country, too much encouragement for emigrants in cities—and the idleness, vagrancy and crime of which Archbishop Purcell speaks, are the natural results of intemperance, desecration of the Sabbath, &c., &c.

From Jamaica.—The Courier des Etats Unis has intelligence from Kingston, Jamaica, of March 2, which states that in consequence of the imposition of a new tax, the negroes of Westmoreland raised the standard of revolt, and it became necessary to send against them five hundred soldiers, who were obliged to use their sabres. Soulouque, who lived near by, beheld these exploits from his window. Far from grieving over the strokes under which the negroes suffered, he contemplated the scene with evident delight. "Ah!" cried he, "the whites at last begin to understand how negroes must be treated; sweet words are not for them; they need blows and knocks."

☞ A meeting to protest against Pennsylvania being "disgraced by being the hunting ground of slave catchers," was got up by the ultra abolitionists of Philadelphia, on Friday evening, but was likewise attended by a delegation of the Fourth Ward Democracy, headed by an Alderman and a lot of medical students, who managed to kick up such a rumpus that the meeting could not go on until the police had made a number of arrests.

Railroad Accident.—Memphis, April 14.—A train on the Mississippi Central Railroad fell through the trestel work, killing two and wounding eight passengers, whose names have not been ascertained.

☞ They have a rose grafted on a peach tree at Pendleton, S. C., and the tree being in full bloom, presents a beautiful appearance.

It is not the Past which strikes you for rebuking it, but only the Present. The Past is powerless—the Present alone powerful, and passionate as against restraint.

A man may sell his houses and lands, and yet be not utterly poor; but when he has sold himself—his own soul—he not only becomes poor, but is poverty itself.

It is far better to die in the battle, than through fear of the battle; since you may escape death in the fight, but where is the refuge from fear!

Vice is always looking for defeat, and virtue for success—the former being haunted by fear, and the latter sustained by enthusiasm.

The past is a well of wisdom from which we are to draw the waters of truth, but only to refresh us for the labor of present life.

We call a man a miser, that is, a miserable, because that is indeed the translation of the Latin term.

Vice has its education, as also virtue has, and the degrees in each are well defined.

THE MODERN DOMESTIC MAGICIAN.

In the old eastern story we've all of us read
How a genii was closely concealed
In a casket,—and how when they lifted the lid
His marvellous powers were revealed:
The Sorcerer, his master, he promptly obeyed,
Well knowing escape would be vain;
And his labors all done, he by magical aid
Was shut up in the casket again.

And in these days of cure, in a wonderful box
Lurks a genii of science perdue,
But just turn a key, in the location of locks,
And its fairy form you at once view;
Its powers exceed e'en the genii's of old,—
It does more that is useful, I ween;
But at this you'll not wonder, I'm sure, when you're told,
It's a Grover and Baker machine.

Thus a lady may carry wherever she goes,
A work-box with worker within it,
To do all sorts of stitching, on all sorts of clothes,
Yet toil not herself for a minute!
And when she has done, and its tasks are all o'er,
Like the genii, this curious machine
Is shut up in its case, as secure as before,
And remains so till wanted again!

Amalgamation. — Occasionally some doughface, having no argument to make against anti-slavery, gets off a bray about amalgamation. Now it has been shown often enough that the slaveholding population of the South, believing that female slaves have "no rights that white men are bound to respect," are practical amalgamationists. We are reminded of this fact by the advertisement of Thos. J. S. Sandford, in the Alabama Sentinel, in which he offers $50 reward for the apprehension of his boy Henry, a lad of 18, described as follows:
